

Suffrage Defeated
But Not Dismayed.

Empire State Shows Under Votes for Women by 132,028.

Philadelphia, Nov. 4.—Suffrage was decisively defeated in Pennsylvania, New York and Massachusetts.

A majority against the amendment of 75,000 was returned in the Keystone state, 195,000 against it in New York and Massachusetts defeated the proposition by a majority of 132,028 on a total vote of 457,304.

One of the greatest surprises in Pennsylvania in the election was the carrying of Allegheny county by the suffragists by about 2000. Mrs. Frank Roessing president of the state organization, placed Allegheny and Lackawanna in the doubtful column.

Mrs. Roessing claimed twenty-five counties and blamed Philadelphia for the defeat of the amendment.

Luzerne and Lackawanna, next to Allegheny the most populous of the industrial counties, followed her lead and rolled up majorities for suffrage. The count was decided greatly, and in many divisions still was going on Wednesday night. The confusion of the large-sized ballots accounted for the mixups in voting, resulting in increased work for the election boards.

The western counties of the state gave the amendment support, as did the farming counties of the northwestern tier. But the heavy anti majority in Philadelphia, added to Berks, Bucks, Lancaster, York and Montgomery was sufficient to defeat the measure.

The vote in 3142 out of 6904 election districts showed the suffrage vote to stand as follows:

For, 161,838; against, 221,152; majority, 59,314.

Carried Five Counties in New York. Five counties alone in New York remained faithful to the suffrage cause, Tompkins, Chautauque, Niagara, Broome and Cortland returned small majorities favoring the amendment. Westchester went against the cause by 20,000, and nearly every other county rendered large anti majorities.

Of the cities of the state, Ithaca, Jamestown, Schenectady and Niagara Falls remained faithful to the cause. Following New York's lead, Buffalo, Rochester, Yonkers, Auburn, Troy, Utica and Rome rejected the amendment by substantial majorities.

In greater New York, Brooklyn gave a margin of 30,000 adverse votes. Manhattan gave approximately 40,000 against. The Bronx 8000.

At the headquarters of the National American Woman Suffrage association, where Dr. Anna Howard Shaw and her devotees received the returns, optimism ebbed as the vote against suffrage grew.

"If, when the final count comes," said Dr. Shaw, "we should not have won the state, we, at least, have won the largest number of votes that have been cast for us in any state."

"I am not at all surprised at the way the vote in Massachusetts went. Massachusetts is an exceedingly conservative state. I didn't expect suffrage to carry there. Neither am I surprised at the Philadelphia vote. I lived in Philadelphia and know the city."

"Whatever the result in New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania, do not let any one think we will stop, even for a moment. This is only one battle and we are in a war. We intend to keep on fighting until we win."

N. Y. CONSTITUTION BEATEN

Republicans Retain Legislature and Make Gain in State.

New York, Nov. 4.—The proposed new constitution, prepared after weeks of labor by the state constitutional convention, presided over by Ellhu Root, was rejected by approximately 300,795 votes in Tuesday's election.

The defeat of the constitution has its influence on the future of Mr. Root. Leaders express the belief that the overwhelming defeat of the measure means that Mr. Root is virtually eliminated as a Republican presidential possibility. He had devoted much time and thought to remodeling the constitution.

The legislature will be virtually the same complexion as it was this year, politically, the senate, to which only one member was elected, remains unchanged. The assembly, which contained 99 Republicans, this year, will have 98 next year. One Progressive, a Socialist and fifty Democrats will complete the body. It has been three years since there was a Socialist in the assembly.

Tammany made a clean sweep of the city and county tickets. Judge Edward Swann, Democratic candidate for district attorney, won over District Attorney Perkins by about 50,000 plurality. Former Assemblyman Alfred E. Smith, Tammany candidate for sheriff, beat his opponent, Frank M. Bowers, by about 23,000 votes, cutting into Perkins' strength for about that much, according to Republican opinion.

Boy and Girl Pupils Burned or Crushed to Death and Heap of Bodies Blocked Firemen.

While 700 boys and girls were at their orning prayers in the parochial school of St. John's Catholic church, in Peabody, Mass., fire starting in the basement, swept through the three stories of the brick and wooden building in less than five minutes.

Twenty-one children, none out of their teens, were burned or crushed to death while attempting to escape. Nine are missing, a score of others were injured, several seriously.

The origin of the fire is in doubt. Angus McDonald, of the state police, believes it originated in a closet near the stairway and was caused by a hot air explosion.

Mother Superior Aldegon, who was in charge of the sisters who taught in the school, heard an explosion and detecting smoke, sounded the alarm. There were no fire escapes on the outside of the building, but wide stairways at either end of the interior led down to the front exit. Under fire drill, the children were marched through constantly thickening clouds of smoke to the ground floor, when the leaders lost their heads.

Instead of passing out the rear exit, according to rule, they made a dash for the front door and became jammed in the vestibule. Meantime the fire had eaten its way upward from directly under the front entrance and the vestibule crowded with pupils presently was enveloped in flames.

Firemen with two lines of hose made a rush at the doorway and tried to fight their way in. A sudden sweep of draft sent the flames so fairly in their faces that they were beaten back. They made a second try, this time throwing over the tangle of small bodies a number of heavy rubber blankets. Then from outside the door and as near as they could get, they directed a stream of water upon the blankets in a desperate hope of keeping off the flames till rescue could be made.

But in a short time, so desperately swift was the progress of the fire, efforts of the firemen were needed elsewhere. They turned over one of the hoses to Timothy O'Connor, a policeman. He forced his way to the doorway and there stood, spraying the water over the blanket-covered heap.

The walls above the policeman trembled and threatened to fall, but he stood his ground, his face blistered by the heat. The steady work of the hose in O'Connor's hand kept back the flames that crept along the floor toward the bodies and made possible the saving of life.

ARMLESS JUDGE ELECTED

Former Switchman Became Lawyer After Accident.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 4.—An armless judge will sit on the bench in Cleveland, returns made certain.

David Moylan, just elevated to a municipal judgeship, lost both arms eleven years ago when run down by a switch engine. He was a switch man.

After he left the hospital he learned to write with his teeth and studied law, turning the leaves of books with his tongue. Seven years ago he passed the state bar examination, ranking among the first ten in a class of 205.

Kentucky Candidates Win

Louisville, Nov. 4.—Former Congressman A. O. Stanley, Democrat, of Henderson, on the face of incomplete returns from all districts in the state except the tenth, and estimated returns from that district, apparently has a majority of 3667 over Edwin P. Morrow, Republican, of Somerset, for governor.
