The firm of Orcutt & Beckman, of Clearfield, big automobile supply dealers, are negotiating with representatives of the Garman estate for the purchase of the vacant lot between the Garman building on the corner of High and Spring streets and the Shoemaker property with a view of erecting there a large automobile supply store.

The ground floor will be used for the auto supply store, where all kinds of parts and automobile accessories will be carried in stock. The room will be used exclusively as a store room, and not a garage.

A Pleasing Recital.

The following very complimentary notice appeared in the Williamsport "Gazette and Bulletin" of Monday, June 5th, the young lady to whom it refers being a daughter of Mrs. Frank Grothwaite, of State College: "A very large and appreciative audience heard Miss Isabel Gray Goheen, of State College, Pa., in her post-graduate expression recital of 'Just David,' by Eleanor H. Porter, in the Dickinson Seminary chapel Saturday evening, June 3rd. Her stage presence was very pleasing, possessing that grace and charm which wins the confidence of an audience from the first moment. The range of fourteen characters was lifelike. Her handling of David was a wonderfully fine piece of work, and David won the hearts of the audience just as he won the hearts and affections of those with whom he was associated. The impersonation of the little blind boy Joe, was also a beautiful piece of work. The graft Simeon Holly and his kind wife, the friendly Perry Barbrook, and David's sickly father, were all equally good impersonations. Miss Goheen's work with this charming story was a thoroughly satisfying exhibition of the art of expression in which she has in this recital and at previous times proven herself so proficient."

Loss from Forest Fires. Centre county stands fifth in the list of damages this year by reason of forest fires, according to a report sent out by the Forestry Department at Harrisburg, though the exact damage or the number of acres burned over are not given. Blair county leads with 11,000 acres burned over. Brush burning and sparks from railroad locomotives have been the prevailing causes of most of the fires, and very few have been traced to the carelessness of fishermen. Centre county's worst fire was in the neighborhood of Paddy mountain, and the district that suffered least was the Allegheny mountain, which is now under the care of the Pennsylvania Forest Fire Protective association.

A big dance will be given in the army this (Friday) evening, as a compliment to the Bellefonte Academy students, when the music will be furnished by the Meyer Davis orchestra, of Philadelphia and Washington. On next Tuesday evening, June 13th, a public dance will be held in the Bush Arcade hall when the music will be furnished by Wright's Saxophone orchestra, of Columbus, Ohio. Refreshments will also be served. Dancing from 8.30 p. m. to 2 a. m.

About one hundred members of the Bellefonte and Centre Hall Lodge of Masons motored to Philipsburg yesterday afternoon to pay a fraternal visit to the Lodge of that city. Most of them returned home last night.

Word was received in Bellefonte yesterday from Dr. R. G. H. Hayes, at Atlantic City, in effect that he expects to return to Bellefonte in a week or ten days. He has gained eight pounds since leaving Bellefonte and is feeling fine.

Take Care of the Babies.

As a climax of the educational health exhibit which was one of the features during commencement week at the Bellefonte High school Dr. John J. Muldowney, assistant chief medical inspector of the State Department of Health, delivered an address in the High school building last evening in which he made a special plea for the proper care of the babies.

In starting out Dr. Muldowney made the startling statement that 28,000 babies die every year in Pennsylvania before they have attained the age of one year, and that one-third of all the deaths in Pennsylvania are those of children under two years of age. One-sixth of them die through lack of proper personal hygiene, and one-half of the total die through ignorance, poverty or neglect. About seventy-five per cent. of the above mortality is preventable.

Dr. Muldowney advocated cleanliness, plenty of fresh air and proper ventilation, a warm temperature and yet not high enough to become oppressive, as that was just as injurious to health as too much cold. Pure, fresh water to drink and plenty of sunlight, as the latter is one of the best disinfectants in the world.

The doctor also advocated plenty of room and condemned the present day methods of house builders in building too small. He advocated the enforcement of proper building laws, which would in a measure regulate the size of the rooms as well as dwellings. Dr. Muldowney condemned the practice of putting on new wall paper without first removing the old, as this is one of the causes for the spread of tuberculosis and other communicable diseases.

Another thing that should be carefully watched is the proper disposal of waste. Carelessness in this not only endangers the life of the baby but of every member of the family, and the entire neighborhood for that matter. Proper sanitary conditions will save huge doctor bills and bring sunshine and happiness into the home. In fact the back yard is a good index of the occupants' sanitary conscience.

In closing Dr. Muldowney stated that the most important resource of the future State is the infant's life. Therefore, the fundamental importance of putting the child's immediate and constant environment—the home—in the very best hygienic condition. Health is purchasable, but the citizen must not expect efficient sanitation until he is willing to spend more money for efficient service.

FLAG DAY.

June 14, 1776—June 14, 1916. Public recognition of Flag Day as a national anniversary has become so general that any reminder of the date to secure co-operation in the observing of it seems to be unnecessary.

The flag of the United States, this year, stands for more than ever before. While many nations are waging war against each other, our country is enjoying peace and prosperity.

In view of this fact, a special plea is made to the people of Centre county to make a great event of this Flag Day, by unfurling to the breeze flags for every child in every public and private building and from every flag pole. By raising the flag after sunrise and lowering it before sunset we not only honor the flag but we obey a law.

"She's up there—Old Glory—where lightning's a speed; She dazzles the nations with ripples of red; And she'll wave for us living, or droop o'er us dead— The Flag of our country forever!"

"She's up there—Old Glory—no tyrant dealt her scars; Nor blur on her brightness, no stain on her bars; The bright blood of heroes hath crimsoned her— The Flag of our country forever!"

HELEN E. CANFIELD OVERTON, State Chairman to prevent desecration of the Flag, D. A. R.

Elks Will Observe Flag Day. The Bellefonte Lodge of Elks will hold special exercises on Tuesday evening, June 14th, at 8 o'clock, in observance of Flag Day. Dr. H. F. Whiting will deliver the address and there will be a special program of music. The public is cordially invited to attend these exercises, which will be held in the Elk's home on High street.

FLAG DAY PROCLAMATION.—At the request of the D. A. R. and other patriotic organizations, we make the following proclamation: That the residents and business men of this community do fittingly observe June the 14th, as Flag Day, by hanging the American flag in front of their residences or places of business.

Candidates' Expense Accounts.

Practically all the candidates who ran for the nomination for office at the recent primaries have filed their expense accounts.

Harry B. Scott's expenses were $312.00; C. L. Gramley's $199.50, $25.00 of which amount went to the Republican Temperance League. M. I. Gardner spent less than fifty dollars. Charles H. Rowland spent $409.57, and W. E. Tobias less than fifty.

D. H. Gaffney, for Republican National delegate, spent $207.34, and W. I. Swoope $481.29. J. L. Montgomery, treasurer of the Republican county committee, received $300, spent $290.25, and has a balance of $9.75.

J. Linn Harris, N. E. Robb and Lewis Emery spent less than fifty dollars.

James McCafferty shipped his household goods to Lewistown yesterday and today he and his family will leave for that place to make their future home. Mr. McCafferty's two sons, Richard and Ralph, are both holding good jobs in that place and it was a desire of all to be together that prompted the removal of the family to that place. Mr. McCafferty has been employed at the Garman house most of the time during the past thirty years, and his services there will be missed by the management as well as the patrons of that hotel.
