Items of Interest Dished Up for the Delectation of "Watchman" Readers by a Corps of Gifted Correspondents.

REBERSBURG.

The mumpers are mending. The daffodils are springing up hopefully. Don't shed your winter wool yet quite soon, already!

A town hall in the central part of this Granger town would pay.

Mrs. Clark M. Gramley is nicely recovering from her recent illness.

Lloyd Gramley autoped up from Lewisburg to spend Easter at home.

Palmer Weaver visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Weaver on Easter.

The pith and point of the news is what people yearn for, as babies cry for candy.

Many a demure widower and cynical bachelor is on the "watchful waiting" list.

Rebersburg's hotel is equal to every demand and always Long on comfort and cuisine.

There were some handsomely decorated Easter windows here. Eggs, bunnies and flowers.

Mrs. Victor Walker anticipates a visit to the sunny orange groves of Florida at an early date.

Miss Lucille Bright is the latest to succumb to the mumps—and graduation day is near at hand.

The Sugar valley farmers turned out in stalwart form and numbers to the Saturday horse sale.

The East End correspondents of the WATCHMAN are alert and up-to-date. No flies on them.

C. C. Bierly will make sundry elegant improvements in the auditorium of the Lutheran church.

Geraldine Hackenberg went to Boalsburg on Friday to spend a few days with Mary Hazel.

Mrs. Robert Hackenberg ships her golden medal bumper every week to a Williamsport customer.

Forest Ocker spent Sunday at home. He reports the shoe trade good under the Underwood tariff tree.

The dog bill of Statesman Habgood, of Bradford, was duly impounded and slaughtered at Harrisburg.

Our peaceable vale is not responsible for the unseemly orgies of those who come from beyond the pale.

Mr. and Mrs. Miles W. Breen, of Coburn, were Easter guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Harbaugh.

Miss Alberta Stover and her sister Mrs. Blanche Smull, left on Monday for a ten days sojourn in the Quaker city.

Mrs. John Breen enjoyed a visit from some of her girlhood friends last week, whom she had not seen for many years.

The Milesburg buggy which sported in the shadow of Hon. Henry Meyer's pork pen during the past week will be missed.

Query: When judges are tied for president of a water company, does not the incumbent hold over. Ay skalk tank so, yamee!

Mrs. Luther B. Frank and Mrs. J. W. Harter have returned from Selingsgrove where they paid a visit to their sister, Mrs. Brungart.

Harry Hubler has entered into a contract with the Hamburg Broom Co., to cover western Pennsylvania for their unequalled brooms.

On Good Friday night thirteen new members were added to the Lutheran church by Pastor Metzger. Pretty good Friday's accession!

The patience of our people is being sorely tried by the way some motorists and puff-wheeler speed through town despite the warning signs.

The State Grange has a road bill which the committee is seeking to impress Gov. Brumbaugh with, as a liberator from the jaws of the dragon at Harrisburg.

The Yoder Kansas horse sale on Saturday demonstrated that our farmers appreciate fine equines, some bringing $250. One span of mules was sold for $487.50.

Miss Emma Moyer spent her Easter holiday pleasantly at home and returned to Selingsgrove to complete her musical course which ends with the Spring term.

It took all of Ed. Frank's strength to halt the steed, on Saturday, which objected to being knocked down by Wise, under $250; but Ed. brought him around o. k.

Mrs. Lottie Bierly exhibited her interest in the success of the Music Club, by serving toothsome cake and fudge to the members, the social feature being recognized.

Rev. Kessler, of Woodward, who has been assigned to the United Evangelical circuit, embracing Rebersburg, is said to be a gentleman of fine literary attainments.

It will take Jake Winklebleck a month yet to clean up the tract where his saw mill now operates. It is now believed he will saw a tract for T. M. Harter near Spring Mills.

A pointer to horse culturists: On Saturday Yoder sold twenty-nine head of Kansas horses and mules here for $5,850. Some sale and our farmers have the "mazuma" too.

Rebersburg Lodge I. O. O. F., installed the new officers for the current term on Saturday evening and had a luscious lunch, with Singing Brook water on the side. It is a sound body of men, though odd!

Mrs. Ernest P. Bierly celebrated her 23rd birthday on Saturday by quietly directing the new Girls' Music Club, a gratuitous labor in which she delights and takes pride. Mrs. Bierly is an elocutionist of note and a modest musician.

What mean those stakes set in our main street? Only this: Another $6.00 to $10.00 a day rush of the State Highway Bureau to show the Legislature that things are doing. The public is being done all the while, in the salary grab!

Easter Sunday came up smiling with rosy radiance like Aphrodite rising from the sea in all her beauty and glory. May we not hope that the blue birds have come to stay and the orioles to suspend their nests from the boughs of our apple trees?

Among the floral decorations in our homes, those particularly attractive are cultivated and attended to by Mesdames James Harbaugh, J. N. Moyer, Harry Musser, W. J. Kryder, W. Cole, Jerome Meyer, J. B. Kremer and George M. Haines.

George Haines, Jasper Brungart, W. R. Bierly and E. P. Bierly were conveyed to Bellefonte on Monday morning by Charles A. Smull in his Ford handy car. The former attended the meeting of the directors of the Farmers' Mutual Insurance Co. of Centre county.

Two incipient blazes in a day last week. The chimney on the Anna Mary Kramer house, now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Woodling, celebrated by blazing up, without damage, and fire broke out on the roof of Lowell Bierly's house, set by a spark from the chimney. It was extinguished before much damage was done.

Dr. Austin Gramley, Veterinary Ophthorécturist, for many years at Millburg, was buried on Friday at that place. He was a native of Brush valley, a son of Joseph Gramley, and at one time a prosperous farmer, later hotel proprietor in Rebersburg. He is survived by his wife and a family of four sons and two daughters.

Miss Mary Meyer, Mrs. Sarah Kelley, Prof. Henry Meyer and pomologist Robert Meyer, for the first time in ten years, gathered happily unitedly around the paternal board of Hon. Henry Meyer on Easter. Mary holds the chair of foreign languages in the Paterson, N. J., High school. Henry Jr. will deliver the oration to the class of '15.

The whirligig of April 1st brought a new blacksmith to Rebersburg, J. Veneida of East Penns Valley having moved into Clark Gramley's house and fitted up the Machinery hall, where, like Tubal Cain, he will work in iron, make harness, laugh in neatly fitted shoes, and whistle and sing the live-long day. Good luck in your horse shoes Jay!

The old Nicholas Bierly plantation now owned by Curtis Bierly, the great-grandson, still retains some of the old apple trees beneath which five generations enjoyed the luscious fruit. The trees are all being trimmed by Prof. Henry Dettweiler who knows more about fruit trees than all the pedigreed pomological pregrinatons in the world.

The fortnightly meeting of the Girls Music Club was held on Saturday at the residence of Mrs. Lottie Bierly and proved quite interesting. The composer whom the club studied was Mendelssohn and the sketch of his life and activities as a musician from the age of three years to that of 39 years when he died, was read by the President, Gladys Harbaugh. Selections from his compositions were played by members who entered into the spirit of it with zeal. The next meeting will be held in two weeks at the residence of Mrs. W. J. Hackenberg and the subject for study is Joseph Hofmann, the marvelous pianist. A wide interest is taken in this organization for mutual improvement and sociability.

A great deal is said nowadays about what the county commissioners have done to reduce the county debt and the tax rate. Permit a humble Democrat to suggest that by reading the auditors' report and comparing it with former reports, when Republicans held the county offices and extravagant sway, a great deal of credit is due to Sheriff Lee and the vigilant board of county auditors, Democrats, who not only preach but practice "economy in the public expense, so that labor may be lightly burdened."

If any one challenges this, we can present a detailed review of some of "the high jinks" of past Republican county officials. Give credit to all to whom credit is due, including the county commissioners.

The question of lighting our streets at night, in "the dark of the moon," is being agitated. The Legislature of 1913 provided a means of raising the fund for such purpose. It is found on page 371 of the Pamphlet laws. Section one authorizes the supervisors of townships of the second class to make a contract for lighting, on petition of owners of a majority of the lineal feet frontage on any highway or portion thereof. Section two provides for a tax levy on land (except farm land) the residence on which is within 500 feet of such highway, to pay for the lighting. Section three provides that the township treasurer shall collect the tax and keep the money in a separate fund. Get up your petition and "let there be light," when the moon is "nest-hiding."

Mr. Thompson, of Salona, passed through this vicinity buying up cattle.

E. P. Gleixner and family, of Benezzette, moved into the house owned by Mrs. R. D. Musser.

Miss Tessie Yearick, of Madisonburg, spent Easter with her friend, Renna Wagner, of this place.

Miss Belle McCormick returned to Lock Haven Normal after spending her Easter vacation at home.

Don't forget "Little Bucksnot," Saturday evening at the Grange hall. Proceeds for benefit of church.

Edwin Hosterman, after closing his term of school will enter Lock Haven Normal, for the spring term.

Miss Elva Limbert, who is employed at State College, spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. G. C. Decker.

Frank Allison, a student at Penn State, is spending a vacation at the home of his father, Hon. W. M. Allison.

Mrs. R. C. Musser and sister, Miss Miriam Long, are on the sick list. Mrs. Musser is somewhat improved at this writing.

Mrs. W. M. Grove, accompanied by her grand-daughter, Margaret Zettle, spent Sunday at Centre Hall at the home of Archie Zettle.

Miss Mary Runkle, of Shamokin, was a visitor here from Saturday until Monday when she left Bellefonte to transact business for her employer.

Mr. and Mrs. Schumaker and daughter, of Harrisburg, after spending Easter at the home of Prof. W. R. Jones, departed for their home Monday.

PINE GROVE MENTION.

Tommy Glenn is handling the yard stock behind the counter in the E. C. Ross store, at Lemont.

Mrs. Samuel Cramer, who has been a very sick woman the past two weeks, is now slowly recovering.

John Reed and family in their new Ford car, went to Spruce Creek to spend Easter at the Ben Everhart home.

Luther Mong returned from the Bellefonte hospital Friday, having recovered from an operation for appendicitis.

Last week Theodore Davis Boal added the Galbraith farm to his large earthly possessions in and about Boalsburg.

The Rev. W. S. Warshners, of Port Royal, will preach in the Presbyterian church here on Sunday at 2:30 p. m.

The stork was liberal last week with his crop of boys, leaving twins at the Ed Page home and a boy at Ed Woomers.

Mrs. R. M. Illingsworth and two children, Ralph and Miss Ruth, are visiting the H. M. Snyder home at White Hall.

The newly elected officers of Pennsylvanialodge No. 276, I. O. O. F., will be installed tomorrow (Saturday) evening.

The Carper sale Friday was about the last. Horses sold at $290 and mules at $250. A flock of ewes went at $16.50 each.

Oliver Piolet Bloom, after making diligent search all spring, came from Steelevally, Friday, with a mated team of grays.

Andy J. Lytle is building an addition to his tenant house on the farm, to make room for his tenant farmer, J. Wesley Miller.

J. W. Miller and wife, G. F. Miller and Mrs. John Stover autoped to Millheim where they spent Easter Sunday at the Charley Stover home.

Wm. Gates, in his new Reo car, took a Sunday morning spin to Lamar to visit aunt Mary Mayes, who is ill. He was accompanied by Mrs. J. C. Sunday and daughter, and Mrs. Gates.

John Charles with a crew of men are sawing a bill of lumber for James I. Thompson, who is about to erect a new building on the old burnt site at Centre Furnace. Mr. Lucas, of Centre Hall, has the job.

The moving season is past and the weather man smiled profusely on those who changed residences. Among the movers this locality were the following: John E. McWilliams quit the D. G. PLEASANT GAP PICKUPS.

Miss Emeline Noll spent Easter with relatives in Altoona.

William and Harry Bilger moved from the farm to the old toll gate property at Pleasant Gap.

Mrs. George Miller has been called to Pittsburgh to see her father, Mr. Thomas Noll, who is seriously ill.

A number of our charming young ladies are wearing diamond rings which presage some weddings in the near future.

The dance at Noll's hall on Friday night had a large attendance, a number being present from Bellefonte. These dances are held every Friday night.

It is hard to find out just where one's friends live now, as about one-half the people in Pleasant Gap and surrounding community changed residence on moving day.

The old Haag mill, now owned by the Noll Bros., has been remodeled and leased to a firm for the manufacture of knit goods. They are now installing fifty machines and will employ quite a number of people, mostly girls.

Pleasant Gap merchants report business for the first three months of this year as largely increased over the same period last year. The Pleasant Gap butcher intends putting another wagon on the road to meet the demands of his trade. The Whitlock quarries are also anticipating a big increase in business.

The Lutheran church had a large attendance on Easter Sunday. Sunday school was held in the morning, preaching at 2:30 p. m. with special music at each service. The Methodist church also had a large attendance at both Sunday school and preaching in the evening, it being Rev. J. H. McKechnie's first appearance before the congregation.

LEMONT.

A flock of buntings is still lingering in these parts. Hope winter has fled.

The farmers are busy plowing and getting ready to put out the spring seeding.

David Houser is having the wall built for the new house he intends erecting here in town this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox, of Altoona, spent Easter among friends in these parts and returned home on Monday.

Monday and Tuesday seemed like spring days. Hope winter will soon wend its way to its northern home.

Eva Grove returned to Selingsgrove, Tuesday, where she will continue her course in music in Susquehanna University.

During the Easter services Sunday, in the Shiloh Lutheran church, nine of the young folks were received as members of that congregation.

The Easter services held in the United Evangelical church of this place were well attended and were pleasing, as the program was good, especially the work of the little children.

We can now spend a few moments listening to the cheer-up songs of the robin, bluebirds, turtle-dove, phebe and other birds, that have come to brighten the days for all lovers of nature.
