

Zeppelins Again Raid England.

One Airship is Blown Up at Dunkirk After it is Hit by British Guns During Attack by Aeroplanes.

A squadron of German Zeppelins believed to have contained five of the giant airships of the latest pattern swooped down upon the east coast of England and dropped bombs which killed fourteen persons and wounded the same number. The dead are one man, nine women and four children.

Several fires were started, but did little damage. The night was dark and foggy. The Zeppelins were promptly engaged by British aeroplanes. One of the German craft, badly damaged by British shots, made off for Ostend, but her destruction was completed on the way by aeroplanes from Dunkirk, whose shots disabled her and then caused an explosion which completely wrecked her.

One of the British aviators, a sub lieutenant, was killed while making a landing in the dark. The official account of the raid says:

"A squadron of hostile airships visited the east coast Monday night and Tuesday morning between the hours of 8.30 P. M. and 12.30 A. M.

"Some fires were caused by the dropping of incendiary bombs, but these were quickly extinguished and only immaterial damage was done.

"The following casualties have been reported: "Killed, one man, nine women and four children. Wounded, nine men seven women and two children.

"One Zeppelin was seriously damaged by the gunfire of the land defences and was reported being towed into Ostend. She has since been subjected to continual attacks by aircraft from Dunkirk and is under heavy fire and it is now reported that after having her back broken and her rear compartments damaged she was completely destroyed by an explosion. The night was extremely dark and was accompanied by thick fog in places which rendered night flying by aeroplanes very difficult.

"It is reported that Flight Sub Lieutenant R. Lord, who was one of the pilots sent up to engage the enemy, was killed in landing in the dark."

A Central News despatch from Amsterdam says that five Zeppelins were sighted off Vlissingen, near the entrance of Zuyder Zee. They were taking a northwesterly course in the direction of the Scottish coast.
