THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

O. M. Bowersox, of State College, is now driving a new six cylinder, 1916 model, Buick touring car.

Another little son was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Houser, at the Bellefonte hospital, on Sunday.

"Neal of the Navy," the big serial motion picture, will begin at the Scenic tomorrow (Saturday) evening.

A few farmers in Centre county have not finished their fall seeding while others have most of their corn in shock.

Clyde Wyland, of Milesburg, and Joseph L. Beezer, of Spring Creek, are recent additions to the force of guards at the new penitentiary.

Mrs. Henry Bartley is closing her house in Bush Addition in anticipation of spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Heisler.

The temperance league held a meeting last Saturday afternoon but no definite action was taken regarding its attitude on the judgeship fight in the county.

Peaches by the car load are still coming to Bellefonte. Choice elbertas from New York State orchards are selling at 60 cents a basket and $1.25 a bushel.

A jolly crowd of ladies from Avis, Clinton county, motored through Bellefonte on Saturday and spent the day at the home of Mrs. O. M. Bowersox, at State College.

State College opened the football season on Beaver field last Saturday by defeating Westminster 26 to 0. Half-back Fred Yeager was one of the stars of the State team.

Col. H. S. Taylor, who last Saturday purchased the old Wagner mill at Milesburg, contemplates turning it into a feed mill. A new chopper will be installed and the power will be furnished by an electric motor.

This is the first day of October and new mown hay right out of the field was delivered to buyers in Bellefonte this week. In fact hay-making has been carried on in this county this summer ever since the latter part of June.

Philip L. Beezer last week purchased a new six cylinder Studebaker car, and J. S. McCargar has placed an order for a new Franklin runabout, of the same model as Dr. Dale's new car. Delivery is to be made in December.

A reception was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Francis Musser, last Friday evening, at the home of Mrs. Musser's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Kellerman, of east Bishop street. The young couple are planning to go to housekeeping some time this fall.

William Chambers is having the third floor of his home on east Curtin street fixed up into a comfortable flat, which will be occupied by Mrs. Samuel Sheffer on or about October 15th, when she vacates her property recently sold to George A. Beezer.

"Aunt Jerusha's Quilting Party" will be played at the Lutheran church of Bellefonte on Friday evening, October 8th, by the members of the Christian Endeavor of that church. Everybody is cordially invited to attend this quilting party. Admission at the door, 10 cents.

On Monday William B. Walton, a member of the Senior class of State College, was pitching for one of the church teams in a league ball game when he suddenly sank to the ground clutching his right arm. An examination disclosed the fact that in "winding up" he had broken his arm three inches above the elbow.

While playing in the road near his home at Coleville, last Friday afternoon, George Rhoads, the five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Rhoads, was bitten in the right thigh by one of Charles Rote's big St. Bernard dogs. A physician cauterized the wound and the dog was put in quarantine to see if rabies might develop.

Miss Jones and Miss Foresman, representing the National Y. W. C. A., were both speakers at the Woman's Club Monday night, telling of the work of this great organization in both country and city districts. Miss Foresman is at present working in Centre county, with a hope of organizing this association under a county head.

The remains of Oscar Davis, the young United States cavalryman who was killed in a fight with Mexicans at El Paso, Texas, on September 19th, arrived at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis, of Pennsylvania Furnace, last Friday evening. The funeral was held on Saturday afternoon, burial being made in Meek's cemetery.

On Saturday evening of last week Frank Beezer, of Spring Creek, was leading a vicious bull to water when the animal attacked him. In the scuffle that followed Mr. Beezer had his left arm broken between the wrist and the elbow. The fracture is a complicated one and it required an X-ray examination before the physicians were able to reduce it.

SEPTEMBER COURT NEWS.—The regular term of September court convened on Monday morning with Judge Albert H. Johnson, of Lewisburg, presiding in place of Judge Ellis L. Orvis. A. W. Hoagland, of Williamsport, was present as court reporter. The various constables throughout the county presented their returns, various motions and petitions were presented and acted upon after which the grand jurors were called, instructed by the court, sworn in and George W. Rumberger, of Unionville, appointed foreman. Inasmuch as only one week of court will be held no civil cases were on the list for trial. In the court of quarter sessions the following cases were disposed of:

William B. Francis, assault and battery. Prosecutor, Mary Harris. Defendant waived the finding of the grand jury, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of five dollars, costs of prosecution and imprisonment in the county jail for a term of three months. Francis received his sentence with a smile and "Thank you, Judge."

Harold Newman, larceny. Prosecutor, Daniel C. Kephart. Defendant appeared before the court last Friday, plead guilty and was sentenced to the Huntingdon reformatory, to which place he was taken the same day by sheriff A. B. Lee.

R. R. McMonigle and E. Y. Wigham, charged with willfully and negligently setting fire. Prosecutor, Daniel McMonigle. This case was from Taylor township and the defendants were charged with allowing fire from burning brush on their own lands to communicate to lands of the defendant. Verdict returned of not guilty and prosecutor to pay the costs.

William Brennan, of Buffalo Run, was tried on a serious charge preferred by thirteen year old Olive S. Shuey, but the jury speedily returned a verdict of not guilty.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. S. J. Riddle occupied the attention of the court part of Wednesday and yesterday morning. The charge was larceny and receiving stolen goods. The case dates back to June 4th when Mr. Riddle in company with William C. Leathers stole two auto tires, one off of the car of Dr. Walter J. Kurtz and one off of W. H. Thompson's Ford. Mr. Leathers admitted the theft and turned state's evidence, telling just how the robbery was planned and executed. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

A case that is exciting some interest and which will go on trial tomorrow is that of the Commonwealth vs. Irvin Robinson, Richard Langdon and Dobbin McCarvin, charged with the murder of Henry M. Confer, of Howard, on the evening of May 3rd. A large number of witnesses have been subpoenaed on both sides of the case. District Attorney D. Paul Fortney will be assisted by W. D. Zerby while the defendants will be represented by Clement and A. A. Dale Esqs. A number of petty cases were disposed of but they were of a character that are better left unpublished.

STRUCK BY TRAIN.—Miss Mollie Hoffer, a maiden lady of Centre Hall, was struck by the 2.15 passenger train at the Centre Hall station on Monday afternoon and fortunately escaped fatal injury. She had been in Will Odenkirk's store using the telephone and was on her way back to the station. She failed to see the approach of the train and became bewildered owing to a number of men shouting to her to go back and others telling her to "come on." She was almost across the track when the pilot of the locomotive struck her and threw her between two express trucks. It was at first feared she was seriously injured but this did not prove to be the case. Her nose was broken and she received one or two small cuts on the face but no body bones were broken and she suffered little from shock. The train was slowing down for the depot when the accident occurred which was a very fortunate thing.

EX-EMPLOYEE WANTS DAMAGES.—A peculiar case is being tried in the Huntingdon county court this week, being that of Ora Mothersbaugh against the Pennsylvania Railroad company to recover damages for the loss of an eye. Upwards of a year ago Mothersbaugh was at work on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad near Mill Hall. In his bill of particulars he alleges that he was given a track hammer that was defective. He walked several miles to report the matter to the foreman and get a good hammer, but the foreman, he alleges, told him the hammer was good enough and if he thought otherwise he could go home. Mothersbaugh used the hammer, a spawl broke off and struck him in the eye, resulting in the loss of sight. Since his recovery Mothersbaugh has been working in the Tyrone paper mill and his suit this week is to recover for the loss of his sight.

MRS. JOHN P. HARRIS HONORED.—At a regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. on Thursday afternoon of last week the office of president emeritus was bestowed upon Mrs. John P. Harris in grateful recognition of her long and faithful service in the cause of temperance. Mrs. Harris was president of the Union for thirty-five years and recently resigned from active service because of ill health. In the years she presided as president she was always faithful in the work, and as president emerita she will still aid the cause by her wise council; and her associates hope she will be spared to attend many more meetings.

The frost is on the pumpkin now, all right.

Jacob Finberg, the twelve year old son of Louis Finberg, of Philipsburg, was electrocuted on Monday afternoon by coming in contact with a telephone wire which had fallen down and across one of the high tension wires of the electric light company. The accident occurred while the boy was on his way home from school. Physicians worked for some time to bring the boy back to life, but all in vain.

Now that the evenings are growing longer, and also cooler so that standing on the street corner is not as comfortable as during the summer evenings, go to the Scenic, keep warm and have a good two hours' entertainment. You can't miss it on the Paramount pictures, or any of the other big features. Don't forget that the world's series baseball games will be shown at the Scenic this year same as last.

The Bucknell Reserves and Bellefonte Academy football teams will open the season in Bellefonte with a game on Hughes field tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon at three o'clock. The Academy boys have been practicing regularly ever since the opening of school and ought to be in good shape for the opening game. The price of admission will be twenty-five cents and lovers of the game should go out and help cheer the boys to victory.

Last Friday afternoon Plummer Strunk, of Runville, was driving to Bellefonte in his Ford car, and down at Pleasant View he collided with a wagon with the result that his machine was shifted from its course and ran plunk into the red house near the street. Several occupants of the car were thrown against the windshield breaking the glass and inflicting a number of cuts on their faces and hands. The front of the machine was badly wrecked.

Thirty-three degrees above zero, or within one degree of freezing point, was where the thermometer stood on Tuesday and Wednesday mornings. Coming right on the heels of the recent hot spell it was noticed much more than it will be later on. And the absence of heat made it rather unpleasant in homes as well as business places. Of course it is not going to stay this cold right along, but the time of year has arrived when the nights, at least, will be cool.

Large numbers of fingerling trout are being shipped every day from the Bellefonte hatchery at Pleasant Gap to stock the various trout streams of the State. A few weeks ago several cans of these trout were put in Spring creek above the falls, and from the number to be seen there now and the healthy-appearing condition of all of them, the big majority must have survived the transplanting, which shows the wisdom of putting out fingerlings instead of trout fry.

On Friday of last week a young couple passed through Bellefonte in a big Stutz runabout on their way to Hughesville to visit Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Rishel. While not giving his name the man claimed to have made the trip from Kansas City, Mo., a distance of fourteen hundred miles, in four days. Between Bellefonte and Tyrone he lost a suit case out of his car which contained three new suits of clothing, a half a dozen silk shirts, collars, ties, etc. On Wednesday morning they started on their return trip.

The Workmen's Compensation Board has divided the State into eight districts for the guidance of those who will be affected by the new laws when they become effective on January first. Two referees will be appointed for each of the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh districts, with one referee for each of the other districts. Centre county has been placed in the Williamsport district, the other counties being Tioga, Lycoming, Bradford, Sullivan, Union, Snyder, Clearfield, Clinton, Cameron, Potter and Northumberland.

The Bellefonte Chapter of the D. A. R. will be guests tomorrow at their Charter Day meeting, of the State College members of the chapter, who will entertain them at an eleven o'clock luncheon, following which they will be their guests at the Lebanon Valley College and State game. The luncheon will be given at the President's home, the hostesses to be Mrs. Sparks, Mrs. Pond, Mrs. Frear, Mrs. Foster, Miss Lovejoy, Mrs. Shattuck, Mrs. Stoddard, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Sevenson, Mrs. Christ, Mrs. Putney, Mrs. Severson, Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Henzsey.

Our good friend Adam A. Schroyer, of Milesburg, celebrated his seventieth birthday anniversary on Sunday, and coming close upon the heels of that event was his retirement from the service of the Pennsylvania railroad company yesterday on account of the age limit on a pension. Mr. Schroyer has been an employee of the company for almost thirty-five years, more or less, and has been at all times faithful in the discharge of all duties imposed upon him. For a number of years past he has been night watchman at the freight station in this place, and his successor, who goes on duty today will be James Smoyer, a track foreman on the Snow Shoe railroad. Mr. Smoyer recently purchased the Robert Roan property on east Beaver street for $1,800 and will move his family here today from Butts Station.

BEEES IN A BUGGY BOX.—How would you like to go out to your wagon shed and find a swarm of bees comfortably installed in your buggy box and prepared at any moment to dispute your right to interfere with them? Such is a condition which literally exists at Scotia.

When the ore mines at that place were being operated by the Bellefonte Furnace company, the company kept a two seated surrey to enable the men in charge to drive from one point to another of the operations. A year or more ago the old surrey was run into a tumble-down shed and there it has remained. One day last week Harry Lykens went out to the shed and while looking around heard a buzzing noise like a "bundle of bees in a bonnet." Finally his attention was attracted to the old surrey and then he made a discovery.

The surrey is one of the real old-fashioned kind with the rear seat boxed in, or under rather, leaving quite a large space under the seat. A splint had been knocked off the rear board leaving a crack about the size of a man's little finger. Some time during the spring or summer a swarm of bees had found this haven of refuge and have occupied it ever since. Though Mr. Lykens did not make a very close inspection he expressed the opinion that the bees have stored a considerable quantity of honey in the old surrey box and he and his friends are trying to figure out how to get the honey and capture the bees without incurring the displeasure of their business ends.

Apropos of the above story a few years ago a swarm of bees took lodging between the weather-boarding and plastering of the Methodist church at that place, using a knot hole as a means of ingress and egress. They were allowed to remain there during the summer and in the fall some of the weather boarding was removed and in the neighborhood of two hundred pounds of honey secured; but we cannot recall whether the honey was used to help pay the pastor's salary or not.

Former State Senator G. M. Dimeling motored over to Bellefonte from Clearfield yesterday forenoon just to have a chat with his many friends hereabouts. The Senator, by the way, has had considerable trouble with rheumatism during the summer but he is now considerably relieved of the aches and pains that characterize this much to be dreaded affliction.

Sinie H. Hoy, of Benner township, a candidate for re-election as auditor on the Democratic ticket, with his young son Joseph, were WATCHMAN office callers on Saturday. Mr. Hoy has had quite a siege of rheumatism the past year but is much improved now. His son, by the way, was very much interested with the inside workings of a newspaper office, and just as quick to grasp the essential details.

WATCHMAN readers who are accustomed to open the paper and look for our breezy letter from Pine Grove Mills will be disappointed this week because our versatile correspondent, Capt. W. H. Fry, is in Washington attending the National G. A. R. encampment. And when that is over he intends taking a trip over some of the historic battle fields of Virginia, such as Fredericksburg, Charlottesville, and others.

Lee H. Walker, eldest son of ex-Sheriff and Mrs. W. Miles Walker, was an arrival in Bellefonte on Wednesday evening on a month's vacation. Lee, who is a civil engineer, has been in San Domingo for almost two and a half years, this being his second trip home. He was there during the revolution of the early part of 1914, but a little thing like that is such a frequent occurrence in San Domingo that he gave it small consideration.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harris Baird, of Bethany, Ill., are visiting friends at Pleasant Gap and in other parts of Centre county. Mrs. Baird is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Baird, who years ago lived near where the Bellefonte fish hatchery is now located at Pleasant Gap. In 1867 she went west with her parents and this is her first trip east in all that time. Mr. and Mrs. Baird have been taking in the sights at Washington and other eastern cities and are now on their way home.

Miss Veda Wetzel is in Stoyestown, spending her vacation with her parents.
