

FRENCH AGAIN GAIN

Gen. Petain's Forces Nibble Teuton Lines Near Dead Man's Hill. Once again General Petain has launched his forces against the German lines and as on previous occasions during the past few days, when the French assailed the Teuton positions, gains were made.

This time the "nibble" was made to the northwest of Dead Man's Hill and in addition to the capture of the German positions there, 100 Teutons were taken prisoners and four machine guns captured. This information is contained in an official communication issued in Paris.

At other points along the Verdun front the infantry has been resting, but the big gun bombardment on both sides has assumed considerable intensity west of the Meuse and to the west of Douaumont, indicating a resumption of infantry operations in these sectors in the near future.

Paris reports a sharp conflict in the Argonne region just west of Verdun, the Germans gaining a foothold in advanced French positions after liberally shelling them with gas-carrying projectiles. The French subsequently drove out the German troops, inflicting heavy losses upon them.

ZEPPELINS RAID SCOTLAND

Attack on Kent Follows Dirigibles' Visit to Northern Britain.

A German aeroplane bombed the city of Deal, in Kent, England.

One man was injured. An official statement says the raiders came from the direction of Ramsgate and added: "Six bombs were dropped on the railway station. Several houses were damaged. The aeroplane escaped, flying above the clouds. Our craft pursued it."

Five Zeppelins appeared over the northeast coast of England and the southeast coast of Scotland early Tuesday night.

Fire from high angle guns and aeroplanes is believed to have badly damaged one of the Zeppelins.

H. J. Tennant, parliamentary under secretary for war, said in commons that seventeen bombs had been dropped "in the agricultural districts," and the damage was insignificant.

The objectives of the raiders were evidently Hull, Grimsby, Hartlepool and Newcastle, all important points for shipping.

Many assurances of support have been received by Mr. Lynett from Democrats in Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Harrisburg, York, Wilkes-Barre, Reading, Altoona and, in fact, every part of the State. Editor Lynett's election as national delegate-at-large will be a fitting tribute to his worth as a Democrat.

BOOKS, MAGAZINES, Etc.

If you are a reader of the Philadelphia Record, daily and Sunday, skip this brief article—it's a recital of facts with which you are already familiar. The information it contains is for your friends and neighbors who do not know why you prefer "the Record" to any other city newspaper—because they don't know the Record.

There are as many kinds of newspapers as there are interpretations of the word NEWS. The Philadelphia Record's interpretation is popular. News, in its estimation, is information of current events of general interest, presented without any other censorship than that involved in excluding the unwholesome, eliminating tiresome detail and triviality, and correctly measuring the space allowed to each item in accordance with its importance and its value to the average reader. In Record news there's no skimming and no padding; no artificial manipulation to serve hidden interests; no animus and no favoritism; no inaccuracy that's humanly avoidable; and thousands of correspondents in all parts of the world are alert to see that there shall be no omission.

The Sunday Record is the daily's big brother. Its rapid strides in circulation are proof positive that the publishers have struck the right note in furnishing a bigger and better Sunday paper, with an illustrated magazine filled with the best fiction as one of its strongest attractions. There are also five pages of comics, four of them in color, for everybody who enjoys a wholesome laugh, and an enlarged feature section chock-full of interesting reading.

No need to take anybody's word for these facts about the daily and Sunday Record. Buy one copy of each and put the matter to a test. That will enroll you in the large army who believe that "the Philadelphia Record, daily and Sunday, ought to be in every home."

Luxury Magnified by Economy

In those four words you have the story of the new Grant Six.

The value of its generously large, beautiful boat-line body—

—its silent, powerful valve-in-head motor

—its strong, substantial chassis, is magnified, intensified, by the low first cost and the exceedingly low cost of operation.

The Grant Six has a wheel-base of 112 inches—long enough to permit a large, comfortable, roomy body—short enough to eliminate waste space and make it easily handled anywhere—

It is a full five passenger car—

And yet the average experience of owners is over 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline; 900 miles to the gallon of oil!

It is equally easy on tires and repairs—

And the first cost is only $795 complete—
