PINE GROVE MENTION.

Mrs. Jacob Zong is slightly improved this week.

Sheriff Yarnell was here on Wednesday greeting old friends.

Mrs. George Graham and Mrs. Blanche Cramer spent Tuesday in town.

The prolonged wet weather has caused farming to be at a standstill.

Walter Dreiblebis reports a new girl at his home and Ed Harpster a boy.

Last week Mrs. John Fortney bought the Mrs. Alice McGoffin home in Boalsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel I. Corl were Easter visitors at the G. B. Fry home near town.

W. E. Johnson spent Friday in Shaver's creek valley looking after some horses.

James Rider, of Halfmoon, transacted business at State College on Monday morning.

Calvin Weiland fitted to Mount Union on Wednesday to work in the new powder plant.

Jackson and Tussey were here last week buying horses and cattle for their eastern trade.

Fred Roush, a fireman on the Pennsy between Altoona and Pittsburgh, was here over Sunday.

Charles M. Ross with his son Hale motored to Linden Hall and spent Easter at the J. Hale Ross home.

Mrs. John W. Stuart returned home last Friday from a two month's visit among friends in Dixie land.

J. B. Whitmer and two sons and N. E. Dreiblebis attended the horse sale at Centre Hall but got no horses.

Edward Sellers, who is holding down a good job in a Milton shell factory, was here the early part of the week.

Mrs. Emma Passmore, of Harrisburg, is visiting her aged father, Adam Felty, and other relatives in the valley.

N. E. Hess is having his farm home at Shingletown re-roofed with cedar shingles. Lawrence Fox has the job.

William Hamill Glenn has received the appointment of patrolman on the state road between here and State College.

Mrs. Margaret Krebs has opened up a millinery department in her store, and is displaying the latest styles in headgear.

Having just recovered from a broken leg George Koch slipped and fell on Friday, breaking the leg again at the same place.

Paul Tate, mail agent at Philipsburg, was ordered to report to Pittsburgh last Monday to enter the U. S. railway mail service.

The Presbyterian parsonage is being painted white with brown trimmings. J. R. Smith and John Keller are the brush slingers.

Mrs. Catharine Roush, who has been in the Williamsport hospital the past month, came home Friday much improved in health.

Mrs. Peters and grand-daughter Edna went to Bellefonte on Tuesday to be present at the Odd Fellows' celebration on Wednesday.

Prof. S. C. Miller, of Chester, and J. G. Miller, of Cleveland, Ohio, spent Easter at the home of their father, Squire Miller, on Main street.

The death of Col. D. F. Fortney on Monday afternoon cast a gloom over this community, as he spent most of his school days in this vicinity.

Miss Lillian Dale entertained Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Kimpert at dinner on Easter day. Mrs. Samuel I. Corl also entertained a number of friends on Easter.

Rev. Cortelyou will preach the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the Boalsburg High school on Sunday at 7:30 p. m., in the Reformed church.

Mrs. Emma Hess, of Bellefonte, is visiting among the friends of her youth at her old home on the Branch, making her headquarters with her son, E. W. Hess.

Mills Alexander, of State College though making locomotion go on crutches on account of a broken hip, is visiting old friends and neighbors at Julian this week.

George Porter has succeeded Frank Smith as barber at the old stand, and expects to keep open shop three evenings each week—Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Ex-sheriff W. E. Hurley is here arranging to start work on the unfinished part of the state road west of town as soon as the weather and ground conditions will permit. The old machinery has been shipped to Reedsville and the crushed stone needed will be secured at the Bellefonte quarries.

In last week's letter we stated that McCormick, Stover and Fry had purchased Hudson cars, when we should have said Chevrolets. Others who have purchased cars are Dr. Woods, J. H. Miller and James S. Oliver each a Dodge; E. T. Farsons a Buick; Oscar Stover and Earl C. Musser Chevrolet runabouts; H. N. Goss an Oakland and James Hoover a Ford.

On Tuesday while Edward S. Moore was having a colt shod at the Collins shop, the animal became unruly and threw Mr. Moore to the floor, tramping upon him and breaking his leg. Hon. J. W. Kepler took him home in his car and Dr. Woods reduced the fracture. The accident is unfortunate at this time as his son John is sick with pneumonia and no male help in sight.

Joe Hettinger, the grizzled old warrior, is spending a week among his old comrades at Altoona, where he attended the unveiling of a monument to the memory of the First Defenders, in which he served four years. Following the close of the war he served two enlistments in the U. S. ordnance department at Charleston and Key West, and he is still hale and hearty.

STRONGHOLDS ARE RETAKEN

Sinn Feiners Driven From Stephen's Green and Postoffice—Nineteen Killed and Twenty-seven Hurt in Fighting.

Drastic steps have been taken by the British government to suppress the uprising in Dublin.

Martial law has been proclaimed in Dublin and Dublin county and 1,000 numbers of troops and machine guns have been despatched to the scene of the rioting, as well as to the entire southern section of Ireland. The British government proclaimed the movement, which took part in the movement, illegal associations, which will enable the police and troops to break them up.

This was announced by Premier Asquith in the house of commons, who also said that while making a more reassuring statement with regard to the situation in the Irish capital, did not add much to previous knowledge of what has happened there since Monday afternoon, when the rebels took possession of the postoffice and certain sections of the city.

The prime minister was able to say however, that Liberty hall, the headquarters of the Sinn Fein party, and St. Stephen's Green, which seemed to have been the center of the rising had been reoccupied by the military who were being reinforced by troops from England and Belfast.

Nationalist volunteers, Mr. Asquith said, had turned out to assist the authorities, while many local persons had offered their aid. Steps to arrest all of those concerned in the movement were being taken.

Outside of Dublin, he said, the country was tranquil. The premier added that steps were being taken to acquaint neutral countries of the real significance of "this most recent German campaign."

Uneasiness for the safety of Baron Wimborne, lord lieutenant for Ireland who unofficially was reported to have been taken prisoner by the rioters, was held as a hostage until Sir Roger Casement was released, was set at rest when the following telegram was received here from him:

"The situation is satisfactory, Stephen's Green has been occupied. Eleven insurgents have been killed. The provincial news is reassuring."

In a statement in the house of lords Lord Lansdowne, a member of the cabinet, gave new details of the rising in Dublin on Monday.

Lord Lansdowne said that the rioters had made a half-hearted attack on Dublin castle. There was now a complete cordon of troops around the center of Dublin, he added.

The casualties at Dublin, according to Lord Lansdowne, were fifteen killed and twenty-one wounded, besides two loyal volunteers and two policemen killed and six loyal volunteers wounded.

In speaking of the capture of Sir Roger Casement, leader of the Separatists, Lord Lansdowne said:

"Three days ago a German submarine and a vessel disguised as a Dutch trader appeared on the west coast of Ireland. The submarine landed in a collapsible boat three individuals. Two of them were made prisoners, one of whom was Sir Roger Casement. The German ship was taken in tow by a British vessel, but was blown up by its crew."

Sir Roger Casement, leader of the Separatist faction in Ireland, who was captured while attempting to land arms from Germany, on the Irish coast was conveyed across Ireland Saturday by a strong armed escort, who knew the prisoner only by two initials. He arrived in London without incident and immediately was lodged in the Metropolitan prison.

WOULD CHARGE TWO CENTS

Pennsylvania Newspapers May All Come to That Figure.

A resolution to increase the cost of all Pennsylvania newspapers to two cents in case there is not an immediate reduction in the cost of publication was passed at the State Elitria association's convention in Philadelphia.

The following officers were elected: W. L. Binder, of Pottstown, president; C. H. Bressler, of Lock Haven, first vice president; I. O. Nisley, of Midleton, second vice president, and R. P. Hapgood, of Bradford, secretary.

Spring Ploughing Two Weeks Late.

Reports made to the state department of agriculture, in Harrisburg, show that by reason of the late winter the spring ploughing is about two weeks late as an average. On April 1 spring ploughing had been started in only twenty-three counties. The southwestern counties were first to begin this work, Greene being in the lead.

Heavy Bombardment West of Meuse and in Woerwe Region.

French positions on the Verdun front west of the Meuse were bombarded vigorously by the Germans. The attack was centered on Avocourt wood and the first line trenches north of Hill No. 304, in the Woerwe there was a big gun bombardment.

The official French statement in which these developments are reported, says also that a number of German prisoners were taken during Tuesday's attack north of the Aisne.

On the whole Verdun sector west of the Meuse, from Cumières to Avocourt, intense fighting was in progress all of Monday and Monday night. Le M. Homme (Dead Man's Hill) was again the chief prize, but the net result of the struggle, left the lines of both sides practically unchanged.

The Germans attempted a diversion in Lorraine, southeast of Badonvillers. Some of the attacking troops succeeded in reaching the French trenches at La Chapelotte, but here they were isolated and practically annihilated.

The Russian troops which arrived in Marseilles Tuesday held dress parade in the presence of a vast crowd, which cheered them wildly. The Russian troops, in parading through the city, were preceded by little girls who strewed flowers in their path.

BOOKS, MAGAZINES, Etc.

"JUST DAVID"—A Prettiest Story You Must Not Miss. Probably the prettiest story written in a generation is "Just David" by Mrs. Eleanora H. Porter, author of "Pollyanna," "Miss Bilby," "Cross Currents," etc.

The story will start serial in The Pittsburgh Dispatch, Monday, May 1, 1916, and you will miss a great treat if you fail to read "Just David."

The hero is a lad of 10, who from the age of 4, has been reared in the mountains, close to nature, where, with his father, a great musician, he treads and communes with the birds and bees and flowers. He knows and loves only that which is good.

The tale is a brand new one, full of romance, sentiment, happiness, music, tenderness and ooh-ish enthusiasm.
