RAILROAD COMPANY AFTER MALICIOUSLY INCLINED INDIVIDUALS.—When the Pennsylvania railroad company two years ago improved the Bald Eagle Valley road from Mt. Eagle to Howard they built two subways at the former place in order to obviate the danger of grade crossings. The old grade crossings were then fenced with wire fencing. It appears that to cross through one of the subways increased the distance about 160 feet over the old grade crossing and this some residents of that village strongly objected to. In fact, it is alleged, that on one or two occasions the wire fencing was cut down and that some one maliciously inclined placed dynamite upon the track and on another occasion a Vulcan rail creeper. Fortunately both were found before any damage was done.

The WATCHMAN this week got information of the fact that since May 14th, the railroad company has had three detectives on the job and they have gleaned some very damaging evidence against certain parties living in that vicinity. One of the detectives boarded at Howard and worked as an ordinary laborer. Another boarded at Curtin, and likewise did days' work in that neighborhood. The third man was at Mt. Eagle, having appeared there as the result of an automobile accident, and his supposed mishaps kept him there until his work was completed.

So far as the WATCHMAN has been able to learn the railroad company does not intend bringing any immediate prosecutions or make any arrests, but if its property is again interfered with at that place, in any way whatever, arrests will follow immediately, and the information gathered by the detectives, it is alleged, will be sufficient to send a number of men on long terms to prison. In so doing the railroad company is not only acting in self-protection so far as its own property is concerned, but also safeguarding the lives of the hundreds of passengers it transports over that line every day.

The Impression is Growing That Germany Would Welcome a Movement For Peace From a Neutral Power.

Reports that the United States had declined to become a party to efforts in various neutral countries to make peace in Europe were said by President Wilson to be untrue.

The president said the Washington government had done everything that legitimately could be done to encourage any movement that might lead to peace or an accommodation of interests in Europe.

The president said Colonel House, who recently investigated peace prospects in Europe, had not been sent for by him, but he expected to see the colonel soon. At present Colonel House is visiting a daughter in Massachusetts.

The impression is growing in Washington that Germany is disposed to look with favor on a tangible movement for peace from one or another of the neutral powers.

The attitude of the more moderate of the German newspapers toward the latest Wilson note, the sending of Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard to Berlin as the special envoy of Ambassador von Bernstorff, the constant springing up of peace suggestions in various quarters in reports which "Berlin hears" from outside, all point to a movement believed by some officials to have its source in Germany looking to the time when peace may be more openly discussed among the powers now at war.

It is believed that German officials are pleased with President Wilson's latest note because they think it affords opportunity for further discussion, in the course of which other principles involved in the maritime war with Great Britain may be linked with the submarine issue raised by the United States.

All information in official quarters tends to indicate that a positive yes or no answer to the president's demands is hardly to be expected from Berlin. According to this, it has always been the intention of the German government to make the discussion with the United States the vehicle for conveying to the world her propaganda for changing the rules of maritime warfare in such a way as to decrease the value of a sea power such as Great Britain is now exercising.

President Wilson was asked just what the changes were to which William Jennings Bryan referred as having been made in the note to Germany after his resignation as secretary of state had been accepted, but the president felt it was best for him not to discuss the resignation or other questions connected with it.

GERMANS FORCED BACK

British Take Positions in Belgium Along Front of 1000 Yards.

Sir John French, commander-in-chief of the British forces on the Continent, reports that the British have captured the German positions to the north of Hooge for a distance of 1000 yards, and that they captured and then lost a line of German trenches at Festubert.

Hooge is three miles east of Ypres and Festubert is northwest of La Basse.

General French's statement is as follows: "Early Wednesday morning in the neighborhood of Ypres we successfully attacked the enemy's positions north of Hooge. We occupied the whole of his first line of trenches on a front of 1000 yards and also parts of his second line."

"By noon 157 prisoners had passed to our rear. The German counter attack has been repulsed with heavy losses."

"Wednesday evening we captured the German front line trenches east of Festubert on a mile front, but failed to hold them during the night against strong counter attacks."

"The enemy exploded five mines on different parts of our front, but none of these caused any damage to our trenches and only one caused any casualties."

SHIP TORPEDOED; 22 DROWN

Straithcairne, of Glasgow, Sunk by German Submarine in Irish Channel.

The steamship Straithcairne, of Glasgow, was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine in the Irish channel, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen. Eleven of the crew were saved; the captain and twenty-two of the crew were drowned.

Four Hurt in Powder Explosion.

A powder explosion, the origin of which is being investigated, occurred at the Redington fuse plant at South Bethlehem, Pa., where munitions of war are now being made for England. Four men, whose names are said to be Frey, McKee and Charles Worth, of South Bethlehem, and Valkenburg, of Scranton, were painfully but not seriously burned.

Neutral Ships Torpedoed.

A Copenhagen dispatch says that the Swedish steamship Verdandi, of 947 tons, has been torpedoed off Christiania sound by a German submarine. A German cruiser took the crew aboard and shelled, without sinking, the Verdandi, which was timber laden. Advices from Stornoway, Scotland, say the Norwegian steamship Duranger has been torpedoed and sunk by a submarine off the Hebrides Islands. The crew of twenty-one arrived at Stornoway.

19 DEAD IN BADEN CITY

Grand Ducal Palace Struck and Much Other Damage Done in Karlsruhe by French Aviators.

A Zeppelin airship visited the northeast coast of England and dropped bombs.

Fifteen deaths are reported from the district in question and fifteen persons were wounded. Some fires were started by the projectiles from the Zeppelin.

This information was contained in an official statement made in London.

Never before has an air raid on England taken such toll in human life. This is the third air attack in a little over two weeks. May 31 was the date of the first attack on London from the clouds, with four persons killed, and on June 6 the east coast of England was the scene of attack, with five fatalities.

Giant aeroplanes of great carrying capacity are in process of manufacture for the British government, according to an announcement made in the house of commons by H. J. Tennant, under secretary of the war office. This statement was in reply to a suggestion by a member that machines of this character were needed adequately to deal with raiding Zeppelins.

The Exchange Telegraph company has received a dispatch from its Amsterdam correspondent, who says a message has been received in Amsterdam from Berlin that Count Zeppelin, inventor of the famous German dirigible balloon, is seriously ill with bronchitis and confined to his bed at Stuttgart. He count has not been able to keep an appointment to visit imperial headquarters.

Nineteen persons were killed and fourteen seriously wounded, while many others were slightly injured during the attack that was made on Karlsruhe, Baden, by a fleet of French aeroplanes. The people remain calm, but are incensed because of the attack upon an open town.

Travelers who have arrived in Geneva, Switzerland, from Karlsruhe give the number of persons that were killed during the aerial attack upon that city as twelve. In addition to which many persons were injured. Two French aviators also were killed, and the other two occupants of the two aeroplanes brought down were made prisoners.

The travelers say the bombardment caused a panic in the city. The people, awakened by the bursting of bombs, rushed half clothed into the streets. Two bombs struck the Grand Ducal of Frederick II. palace, destroying one wing and damaging the other. The arms factory, railway station, railway tracks and switches also were damaged.
