The latter was the officiating minister and while he is a stranger to many people in Bellefonte he has an affiliation with the town from having spent at least part of his boyhood days here. He is a brother of D. Bates Bell, who will be well remembered as the book-keeper for the old Ardell Lumber company.

-Mrs. William H. Houser, of Grand Island. Neb., who with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glenn and their grand-daughter came to Centre county the middle of October, has been spending this week in Bellefonte with her niece, Mrs. John Strunk. Mrs. Houser and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn are all natives of Centre county and having a large circle of friends in addition to their relatives, have spent a busy month visiting. At present Mrs. Houser has arranged to return to Nebraska early in December and it is probable that she will be accompanied by Mrs. Strunk as far as Chicago, where they will be together for a week, as guests of Mrs. Strunk's brother.

-After an absence of seven years John L. Given, of New York, dropped into town last Thursday and remained here until Sunday morning. When it is considered that he spends every fifth week in Pittsburgh and in consequence passes as near as Tyrone so frequently the long absence from the scenes and companions of his boyhood days is rather unusual. However John is a busy man looking after the advertising of the many Heinz products and inasmuch as he never did play very hard on the chord of sentiment we presume that Bellefonte doesn't appeal to him ike she does to some others of her sons who The Best Advertising Medium in Central have grown prosperous and important in other locations.
