Long's petition for a rehearing of his application for a license at his hotel at Rebersburg for the year beginning April 1st, 1916, in which they state that the petitioner had a fair hearing before the court on two different occasions; that he was refused for good and sufficient reasons; that had he desired to enter a petition for a rehearing he should have filed his petition within four days after refusal by court, as required by law in all such legal proceedings, and last that the present Judge has no premises to act in the matter in question, and therefore the request should be dismissed at the cost of the petitioner. The matter is now up to argument, but no date has yet been set.

Word was received in Bellefonte yesterday afternoon that John Guisewhite had been badly burned in an explosion in the foundry at Meadville on Tuesday. Just how the accident occurred was not learned, nor the full extent of Mr. Guisewhite's injuries. It is to be hoped, however, that they are not as serious as his friends here fear.

Last Friday afternoon two freight trains backed together near the old water tank with the result that a flat car was badly wrecked and a caboose dumped into Spring creek. Nobody was injured.

STRAUSSER—OTT.—A wedding of interest to many people in Bellefonte was that on Wednesday evening of James Strausser, of Philadelphia, and Miss Sarah Catharine Ott, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Ott, of this place. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's brother, William H. Ott, on Bishop street, and was performed by Rev. W. M. B. Glanding, of the Lutheran church.

Only immediate friends were present for the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Strausser expect to reach Philadelphia by Saturday evening when a big reception will be tendered them in their own home, where Mr. Strausser and his mother have lived since leaving Centre county a number of years ago.

A miscellaneous shower was given Miss Ott on Saturday evening, when gifts of all sorts were showered upon her. The party, at which between forty and fifty guests were present, was originated by Mrs. Hiram Fetterhoff and Mrs. Howard Barnes, both near neighbors. The fore-part of the evening was spent at the Ott home the party going later to the home of Mrs. Barnes, where the house was most elaborately decorated and refreshments served, four tables seating the entire party.

WOODWARD—MILLER.—Miss Lyda Miller, only daughter of Robert Miller, of this place, and Harold H. Woodward, of Reading, were married at the parsonage of the First Presbyterian church, Altoona, on Saturday, February 19th, by the pastor, Rev. Miller. Miss Miller has made her home in Philadelphia since leaving Bellefonte several years ago and on the day of her marriage she went from that city to Altoona, coming to Bellefonte immediately after the ceremony, her husband being unable to accompany her for business reasons.

Mr. Woodward is a graduate of State College class of 1912, in the mining and metallurgical engineering course and now holds a good position with the Raymond Construction company, of Chicago. SUNDAY SCHOOL CONFERENCE. The midyear conference of the Centre county Sunday school association was held in the Presbyterian chapel last Friday, there being two sessions, at 10 a. m. and 2.00 p. m. As evidence of the interest shown there were in attendance the State secretary, W. G. Landes, of Philadelphia, and the following county officers: I. L. Harvey, William Tressler, L. W. Nuttall, C. C. Shuey, A. C. Thompson, W. E. McWilliams, R. R. Jones, H. R. Kraybill, Mrs. C. E. McGirk and Darious Waite; district chairmen A. C. Thompson, W. T. Hoover, N. M. Corman, C. C. Shuey, Laird Holmes and W. E. McWilliams, as well as a number of superintendents and co-workers. Rev. R. R. Jones conducted the devotional exercises in the morning and a number of officers made very interesting reports.

At the afternoon session Rev. C. C. Shuey conducted the devotional exercises. The treasurer reported a balance of $27.60 in the treasury. State secretary Landes, in a brief talk, gave many helpful suggestions on different phases of Sunday school work. Efforts are being made to bring the county up to the front-line standard. Much interest was manifested by all present, and they now look forward to a very successful county convention which will be held at Howard in May.

The evangelistic campaign in the U. B. church is continuing with increasing interest. Rev. W. A. Wissinger, who is assisting Rev. MacLeod, has won the hearts of the people by his forceful preaching of the gospel and his kindly attitude towards all. Several persons have already decided for Christ and there are new seekers every night. Next Sunday afternoon at 2.30 Rev. Wissinger will speak to men only, his subject being "The 20th Century Dragon." Last Sunday's meeting for women was one of the best of the present campaign, and was well attended in spite of the storm.

In the absence of Rev. E. Fulcomer, who is attending the annual conference at York, Rev. C. C. Shuey will fill the pulpit of the United Evangelical church on Sunday, both morning and evening. The public is invited to hear him.

Beginning with Ash-Wednesday, March 8th and continuing through the Lenten season, services will be held in the chapel of St. John's Reformed church every Wednesday and Friday evening.

Baby week, which is being observed at present by Federal, State and city officials, Women's clubs and specialists in civic activities everywhere, is for the betterment of conditions relating to the babies of every community. A million stamper, bearing the slogan, "Baby Health—Civic Wealth," have been printed and are being sold for one cent each, the proceeds to be held in trust until summer, and then to be used for special work among the babies. A movement, in which the business men are co-operating, has been started in Bellefonte to aid this campaign, and every one who has not become interested is asked to familiarize themselves with the movement that they may become active in the work of the campaign when called upon.

A birthday surprise party was given at the home of the Misses Lambert, on south Allegheny street, on Tuesday evening, in honor of Miss Sarah's birthday anniversary. Inasmuch as she was born on the twenty-ninth of February and has a birthday only every leap year, her friends took advantage of this occasion to pleasantly celebrate the event. Two dozen or more friends were present and refreshments of ice cream, cake and coffee were served.

Since the Pennsylvania Match company has shifted its sales agency from Philadelphia to Ohio their sales have increased to such an extent that they are away behind in their orders. The only trouble now is the scarcity of potash. Some very important improvements to the machinery are to be made in the near future, which will increase the output of the plant.
