ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS REWARD.—A reward of $100.00 will be paid by the Central Pennsylvania Forest Fire Protective association for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of any person or persons who willfully and maliciously set fire to the forests of Centre county.

The above announcement is made at the request of the above association, owing to the belief that one or more of the disastrous forest fires which occurred in Centre county this spring were deliberately and maliciously started by somebody. The Central Pennsylvania Forest Fire Protective association was organized several years ago and its membership to date includes owners of mountain land in practically all the north-western section of Centre county. In past years this section of forest land was visited by very destructive fires every spring and thousands of dollars worth of timber was destroyed. This spring, while fires were raging in every section of the State the territory covered by the above association escaped unscathed with the single exception of one fire which broke out in the vicinity of Snow Shoe but which was extinguished before it had progressed far enough to do any great amount of damage. Such is the good work being done by the Central Pennsylvania Forest Fire Protective association and every owner of forest land in Centre county ought to become a member and enjoy its protection.

STATE W. C. T. U. OFFICIALS INSPECT PETRIKIN HALL.—On Tuesday Mrs. Ella George, of Beaver Falls, State president of the W. C. T. U.; Mrs. Sylvia Norris, of Sayer, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Leah Marion, of Ullyses, treasurer of the organization, came to Bellefonte in response to the offer made the State W. C. T. U. to take over Petrikin hall as a permanent headquarters building. They were met by Mrs. John P. Haris, Mrs. R. S. Brouse, Mrs. John Porter Lyon, Miss Mary Blanchard and Miss Rebecca N. Rhoads and were taken through the building for a general inspection as to its condition and utility. The visiting delegation of ladies seemed favorable impressed with the proposition but of course are not in a position to give a definite answer. The details of how such a gift or transfer can be made has been referred to a competent attorney who will advise the ladies in due time. Any definite action taken will have to be at the State convention which does not convene until in October. It might be added, by the way, that in the event such a transfer is made the association will require the entire lower part of the building and only one of the flats upstairs, the others would be rented as usual.

IN BEHALF OF TEMPERANCE.—Louis Albert Banks, D. D., the famous preacher, orator, author, lecturer, will appear before a Bellefonte audience on Monday night, May 17th, in the court house. The coming of Dr. Banks to this place gives the people of this community an opportunity to see and hear one of the biggest men America has in his chosen field. He is a Methodist preacher who has occupied some of the most famous pulpits in that great denomination. He is of the calibre out of which bishops are made, but Dr. Banks prefers to be one who is greater than bishops. He comes to Bellefonte to address an audience under the auspices of the National and State Anti-Saloon League. He is one of a dozen men now lecturing in this State. The greatest temperance orators of the nation have been called into Pennsylvania to "fire the first gun" in the campaign for the next Legislature. No citizen of Bellefonte, or of Centre county, can afford to miss hearing Dr. Banks. Admission free. Dr. Banks' subject will be "John Barleycorn's Fight Against the Stars."

SPANISH WAR VETERANS ENTERTAIN OLD SOLDIERS.—Lieut. George L. Jackson Camp No. 70 Spanish American War Veterans held a special meeting on Monday evening and gave away a ton of coal and a barrel of flour. H. A. Heverley, of Herr & Heverley's grocery, got the ton of coal, and J. E. Pife, of State College, a barrel of flour. Following the meeting the members of the Camp entertained members of Gregg Post and a few other friends with sandwiches, ice cream, cake and coffee. Judge Ellis L. Orvis and Clement Dale Esq., were present and made brief addresses.

The members of the Camp, by the way, have placed orders for new regulation uniforms and expect to make their first appearance in the same on Memorial day, when they will take a prominent part in the exercises. They are also figuring on having a portrait made of the late Lieut. George L. Jackson, after whom the Camp was named, to hang at a prominent place in their camp rooms.

Our Weekly Summary of Legislative Activities.

learned in the law at $5 a day employed with a minimum of $600 a year and requiring County Commissioners to furnish first class townships duplicates of adjusted valuations for taxation.

Other bills signed that day are: prohibiting the use or sale of any balloons made or intended to contain fire for purposes of ascension; providing a chief bookkeeper for the Auditor General's Department at a salary of $2500 a year, an assistant at $2000 a year and two bookkeepers and an additional traveling auditor at $1800 a year each; amending the act of 1906 by providing that debts of municipalities consolidated shall be paid by the consolidated city and for the levying of a uniform tax to pay it; authorizing payment from State funds of the cost of transferring insane persons on order of the State Board of Charities or committees on lunacy.

On Friday the Governor approved bills establishing a State bureau of vocational education. It provides for two divisions, agricultural and industrial, each under a chief at $4000 dollars, two supervisors at $2000 each and two stenographers. The bureau will be a part of the Department of Public Instruction; reorganizing the Attorney General's Department which provides for a first deputy at $7000, a deputy at $6000, two deputies at $5000 each, a private Secretary at $3500, three law clerks at $3000 each, five stenographers at $1200, each, a messenger at $1200 and a telephone operator at $900 and authorizes the spending of $20,000 a year for special counsel.

On the same day these bills were signed: providing for altering the boundaries of counties to straighten lines; regulating appeals from accounts of borough controllers; authorizing boroughs to make appropriations for libraries; regulating accounts in estates not exceeding $300; authorizing Williamsport to acquire and maintain a dam; amending the act to discharge prisoners under the insolvency law; fixing fees of appraisers in estates at $5 a day; reviving act of May 22, 1878, relating to banking companies, so that they may bring suits for recovery of property; amending the act of 1884 by extending jurisdiction to persons having an undivided interest in land, coal, or timber, giving right to compel partition; providing that debts of a borough or township annexed by a city shall be assumed by the city; validating the bonds of any school district issued since 1811 and concurrent resolutions authorizing the State Department to purchase and specify products of the United States and to print 50,000 copies of the act to prevent the desecration of the flag.

The veto ax has been in service within the week also but less vigorously than usual. The bill providing that school tax in first class townships might be levied at different rates in built-up and rural sections got it in the neck and the bill providing that all elevators be equipped with air cushions met the same fate. Two other vetoes of local and unimportant measures and that of the bill to validate transactions of building and loan associations brought the total up to forty at the close of business in the Secretary's office this evening. That seems a lot, but Governor TENER vetoed nearly four times as many four years ago.

The bill to consolidate the Eastern and Western penitentiaries is likely to get through this session and will probably pass finally tomorrow. While on second reading in the Senate Senator McNICHOL, of Philadelphia, made a strong effort to strangle it by the process of recrimination. But Senator THOMPSON, of Beaver, declared that the purpose of the motion was to bury the bill and it failed. There is some feeling between the Beaver Senator and the Philadelphia boss and this incident will not have a tendency toward conciliation. Even if the bill does pass and is approved this session, however, it will be several years before the consolidation can be effected. Several additional buildings will be required to make the Centre county institution adequate.

The Senate yesterday passed finally House bills making railroads liable for fire damages caused by locomotives in certain cases; providing for the formation and regulation of stock corporations having shares without nominal par value and authorizing such corporations to issue shares without par value upon reorganization or consolidation; creating and regulating municipal leins for various purposes and authorizing the adoption of an amortized basis for valuing the bond investments of life insurance companies or fraternal beneficiary societies, which are now in the hands of the Governor. The House yesterday sent the Senate bill revising the plans for the Lake Erie and Ohio river ship canal and authorizing counties adjacent to issue bonds for its construction to the Governor for approval. The moving picture censor bill which provides for another new office and the bill repealing the cold storage law of 1913 are also in the hands of the Governor.

This afternoon Senator SPROUL introduced a joint resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution authorizing the issue of $50,000,000 in bonds for highway building and improvement and the Governor signed the following bills: requiring Allegheny county to establish a pension fund; making forty-five pounds a standard bushel for apples and fifty-six pounds for beets; and authorizing boroughs to collect rental for use of public sewers.

Purity Gives Power. There are many persons in the world that need to be impressed with the fact that the purer the blood is the greater is the power of the system to contract it. Persons whose blood is in good condition are much less likely to take cold or to be long troubled with it, or to catch any contagious or infectious disease, than are those whose blood is impure and therefore impoverished and lacking in vitality. The best medicine for purifying the blood is Hood's Sarsaparilla, and persons suffering from any blood disease or any want of tone in the system are urged to give this medicine a trial. It is especially useful at this time of year.
