

ADDITIONAL COUNTY CORRESPONDENCE.

PINE GROVE MENTION.

Floyd Gardner was here over Sunday. John Klingler is nursing a colony of Job's comforters. Allen Wieland and wife were State College visitors Friday.

Mrs. Calvin Lykens, of Benor, was here on a business mission Friday.

Walter Dreibleis is breaking ground for a new house on west College avenue.

James Hubler autoed to Rebersburg where he transacted business Saturday.

Samuel Grove is slowly recovering from his recent illness, and is able to walk out.

Fruit trees of all kinds have a heavy bloom and the indications are for a big fruit crop.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rossman were over Sunday visitors with relatives at Mingoville.

C. B. McCracken is having his barn reroofed with Cedar shingles. Mr. Kelly has the job.

Elmer Ishler, one of Boalsburg's foremost farmers, transacted business in town Friday.

Ed. Meyers is starting on a new house on east College avenue. Will Stover has the contract.

A new concrete bridge is being built over the Branch at the E. C. Musser and Will Bottorf farms.

Mrs. Samuel Everhart and Mrs. Reed were over Sunday visitors at the J. E. Reed home at Rock Springs.

Mrs. Alfaretta Goss went to Pittsburgh Thursday to visit her son, Fred B., who is seriously ill in the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith and daughter Eliza are here from Altoona for a week's outing at Grand-pa Port's home.

Herbert McWilliams, one of Graysville's prosperous young farmers, was a business visitor at Tyrone Friday.

C. B. Hess spent the early part of this week in Altoona with his wife, who is undergoing treatment by a specialist.

Henry Snyder Illingsworth, who was here attending his grandfather's funeral returned to his studies at Bucknell Monday.

Hon. J. T. McCormick had a tumble Sunday, tearing the ligaments of his left ankle and is now going around on crutches.

An unusually heavy blast was discharged at the Whiteoak east end quarry on Monday afternoon, wrecking a steam shovel that stood nearby and also burying a number of the quarry cars, causing about two thousand dollars' damage.

The accident was ascribed to the carelessness of the Italian in charge of the work and he was at once discharged. It was a fortunate thing that nobody was hurt.

The Noll Bros. have sold a number of building lots on their new tract of land. It is their intention to open up a new street west of the old Haag hotel. The street will be macadamized with concrete curbing and pavements. This will make it an attractive street for homes and business places and already a number of moneyed men are becoming enough interested in the proposed improvement to begin figuring on the erection of a block of twenty houses and bungalows. The new addition will be supplied with water and electric light.

Mr. Ira Harer and wife, of Pittsburgh, spent several days visiting Mrs. Harer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Mallory, at Shady Side.

Rev. Ira E. Spangler and wife and Miss Nettie Herald, after spending several days visiting in this neighborhood, left on Friday for their home at Milton.

The cross beams as well as other repairs for the bridge crossing Elk creek to C. O. Mallory's home arrived, and the construction of the new bridge will soon be in operation.

On Friday of last week Jacob Winkleblich purchased the large tract of timberland from James T. Corman, the consideration being $5,000. On Tuesday Mr. Winkleblich's bark peeling crew, consisting of Hall and Koev Winkleblich, Lester Bowersox, Charles Zimmerman, Calvin Crouse, Harry Gephart, Sumner Stover and John Brungart, began peeling but the cool weather holds the bark tight.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Cronover fitted over old Tussey for the fourth time in two years and expects to embark in the mercantile business. Mrs. Cronover will be book-keeper and clerk, while Tom will engage in the lumber business as a side issue.

George O'Bryan, of Axe Mann, came up Sunday and spent the day with his parents on Church street. On his return home he took his parents with him for a few days' outing. The elder O'Bryan is full of rheumatism and the change may benefit him.

Rev. E. L. Bergstresser and Frank Stover, of Altoona, autoed down here Saturday morning and was in town before most folks had breakfast. After greeting old friends they autoed to State College to witness the sports, returning home in the evening.

On Tuesday afternoon John McCool, of Stonevalley, was driving along the road at the James Mitchell farm and when he attempted to pass a traction engine his team gave a plunge, the line broke and the horses ran away. Two wheels were smashed and the wagon otherwise damaged. McCool was thrown out but fortunately was not injured.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Homan returned to their Centre county home on Wednesday afternoon after spending six months traveling through the west on a sight-seeing trip. They also spent some time at the Pan-American exposition and at the fruit and flower show at San Diego, Cal.

Memorial day exercises will be held on the 29th at Pine Hall at 5.30 p. m. Rev. J. McK. Reiley, of State College, will make the address. On May 30th, at 10 a. m., Col. D. F. Fortney will make the address at the Housserville exercises. The exercises at State College will be from three to six o'clock on Monday afternoon. Col. Fortney will be the orator.

The sessions of the Grand Lodge I. O. O. F., at Stroudsburg, are being attended by William Grant Gardner, representing the Pennsylvania Lodge No. 276; John Grove, of Lemont Lodge No. 897; E. S. Erb, of State College Lodge No. 1032; Robert Bloom, of Centre Hall; LeRoy Wasson, of Stormstown; and Miss Ann Dale, of Boalsburg; Mrs. Jacob Hoy, Bellefonte, and Mrs. Harry Imboden, State College, representing their various Lodges of Rebekahs.

PLEASANT GAP PICKUPS.

Merchant Charles K. Stitzer is building a new residence at the cross roads.

The knitting mill is working to its full capacity and twenty-five new machines will be installed in the near future.

The Whiteoak quarries are now operating day and night, with orders sufficient to keep them busy for three months.

It is rumored that a meeting will be held in the near future to discuss the question of organizing a bank for Pleasant Gap.

The shows in Bellefonte on Saturday night are all right, but the rub comes when you miss the last auto-bus and have to walk home.

Roy Noll, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Noll, was brought home from the west on Monday seriously ill, and was taken to the Bellefonte hospital.

The Leathers Bros. are still selling lots and are about closing contracts for the sale of three houses. They have also placed a contract for the erection of a moving picture theatre.

The Zettle brothers are now manufacturing concrete bricks at their factory here. They are made of cement and fine grit and are much better for chimneys and outside walls than the burnt clay brick.

Howard E. Wells has been awarded the contract for the erection of the new Lutheran church. Mr. Wells has also purchased a number of lots from the Leathers Bros., at the cross roads, and will erect houses thereon.

WOLF'S STORE.

Mumps stick like wild hung wall paper. Frequent showers recently have advanced the grass considerably.

Let us all stand by our President in his policy of "watchful waiting."

Henry Pentecoff, while splitting wood, cut a deep gash in his left hand.

Jerome Brungart and L. L. Wolf were at Millheim on Saturday on business.

James Ziegler and wife from Rebersburg visited Roush Ziegler on Sunday.

Dorothy Crouch, of Madisonburg, spent several days with Mrs. G. H. Showers, of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wolfe, of near Logantown, spent Sunday with E. R. Wolfe and family.

Don't forget that a word of encouragement is beneficial to those engaged in competition.

John Roush, of Madisonburg, and our merchant, Mr. Showers, were our important anglers last week.

Wilbur Brungart and John Wert spent Sunday under the parental roof of Mr. Wert in west Brushvalley.

Norman Douty has been through our community securing subscriptions to the WATCHMAN, the grand old reliable paper.

Our young people spent Ascension Day in Brushvalley Narrows in search of the speckled beauties, with no noticeable results.

Henry Pentecoff comes with the best Ascension Day story. Ask him for it. He is willing to relate his thrilling experiences.

Mrs. W. F. Stover is the champion chicken raiser. She has over four hundred chicks, most of which were hatched in the old way.

As a matter of experiment and farm betterment, Jerry Granley has employed Jerome Brungart to quarry limestone to be used in burning lime.

In considering the latest German "triumph" one thing should not be forgotten. It strikes a far more dangerous blow to Germany than at England.

If "ulgiadukum" to Bellefonte during Centre county Old Home week why not make some less fortunate friend of yours who is unable to attend the celebration happy by having the WATCHMAN sent to his address so he can read a reliable record of the proceedings?

W. F. Stover has engaged in his usual labor in erecting a jumbo lime stack. Mr. Stover is an up-to-date, practical farmer and has covered his entire cultivated farm with a good coat of lime, and has secured most excellent results. He is now preparing to give it the second or "overcoat."

On Saturday our ball team secured the services of Victor Walker's auto transfer, of Rebersburg, and went to Spring Mills where they were defeated in a game of ball by the home team to the score of 4-2. The pitching work was of the superior kind, J. Corman having thirteen strikeouts out, and H. Ziegler, twelve. Score by innings.

The following is a poem copied from the Saturday North American. See how it expresses the truth of man, the only animal endowed with reason:

Only a human father,
A man with power to think,
Will take from little children
The price of food and drink.

No fledgling feeds the father bird!
No chicken feeds the hen!
No kitten mouses for the cat—
This glory is for men.

We are the wisest strongest race—
Loud may our praise be sung!
The only animal alive
That lives upon its young.

Where the Women and Children Can Help.

HARRISBURG, May 20.—"I am glad that Governor Brumbaugh has fixed May 26th as a 'State-wide Good Roads Day.' I wish that I could go out with the men folks and help, but how can I?"

This is what the women say. There are many ways in which the women and children can help in making "Good Roads Day" successful. The most practical, of course, is by preparing and serving to the workmen along the highways near their homes, a goodly supply of lunch. Feed the men folks well and they will work all the harder. You needn't cook a great big dinner; you needn't make a market basket full of sandwiches; you needn't brew a dozen gallons of coffee or tea, but you can furnish a ham, several loaves of bread, buckets of cool spring water with dippers in them, and you and the children can carry this to the nearest point beneath the shade trees along the road at the noon hour and call the workers from their toil to partake of refreshments.

That's one way and a mighty good way to help make the "State-wide Good Roads Day" successful. Try it.

Mark Cows to Prevent Loss.

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., May 14.—Proper marking for cows in dairy herds at this time of the year is advocated by Professor C. W. Larson, head of the dairy husbandry of The Pennsylvania State College. He suggests round ear tabs or the use of tattoos as permanent means of identification.

"Every animal, especially the younger ones," said Professor Larson, "should have marks and records of these marks should be taken so that when they are on pasture they can be identified. Often animals are lost when on pasture. For that reason the markings are important. Metal markers are not so satisfactory as the sorts mentioned, because they are easily lost."

A Music Lover.

"That prima donna must love music thoroughly." "Oh, I don't know," replied the manager. "She doesn't seem to get a bit of pleasure out of hearing anybody else sing well."

College Test Shows Pot Grown Tomato Plants Best.

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., May 14.—For earliness and largest yield tomato plants should be grown in tin cans, paper or earthen pots until danger of frost has passed and then be transplanted to the field or garden, said Professor M. G. Kains, head of the horticultural department of the Pennsylvania State College. The best results in last year's tests were obtained where several seeds were sown direct in each pot and all but the strongest plant weeded out. But nearly as good results were obtained when the seedlings were transplanted from flats—first to pots and later to the field.

The poorest results were observed when the plants were moved from flats direct to the field. In the pot method the roots are all intact when transplanted and the plants are ready to bloom if not actually in blossom or with little fruits. Plants in flats, however, lose much of their root system and are therefore checked when moved to the open ground.

Prof. C. E. Myers, of the State College faculty, has been conducting several tomato breeding experiments for which especially fine strains of the leading varieties have been grown in pots for this season's transplanting. The surplus plants are being sold off at the usual market prices for delivery about May 20th to those who send for them. In this way a large number of growers may become acquainted with the choicest varieties of this vegetable.
