THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

J. Will Conley has ordered an auto delivery truck for the John Meese store. Forty hours devotion services will begin in St. John's Catholic church at 10.30 o'clock on Sunday morning. Funeral director Hard P. Harris is contemplating the purchase of a new car and converting his old one into a dead wagon. Next Thursday, April 22nd, will be the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Andrew G. Curtin, the War Governor of Pennsylvania. The public sale of the Palace livery yesterday was a great success. Everything sold well and the whole outfit was disposed of before four o'clock. George Dougherty Gehret was arrested on Tuesday night on the charge of stealing a brakeman's lantern from the rear platform of the night train. Argument court was continued from Tuesday of this week until Tuesday of next week on account of Judge Orvis being absent at Atlantic City. Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Troup are rejoicing over the arrival of another little daughter in their family circle. The little Miss made her arrival on Saturday. No, dear reader; they are not plowing up High street to plant it in potatoes or anything else. They are just doing some much needed repairing to put it in better condition. Mrs. Jane Tate, one of the older residents of Bellefonte, is quite seriously ill at her home on Bishop street. Owing to Mrs. Tate's age, much anxiety is felt concerning her recovery. The ladies adult Bible class of the U. B. church will hold a bake sale of bread, rolls, pies, cakes and ice cream Saturday afternoon and evening, April 17th, in the Aid Society room. Born, to Mr. and Mrs. DeVoe Meade, of 400 Stewart Ave., Ithaca, N. Y., on April 12th, a son, DeVoe Kepler. Mrs. Meade was formerly Miss Florence Kepler, of Pine Grove Mills, Pa. Miss Mary McGarvey has moved her studio from the Lyon's building on Allegheny street, to the rooms over Dr. Roger's office, in the Garman house, on the corner of High and Spring streets. A new Ford delivery wagon appeared on the streets on Tuesday bearing the name of Ceadler's bakery; and now they will be able to serve hot bread or rolls to any part of town on short notice. By a very substantial vote the House on Tuesday killed the bill providing for the consolidation of the eastern with the western penitentiary at Rockview. Reasons for the opposition did not materialize. The Bellefonte Lodge Knights of the Golden Eagle celebrated their twenty-fifth anniversary last Thursday night with a big banquet served by members of the Ladies' Temple. A number of after dinner speeches were made. George Musser, of Boggs township, was in town yesterday attending the Palace livery sale. He has decided to make his "Walnut Hill" farm a real walnut place and has planted 1500 walnuts on hilly land. He has 300 trees already under culture. Congressman Richard Pearson Hobson, the hero of the Merrimac, the southern champion of nationwide prohibition, etc., lectured in the court house last night as a number of the Y. M. C. A. Star course. And it must be admitted that he was a very much delayed number at that, as this was his fifth date for appearing in Bellefonte and the first time he got here. The Study Course will meet as usual in the High school building on Tuesday evening, April 20th, at eight o'clock. Miss Isabelle S. Hill will read a paper entitled "A History of the Temperance Movement." Mr. and Mrs. Varney, who are to conduct a welfare week, will be present and will speak on temperance. All are requested to be present as it will be Mr. and Mrs. Varney's "first evening" and they desire a cordial reception. The dramatic club of the Bellefonte High school will give the play "Strongheart" in Garman's opera house on Friday evening, April 30th. The young people are devoting considerable time to practicing for the entertainment and Bellefonters can expect a very creditable presentation of the production. The High school orchestra will furnish the music. Admission will be 25, 35, and 50 cents and tickets can be secured at Krumrine's drug store. The annual meeting of the road supervisors of Centre county was held at the court house on Thursday of last week, and was attended by about fifty supervisors. Deputy highway commissioner E. A. Jones, of Harrisburg, was present and gave a very interesting talk on road making as well as the duties of the supervisors. Other talks were made by Judge Ellis L. Orvis, Col. H. S. Taylor, J. Linn Harris and Prof. J. S. Crandel, of State College. All the old officers were elected for the ensuing year.

ARRESTED AND JAILED ON CHARGE OF ARSON.—Edward Ickes was arrested at Scotia on Wednesday of last week and Bert Finnegan was arrested at Carlisle, Blair county, on Thursday and brought to the Centre county jail on Friday, both men being charged with arson, for having set fire to the house and buildings of H. A. Ellis, in Holt's Hollow, on the night of February 26th, 1915. The arrests were made by Thomas G. Ryan, a deputy state fire warden, of Danville. The men were given a hearing before justice of the peace W. H. Musser on Monday evening. Mr. Ellis' story in effect was that both Ickes and Finnegan first came to his home on Buffalo Run last fall and helped him pick apples. They worked for him most of the time during the fall and winter. Early in February they went to Mr. Ellis' farm in Holt's Hollow, which was unoccupied, and cut wood and hauled it to the house. When the snow disappeared about the middle of February they returned to Buffalo Run. On Wednesday, February 24th, Mr. Ellis and the two men again went to the farm in Holt's Hollow, taking along some paint with which to paint the interior of the house. Mr. Ellis remained until Friday morning when he returned to Buffalo Run, leaving Ickes and Finnegan to finish the painting. About midnight on Friday night the house was discovered to be on fire and burned to the ground. The barn was also on fire but neighbors succeeded in extinguishing the flames and saving it. On the following Monday night, however, the barn was partially destroyed by fire and one or more out-buildings were burned. Mr. Ellis stated that he had $600 insurance on the house, $50 on the summer kitchen and $200 on the barn, which was owned jointly by him and W. G. Runkle, of Bellefonte. All this insurance had been taken out several weeks previous, through the W. B. Rankin agency. Mr. Rankin later testified that the insurance was taken on February 6th, and that the losses had not yet been paid. Mrs. E. E. Bottorf, who lives close to the Ellis farm in Holt's Hollow, testified that she was the first to discover the fire and awakening her husband told him to arouse the neighborhood. He first called to Ickes and Finnegan who were asleep in the burning house. They finally responded and got out of the building. Mrs. Bottorf stated that she dressed as quickly as possible and ran down stairs and out of doors. At the time the summer kitchen and roof of the Ellis house were in flames. She started on a run to George Mayes' home and as she did so she saw both Ickes and Finnegan run toward the barn, which was not then on fire. When she returned from the Mayes home after arousing him she discovered the barn to be on fire. She stated that it could not have caught from a spark from the burning house as a strong wind was blowing the other way, and a building and tree that stood between the barn and house were not even scorched. Mr. Bottorf corroborated his wife's testimony and Mr. Mayes testified to putting out the fire at the barn, admitting that when he did so he noticed a strong odor of coal oil. After presenting the above evidence district attorney D. Paul Fortney asked that Ickes and Finnegan be held for trial at the May term of court. The men were represented by N. B. Spangler and he protested vigorously against holding the men, stating that no evidence whatever had been presented implicating them in the burning of the house. "Squire Musser, however, stated that he deemed the evidence sufficient to hold the men for trial. Mr. Spangler then declared he would take out a writ of habeas corpus for a hearing before the court, and so the case stands. BUILDING OPERATIONS AT PENITENTIARY TO BE CONDUCTED ON OPEN SHOP PLAN.—When building operations are resumed at the western penitentiary this spring, and the hope is universal that it will be soon, they will be conducted on the open shop plan. This fact was authoritatively announced to a reporter of the WATCHMAN by a representative of the Thompson Starratt company, the contracting firm who will have charge of the work. This means that the Union will not be recognized in carrying on the work, but it does not mean that union men will not be employed. Both union and non-union men will be employed on an equal status, and the wages for carpenters will be $3.00 a day to start with. No contracts will be given out for the construction of any part of a building or the equipment thereof, as the entire work will be done by the Thompson Starratt company. This will not only include the concrete work but the steam fitting, plumbing, electric wiring and fitting, painting, etc. The company will have an experienced foreman at the head of each line of work, but other workmen will be needed and preference will probably be given to competent local men. Just when work will be begun is problematical. Superintendent Henry Keep, of the Thompson Starratt company, was in Pittsburgh last week in the hope of getting information as to the exact date, but aside from the fact that it would not be long until they would be authorized to go ahead he got no definite information. DR. NISSLEY, the veterinarian, has removed his office from the Palace to Toner's Livery where those desiring his services can communicate with him. 16-2t

John Baylerts, who was arrested on March 30th by policeman Harry Dukeman for stealing a bicycle from Charles Garbrick, was taken before Judge Orvis last Friday morning and entered a plea of guilty. He was sentenced to the Huntingdon reformatory and was taken to that institution the same afternoon by sheriff A. B. Lee. Philadelphia art lovers have been very much interested recently in an exhibition of oil sketches and miniatures at the Plastic club by Miss Jane H. Valentine, a daughter of the late George Valentine, of this place. The oil sketches in the exhibition include scenes in Sicily, Italy, and the small towns in Nuremberg and Rothenburg, Germany. The miniatures are of well known society folk of Philadelphia. A national "clean up and paint up" campaign has been established with headquarters in St. Louis. The work is being carried on in more than 1,000 cities in the United States, so that it is now time Bellefonte is joining this movement. We have been observing an annual clean up time, with most gratifying results; this year plan to paint after you have cleaned, so that there will not be left one fence, one stable or one building of any kind as an eyesore to your neighborhood. Warmer weather is here at last but don't let that interfere with your pleasure in attending the scenic. Manager T. Clayton Brown always keeps the room well ventilated and entirely comfortable, and your interest is at all times so taken up with the character of the pictures that you are oblivious to most everything else. A complete change of pictures is shown every day, including many of the leading features now on the market. Watch the boards for daily program. George T. Bush has been elected one of the six delegates from Pennsylvania to the meeting of the national assembly League of American Wheelmen which will meet in Boston next September. This organization started the movement for good roads building in the United States at a time when they were literally overwhelmed with opposition. At present there is only a small contingent of the once large organization left but they are still enthusiasts for improved roads. John L. Nighthart returned last Friday from Philadelphia where he spent two weeks in the Will's Eye hospital. For the past year or more he has had considerable trouble with his left eye and an examination at the hospital revealed the fact that the tear duct was closed. Probes were used in opening the duct and reducing it to normal conditions and Dr. Nighthart has the assurance of the doctors at the hospital that the sight of the eye will now improve until it becomes normal. Our readers will all remember the Tom Thumb wedding given in the Lutheran church last February under the auspices of the Mission Band of that church. The play was so beautifully given and so pleasing to the large audience that a number of requests have been made to have it repeated. Therefore it has been decided to repeat the play next Tuesday evening, April 20th, in the church. In addition to the wedding of Tom Thumb and Jenny June, there will be several other literary and musical selections of a pleasing nature that will add greatly to the evening's entertainment. Go and see the little folks in dress performance in this beautiful child's play. Admission, 15 and 25 cents. Within the next few days wreckers will begin dismantling the machinery at the Scotia ore mines, and this will mark the passing out of existence of these well known mines. The first ore taken from these mines was probably three quarters of a century ago, when it was hauled over the mountain to Martha furnace. When that furnace was shut down the mines were abandoned until about thirty-two years ago when they were leased by Andrew Carnegie for the United States Steel company. Large washers were erected and quite a town built at that place. The mines have operated most of the time ever since that but were sold at the sale of the Bellefonte Furnace company property last summer. Since then the machinery, etc., has been sold for scrap and the purchasers are about to dismantle the plant and ship it away. Mr. Cowl, professor of landscape gardening at State College, was in Bellefonte last Saturday and gave some valuable suggestions as to how to transform the plaza between the court house and jail into a beautiful park. His idea includes a hedge along both sides of the park with shade trees, shrubs and flowers. There is some objection by residents living in that locality against making a park there, as they claim it would soon become a lounging place for undesirable people. Just what the outcome will be is, therefore, hard to say. The County Commissioners are willing to do what is fair but naturally don't want to do anything that might not be for the common good. During Mr. Cowl's stay in Bellefonte he also visited the Union cemetery and offered some suggestions as to how that home of the dead can be improved. Some of his suggestions may yet be carried out though it is almost impossible to comply with all of them.

BOOM CENTRE COUNTY'S OLD HOME WEEK.—Another public meeting of citizens was held on Tuesday evening in the interest of Centre county's Old Home week. A few people expressed the opinion that the Fourth of July week would not be an opportune time and advocating holding it later in the year. The preponderance of opinion, however, was in favor of the date named last week, July 2nd to 8th inclusive, and that date stands. While the movement for an Old Home week was started in Bellefonte it is the desire to extend it to all Centre county. Chairman Edmund Blanchard is preparing a list of names for the executive committee which will include able and hustling men in every borough and township in the county. These men will be appealed to make the Old Home week as much of a personal matter with residents of their locality as it is with the people of Bellefonte, and by so doing the week's gathering and home-coming of former residents of Centre county cannot fail to be a success. But it must be remembered that a successful Old Home week cannot be had without hard work, and a great deal of it, by everybody. Don't depend entirely on the committees to do the work. Let every man, woman and child put their shoulder to the wheel and give a push. It's push that gets there every time, and what it will take to make the contemplated gathering a success. Already the chairman of the Amusement committee is deluged with applications from various amusement enterprises for full particulars regarding the Old Home week and the privilege of coming here. The State College gun club has agreed to hold its big mid-summer shoot in Bellefonte at that time and this will be a big attraction. Residents of surrounding towns are already planning to come to Bellefonte at that time and there is no reason why everyone of the seven days should not witness big crowds here and the Fourth of July boom with the biggest celebration witnessed in Bellefonte in the past quarter of a century. Watch the papers next week for a list of the big executive committee, and if your name is included get down to work right away and do your part. Remember that "every little helps, be it ever so small." As evidence of the interest that the movement has already created is the following letter received this week. WANT A GET-TOGETHER MEETING. Editor of the Watchman. We are very glad of the movement to hold a Centre county Old Home week in Bellefonte early in July. The survivors of the Pine Grove Mills Academy association are desirous for a day on which to hold a "get-together" meeting of the old student body in order to renew old-time associations and form new acquaintances. There are quite a number yet living who marched in the parade in Bellefonte a half century ago. We desire to get in touch with old students to arrange for that occasion. Since our last meeting a number have answered their last roll call, among them our president, Gen. James A. Beaver. W. H. FRY, Secretary. ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED.—The fiftieth anniversary of the surrender of General Robert E. Lee and the remnant of his Confederate army at Appomattox Court House, Virginia, on April 9th, 1865, was very fittingly and joyfully celebrated by Gregg Post No. 95, G. A. R., and the Bellefonte High school, in the High school auditorium last Friday afternoon. Samuel B. Miller, commander of the Post, presided and music was furnished by the High school orchestra. Dr. E. H. Yocum opened with prayer and very timely addresses were made by Hon. Ellis L. Orvis, Col. H. S. Taylor and others. At the close the entire assemblage sang "My Country 'Tis of Thee." At that time he weighed only 270 pounds but he is a little heavier now, as he tips the beam at 321. Mr. Ryan's record for the sixteen pound shot is 56 1/2 feet, which exceeds the Swedish champion of Olympian fame. At present he is in training and a candidate for the shot put event in the Olympian contests which are booked to be held in Germany this year, if the war ends in time to permit of them being pulled off.

A small part of Mr. Carver's time was spent at the WATCHMAN office. Dr. J. M. Emerick motored over the mountain from Centre Hill Wednesday evening to look after a little business here. He said the roads were fine and "everything's" booming in Centre Hill. Talking about looking happily at it makes Mr. Emerick has the right perspective. It makes one feel good merely to hear such optimistic talk. Personally, however, we imagine he is about as busy as he can be because he is the only blacksmith doing a general business in the neighborhood of Centre Hill and as there are always things to do in that line he probably has his hands full.
