Mr. Taft and Secretary Garrison.

Every friend of former President WILLIAM H. TAFT will regret the controversy between that amiable gentleman and Secretary of War GARRISON. We all believe that Mr. TAFT means well and everybody wants to entertain for him the kindest feelings. But he is the most unfortunate of men. When he was beguiled into an endorsement of the PAYNE-ALDRICH tariff law, after having previously admitted that some of its provisions were indefensible, he not only defeated his own re-election but put his party into the dry-dock from which it will probably never be released. His controversy with Secretary GARRISON promises to be quite as bad for him, if not worse.

For some sinister purpose some one induced Mr. TAFT to make assertions respecting conditions in the Philippines which are without foundation in fact. Now lots of people can say things as wide of the truth as the North pole is separated from the South, without attracting notice or exciting comment. But former President TAFT is not built that way. His reputation for honesty of purpose is so well fixed and deep rooted that when he diverges from the line of rectitude in speech or action, the act challenges attention and correction. In the present instance his statements are refuted on every page of the records of the government from the beginning of the present administration.

Former President TAFT has been so fair, hitherto, in the treatment of his successor in office, that his action in the matter in question came as a shock to the public ear. He is a partisan, of course, and anxious to remedy the evil which he inflicted upon his party. But no one imagined that he would misrepresent the facts in order to acquire a political advantage and we shall continue to believe that he was deceived into the moral offense he has committed. Besides we hate to see a child monkey with a buzz saw and TAFT is only an overgrown, innocent, fat boy. Otherwise he never would have tackled LINDLEY M. GARRISON, Secretary of War, in controversy.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS.

A CORRECTION.—Last week the WATCHMAN published a statement to the effect that G. H. Gates, of Altoona, and Buffalo Run, had gone into voluntary bankruptcy in the western district of Pennsylvania. Our statement was based on a news item that had appeared in the Altoona Times and supplemented by information received from an attorney in Somerset. Certainly we had no thought of injuring Mr. Gates in anyway and had in mind merely the publication of news in which we thought this community would be interested because Mr. Gates is so well known here.

He has informed the WATCHMAN that "there is not a word of truth in the statement," so we publish his contradiction very cheerfully for the reason that we do not want to work injustice to anyone. Though the error was not ours originally, we give Mr. Gates' contradiction the same publicity we gave the original notice.

RUMBERGER.—A double funeral occurred at the Meyers' cemetery yesterday morning when both Mr. and Mrs. William Elmer Rumberger were buried in the same grave. Mrs. Rumberger died at nine o'clock last Thursday evening of paralysis, with which she was stricken at noon that day while preparing dinner for the thrasher men, who were there at the time. Mr. Rumberger was so shocked at his wife's sudden death that he, too, suffered a stroke of paralysis and died between three and four o'clock on Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Rumberger, who had not been in good health for a year, was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Behrer, and was born on Buffalo Run on February 3rd, 1859, making her age 56 years and 10 months. She and Mr. Rumberger were married on February 8th, 1882, and their entire married life was spent in Buffalo Run valley, about a mile south of Fillmore. Their surviving children are Frank Rumberger, of Hollidaysburg; Mrs. Mary Kubler, of Philadelphia; William and Budd, of Scotia; Mrs. Earl Crust, of Fillmore; Mrs. Walter Crust, of Waddle; Ralph, of Scotia; John and Joseph at home. Hartsock, Waddle; Mrs. Sarah Ellsworth, of Wisconsin; Jacob Behrer, on the old homestead; David, of Stormstown; John, whose whereabouts are unknown; and Charles, of Buffalo Run.

BOROUGH COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.—Seven members were present at the regular meeting of borough council on Monday evening, the absentees being Haupt and Naginy.

There were no verbal communications but a written communication was received from the Woman's club containing a resolution passed at its last meeting requesting council to enforce the spitting ordinance, especially in front of the Brant house, the Brockerhoff and on the bridge. The matter was referred to the burgess and police.

A communication was received from J. Orvis Keller, representing the Oceanic Insurance company, regarding the taking out of insurance by the borough for its employees under the Workmen's Compensation act.

Chairman Harris, of the Street committee, reported the treasurer's check for $29.60 for dustproof oil for the streets. Also that permission had been given the Steam Heating company to lay a six inch pipe from the present heating plant to the old plant of the Bellefonte Electric company. The Lamb street bridge was repaired and grades and permits for pavements given.

The Water committee reported the cleaning of the reservoir and making a number of repairs around town.

Mr. Seibert, of the Fire and Police committee, reported a fire at the Chemical Lime company's plant last Thursday morning, and both companies responding to the call for help. He also recommended that policeman Elmer Yerger's request for an increase in salary be granted to the extent of five dollars, dating December first, making his salary $55.00 per month. The increase was granted by vote of council. Mr. Seibert further stated that some provision should be made for an adequate fire alarm, and recommended the purchase of a gong whistle to place on the steam heating works. No charge will be made by the company for blowing same, but the borough would have to install an American Union telephone. If the whistle proves satisfactory the recommendation included the purchase of another whistle to be placed on the Pennsylvania Match company plant. Council voted to purchase one six inch whistle for $16, on trial if possible, if not, outright. The Logan fire engine was reported in bad shape and is now being repaired. Water meter bills for the last quarter aggregating $764.99 were turned over to collector John M. Keichline.

The Finance committee reported a balance in the hands of the treasurer of $2,832.66. The committee also asked for the renewal of a note of $1,000 for one year from December 5th, and one for $500 for six months from December 8th, both of which were authorized.

The Special committee presented a revised contract with the State-Centre Electric company, made to conform with the requirements of the Public Service Commission, which was approved.

The request of the Lieut. George L. Jackson Camp Spanish war veterans for remuneration for expenses incurred on Memorial day, amounting to $19.17, was referred to the Special committee. Borough solicitor J. Thomas Mitchell stated that the county commissioners would pay for the flags and markers, amounting to $4.67, and that council could pay the balance or not, just as it saw fit.

Dr. Brockerhoff reported that he and John Blanchard, president of the Board of Health, had interviewed Dr. Samuel Dixon, State Health Commissioner, regarding the Department's demands on the sewerage question in Bellefonte, and he was insistent that some definite action be taken. Borough engineer Norman R. Wright went to Harrisburg yesterday on business relating to a sewage disposal plant at Newport and he will ascertain just what is necessary in Bellefonte and will later make a comprehensive plan for a sewerage system.

Mr. Seibert presented a long list of people who either asked exoneration or refused to pay water tax for the years 1913, 1914 and 1915, but the list was referred back to the committee, on the strength that some of the people were not entitled to exoneration.

Secretary Kelly reported that the burgess had returned the resolution passed at the last meeting of council relative to closing the big spring without his approval. The matter was referred to the borough solicitor to ascertain whether the resolution would become effective without the burgess' approval.

Bills to the amount of $2,410.28 were approved and council adjourned.

Woman's Suffrage Convention.

The 47th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Woman's Suffrage association, which met in Philadelphia on November 30th, was attended by over 300 delegates, and at each session the large assembly hall was filled to the doors with an interested audience.

The reports of the president, Mrs. Frank M. Roessing; of the treasurer, Mrs. Robert K. Young, and of the State Chairman Woman's Suffrage party, Miss Hannah J. Patterson, were listened to with great attention telling of the work of the last year.

On the report of the nominating committee there was opposition shown by some of the leaders in Philadelphia, and nominations were made from the floor. The ticket put up by the nominating committee, however, went through, and the policy of the State organization was sustained at every point by the convention.

Mrs. Antoinette C. Funk, of Chicago, and Congressman Philip T. Campbell, of Kansas, spoke on the subject of the federal amendment. Their advice was to push the organized work for the State amendments as the best way of finally getting a national amendment.

Mrs. Funk was most complimentary to Pennsylvania. She said she had worked for suffrage in many campaign States, and worked last summer in ours, and declared she had never met such earnest, splendid women nor seen such a fine organization for suffrage as we had in Pennsylvania.

The United States, and the world, she said, were looking to Pennsylvania to lead the way in the suffrage movement, and that if we went forward on the foundation we had already laid we would win in our next campaign.

Mrs. Leland Struble Heard From.

The following communication is self explanatory. It is an echo of a story published in the WATCHMAN last week concerning the marital troubles of Leland Struble, a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Struble, of Thomas street, who had come east, from Laramie, Wyoming, to claim the bride whom he had married at Akron, Ohio, the year before. The WATCHMAN told the story only as it was told to one of the reporters by Mr. Struble himself. Any misstatement of facts was not ours and as Mrs. Struble has taken exception to some of them we gladly give publicity to the communication sent to us yesterday, as follows:

Editor Democratic Watchman.

DEAR SIR.—In defense of myself and family, I wish to deny some of the statements published in your paper last week, concerning my marriage to Leland Struble.

First, you state that when I knew he was home I left. I wish to say that I did not know he was home; that he had written that he was going to kill himself and was going to send me a message to come and get his body. So when I was informed of a message being at the Western Union office for me, I decided that it was the message for me to come and get his body.

Under this strain I became unnerved and confused and thought it best to go away and have his family take care of his body.

Another statement you printed was to the effect that he has been supporting me. I wish to say I have been supporting myself, Leland Struble sending me twenty-five dollars during the extensive period of one year and four months.

Another one is, that he wanted to take me along out west after the marriage. The truth is, he stayed in Akron, Ohio, looking for work while I came home and earned money to send him. I sent him eight dollars to take him further west.

As to the home he had furnished and ready for me, such a home was unknown to me, as the only home he ever mentioned was when he was working for a Harvester Co., traveling from farm to farm doing the threshing, and wrote me to come out and take a job working for the outfit. The proposition did not suit me as I thought I could make a better living by sewing.

As to my running away with another man, a friend helped me out of Bellefonte, and he was ignorant of my marriage, and left me in Williamsport.

I hope Leland Struble keeps his word that he will not come for me again, as I only married him through fear and wish to live apart from him.

DEER HUNTING SEASON ALMOST OVER.

—Including today there are only five more days of the deer hunting season and the hunter who has not succeeded in bringing a noble stag to earth will have to keep hot on the trail if he desires a deer to his credit this season. Quite a number of deer have been killed in Centre county and by Centre county hunters elsewhere, but as none of the hunting parties have returned home it is impossible to give anything like an accurate account. All reports received are in effect that deer are plentiful, but hunters have the usual trouble in distinguishing the bucks from the does in time to get a good shot. And the result is that a number of does have been killed, but by whom, is a question.

Last Friday a wounded doe was discovered on the mountain near Julian, and as it was so badly wounded that it could not travel it was killed and the carcass sent to the Bellefonte hospital. On Tuesday another nice doe was brought to the hospital by a stranger in an automobile, but he managed to conceal his identity and also the place where the doe had been killed.

Various kinds of luck have been reported by different hunters, but editor Thomas H. Harter's experience last week with the Quigley—Armstrong party is worth telling. Before going out he bragged to his friends that he had a hunch that he was going to shoot a deer and quite early in the season he was standing on a crossing when two nice big bucks jumped out in the road and stopped only about fifteen steps away. Bringing his gun to shoulder Tom took a hasty bead and pulled the trigger, but he had his gun on safety and there was nothing doing. Of course the deer didn't have time to wait and by the time Tom had his gun in order they were out of range. The next day he got a shot at one about 125 paces away and missed it clean, and then he began to wonder what kind of a "hunch" he had before going out.

Last week we told about the big bear shot on Wednesday by the Hecla hunting club and since then they have gotten a big buck.

The Volunteers, of Woodward, have two fine bucks at last reports, a five and a three pronged one.

The Bradford party of Centre Hall have two, one with three prongs and one with two.

The Snyder—Musser party, of Millheim, encamped in High valley, have six deer and a bear.

The Rote—Wingard party at Paddy mountain have three deer and three bear.

The Rebersburg party in the Brush valley narrows have three deer.

Pierce Vonada and W. C. Kerstetter, both of Coburn, each got a deer.

The Greenbriar party have two deer. A Northumberland party in Pine Creek hollow have one deer.

The Schreckengast party at White Deer have a five pronged buck and a bear.

Over in the Seven mountains the Decker party have two deer; the Schuyllkill Haven party one; the Faust party two; the Horner crowd one; the Shuey party two deer and a bear; the Foster party of State College, three bear, a wild cat and a jack rabbit; the Homan club one deer; the Leech party a deer; the Spring Mills club one deer, and an Altoona party in High valley three deer.

On the Alleghenies a party from Kitting have one bear; the Grove party from Moshannon two deer; John Boyce, of Clarence, a deer; the Etters party three deer; the Sylvester Williams party one bear; the George Weaver party three bucks and a bear; the Orwig Red Coats a big bear; the Howard club one deer; the Schenck party of Howard a deer; John Thomas, of Snow Shoe, one deer; the Valley View party at Benner's Run, two deer; the Zimmerman party of Hecla, four bear and one deer; the Fillmore club one deer; John Davy, of Blanchard, a bear; the Lingle party, of Blanchard, a bear, shot by deputy county superintendent Milford F. Fletcher; the Weaver—Confer party three deer and a bear; the Quay hunting party one deer; the Woodring party of Port Matilda one deer, and the Schenck—Fletcher crowd a deer.

The Panthers are in trouble. By some accidental discharge of guns they killed two doe deer, which isn't so much of a crime in itself, as being caught at it. They were caught and the law demands a fine of $200.00 from the ten sportsmen who compose the camp roster. Alderman-elect Billy Cassidy, Recorder-elect Bill Brown and Mayor Edmund Blanchard, along with seven other very well known Bellefonte gentlemen, are the victims of the near sighted marksmen who actually did the slaying.
