

A little son was born to Mr. and Mrs. A. Trood Bidwell, of Boston, Mass., on Monday, December 20th. It has been christened Robert Gordon Bidwell.

Any one of the sixty-seven applicants for the position of sealer of weights and measures would be delighted to find the appointment in the toe of their socks when they get up on Christmas morning.

About eighty people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip S. Dale, at Oak Hall on Tuesday, to help them celebrate their golden wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Dale are representatives of one of the oldest and best known families in Centre county and their friends hope they may be spared to celebrate many more anniversaries.

On Wednesday afternoon Roland S. Pennington and George H. March, of Delaware county, were brought to the death house to pay the penalty for the murder on November 7th, 1913, of S. Lewis Pinkerton, the time for their execution having been set as next week. On Wednesday night, however, Governor Brumbaugh granted the men a respite until the week beginning January 24th to give time for their case to again be taken before the Board of Pardons.

The Behrer's public sale last week was fairly well attended. Good horses sold for $150 and cattle brought fair prices, the sale amounting to $1,000. The farm was knocked down to David Behrer for $3,725. The second day the personal property, farming utensils, grain, hay, etc., was sold. A representative of the Blair county bank was the biggest purchaser.

Last Thursday afternoon the Kepler school house came very near going up in smoke. The fire evidently originated from a defective stove pipe in the school house loft, as the first knowledge any one had of the fire was when the chimney fell and the brick crashed through the ceiling into the room below. There was an immediate stampede of scholars and teacher, and nearby residents rushing to the scene the flames were extinguished by a bucket brigade. At that the house was damaged to that extent that there will be no school until after the holiday vacation.

Last Saturday evening while J. W. Miller and family were away from home their house was badly damaged by fire. The flames started at an open hearth and burned into the kitchen. The fire worked its way up a plastered partition and through the ceiling when the family returned home. Neighbors responded promptly to a call for help and a bucket brigade succeeded in extinguishing the fire. Some of the furniture in the house was burned and considerable damage done the building, but it is covered by insurance in the Centre Hall fire insurance company.

Last Wednesday afternoon Mrs. A. J.

Lytle attempted to thaw out some water pipes in the kitchen of her home on the Branch when there was a violent explosion of the stove. Mrs. Lytle was thrown across a table and badly injured. On Tuesday of this week her daughter, Mrs. Rentschler, came here from New York to help look after the home until her mother recovers. The stove was literally blown to pieces, not one whole part being left. Three windows in the room were blown out, and the ceiling and walls badly damaged. The hot coals from the stove set fire to the floor in several places, but it was fortunately extinguished before gaining much headway.
