THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

—Mr. and Mrs. Rex Bartlet are the happy parents of a little daughter, which arrived last Friday.

—Edward I. Gillen's condition on Monday took a turn for the worse, but yesterday he was resting a little easier.

—The Meyer-Maurer family reunion will be held at Hecla park on Tuesday, August 15th. The public is invited to attend.

—A little son who has been named John Wallace Reeder, Jr., was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. Wallace Reeder, July 13th, at their home in Pasadena, California.

—Miss Daisy Brisbin has resigned her position as teacher in the Soldiers' Orphan's school at Scotland, and in the future will make her home with Col. and Mrs. J. L. Spangler, in this place.

—The big Grange encampment and picnic will be held at Grange Park, Centre Hall, the week beginning September 9th. Among the improvements this year will be the lighting of the grounds by electric light, instead of the customary oil lamps.

—The announcement of the birth of a son Sunday, to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Winslow, of Punxsutawney, was received in Bellefonte this week. Mrs. Winslow was the elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Grimm and lived here the greater part of her life.

—On Tuesday evening the White-rock quarries received a gang of twenty-five foreign laborers from Cumberland, Md., and yesterday ten colored men from the south passed through Bellefonte for the same place. All told the White-rock needs forty or fifty additional men.

—The trout fishing season is at an end and all the camps on Fishing creek have been broken up and abandoned for another year. While the catch this year was nothing to brag about a number of fishermen had fair luck and a good time, and that's the main object in fishing, anyway.

—On Friday night of last week six young men were driving out the pike from Bellefonte in a Ford car and on the long stretch this side of Axe Mann they got too close to the creek with the result that their car tumbled down over the embankment. Other autoists happened along, righted the car and pulled it to dry ground, and cranking up the men piled in and the car went off as merrily as if nothing had happened.

—The attention of readers of the "Watchman" is again called to the big festival to be held by our Boys band of Milesburg tomorrow (Saturday) evening. Music will be furnished by both the Runville and Howard bands. A good program of amusements has been arranged. Many things to tickle the palate will be served. Everybody is invited, and for the convenience of Bellefonters motor busses will be run every half hour.

—Capt. Theodore Davis Boal's mounted machine gun troop has not yet been sworn into the U. S. service. An officer was to have performed that duty on Monday but failed to do so and on Tuesday evening Capt. Boal went to Washington to see what could be done toward facilitating matters. Up to yesterday afternoon all that could be learned from a number of troopers visiting Bellefonte was that they expected to be sworn in today.

—About noon Saturday A. G. Morris Jr., drove his truck down to the Sunnyside plant of the American Lime and Stone company to get some crushed limestone. He drove in under the shoot, with his truck standing on the railroad track and had just commenced to load when he heard a noise and looking around saw a drat of three cars loaded with limestone bearing down upon him. The cars were so close that he had to jump to save his life and the truck was completely demolished, the biggest part of it left being the top.

—The "Bermuda High" is being given credit for the unusually hot and torrid weather we have endured the past two weeks, but even such an inexplicable thing as that cannot interfere with the splendid programs of motion pictures at the Scenic week in and week out. And while the atmosphere is stifling out of doors the Scenic is kept fairly comfortable by that big suction fan. And now that the Chautauqua is a thing of the past this well known place of amusement should become more popular than ever. Try it once.

—The State-Centre Electric company completed the installation of the boulevard lights on north Allegheny street from Howard to Linn, and west on Linn to Rhoads' corner on Monday and the light was turned on for the first time on Monday evening. Of course they are not the brilliant or powerful lights used throughout the business section of the town, but they are strong enough to light up those residential streets in a satisfactory manner, even though the light is partly obscured by the foliage on the lower branches of the intervening shade trees.

Two Interesting Letters from the Front

Troop L Quarantined for Measles. Two Cases in Camp, but Neither Serious. Six Promotions in the Troop.

How the Soldiers Pass the Time and Other Interesting Facts.

By Corp. Harry J. Cohen. Camp Thomas J. Stewart, El Paso, Texas, July 23.

Sunday again, and incidentally another letter, although doings are not as numerous as they were during the early part of our expedition; still, enough has transpired to make a little reading for an anxious audience at home.

Starting last Monday we finally got down to business, and we are now following a regular prescribed schedule of drill which takes almost all of the fore part of the day; the remainder being divided between the dodging of the sand swirled in and admiring a wonderful mirage, which Capt. Curtin kindly pointed out while at rest during a drill period, and which appears about ten o'clock each morning and lasts a few hours.

Of course most of the boys, I mean men (they all have a pretty good growth on their upper lip now, even though we are required to shave twice a week) spend the time until retreat in the evening either dozing off into a snooze or else playing casino or poker for matches (we haven't gotten any pay as yet,) while the more elect choose either five hundred or bridge-whist.

It happened during the night of Monday while the writer had charge of a relief detail for guard duty, that the army Chaplain had occasion to cross the guard line in the vicinity of a rookie, and upon being challenged remarked that he was the army Chaplain. Here are the words of the Rookie sentinel: "Advance Charlie Chaplin and be recognized." Of course this is a great secret, so please don't advertise it.

Tuesday, by the way, was the big day here, the important feature being the signing of the pay roll, but we are still waiting for the pay. However, on the strength of that our mess sergeant, W. C. From, was detailed by the Troop to go to El Paso and purchase a stock of merchandise for a troop canteen. Business flourished beyond all expectations with J. P. Storch in charge as salesman. Everything went along lovely until the regimental headquarters noticed our cash register,—well, the truth is they simply got sore because we had such a wonderful trade that day, and they had Col. Wood force us into the hands of a receiver, and now the headquarters intend starting one of their own. They have consorted us with the announcement that we will receive one-thirteenth of the profits. Some consolation!

On the same evening that the pay roll appeared most of the Troop were spectators at a real fist fight pulled off by two members of Troop H, of Pittsburgh. The contestants had a grudge against each other and, notwithstanding the fact that the weight of one was only 117 pounds, compared with 168 of the other, the little fellow won the decision, which was approved by all with one acclaim. It sure was some battle—six rounds, regular referee and time keeper, with the usual coterie of trainers and seconds. It was well worth the price of admission, which was quite noticeable owing to the lack of it.

Really, I hate to do it, but news is news and I am sorry to state that at last it has got us. Yes, we are quarantined. The measles broke out upon private N. A. Miller, of Pine Grove Mills, on Thursday and after all due precautions had been taken by fumigating and the destruction of his personal equipment, the malady again appeared on Saturday on private John M. Shank, of Howard. These two men were taken to the field hospital for proper treatment and we were ordered under strict quarantine. This means no more leaves from the troop street under any conditions, so I suppose we will be hugging our cots now for a period of about three weeks. But as it is the orders of the medics, it surely must be for the best.

I guess that is all for this time, with the exception that Earl Baird received a letter last week and answered it immediately. Yesterday he discovered that instead of enclosing in the envelope the letter he had written he returned the one he had received. He is now trying to square himself by saying he was sure he mailed the proper one, but we have the evidence.

With best wishes for all, here's to the folks and friends at home.

P. S.—Sergeant Saxion has just informed your correspondent that he was mistaken in the party who got the extra change at the station at Colebrook, and we will gladly publish his statement.

THE "WATCHMAN" APPRECIATED IN CAMP.

The WATCHMAN is in receipt of the following letter from Capt. H. L. Curtin, of Troop L, which confirms every report about the health and good condition of the men there. The day the WATCHMAN arrives in camp is a "red-letter" day for the soldiers. Captain Curtin's letter follows:

Camp Thomas J. Stewart, El Paso, Texas, July 25. Mr. P. G. Meek, Bellefonte, Pa. "Dear Sir.—I wish to thank you most

By Corp. Harry J. Cohen. Camp Thomas J. Stewart, El Paso, Texas, July 29.

Eighteen days in Texas and already established as a governing body, with a county court house and a sheriff, is the enviable record reached by our Troop.

Being in quarantine, and as army life in its natural state is quite uneventful, we were forced by circumstances to meet the occasion with something that would diversify the monotony while being penned up. Having gotten permission of our officers to try all charges brought against any member of our Troop, we, by means of nominations and finally an election, have succeeded in putting before our people a court that is without a par in any regiment.

Hon. J. Homer Decker took first honors and was elected by a handsome majority for president judge, while private (now sergeant) Arthur Deering appeared on the ticket for district attorney, with no opposition, therefore being elected by acclamation, while James, alias "Jimmy" Davis ran away ahead of his party for prothonotary. Next in order came the selection of jury commissioners and after a hard battle, when the din died down and the smoke had cleared away, we picked out of the debris the persons of L. T. Gummo, Sergt. Harry Schreffler and Jefferson Tierney as the lucky place holders.

Of course we have a sheriff, but it isn't our fault. Top sergeant Saxion said he was it, and that settled the matter. It didn't pay to argue with any one who has more say than you have, it is liable to cost you a five spot.

The first case on record happened to be the Troop Adjt., Corp. Emehizer vs. his brother-in-law, Herbert S. Miller, the charge being neglect of duty, by appearing two minutes late at "revelry." Remember, good people, "revelry" is 5.15 in the morning, and most of you are no doubt still in the ether world, but after an eloquent defense in Mr. Miller's behalf by counsel Leslie Gordon, and a most eloquent plea by our district attorney Miller was found guilty.

When asked how long he knew the defendant Corp. Emehizer answered ever since he married his sister. Miller was then sentenced by Judge Decker to come in last for his "eats" for the next six days, and figuring on the appetite of the gentleman, it sure is punishment enough.

The next case on the docket for this week is that of the Commonwealth of Troop L vs. John G. Sanford, for maintaining a nuisance by having in his possession a said Belle—one dog. This case will be reported next week, providing the dog don't die before.

Last Sunday we were all given our last inoculation, and it sure was some shot, but like the previous two, the damage soon wore off and we are ourselves once again.

Paul Stover, while lying on his cot dreaming of his happy home and supper with his young wife at their own table, was rudely awakened by "Reddy" Rhoads, our second cook, with the words, "Get up, the war isn't over yet." Lucky for "Red" Stover had his shoes on, or we would now have a representative in the hospital.

Monday was the big day here. We were paid for the time from mobilization until the first of July, or about nine days. Although the amount was little enough it paid the canteen bill and bought a few postage stamps.

Then we had a reception, a real regular reading, by Prof. Sergt. Arthur Deering, who is an instructor in English at State College, and a more classic event could not be pulled off outside the regular seats of learning. Among his recitations "Ginger Din" by Kipling; "The Cremation of Sam McGee" and "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," by Corwin, as well as "The Highwayman" by Alfred Noyes, will give an idea of the selected nature of his program. The entertainment was enjoyed by all, owing to Mr. Deering's capability in rendering it.

An examination for corporal was held Friday and the following were fortunate in passing: Privates Geo. Young George Wise, James Davis, Fred Yeager and Claire Smith and they immediately started in on their duties. The following were appointed without examination to the rank of sergeants: Corps. Uriah M. Stover and Roy Grove, and private Arthur Deering.

The weather is wonderful and does not appear as hot as it did at first. Regarding the heat of Troop L, no new cases of measles have been reported and we feel that our quarantine will soon be lifted, which is the hope of all.

Regards to all back in the old Keystone.

After Cigarette Violators.

The following letter was sent recently by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Bellefonte, to all known dealers in cigarettes in Bellefonte, and also to each of the five hotels in the town. Copies of the letter and of the Pennsylvania anti-cigarette law were also given to each of the justices of the peace in Bellefonte, who promised their co-operation and assistance and expressed hearty approval of the action taken:

"Dear Sir:—We take the liberty of sending you a copy of the anti-cigarette law of Pennsylvania and kindly request you to post it in some conspicuous place in your establishment. That this law is being violated by some Bellefonte dealers, as well as others, is quite evident.

Our organization is going to try and help others in seeing that this law is enforced and obeyed.

Signed by The Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Miss Rebecca Naoni Rhoads, President; Mrs. D. I. Willard, Secretary, and Dr. Ambrose M. Schmitt, probation officer.

A BAD WRECK.—Twenty-one freight cars loaded with coal were wrecked and six hundred feet of track on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad near Martha were torn up on Sunday when an axle broke on one of the front cars of a through freight east. The accident happened about 12.30 o'clock and most of the wrecked cars went down over an embankment, but fortunately nobody was hurt. Local passenger trains were transferred at the wreck but the Pennsylvania-Lehigh express both east bound and west bound was diverted to the Lewis-town division. Wrecking crews from Tyrone, Lock Haven and Williamsport cleaned away the wreck and had the track open for traffic by Monday morning.

Weeds being very much in evidence in Bellefonte at this time, an urgent appeal is sent out to all residents to join in an effort for their extermination. The time is now here for the seeding, and should every one do their share in the weed war, by digging out or cutting off before the seed drops, we would soon have a weedless Bellefonte. The Street committee's warning should also be considered, for if they are compelled to do it, it will be at your expense.

Mrs. Joseph Ceader received a five passenger Ford touring car on Tuesday which she will use during the summer for pleasure mostly, expecting in the fall to have it converted into a delivery truck. The price of the Ford car, by the way, has been reduced to $320 for the roadster and $360 for the touring car.

It will pay you to read the "Watchman."
