THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTRY.

—Watch for Ceader's Christmas ad. in the paper next week.

—The venerable William Hampton is seriously ill at his home near the old nail works site.

—A little daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Win Love, of south Allegheny street, on Tuesday.

—Up until yesterday noon 3,990 hunters licenses had been issued by county treasurer John D. Miller.

—"September Morn" and Vogel's minstrels have been booked to appear at Garman's during the winter season.

—Mrs. W. H. Ott is ill at her home on Bishop street, having been considered in a serious condition since Sunday.

—Christ Beezer sold his farm in Boggs township this week to James Davidson, of Snow Shoe Intersection.

—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ray, of Axe Mann, celebrated their silver wedding by holding a family reunion on Thanksgiving day.

—After eight years service J. Adam Hazel, of Axe Mann, this week resigned as jury commissioner. Judge Orvis will appoint his successor.

—Centre county students enrolled at the West Chester Normal school this winter include Mary E. Bartsge, Sara L. Fisher and Ruth N. Smith, all of Spring Mills.

—The home talent entertainment which was to have been given in the opera house on December 21st to clear up the Old Home week debt, has been postponed until January 14th.

—The condition of Mrs. David Campbell, who has been ill at her home at Linden Hall, for over a year, has become so serious within the past ten days that much fear is felt by her family concerning her recovery.

—The Aid society of the Presbyterian church will hold a Christmas sale in the chapel, on Thursday, December 9th, beginning at two o'clock. Fancy work, aprons, home-made cakes, pies and candy will be on sale.

—Col. H. S. Taylor is repairing the old Wagner mill at Milesburg, which he recently purchased at the public sale of the real estate of the William A. Thomas estate, and will equip it as a chop and feed mill. He expects to have it in shape for operation early in the year.

—Henry C. Taylor, the man who handles the mail between the Bellefonte postoffice and the Pennsylvania railroad, last week purchased from the Potter sisters the property on Spring street occupied by Frank Crawford and family. Mr. Taylor and wife will occupy the place after April first, 1916.

—Alice May Montgomery is the name of a sweet little baby girl born to Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Montgomery, at the Bellefonte hospital, last Friday. The little Miss arrived one day late for Thanksgiving but there is no doubt about the parents being duly thankful, as it is their first-born.

—Miss Emily N. Valentine is holding an exhibition and sale of water-color sketches, at 19 W. Curtin street. Much of this work has been done in Centre county, so that many of the sketches are of places familiar to all Bellefonte people. Miss Valentine's exhibition will be from the 1st until the 12th of December and from 11 a. m. to 5.30 p. m. each day.

—The big crowd that journeyed to Pittsburgh to see the State-Pitt game on Thanksgiving day was somewhat disappointed at witnessing State's defeat by the score of 20 to 0. State played good football but she was up against a better team in every way. At that, her record during the season was a very good one, as the only games lost were to Harvard and Pitt.

—The Christmas bazaar and food sale to be held today in Petrikin Hall, by the woman's auxiliary of the Methodist church, will open this morning at ten o'clock. All kinds of fancy work, articles of plain sewing, and food stuffs made by some of the best cooks in Bellefonte will be on sale. It is asked that all contributions be sent to the room as early as possible.

—On Thanksgiving day chief of police Harry Dukeman and family went down to Curtin and helped with the family butchering at the home of his father, Miles Dukeman. Three hogs were butchered weighing respectively 365, 325 and 300 pounds, which provided a bountiful supply of pork. Mr. Dukeman got 300 pounds of lard and didn't trim his meat very close, either.

—The WATCHMAN recently received a letter from Mr. M. J. Beezer, of the firm of Beezer Bros., architects, Seattle, Washington, in which he stated that he is now engaged in the construction of St. Mary's hospital, at Walla Walla, Wash., and will be located there until the building is completed. The Beezer brothers are Spring Creek young men who have made good in their profession and are among the leading architects in the northwestern part of the United States.

OPENING OF THE DEER HUNTING SEASON.—The deer hunting season opened on Wednesday morning and it is estimated that from fifteen hundred to two thousand hunters were in camp on the Alleghenies, in the Seven mountains, the Barrens and other mountain fastnesses of Centre county ready to take the trail by the break of day on the first. Hunting parties started for the mountains last week, although some did not go out until Tuesday. The Gentzel-Miller party from this place started for the Green woods, out beyond Karthaus, on Sunday, expecting to get fully established in camp by Monday evening. The State College hunters, and the parties from Pine Grove Mills, Centre Hall, Boalsburg and other places through Pennsylvally all went out on Monday.

Advance reports from the mountains would indicate deer as being quite plentiful, yet hunters were somewhat handicapped on the opening day by lack of a tracking snow. At this writing no reports have been received from any of the hunting camps and it will probably be some days before any reliable news can be had, but the WATCHMAN will appreciate it if its readers in all parts of the county will telephone us reports of any deer or bear they know of being killed during the next two weeks.

The absence of a tracking snow on Wednesday morning was a source of considerable regret to the hunters, but it didn't result in a complete protection to the game. Among the successful hunters was a party from Hecla, which includes Robert Harnish, Lawrence McMullen, Cummings McNitt, L. W. Grenoble, Lester Grenoble, George Yarnell, Orvis Yarnell, John Yearick and Joseph Yarnell. They went into camp in Sugar valley and early in the day wounded a big buck but did not get it. Later Lawrence McMullen and several others were hunting on the mountain above Hecla when Lawrence came across a hole in the rocks. He investigated the hole and decided there was something in it, so he called to Bob Harnish to come and have a look. The latter did so and between them they decided that it must be a porcupine. Harnish shot into the hole and as that did not bring results he started to crawl in. When about full length in the hole he shot again and that time got a response in an ominous growl which proved beyond argument that the occupant of the hole was a bear. Bob immediately backed out and right after him came the bear with its mouth wide open. But that was its undoing, for as soon as it stuck its head out of the hole both men fired and the animal dropped dead in its tracks. They pulled it from the hole and toted it down to Hecla where it now hangs at the Harnish house. The bear weighs in the neighborhood of 300 pounds.

A telephone message from Woodward on Wednesday evening stated that the Woodward party, hunting in the Narrows, had gotten two bucks, a four and a five pronged one. They also saw a number of others.

George Sheeler shot a large buck in Brush hollow, near Show Shoe.

The Rote and Wingard party of Coburn, got a bear.

Wilmer Kerstetter, of Ingleby, shot a two prong buck.

The Fillmore club in the Seven mountains got a three prong buck.

The State College club at Shingletown gap, got two deer. All the above being on Wednesday.

A report came to town yesterday that the Panthers got one buck on the opening day.

CEADER'S MODEL BAKERY NEARING COMPLETION.—While the remodeling of the Ceader's bakery is taking a little longer than was anticipated it is now nearing completion and in a short time Ceader's famous bread will be on the market. In order to have ample facilities a building was built in the rear of the main building in which the bread baking department will be located while the pie and cake department will be in the cellar where the old bakery was located.

The new bakery which will be entirely mechanical and as automatic as possible, will have a capacity of five thousand loaves a day. It will be operated continuously, so that as soon as one baking is out of the oven another will be ready to put in. It will be Mrs. Ceader's aim to supply Bellefonte and surrounding towns with the best and purest bread it is possible to make, and supply it fresh. Bread will be supplied to any town or country district in the county. The new bakery will be a convenience to Bellefonte dealers as they will be able to get a supply as needed.

Mrs. Ceader will also give special attention to the pie and cake department, which has always been a big feature of the Ceader bakery.

CHRISTMAS BASKET SALES.—The Basket Shop will place on sale at China Hall, beginning Saturday, December 11th, a full line of seconds, and covered glass, in addition to the standard line now handled by Mr. Gardner.

Miss Mary Miles Blanchard will hold a special Christmas sale at her residence, No. 19 West Linn St., from December 13th to 18th.

An exclusive line of rag dolls, bunnies, and elephants, specially fitted sewing, crochet, and spool baskets at popular prices. 48-2t

—On Wednesday Paul McGarvey moved from the Schad house on Lamb street to the Garman property, corner of Spring and High streets.

—Watch for Ceader's Christmas ad. in the paper next week.

—Among the honorary vice presidents appointed for the Firemen's association of Pennsylvania appears the name of H. L. Morgan, of Philipsburg, representing Centre county.

—J. H. M. Andrews, of Philadelphia, class of 1898, has been elected a trustee of State College to take the place of the late J. Edward Quigley, deceased, of Pittsburgh. Mr. Andrews is connected with the Rapid Transit company, of Philadelphia, as engineer of distribution.

—Miss Helen Schaeffer got a bad fall down the Brockerhoff house steps on Monday evening, when the heel of her shoe caught on one of the brass stair strips. She received a cut over the right eye and one on the nose and a bad bruise on the forehead, but fortunately escaped without any broken bones.

—Bellefonters who appreciate something real good should not fail to hear Edward Whitney, this evening in "The Man from Mars," as the second number of the Y. M. C. A. Star course. Mr. Whitney has the reputation of being one of the best readers and entertainers on the Lyceum platform and you cannot make a mistake by going to hear him.

—Howard Smith, who has been in Bellefonte the past two years or more as agent for the Singer sewing machine but who resigned a month or more ago to accept a position with the Pennsylvania railroad company in the shops at Juniata, will move his family to that place early next week. Just who will succeed him here as agent for the Singer machine is not known.

—Announcements have been received in Bellefonte of the marriage of W. Overton Hannon and Miss Ida Wilson, both of Wadsworth, Ohio, the wedding having taken place Wednesday of last week. Mr. Hannon, who is a nephew of Miss Helen E. C. Overton, will with Mrs. Hannon continue to make his home in Wadsworth, where he holds a position of trust with the Ohio Match company. The bride, by the way, is a distant relative of President Wilson.

—On Monday A. J. Nealis and family moved from Howard street into the house on Bishop street heretofore occupied by Frank Smith and family. The house is better known as the Kauffman house and was owned by Mrs. Smith who recently sold it to Hiram Lutz, of Zion. The Smiths made public sale of all their personal property last Saturday and early this week left for Baltimore, their former home, where they will reside in the future.

—The long winter evenings are again with us and as a place of amusement and entertainment the scenic offers splendid inducements. With its big program of motion pictures every night, all of them new, up-to-date and interesting, what more can be expected. A big two hours entertainment each evening. A place where you can take your children, be comfortable and get more enjoyment than you can anywhere else in Bellefonte for the money expended.

—Watch for Ceader's Christmas ad. in the paper next week.

—A Jewish Sunday school has been organized in Bellefonte, the first ever held here in the history of the town, and the first session was last Sunday. It is held in the second floor room over Claster's store, where Harry Cohen had his music and victrola department. Mrs. Jacob Finkelstein has been chosen teacher of the school and on Sunday she had fourteen scholars. All Jewish children of Bellefonte and vicinity are invited to attend this school regularly.

—After a siege of five weeks in the Bellefonte hospital undergoing treatment Col. W. S. Teller was able to leave that institution on Wednesday of last week, feeling very much improved. He left on Monday for New York city to consult his oculist regarding his eyes and will go from there to Richmond, Va., on a business trip, expecting to be back in Bellefonte in time to celebrate Christmas. Col. Teller was quite enthusiastic in his praise of the treatment he received while in the hospital.

—On Sunday morning Mr. and Mrs. Roger Francis, Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor and Miss Nancy Burrows, of Tyrone, started on a motor trip down Bald Eagle valley, their destination being the Nittany Country club. In the neighborhood of Vail Mr. Francis turned out to allow another car to pass and got too far up the bank with the result that the rear wheel on the right hand side of the car snapped off. Fortunately he was not driving fast and none of the party were injured, but they had to telephone for another car to get back home.

—Following the regular preaching services in the Presbyterian church on Sunday morning a congregational meeting was held and a vote taken on the question of extending a call to Rev. Harry G. Finney, of Hamilton, Ohio, to become pastor of the church. Rev. Walter Fay Carson acted as moderator and the vote resulted in eighty-eight in favor of extending the call and seventy-three against it. Rev. Finney spent ten days in Bellefonte recently and preached on two successive Sundays. He is an able minister and sound theologian, but the congregation has decided not to extend the call because of the unusually large minority vote of disapproval.

TWO AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS.—A bad automobile accident occurred about seven o'clock on Saturday evening when Andy McNitt's Chalmers car and Charles Workman's Cadillac met in a head-on collision just this side of where the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania crosses over the Nittany valley state road. Workman with his brother William, F. W. Dunkle, Calvin S. Garbrick, John Thomas and Al Henry and his five year old son were on their way to Bellefonte for the evening. Mr. McNitt was on his way down the valley to the Country club. Just where the fault lies is hard to tell as near the smash both cars were about as far the middle of the road as it was possible to get them, and it is an old saw that two cars can't pass on the same track.

McNitt escaped with a bruised hand and nose but the Workman party were not so fortunate. Mr. Garbrick had his right leg fractured above the knee; Mr. Thomas had a hole jabbed in his right leg below the knee and sustained other cuts and bruises. Mr. Henry sustained bruises and lacerations of the face and a badly bruised right leg. The others in the party escaped with a bad shaking up. Both cars were badly wrecked and were wedged so tightly together that it took the big auto bus to pull them apart after one of the cars had been snubbed to a telephone pole. The impact on both cars was on the left side of the radiator and left fender, showing that both attempted to turn out when it was too late to avoid a collision.

A number of cars happened along immediately after the accident and rendered assistance. Mr. Garbrick was brought to the Bellefonte hospital by Miss Anne Keichline while the rest of the injured came to Bellefonte in the big motor bus.

Shortly before five o'clock on Sunday evening a Ford car driven by Prof. L. W. Popier, of State College, and containing himself and three college students who were on their way home from Pittsburgh, collided with another Ford car at Canoe Creek cross-roads, in Blair county. The latter car was driven by L. D. Falner, of Martinsburg, and in addition to himself contained Mrs. Mary Cartwright, aged 74, of Frankstown, and several other ladies. The accident happened on a sharp curve when both cars were traveling at fairly high speed. Mrs. Cartwright was thrown from the machine, but fortunately was not seriously injured. The State College party were all badly shaken up, but none seriously injured, and they came home by train Sunday night. Both cars were badly wrecked.

BIG FIRE AT CHEMICAL LIME COMPANY'S PLANT.—Shortly after five o'clock yesterday morning fire broke out in the crusher building at the Chemical Lime company's plant on Buffalo Run and before the flames could be checked the building and two stock houses were totally destroyed. The crusher building was sixty feet square and eighty feet high while the stock houses, one on each side of the crusher building, were fifty feet square and sixty feet high. Owing to the big timbers in the buildings the fire burned for two hours and it was only by hard work on the part of the firemen that the engine and boiler room and other adjacent buildings were saved. Both Bellefonte fire companies responded to the alarm and did efficient service.

The loss on the building and machinery is estimated at from $20,000 to $25,000, partially covered by insurance. How the fire originated is a mystery, as there was no fire in any of the buildings. The burning of the buildings will interfere with the prompt filling of orders, but they will be rebuilt as soon as possible.

SOCIAL FESTIVITIES.—On Friday evening of last week Miss Eleanor Weston was hostess at a masquerade party given at the Rhoads home on Linn street. On Tuesday evening Miss Sallie Fitzgerald gave a "Mother Goose" party, the fifteen guests present being in costume. The same evening Mrs. James K. Barnhart gave a party for her daughters, Louise and Eleanore Banhart, at which thirty of their young friends were present. Mrs. James Clark entertained Saturday night of last week, giving the second of her series Tuesday night. At both parties cards were in play.

Dr. H. W. Tate, within the past ten days, has proven himself to be the most generous man with his car, in Bellefonte. Having entertained parties at Curwensville, Snow Shoe and the Old Fort last week. This week, a group of his friends have been his guests, on a drive to State College every night.

MEETING OF ROAD AND BRIDGE VIEWERS.—A meeting of the board of road and bridge viewers was held in the grand jury room at the court house on Monday to consider applications and hear testimony on the following petitions, report of their findings to be made to the court next week:

A petition for a county bridge over Cold stream, in Rush township near Philipsburg.

A petition for a public road in Potter township near Penn's Cave.

A petition to vacate a public road in Potter township, near the residence of William Lucas, at Penn's Cave station.

A petition of the Pennsylvania railroad company and Pearl C. Gray for the appointment of viewers to assess damages for the taking of land for railroad purposes in Huston township.
