—The auditorium at the High school building was well filled last Friday evening on the occasion of the concert by the High school orchestra and all who were present were loud in their praise of the young musicians. In fact the concert proved a real musical treat.

—On Saturday evening there were just fifty-one automobiles and five big motor busses parked in the vicinity of the Diamond, not counting those parked on other streets. They all brought people to Bellefonte to spend the evening either on business or pleasure.

—Word was received in Bellefonte yesterday that the official count from the entire State, with the exception of Delaware county, shows that Harry Keller, of Bellefonte, was elected one of the alternates to the Republican national convention. Of course Mr. Keller is a Brumbaugh alternate.

—J. Thomas Harrison, of Pleasant Gap, has accepted a good position with the gas company of Renovo and will go there on Monday, June 5th. Mr. Harrison has had considerable experience in the handling and marketing of gas and ought to prove a valuable acquisition to the Renovo company.

—Prof. John S. Hosterman, who a few years ago served as principal of the Bellefonte High school but who since leaving Bellefonte has been connected with the public schools in Scranton, has just been elected principal of the High school at Danbury, Conn., at a salary of $2,000 per year. Prof. Hosterman is a native of Pennsylvania, this county, and his many friends will be pleased to know that he is forging ahead in the educational world.

She was also admitted to the Phi Beta Kappa fraternity, one of the oldest Greek letter fraternities in the country, and admission to which can be had on merit alone. Miss Shuey took first honors when she graduated from the Bellefonte High school and now she is deserving of congratulation on the fact that she will graduate at the head of her class in college. At the graduating exercises of Dickinson, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Shuey and their family will be guests of Miss Shuey.

Big Show but no Street Parade.

The Carl Hagenbeck and Wallace's big show exhibited in Bellefonte on Wednesday and drew a large crowd, but there was one disappointing feature, and that was their inability to give a street parade. Scheduled to arrive here at five o'clock in the morning the show was delayed on the road by some trouble at Mill Hall, so that the first section did not reach Bellefonte until almost eight o'clock. The show travels in three sections and how stupendous it is can be realized from the fact that it was after twelve o'clock before they finished unloading. Consequently it was impossible to give a parade and be ready for the opening of the show at two o'clock. While thousands of people, in fact everybody in Bellefonte, were disappointed at not seeing the long line of gaily comparisoned horses, the resplendent wagons and all the glitter and pomp of the circus parade the management cannot be blamed for the omission.

When the "Watchman" told you last week that if you wanted to see a good show to come to the Hagenbeck and Wallace aggregation, it knew what it was talking about, and the thousands of people who witnessed the performances in the afternoon and evening had not one word of regret. From the start to the finish it was one stupendous whirl of thrilling circus acts, performed by some of the cleverest circus artists in the country. In fact there was so much going on all the time, in the three big rings and on the two stages, as well as the various aerial stunts, that it was impossible to follow everything in detail. The one thing certain, however, is that it was one of the biggest and cleanest shows that ever visited Bellefonte.

And the menagerie part of the show was all that anybody could desire, even from the famous gardens of Carl Hagenbeck. The stock was all fine and so far as Bellefonte was concerned everything was as peaceful as a Sunday school picnic. That Centre countians appreciate a good show was shown by the fact that at the afternoon performance at least five hundred people had to stand, the show people, not anticipating such a large crowd, having failed to provide seating capacity for all who were there.

Mr. L. H. Heckman is the man who looks after the welfare of the press and he does it so courteously and completely that it is a genuine pleasure to meet him.

Notwithstanding the big crowd present during the day, and it was estimated at 7,000 and upwards, the police did not have one single complaint as to any attempt at pocket picking or anything illegal being done, while not a single arrest was made. This is a record that stands well for the show people as well as for the people of Centre county for being decent, law-abiding citizens.

The circus management stated that their afternoon attendance was about 7,000 and in the evening the crowd numbered 2,000. And most of the people from the country came to Bellefonte by automobile. In fact more cars came to Bellefonte on Wednesday than on any day during the Old Home week last July. The railroads carried the smallest part of the crowd.

Held for Perjury.

Sumner F. Riddle, of Howard, was given a hearing before justice of the peace S. Kline Woodring, on Monday morning, on the charge of perjury and so damaging was the evidence against him that he was held under $1,200 bail for trial at the September term of court. The case grew out of the fact that on May 20th Mr. Riddle came to Bellefonte and made a deposition in front of notary public W. Harrison Walker in effect that B. Paul Swartz was innocent of sending threatening letters and attempted extortion, for which crime he had been convicted at the February term of court and recently sentenced to not less than ten years nor more than fifteen in the western penitentiary. At that time he alleged that David A. Holter had told him that he knew the man who had sent the letter and that it wasn't Swartz.

On May 22nd he attempted to make Holter admit that he had told him as above and when he denied ever having made such a statement or any knowledge of the matter Riddle as much as intimated that Holter was the guilty party, consequently Holter and his father, H. C. Holter, swore out a warrant for Riddle's arrest on the charge of perjury and subornation. Knowing the character of the man when sheriff Yarnell went down to make the arrest, the latter part of last week, he took with him deputy sheriff Harrison Kline and chief of police Harry Dukeman and they surrounded the house. Riddle, however, made no resistance.

At the hearing his interests were looked after by S. D. Gettig and W. Groh Runkle, while N. B. Spangler assisted district attorney James C. Furst.

—Gaspur Marturana and Thomas Chickerilla, the Barnesboro murderers who were to have been electrocuted on Monday were granted a respite last Friday by Governor Brumbaugh until the week beginning June 26th. The men are under sentence of death for killing and robbing a fellow countryman.

—Hunters' licenses, which this year will be issued about August first, will have on the reverse side a complete digest of the game laws and seasons, and a special warning to hunters to be careful about forest fire. Therefore when you get your license this year be particular to read the back of it as well as the front.

—The County Commissioners this week decided that they could not accede to the request of the ladies of Centre county in making an appropriation to put the Mother's pension bill in force in this county. Thus for another year, at least, Centre county will not benefit in any way from the money passed by the Legislature from mother's pensions, as the Act requires that the county must appropriate an equal amount to that appropriated by the Legislature.

Judge Quigley on Saturday sentenced William O'Neal and William Macklin, both colored, to pay one dollar fine, costs of prosecution and imprisonment in the county jail for a period of three months. O'Neal is from Pittsburgh and Macklin a man of roving tendencies and the two pleaded guilty to beating up John Delige, who conducts a restaurant in Philipsburg, on Monday night of last week. They were brought to the county jail the following day.

The Bellefonte Lodge of Elks last Saturday received a magnificent elk head and antlers as a gift from James Allport, of Barnesboro. The head is surmounted by a pair of seven pronged antlers of unusual length and spread, making a trophy that the members of the club appreciate very much. Mr. Allport, by the way, has a reputation as a hunter, not only of deer and elk, but also of moose and more than one of the latter animals have fallen before his unerring aim in the wilds of Canada.

Mr. George H. Musser brought to this office on Saturday a stalk of clover which measured just two and a half feet in length. It was picked on his farm in Boggs township that morning and is a record for clover on May 27th. When it comes to raising big crops, whether it be hay, wheat, corn, horses, cattle or hogs, Mr. Musser can always be found in the front rank among the farmers of Centre county. In fact he is looking forward to cutting one of the biggest hay crops this year ever grown on his farm.

On Wednesday Creighton Way, the thirteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Way, of Waddle, and a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Stevenson, about the same age, were in Bellefonte for the big show and boy-like wanted to see everything. The result was they got lost from the rest of the party and missed the train home. Nothing daunted, however, they started walking the ties and when their feet grew tired took to the road and walked the ten miles to their homes, arriving there about nine o'clock in the evening, tired out but glad that they had missed nothing worth seeing.

The baggage and express car crew on the night train east on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad last Wednesday night had an experience not down on their regular program. A big blooded boar which had been shipped from a point in Iowa to Frank Colyer, at Coburn, broke out of its crate and for a few minutes made things quite lively in its end of the car. But it didn't last long for after about five minutes rampage the boar lay down and peacefully passed away. The carcass was brought on to Bellefonte and the next morning sent out over the Lewisburg and Tyrone road to Coburn just as proof to Mr. Colyer that the boar was dead.

Squire S. Kline Woodring had the fight of his life with a twenty-one inch brown trout he hooked in the deep waters of Spring creek just above the "Watchman" office on Tuesday evening. It took him almost a half hour to land it, and then Cyril Moerschbacher had to give him assistance with a landing net. The first net tried broke and the trout went through it, but a second one was secured and with this the trout was finally landed. About five hundred people crowded the bridge and Water street pavement to watch the contest between the fish and man, and many cheered when the man finally won. The trout measured 21 inches and weighed 3 pounds and 14 ounces. On Monday evening Register Frank Sasserian is reported to have caught a 22 inch trout "somewhere in Spring creek."

In Honor of the Soldier Dead.

Memorial day in Bellefonte and throughout Centre county was somewhat marred by the inclement weather, but notwithstanding the rain good-sized crowds turned out generally to pay the annual tribute of love and honor to the soldier dead, as well as loved ones who have gone before.

In Bellefonte Our Boys band of Milesburg led the procession from the Diamond to Union cemetery. They were followed by twenty members of Troop L, resplendent in their new dress uniforms; a delegation of Lieut. George L. Jackson Camp Spanish-American war veterans, members of Gregg Post No. 95, G. A. R., and citizens generally. The usual services were held in the cemetery by the Post, commander W. H. Taylor officiating. The Spanish-American war veterans held special services at the grave of Lieut. Jackson. All the soldiers' graves were decorated with the usual floral contribution and on the grave of the late War Governor, Andrew G. Curtin, reposed the customary elaborate wreath contributed by the Pennsylvania Reserve Corps.

Returning from the cemetery the crowd gathered in the court house where a very impressive and patriotic Memorial address was delivered by Dr. Ambrose M. Schmidt. From four o'clock to six the old soldiers were the guests of the Bellefonte Lodge of Elks, at their beautiful and commodious home on High street.

Col. J. L. Spangler spent the day in Pennsylvania, making the Memorial address at Rebersburg, Madisonburg, Millheim and Centre Hall. Our Boys band of Milesburg furnished the music at Centre Hall, having gone over in one of the big Emerick motor busses. At all of the above places the citizens turned out in goodly numbers to assist the old soldiers in honoring their dead comrades.

Worked for Good Roads.

Owing to the lateness of the season and farm work all being somewhat behind, "Good Roads" day in Centre county last Thursday did not meet with the hearty response and cooperation it probably would have had had the season's work been normal. Notwithstanding that fact, however, reports from the county showed that something over two hundred men responded to the call by giving a day's work and about ninety teams had been contributed.

Among the places where much good was done were Runville, where eight car loads of cinder were hauled on the main road; Mt. Eagle, where four car loads of slag and two car loads of crushed limestone were used; Howard, where four car loads of slag were used; Rebersburg and Aaronsburg each used up one hundred tons of crushed limestone in improving the road through the towns; Sandy Ridge used two car loads of crushed limestone and a force of thirty men spent the day on the road from Snow Shoe to Clarence, so that all in all, Centre county made some showing and it was all in the line of lasting improvements.
