WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE CONVENTION.—The second convention of the Woman's Suffrage party of Centre county was held in the High school building on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. It was well attended, about half the women present being out of town delegations. Mrs. Elizabeth Blanchard Beach, chairman of the Woman's Suffrage party of Centre county, presided. The reports of the borough and township leaders were most interesting, many of the women giving their reports extempore, and in a quiet, feminine manner.

Miss Florence Rhone, daughter of Hon. Leonard Rhone, famed for his connection with the Centre county Grange, told of the favorable attitude of the Grange toward the suffrage resolution, this organization having endorsed woman's suffrage for ten years.

Mrs. Gardner, vice chairman of the State College branch, gave assurance of the favorable attitude of the men toward the issue, her pithy remarks and kindly sentiment expressed toward those who opposed the movement assured all that there were no methods of force being used in Centre county. In fact it is not necessary to even consider such methods as Miss Esther Gray, from Stormstown, very naively affirmed, "that we have all the best men with us, and that the others don't seem to count."

Miss Shipley, of Unionville, said she has been led to think of men as voters, as she is so impressed by the fact of our not being allowed to vote. Reports were heard from twelve boroughs and townships, all except three having sent delegates.

Miss MacAlarney, from Harrisburg, gave many good suggestions for doing efficient work, and invoked the women to work quietly, remembering the golden quality of silence.

MOTHER PHEASANT ATTACKS HORSE.—A few days ago Clyde Bradford, of Centre Hall, was hauling cement up the mountain to repair the old reservoir of the Centre Hall water company. He happened to stop his horse near a bunch of underbrush where a pheasant was nesting on six little birds. Hardly had he stopped when the mother pheasant flew up and, alighting on the horse's head, began beating with its wings and pecking at the animal's eyes with all the vigor of a dangerous wild bird. The horse shook its head in an effort to shake the pheasant off and before Bradford had time to do anything the animal began to plunge and kick and finally reared and backed wagon and all down over the side of the mountain. Bradford had jumped from the wagon and escaped the consequences of its descent among the trees and underbrush, and he wasted little time in getting away from such close proximity to the pheasant's nest, lest he be the next to feel its protecting vengeance.

FLAG DAY OBSERVED.—Flag day was observed in Bellefonte on Monday with a liberal display of the national emblem. Flags were hung to the breeze from many of the business places and a number of the private residences in the town. The Bellefonte Lodge of Elks not only displayed three large flags in front of their home but had the interior profusely decorated with flags, bunting and roses. In the evening a public meeting was held at the Lodge at which Dr. Robert Mills Beach made a very interesting address, giving a brief history of the flag and urging his hearers to a higher patriotism and deeper veneration for the Stars and Stripes. The doctor's talk was greatly appreciated by all who heard it.

SHIRT FACTORY AGAIN IN OPERATION.—The Bellefonte shirt factory was put in operation last week after about fifteen months' idleness on account of lack of orders. During the shut down the factory was moved from the second story of the Lauderbach-Barber company building to a new building erected by the proprietor, S. D. Ray, on his property on south Water street. At present twelve machines are in operation and as fast as business warrants it other machines will be started. The plant is better equipped now than ever, having a capacity of about sixty machines, and work can be turned out expeditiously. At present shirts are the only articles of wearing apparel being made.

PENNSYLVANIA INDUSTRIAL REFORMATORY.—The exercises connected with the exhibit of the industrial departments and the close of the present term of the Reformatory schools, at Huntingdon, Pa., will be held on Thursday, June 24th, at 2.00 and 7.30 p. m. These occasions are open to the public and a cordial invitation extended to all who may wish to attend, to do so.

The regular Friday evening dances at Hecla park will be inaugurated this evening, to continue during the summer.

Our Weekly Summary of Legislative Activities.

what influences were behind this measure. Since "time out of mind" Sheriffs and County Treasurers have been ineligible to succeed themselves and since 1874 Governors have not been eligible to succeed themselves. But somebody for some reason undertook to exempt Mayors of third class cities from this wholesome restriction but the Governor has put the quietus upon it.

Another important bill vetoed is the "uniform cold storage" measure. It is reasonably certain that the big packers of Chicago, Kansas City and St. Louis were behind the bill because it practically freed the products of their establishments from restrictions imposed upon home productions. The present law requires goods stored thirty days to be marked and the new bill extended this time to sixty days. "The purpose of food laws," the Governor says, "is to protect the consuming public and to prevent frauds and deceptions in the sale of food products." The bill in question not only fails to do this but it repeals the provisions in the existing law which does.

When a bill is vetoed it's dead, unless the Governor intervenes as he did in the case of the BALDWIN insurance bill, and most of the bills vetoed within the week are not worth talking about. Yet some of these are so palpably vicious in principle that one marvels how they got through the Legislature. For example, take the measure known as Senator SMITH'S bill. It proposes to remove the necessity of advertising the purpose to apply for a charter. If it had become a law corporation charters to compass all sorts of evils might have been sneaked through the State Department and the suffering public would have no redress. What purpose the Senator had in mind may never be known. But he is a Bull Moose.

The Governor gave most of his time to-day to consideration of the appropriation bills. But he signed the bill increasing officials of the municipal court of Philadelphia, one providing for a commission to investigate the cause of the increase of the price of anthracite coal and one providing for the incorporation of companies to encourage the breeding of poultry and the preservation and protection of game fish, forests and wild life.

COBURN.—Mrs. Jane E. Coburn, widow of the late Col. James P. Coburn, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. R. Evelyn Rogers, on North Allegheny street, at six o'clock last Friday evening, of angina pectoris. She had been in feeble health for some time past and her death was not unexpected.

She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Huston and was born in Nittany valley, being 78 years and 7 months old. She was married to Col. Coburn in 1860 and most of their married life was spent at Aaronsburg. About twelve years ago they came to Bellefonte and had lived here ever since. Mrs. Coburn was a member of the Presbyterian church and a woman of rare culture and attainments. She was also a member of the Bellefonte D. A. R., and quite active in its patriotic work.

Mr. Coburn died on December 2nd, 1908, but surviving her are the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Isabella Sower, of Norristown; Dr. Joseph H. Huston, of Clearfield; C. F. McGhee Huston, living in Tennessee; Thomas Huston Jr., of Indianapolis, and Mrs. R. Evelyn Rogers of Bellefonte. Two sisters and a brother preceded her to the grave.

Dr. George E. Hawes had charge of the funeral services which were held at the house at 10.30 o'clock on Monday morning, after which burial was made in the Union cemetery.

BEHRER.—George Behrer passed away at his home near Pine Hall at 12.30 o'clock last Friday. He had been ailing for about three years with Bright's disease but was up and around until a few days before his death.

Deceased was a son of George and Susan Behrer and was born in Buffalo Run valley on March 20th, 1858, making his age at death 57 years, 2 months and 22 days. On May 14th, 1885, he was united in marriage to Miss Isabella A. McCormick and since then they have made their home in College township. He was a member of the Lutheran church all his life, a deacon and a trustee and was a member of the building committee that had in charge the erection of the new Lutheran church at State College. He was a member of the State College Lodge of Odd Fellows, and a gentleman highly esteemed for his manliness and integrity among a large circle of acquaintances.

He is survived by his wife and one son, Harry, at home. He also leaves one brother, Moses Behrer, of Buffalo Run, and two sisters, Mrs. Jane Forest, of Tyronne, and Mrs. William Wike, living in Ohio. The funeral was held on Monday morning. Rev. L. S. Spangler had charge of the services and was assisted by Rev. W. H. Traub. Burial at Pine Hall was made in accordance with the rites of Odd Fellowship.

SULENBARGER.—Mrs. Mary Sulenbarger, widow of the late Levi Sulenbarger, died at her home near the Bowes school house in Liberty township on Saturday morning. Almost a year ago she fell and broke her hip and while she was recovering erysipelas developed which caused her death. She was almost eighty-five years old and is survived by four children: Daniel and Mason Sulenbarger, of Liberty township; Emma, of Atlantic City, and Elizabeth, at home. Funeral services were held at her late home on Monday afternoon by Rev. J. Edward Dunning and interment was made in the private burying ground near the Bowes school house.

SPANGLER.—Miss Catharine May Spangler died at the home of Mrs. Amanda Mothersbaugh, at Lemont, on Wednesday evening, after a year's illness with a complication of diseases, aged 46 years, 9 months and 9 days. For fifteen years she was a resident nurse in a Pittsburgh hospital but came to Lemont last summer on account of failing health. Funeral services were held at the Mothersbaugh home at eight o'clock yesterday evening by Rev. S. C. Stover, and this morning the remains will be taken to Renovo for interment.

The members of the Pleasant Gap fire company are arranging for a big time on Saturday, June 26th. A big list of sports will be pulled off with a festival in the evening.

CUMMINGS.—C. C. Cummings, who for years has been the WATCHMAN'S correspondent at Spring Mills and who frequently contributed from his versatile pen to other publications over the non de plume, "Carroll," died quite suddenly at one o'clock on Sunday afternoon while sitting in his favorite chair. He first complained last Thursday but was able to about as usual during the balance of the week. Sunday forenoon he complained of some pain but was around the house as was his custom, and when death overtook him he was sitting, chatting with his family.

Deceased was a native of Philadelphia and was eighty-two years old. In his younger days he followed newspaper work but later became a traveling shoe salesman and it was while engaged in that capacity that he located at Spring Mills about twenty-five years ago. That place had been his home ever since. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and is a man who will be missed by his neighbors and friends.

Surviving him are his wife and two daughters, Misses Ella S. and Anna M. Cummings, both at home. He also leaves one sister living in Philadelphia. Funeral services were held at his late residence at one o'clock on Tuesday afternoon by Rev. Williams, of the M. E. church, after which burial was made in the Presbyterian cemetery.

HOLAHAN.—Thomas B. Holahan Esq., a member of the Lancaster county bar, died on Monday, aged seventy years. When a young man he lived at Milesburg and was engaged with his father in the mercantile business. Later he went to Lock Haven and read law, was admitted to the Clinton county bar, and some years afterwards located in Lancaster. The family is remembered by some of the older residents of Milesburg.

JAMES.—Following a year's illness with tuberculosis of the lymphatic glands, Miss May James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John James, of Marsh Creek, died on Sunday morning, aged sixteen years. Funeral services were held in the church at Romola on Wednesday morning, interment being made in the cemetery adjoining the church.

JAMES.—Mr. and Mrs. James, of Liberty township, are mourning the death of their infant son, McDowell James, who died on Monday morning of asthma, aged 1 year and 10 months. Burial was made in the Baptist cemetery at Blanchard on Wednesday afternoon.

Residents of the southern part of the town, in the neighborhood of Pine and south Water streets, are very much annoyed by the persistent and rancorous odor of the skunk. It hangs heavily on the atmosphere from morning until night and night until morning, and there is a general belief that it is not the scent of the animal in its wild condition, but rather dead animals trapped and killed for the pelts and bounty. If such is the case there ought to be no trouble in getting a scent on the trapper and trailing him to his lair.

While in Bellefonte this week T. S. Strawn engaged Philip D. Waddle as clerk in his New Kensington hotel, at New Kensington, and the latter will leave for that place on Sunday. Mr. Waddle had a number of years experience as hotel clerk at the Bush house, in this place, and is a capable, courteous and obliging gentleman. In fact it was because Mr. Strawn knew of his preeminent fitness for the position that he engaged him, and the patrons of the New Kensington cannot help but find him to their liking.

Irvin Robinson Jr., of Mt. Eagle, one of the men charged with being implicated in the death of Henry Confer, of Howard, was released from jail on a ten thousand dollar bond on Wednesday.

The members of the Pleasant Gap fire company are arranging for a big time on Saturday, June 26th. A big list of sports will be pulled off with a festival in the evening.

PENITENTIARY CONSOLIDATION BILL SIGNED.—Governor Brumbaugh on Monday signed the Hess bill consolidating the eastern and the western penitentiary into one institution to be known as the State Penitentiary and to be located on the present site of the western penitentiary at Rockview, Centre county. While the bill carries with it no appropriation the signing of it by the Governor will mean that all buildings erected at the new penitentiary in the future will be planned on a scale sufficiently large to accommodate the demands of the combined institutions. The Governor last week signed the bill giving the western penitentiary the right of eminent domain for the purpose of acquiring more land if at any time it is needed, but the probability is that it will be many years before the institution will require more land than now forms the penitentiary site.

With his approval of the bill Governor Brumbaugh filed the following statement of his reasons for so doing:

"This bill is a step in the carrying out of a comprehensive plan, based upon humane and economic principles, for the mental, moral and physical betterment of the Commonwealth's criminals. It contemplates a saving to the taxpayers of 67 counties of the State upwards of one-third of a million dollars annually.

"Even with the most efficient and humane management, it has been impossible to make enlightened provision for the prisoners in the old penitentiaries in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. Room was lacking, and to secure this in such congested surroundings, where land is held at prohibitive prices, was out of the question. The merging of the two old penitentiaries into a great central institution in the centre of the Commonwealth, in surroundings such as these exist, will make it possible to preserve the moral and physical health of the inmates, and to maintain a prison system by which many of the men will be reclaimed and converted into useful citizens.

"Not even the most diligent efforts of the most high-minded management are of much effect in such quarters as those to which the penitentiaries have been limited. The prisoners are crowded together in close confinement, physically contaminated by their environment and morally contaminated by one another. The present bill looks to the correction of these conditions.

"The great advantage to the Commonwealth will be more and more apparent as the plan is worked out. To maintain separate penitentiaries where so excellent an opportunity is presented to combine them would be a manifest error."

"While it is true, as suggested by some critics, that the placing of the combined prisons in Centre county will likely result in fewer visits from the friends of those inmates whose homes are in the southeastern corner of the State, it is submitted that this should have no weight against the advantages which must be conceded. To cause the friends of Philadelphia prisoners to travel to Centre county, in order to visit them, differs only in the number of prisoners involved, and not in principle, from the present necessity for the friends of prisoners who live in Mifflin or Union or Lycoming or Tioga counties, to journey to Philadelphia. A large proportion of the prisoners (and this is especially true of prisoners sentenced from the large centres of population) do not have families or relatives, nor do they have friends whose visits are to be encouraged.

"From the standpoint of the family or of the friend who has the interests of the prisoners at heart, surely there is little ground for hesitation between the convenience of easily visiting a prisoner confined under present conditions and the satisfaction of knowing that he is in such an environment that, when finally liberated, he may be turned back to his friends and to the world with mental, physical and moral strength, giving him a fair chance to become a good and useful citizen.

A statement by warden John Francies was filed in which he said:

The State owns 5,254 acres of fine land in Centre county and on it are found practically all of the material needed for the construction of the buildings.

The water supply is ample and the ground is of such a character as to be available for farming and fruit raising. The revenue from the sale of the two old penitentiaries, Francies says, will be very large and will produce a fund far in excess of the money necessary to build the one penitentiary. In conclusion he says that "if the combining of the penitentiaries is ever to be carried out, it is of the utmost importance that we now have the legislation provided in this bill."

A BLACKSNAKE MOUNTED A SPEEDING TOURING CAR.—While speeding down the Bald Eagle valley road, a day or so ago the occupants of the Hon. A. G. Morris touring car were given a momentary fright by a big blacksnake. The reptile which was over five feet long undertook to cross the road just ahead of the car. It was so close that the chauffeur certainly thought he had run over it so you can imagine the consternation there was when suddenly the head of the snake appeared in a menacing manner sticking up over the front fender of the car. A hasty stop and examination revealed the snake coiled about the fender irons and apparently unhurt.

How it got onto the rapidly moving car is a mystery.

Clay Hoston, the negro who early in 1914 stabbed and killed J. A. Dunkle, of Karthaus, with a hunting knife, will likely cheat the electric chair of a victim. At the May, 1914, term of court in Clearfield he was convicted of murder in the first degree and sentenced to electrocution. He is now dangerously ill with a disease that is a menace to the other prisoners in the Clearfield county jail and has been removed to the jail barn where a temporary cell has been installed and the man is kept under guard night and day. His death is likely to occur at any time. The killing was the result of the negro and the white man being infatuated with a certain woman.

A letter received from Edward Shields, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Shields, of this place, who has been in France since last November in charge of twenty men keeping in shape a big consignment of American automobiles now being used by the French government in its war operations, states that he will probably be home in August. Edward has been right on the firing line and has witnessed many harrowing scenes, but he does not stay there longer than absolutely necessary. He is obliged to make a daily report of himself and members of his crew to the American consul at Paris.

MOUNTAIN GUN CLUB SHOOT.—The registered tournament of the Mountain Gun club was held at Clarence last Friday and was a success in every detail. The weather conditions were fine and the attendance very good, there being forty shooters present. The trade was represented by L. J. Squier, of Pittsburgh, and E. M. Hogge, of Philipsburg, both of the Dupont Powder company. The Mountain Gun club does not boast of a large membership, or of many 95 to 100 per cent. shooters, but in way of entertaining it stands second to none, which fact can be verified by those who attended the banquet given the visiting shooters and friends on Thursday evening, at the Mountain house, under the personal supervision of that genial gentleman, J. Harris Hoy. The high professional average at the shoot was made by L. J. Squier, with a record of 135, and the high amateur average by Hon. F. A. Godcharles, of Milton, with a record of 128. The result:

Out of 150 targets shot at C. H. Watson broke 113, David Chambers 97, Geo. B. Uzzle 105, L. J. Squier 135, O. F. Eblers 99, F. A. Godcharles 128, G. W. Clinger 127, E. L. Houzel 107, W. S. G. NATURALIZATION COURT.—Judge Orvis sitting in naturalization court on Tuesday, made citizens of the United States at the rate of about four an hour. In other words, out of a list of twenty-three applicants eighteen were granted papers of citizenship, one was refused on a legal technicality and four were continued. F. S. Becker, of Philadelphia, special examiner for the United States government, was present and he made it as thorny a road to travel as possible for the would-be American citizens, but notwithstanding that fact the court passed eighteen. One of the incidents was when the examiner asked one of the men who made the laws and he replied "Penrose." "That's about right," said the examiner. The full list of the men granted naturalization papers with their nationality and present residence is as follows:

PLEASANT GAP TO HAVE A NEW STORE.

—The building boom at Pleasant Gap that has been attracting so much attention during the past year has had the inevitable result of enticing mercantile establishments to the thriving village. The latest venture in this line is being made by Steinberg Bros., who are building a 2x60 building on the Gettig property just off the "old Swaney Corner." We understand that they expect to open a general store there just as soon as the building is completed.
