Secretary Knox Has Been "Called."

The Republican managers are inclined to "call" former Secretary of State PHILANDER C. KNOX to the United States Senate, according to current political gossip. "Mr. KNOX is needed in the Senate now, according to the big men of the corporations that are so powerful in this section of the country," says a Pittsburgh press dispatch. "Senator ROOT has retired," continues this oracle of politics, "and a man of wide experience with foreign affairs and trade conditions is essential to the Republican party," and "therefore the 'call' is for KNOX." The "men who supply the necessary cash to run great campaigns," are responsible for and behind the "call," and it is, therefore, likely to be heard.

This is a charmingly candid statement of the purposes and necessities of the Pennsylvania Republican machine. Senator PENROSE is satisfied with the plan, according to the same authority, as those "who are back of KNOX are all his friends." Originally he had different ideas in his mind. He had been grooming Senator CROW, of Fayette county, for the place, but CROW has been unfortunate. He was "caught in the J. V. THOMPSON crash," the story goes and was crushed. In other words having lost his money his friends have abandoned him. The "men who supply the necessary cash to run great campaigns" have no time for financial cripples. Politicians "help those who help themselves."

Clear as this declaration of purpose is it leaves the public without important information that ought to be disclosed. What section of law, organic, statutory or common, confers upon corporations "that are so powerful" in Pittsburgh or elsewhere the right of representation on the floor of the United States Senate? The people are represented in the House of Representatives and the States in the Senate, but the corporations have no voice in either branch unless it is usurped. But the Republican party has bestowed this vast advantage upon the "corporations that are so powerful," and as ROOT has retired it is not surprising that PHILANDER C. KNOX has been "called."

Everybody loves a lover but that enticement wasn't needed to make rational citizens like WOODROW WILSON. Just the same, however, recent revelations have not diminished the popular affection for our great President.

Speaking of corpses there are the traditional "dead ducks" JULIUS CAESAR, THEODORE ROOSEVELT, the Bull Moose party and one or two others.

King CONSTANTINE, of Greece, is "confined to his room" and his royal neighbor King FERDINAND, of Bulgaria, ought to be confined in jail.

Of course nobody can tell what Mexicans want until they get the other thing and even then it's not a safe bet.

Well, the Phillies couldn't get the Beans but they did get a piece of the bacon.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS.

ESCAPED PRISONER CAPTURED.—Clyde Carney, who escaped from the western penitentiary at Rockview last Thursday morning, did not have long in which to enjoy his liberty, as he was captured on Tuesday afternoon while walking along the railroad between Greensburg and New Florence by an officer from the western penitentiary at Pittsburgh. When accosted Carney at first denied his identity but when confronted with a few solid facts admitted he was the man. How he managed to escape detection on his trip to the western part of the State is a mystery.

Carney was sentenced from Indiana county on March 16th, 1915, to imprisonment of not less than four years nor more than eight for burglary and assault with intent to kill. He will now have to serve double the sentence to pay for his attempt to escape.

UNION COUNTY FAIR.—Due to the fact that the Union County Agricultural Society will hold its annual exhibit this year in October, at the close of the circuit of fairs in this section, there will be an unusually large number of fairs, shows and exhibitors on the grounds.

From the present rate at which requests for space on the grounds are arriving the Midway will be a veritable hive of business on the four days of October—19th, 20th, 21st and 22nd. In the various buildings the exhibitions will exceed those of former years in many respects.

The races this year promise to be one of the biggest features of the fair and in addition to the regular racing program arranged there will be a "colt" race in which horses of three years of age will race.

Special railroad rates will prevail on the railroads and on Thursday the regular excursion will run from Centre county.

BAND CONCERT AT OPERA HOUSE.—Miss Dorothy Wilson, the sweet voiced mezzo-soprano who will appear at Garman's opera house in connection with the concert by the Tyrone P. R. Miss Wilson has appeared in Bellefonte on at least one previous occasion and charmed all who heard her. You will miss a rare treat if you fail to hear this concert. Prices 25, 35 and 50 cents.

We regret to note the fact that our good friend, Samuel Harpster, was the victim last week of a bad runaway at his farm home near Gagesburg. The team he was driving frightened and ran away. Mr. Harpster was thrown out and run over by the heavy wagon, receiving some bad cuts and bruises about the head and face, and bad bruises on his legs and body. Fortunately no bones were broken. The accident happened on Tuesday last week and though still pretty sore Sam is now getting along all right and will soon be as good as ever.

The world's series is over and the fact that each one of the twenty-three players constituting the winning Boston American baseball team will receive $3,799 as his share of the gate receipts, and each one of the twenty-three losing Philadelphia Nationals will receive $2,520, will make the average man who is plodding along on a salary of from five to eight hundred dollars a year wonder why he never learned to play ball in the back lots when he was a boy instead of wasting his time with a bent pin and a cotton line angling for a few little fish.

Johnston Withdraws from Judgeship Race.

BELLEFONTE, PA., Oct. 12, 1915.

Dear Editor: One week ago I accepted the call of the Centre County Temperance League in pursuance to their action taken prior and subsequent to the primaries to be an independent candidate for the office of Judge; this action on my part was taken in good faith and I considered it to be the only honorable thing for me to do.

My mind has not been changed one iota as to what I consider for the best interests of our people, but owing to the inactivity of those who were presumed to assist in the campaign in various ways as well as the lack of unity of purpose of our church people I deem it advisable to withdraw from the contest which I hereby do, as I do not feel warranted in attempting to carry the burdens without a hearty co-operation.

My action hereby taken does not lessen my high appreciation of the worth and stability of those who supported me for personal reasons as well as those who stood by me manfully on account of their convictions for the principle of temperance, and to each assistant I hereby extend my heartfelt thanks for their interest in me and the cause that we endeavor to represent.

Respectfully submitted, J. KENNEDY JOHNSTON.

A STATEMENT FROM REV. CARSON.

Mr. Johnston's withdrawal from the contest as a candidate for Judge needs no defense, even his political opponents concede this. It remains only for me therefore to make it known that his most ardent supporters, without exception, feel fully warranted in releasing him from further obligation to remain in the race.

It is of course very obvious that the emotions of his opponents and supporters are of an entirely different character.

Personally I feel that we have on the one hand exacted too much from Mr. Johnston and on the other conceded too much to the opposition. However, I am aware that I am qualified to speak only for myself and must therefore content myself in regretting the unfruitful campaign which finally resulted in Mr. Johnston's withdrawal.

Yours very truly, WALTER FAY CARSON.

VONADA.—HARTER.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. William I. Harter, at Blanchard, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Thursday evening of last week when their daughter, Miss Mary Harter, was united in marriage to William Vonada. Only near relatives witnessed the ceremony which was performed by Rev. Walter L. Dudley, of the Disciple church. A wedding dinner and reception followed the ceremony and on Friday the young couple left on a wedding trip through New York State. Returning they will go to housekeeping at Blanchard where the bridegroom is assistant in I. J. Rohrbach's flour and feed mill.

ULRICH.—HETZEL.—Charles M. Ulrich, of Coburn, and Miss Helen C. Hetzel, of Aaronsburg, were married on Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Stine, in Tyrone, Rev. H. W. Beiber performing the ceremony. Only a few friends were present to witness the ceremony. After spending Sunday in Tyrone the young couple returned to Coburn on Monday where Mr. Ulrich is engaged in farming.

BELL.—HOFFMAN.—On Wednesday of last week Calvin Earl Bell and Miss Martha Hoffman, both of Huntingdon, were married in Philadelphia. The bridegroom is a son of Mrs. C. B. Bell, formerly of Bellefonte, and is now employed in a Pittsburgh drug store, where the young couple will make their home.

On Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Rossmann and two sons, of Spring Mills drove down Penns Valley in their Ford car for a little outing. In going through the Woodward Narrows they were run into by a joy riding party in a big Cadillac car. The driver of the latter car made no effort to stop but crashed into the rear of Rossmann's Ford, shoving it along quite a distance, finally tearing one of the wheels to pieces. There was one woman in the party and she proceeded to play the part of a tyro by telling the Rossmanns that they ought to be ashamed to travel in a Ford, and had not the bumper on their car broken they would have done the little "road louse" up properly. The talk from the female virago so flustered Mr. Rossmann that he could not keep his mind on his business long enough to take the license number of the big car, and in order to avoid trouble he settled promptly for a ten dollar bill, while his car was damaged to the extent of twenty-five dollars.

Word has been received in Bellefonte of the death of Mrs. Charles Rhone, which occurred about the middle of September at their home in Alhambra, Cal. Mrs. Rhone and her four children had gone through an attack of typhoid fever during the summer and while all recovered it left Mrs. Rhone so weak in vitality that another illness resulted in her death. Mr. Rhone will be remembered by many Bellefonte people as the son of Dr. J. W. Rhone, for many years a prominent dentist of Bellefonte.

Dr. C. F. Hennig this week purchased through the John Sebring agency a new six cylinder five passenger Mitchell car.

Favors Orvis for Judge.

Editor Democratic Watchman.

Perhaps there never was a time in the history of old Centre county than the present, when loyal citizenship was more important than it will be at the coming election. One of Centre county's noble sons has been placed in nomination to succeed himself as President Judge. Among the different officials to be selected at the November election there is none more important than the Judge. This position calls for a man who has not only a profound, extensive and accurate knowledge of the law, but who must possess an equitable and unbiased mind and an impartial temperament.

How plain to be seen, and how well are these elements developed in Judge Ellis L. Orvis, the people's candidate for this office. He has been a successful judge the past eleven years and certainly has had the experience which will aid him in another term upon the bench. Judge Orvis' knowledge of the law includes a familiarity with all the authorities, and he not only knows the law but he knows where to find it and cite his quotations when the occasion demands.

Before him wealth, social or business standing of those pleading is a matter of absolute and complete indifference. Judge Orvis has the ability of keen perception, ripe judgment, and rapid decision. He has been prompt in dispatching the business of the court, thus effecting a great saving in the expense to the county. This is a feature that is too important to be overlooked, and one of interest to the people at the coming election.

The standard of excellence surely comes nearest the preconceived idea from one who has been tried on the bench the past eleven years, as has Judge Orvis. His learning is profound and his astuteness remarkable, while his undaunted courage, perfect dignity and self-possession, cool yet courteous manner and excellent good temper fits him as the proper person to fill this important position. The citizens of Centre county cannot afford to make the mistake of not returning him to the bench. An overwhelming vote for him will be an expression that will never be regretted by the electors.

Elect Judge Ellis L. Orvis and thus preserve the credit and dignity that has always been a characteristic of the Centre county court. The duty of the elector will in the main be clear and imperative. It is the rule and custom that all sitting judges should be retained in their places and re-elected as long as they are capable of public service. Where a judge has been elected by the people and has served a term of judicial service acceptably, with clear integrity, with adequate learning and without scandal or reproach, it is our belief that irrespective of any political question, such judges should be returned to office. This is due, not alone to the incumbent, but to the public interests.

A new Judge is always an unknown and an untried quantity. For this reason we advocate the return of Judge Orvis. All good citizens should rally to the support of Judge Orvis and thus demonstrate that in at least one important civic duty they are not partisan, not the slaves of custom, not the indifferent instrumentalities of factions or bosses, but that they are clear headed, conscientious patriots who, when they have the opportunity, can select upon merit alone an honest Judge to interpret the law and carry into practical operation the sacred principles of justice.

MAKING RIFLES FOR FRENCH GOVERNMENT.

The following dispatch under date of October 12th will be of interest to many people in Bellefonte because the Mr. Moore referred to is the W. A. Moore, so well known here through having been president of the Nittany Iron company. The dispatch is dated North Tonawanda and says:

The Palmer Specialty company of North Tonawanda was notified this morning that the French government has approved of the company's contract to furnish it with 1,000,000 rifles and was directed to have its officers in New York on Thursday morning to close the contract for the big war order. Wallace G. Palmer and William A. Moore, president and treasurer of the company, will leave tomorrow morning for New York. This war order will result in a big boom for the Tonawandas. It will mean the building of a $1,000,000 factory buildings utilizing all of the available buildings here. Officers of the company announced this morning that much will depend upon the co-operation of the machinists and laborers in the Tonawandas as to whether the guns can be turned out here or parts manufactured elsewhere. The barrels of the guns, it is reported, will be manufactured in Buffalo. Just who is back of the company other than Mr. Palmer and Mr. Moore has not been made known, but it is reported five of the largest manufacturers of Buffalo are interested in the Palmer company. The company filed a bond for $1,400,000 with its contract.

From the Altoona Times. At any rate, Al Jennings, the reformed Oklahoma train robber and cattle thief, has one of the characteristics of the modern evangelist. Some of the methods employed by the get-rich-quick religious fakirs may be more refined, but they are not less effective than those that finally landed Jennings in a federal bastille.

Romance a la Cinderella. Pretty Miss Edith Mervine of Philadelphia is only one of the millions of girls who have read the love story of Cinderella and then dreamed that their love story might be like unto it. But Miss Mervine is the one to whom the wish has been granted.

Two years ago Miss Mervine lost her slipper at a dance at Atlantic City, Paul A. Kimmins, of Charleroi, Pa., found it on the dance floor. For several days the young man tried in vain to find the owner; he searched everywhere, but his efforts were unsuccessful. Finally, by accident, he heard of a young lady who had lost a slipper at a dance, and he called at her home to restore the tiny piece of footwear.

The modern Prince Charming and the up-to-date Cinderella both underwent the old, old experience of love at first sight. The fire did not dim, either, for they were married a few days ago, and, hidden in the center of the bridal bouquet, was a little satin slipper.

Electric Bug Used for Advertising. Desiring a novelty which would enlarge his display windows and at the same time embody a certain significance, a Los Angeles dealer in photograph supplies ingeniously constructed what he terms a "kodak bug." It is made of electric bulbs of different sizes and is provided with highly colored wings of stained glass. The bug is perched in quite lifelike manner on the top of a camera in the middle of the window display, and is illuminated intermittently by a flasher. The device attracts the attention of many passers-by.—Popular Mechanics.
