—At two o'clock tomorrow the annual football game between the Freshmen and Sophomores of the Bellefonte High school will be played on old Hughes field. The contest promises to be an exciting one.

—Next week the WATCHMAN will publish the first installment of a bright Christmas serial entitled "Santa Claus Sweetheart." It is only a short story and will be concluded in our issue of December 24th. Tell your little folks to watch for it, for they will enjoy every line of it.

—Mrs. Alfred Grove and Mrs. Robert Evey celebrated their birthday anniversary on Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Grove, on Halfmoon hill. The two ladies not only furnished the fowl for a big chicken dinner but took with them all the good things that are essential to such a feast.

—At a meeting of the Penn State football squad on Saturday Harold A. Clark, full-back, was elected captain for 1916. Clark is from Harrisburg, a Junior in the department of industrial chemistry and a Beta Theta Pi man. He has been fullback on the Varsity eleven since his Freshman year.

—Christmas is only two weeks distant and there are many showy places in Bellefonte but one of the best is the moving picture show at the scenic. There you can see the various stages of life pass in review upon the screen, an interesting panorama of current events, comedy and the drama intermingled in a big program that will give you entertainment for from one to two hours. The big special features presented almost nightly at the Scenic are worth seeing.

—Recorder W. Francis Speer and deputy Nevin Cole, are very busy these days transcribing instruments on the dockets in order to have the work brought up to date by January third. In fact there is so much work in that office at present that W. C. Rowe is lending his assistance whenever he is able to do so. Both Register J. Frank Smith and Treasurer John D. Miller will be able to show a clean slate when their terms of office expire at noon on the first Monday of January.

—A telegram was received by chief of police Dukeman on Tuesday from the coroner of Pittsburgh stating that the body of Mrs. Lucy Rine, who died there Monday night was being held in the morgue there, pending advice from her relatives. Mrs. Rine was the widow of the late Charles Rine, of this place. Her maiden name was Horner and she has a brother living at Colyer, who was notified of her death, but what action he took is not known. Mrs. Rine leaves two children, who are in a home at Indiana, Pa.

—On Monday Judge Ellis L. Orvis appointed Joseph Emerick, of Walker township, a jury commissioner to succeed Adam Hazel, resigned, and the same day the commissioners, Mr. Emerick and John D. Decker, with W. Miles Walker, as clerk, began their work of filling the jury wheel for the year 1916. In the neighborhood of 650 names of good, responsible voters of Centre county will be put in the wheel, and the list is supposed to be distributed throughout the county in an equally representative manner.

DECEMBER TERM OF COURT.—The regular session of the December term of court, and the last regular session over which Judge Orvis will preside, convened on Monday morning. W. W. Braman, of State College, was appointed foreman of the grand jury. The Civil list was gone over and several cases reported settled and the rest continued.

William E. Musser plead guilty to betrayal and sentence was deferred pending a settlement.

Homar Carr appeared before the court on the charge of furnishing liquor to a man of known intemperate habits and sentence was suspended upon the payment of the costs.

Commonwealth vs. Claire Hall and Patrick McGorty, tried on two counts preferred by Minerva Etters, of Snow Shoe, and Gertrude Smith, of Howard. Verdict of not guilty but pay the costs.

Commonwealth vs. John F. Hall, assault and battery preferred by his wife. Defendant plead guilty and sentence was suspended upon the payment of costs and an agreement to support his wife.

William Hinnegan, assault and battery. Defendant plead guilty and sentence was suspended upon payment of the costs.

Edward Orwick, assault and battery. Prosecutor, Bruce A. Kauffman. A verdict of not guilty was returned and the costs divided between the two men.

William Morris and Alfred P. Fletcher, alias Heaton, indicted for larceny. These are the two young men who made frequent raids on the hen houses of the farmers in Bald Eagle valley. The jury returned a verdict of guilty.

Minnie Hayes and Elsie Smith, of Philipsburg, were acquitted of a serious charge and the verdict was applauded when returned by the jury.

James Peace was charged by Henry Kline, (whose nickname is Raspberry,) with furnishing liquor to a man of known intemperate habits and larceny, but the grand jury ignored the bill and put the costs upon the prosecutor. Not being able to pay same Kline was sent to jail.

The grand jury completed its work and filed its report on Wednesday. They recommended some necessary repairs at the jail but nothing elaborate.

Alex Kasky, indicted for procuring goods under false pretense. The man secured credit at the store of R. B. Daugherty, at Claience, on representation that he worked for the Pennsylvania railroad company and was keeping a boarding house. Verdict of guilty returned yesterday morning.

At the convening of court yesterday morning the homicide case of the Commonwealth against Mrs. Sophia Voyznak, of Claience, charged with the killing of Andy Slavitch, on Sunday night, October 31st, was called for trial. Most of the forenoon was spent in securing a jury, quite a number of talesmen being called after the regular panel was exhausted. The jury as finally selected is as follows:

- David Rimmey, laborer, Spring. John W. Keifsnnyder, miller, Harris. L. R. Lingle, farmer, Potter. M. S. Vonada, laborer, Penn. J. B. Ralston, laborer, State College. John Mellen, butcher, Philipsburg. Jonathan Warner, farmer, Union. Z. W. Hoy, farmer, Marion. Harry Bower, farmer, Haines. J. A. Peters, farmer, Halfmoon. W. H. Garman, Bellefonte, talesman. George Morrison, talesman.

NO COURT NEXT WEEK.—The second week of December term of court has been cancelled owing to the fact that there was only one case on the list ready for trial. Prothonotary David R. Foreman on Tuesday sent out a notice to all jurymen that they need not appear. License court, however, will be held as scheduled, on Saturday of next week.

—Muslin underwear greatly reduced for one week at AIKEN'S. 49-1t

SOCIAL EVENTS.—Among those who have entertained within the past week are Mrs. Harry C. Yeager, who entertained thirteen of the young friends of her son Malcolm, Thursday of last week, in celebration of the child's thirteenth birthday. Everything was done for the young host and his guests to make the evening one of the happiest of their lives.

Monday night Mrs. F. H. Thomas gave the third of a series of card parties, at which finch and five hundred were played by the twenty-two guests whom she entertained.

Tuesday Mrs. Harry N. Meyer was hostess at an evening party given in compliment to her house guests, Mrs. Stover G. Snook, of Gloucester, N. J., and Mrs. W. F. Smith, of Millheim. Thirty invitations were accepted.

Mrs. L. T. Munson's tea from four until six o'clock Wednesday afternoon, was given in honor of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Gephart Munson, who with Mr. Munson and their two children have been Mrs. Munson's guests for a week.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS.—At a public sale held at the court house on Saturday morning the large house and lot of the late Laura E. Williams, on Reynolds avenue, was sold to John G. Thomas, of Stormstown, for $2,020. The small house and lot were purchased by William Taylor for $1,615.

John P. Harris recently sold his double house on Howard street occupied by M. L. Altenderfer and A. J. Nealis to Harry Folmer and Mitchell Garbrick, who will occupy the same after April 1st, 1916.

—Kimonas reduced for one week at AIKEN'S. 49-1t

—Men's high cut, water proof shoes, regular price $5.50, now $4.00.—YEAGER'S Shoe Store. 49-2t

AWARDED A MEDAL.—Harry E. Duey, the young Pennsylvania railroad fireman of Tyrone, who on July 13th rescued a little Austrian child from in front of the locomotive at the risk of his own life, while at work near Claience, was last week awarded a medal by the Interstate Commerce Commission. He also received a letter from President Wilson commending him for his bravery and forethought. Mr. Duey has likewise been recommended for a Carnegie hero medal.

—There was a good attendance at the Elks memorial service held in Petrikin hall last Sunday afternoon. The address was delivered by Rev. W. M. B. Gland and those who were fortunate enough to be there were greatly pleased with it. Special eulogies were given by J. Linn Harris on Christ J. Stover, and Samuel D. Gettig on Earle C. Tuten, members who have died during the year. Music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Norman R. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. R. Russell Blair, John M. Bullock and J. Dorsey Hunter. The mortality list of the Elks includes Joseph S. Barnes, Hon. John G. Love, Jenkin David, Dr. Philip S. Fisher, Siegmund Joseph, R. S. Brouse, Christ J. Stover and Earle C. Tuten.

—Ladies' $4.00 suede shoes reduced to $1.98.—YEAGER'S Shoe Store. 49-2t

Beginning some time in January the WATCHMAN will start publication of the strong story "The Governor's Lady." It will run for several months and should prove wonderfully attractive reading for winter evenings. "The Governor's Lady" has been dramatized both for the stage and the picture screen because it is so full of human interest. It deals with the dearest, sweetest, plainest mother character who could not outgrow the homely nobility that was hers when she was poor, in order to take her place at the side of a husband who had struck it rich and had social and political ambitions. It is full of food for thought and a story that every WATCHMAN reader will like.

Bellefonte friends of John A. Williams, of Port Matilda, will sympathize with him in the destruction of his home by fire last Saturday evening. Mr. Williams was away from home and Mrs. Williams and her five children were all at a bazaar in Port Matilda when the fire broke out. It started on the outside of the house at the foundation, and soon ate its way to the roof between the weather boarding and the plastering. Most of the furniture was gotten out of the building but when the fire was over lots of it had disappeared. The very nature of the origin of the fire looks as if it had been the work of an incendiary. Mr. Williams carried insurance on his property, but the loss was greater than the amount of the insurance.

—Men's $3.50 dress shoes, new goods, reduced to $2.73.—YEAGER'S Shoe Store. 49-2t

On Friday evening Thomas Weber, of State College, accompanied by a lady friend, started on a motor trip to Pine Grove Mills. About a mile from the College, on a sharp reverse curve Mr. Weber lost control of the car with the result that it was ditched and turned turtle. He was not only pinned under the car but one of the broken bows of the top ran through the fleshy part of his right leg and hip so that it was necessary to saw the broken bow in two before he could be released. After the accident the young lady, who was comparatively uninjured, managed to crawl from beneath the car and went to the nearest house where she telephoned for a doctor and other assistance. It took some time, however, to rescue Weber from his precarious position, but when released, the broken bow extracted from his leg and first aid rendered he was taken home. While he will be housed up for some time no serious consequences are anticipated.

—Men's high cut, red rubber gums, $2.48.—YEAGER'S Shoe Store. 49-2t

In the hustle and bustle of making a living and accumulating as much of this world's goods as possible the average person does not give much consideration these days to his less fortunate brethren, hence it is truly refreshing to hear of an act of human kindness, especially so near the holiday season. And the reason for this item is that on Monday morning William Doak, the deaf and blind man who helps to support himself by selling lead pencils, shoe strings, etc., on the street, brought to this office a note, penciled in his own handwriting, in which he told Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thal butchering their fat porkers on December first and making a feast day of the event by entertaining about thirty-five of their friends at a big dinner. And always being very kind to Mr. Doak they invited him to share the dinner. Mrs. Thal met him at the door and taking his arm led him to one of the best seats in the dining room, while his wants were carefully looked after by Mrs. Mary Beezer and Mrs. Catharine Beezer, who saw to it that his plate was never empty until Billy's appetite was entirely satisfied. That he appreciated their kindness is evidenced by the fact that he has in this way made public acknowledgment of the same.

—Miss Anna Eckenroth is visiting in Pittsburgh, having gone out a week ago to spend a short time with her sister, Mrs. Clifford Steward and to see the little nephew, who is now but two weeks old.

CENTRE COUNTY FARMERS' INSTITUTES.—Farmers institutes' under the auspices of the Department of Agriculture will be held in Centre county next week with meetings at Millheim on Monday and Tuesday, December 13th and 14th; Pine Grove Mills on Wednesday and Thursday, December 15th and 16th, and at Pleasant Gap on Friday and Saturday, December 17th and 18th.

John A. Woodward, of Howard, the county chairman, will have charge of the meetings assisted by Daniel A. Grove, of Lemont, and Col. W. F. Reynolds, of Bellefonte. The Department of Agriculture has assigned four able experts and speakers for the Centre county meetings. D. H. Watts, of Kerrmoor, is to speak on apple and peach culture, farm education, alfalfa and farm buildings—all important subjects to the farmer. W. Theo. Wittman, of Allentown, one of the recognized poultry experts of the State, will cover the poultry subject thoroughly and will speak specially upon increasing the winter yield of eggs and show in an illustrated talk many of the poultry houses in Pennsylvania.

Fertilizers and farm management will be discussed by M. N. McCallum, of Wernersville, and S. I. Bechdel, of State College, will take up the dairy subjects of clean milk and better butter as well as the silo and silage. The morning meetings will be at 9:30 o'clock; afternoon at 1:30 and evenings at 7:30.

At Millheim the local committee consists of William N. Duck, chairman; G. W. Frankenberg, H. E. Duck, Chas. A. Stover, D. F. Stapleton and A. J. Gephart. Miss Bessie Shelton and Miss Ruth Brown will assist with the programs with recitations.

At Pine Grove Mills the local committee consists of G. B. McC. Fry; W. H. Goss; J. D. Tanyer, Dr. R. M. Krebs, W. K. Corl, Capt. W. H. Fry and J. H. Bailey. At Pleasant Gap the local committee will consist of Elmer D. Swartz, chairman; W. Kerstetter, W. H. Noll and Harry W. Hile.

GENEROUS THANKSGIVING DONATION.—The Thanksgiving donation to the Bellefonte hospital this year was a very generous one, not only from residents of Bellefonte but from individuals and communities throughout the county. Included in the donation were $74.69 in cash, contributions from churches and individuals. Among the donations outside of Bellefonte were from the W. C. T. U. of Unionville; from Chapman Underwood, rural mail carrier at Unionville, who collected along his route and sent in a large box of vegetables and other available stuff; from the Woman's club at Howard; from the Woman's hospital auxiliary at Centre Hall; church and individual contributions from Millheim and Aaronsburg, and individual donations from people in various parts of the county, for all of which the hospital authorities feel very grateful.

—Ladies' $3.50 shoes, the very latest styles, all new goods, reduced to $2.73.—YEAGER'S Shoe Store. 49-2t

AUMAN—DECKER.—On Tuesday of last week John S. Auman, of Millheim, and Miss Loda K. Decker, of State College, were united in marriage at the Reformed parsonage in Boalsburg by the pastor, Rev. S. C. Stover. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Decker, formerly of Pine Grove Mills, and is well and favorably known in that section of the county. The young couple will make their home at Millheim.

SHUEY—SAXION.—Philip Benner Shuey and Miss Lulu Bella Saxion, both of Bellefonte, were married at the Methodist parsonage on Thursday of last week by the pastor, Rev. E. H. Yocum. They were attended by a brother of the bride and his wife.
