Making Preparations to Feed Big Crowd.

Sunbury, Pa., August 16.—In an interview with Robert Davis, Treasurer of the Odd Fellows' Orphans' Home of Central Pennsylvania, and Chairman of the Refreshment Committee, for that institution's big 20th Anniversary Celebration, which will be held at the Home, September 4th, Mr. Davis, in commenting upon the size of the crowd which will be present, said that arrangements are being made to feed ten thousand people. "We believe in preparedness," said Mr. Davis. "We have ordered 2000 loaves of bread, 50 hams and other meats and 10 bushels of potato salad, with other fixin's in proportion. We expect to serve a good satisfactory meal to the guests of the home, at forty cents."

O. O. F., of Pennsylvania, will be the orator of the day. Other prominent speakers will also be present. Motion pictures of the crowd will be taken and incorporated in the big reels of home pictures, which are shown in all parts of the State.

Labor and Capital.

Judge Elbert H. Gary, in Leslie's. To employers of labor I would say: "Treat your men right, treat them justly and liberally." To employees I would say: "Loyal, efficient service is sure to be rewarded. Do not permit outsiders to influence you to act contrary to your own interests." To both employer and employee I would emphasize the fact that each must rely upon the other for success; neither is independent of the other; they succeed or fail together.

Twenty-Six Killed in Trolley Wreck.

Johnstown, August 13.—The death toll resulting from the wreck on the line of the Southern Cambria Traction company, seven miles from here yesterday was brought up to twenty-six today with the death of Mrs. Judith Ribblett. Several other persons are in a critical condition. Coroner C. M. Fitzgerald continued his investigation today, but no date for the inquest has been announced. Failures of the brakes to work is believed by local authorities to have caused the wreck.

In addition to those killed twenty-one victims were taken to the Mercy hospital and twenty four to the Memorial hospital, Johnstown, four or five of whom are so badly injured that they may die.

The wreck was the result of the head-on collision between two Southern Cambria railway cars between Echo and Brookdale, shortly before 11 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The accident is believed to have been due to the illness or death of the motorman of the city-bound car, Angus Varner, previous to the wreck. Varner and the other motorman, Taylor Thomas, who was on the east bound car, are both dead, so that the cause of the catastrophe may never be known.

The city-bound car was due to stop at Brookdale on the siding to wait for the outbound car to pass. Instead of stopping, Motorman Varner's car sped through Brookdale at forty miles an hour and plowed into the outbound car just below the end of the siding. So great was the impact when the cars came together that the steel vehicles were telescoped for six feet of their length. Seats were torn from the floors and hurled with the passengers into the forward ends of the wrecked cars, breaking legs and arms and shattering skulls.

The outward bound car was loaded with picnickers bound for the annual reunion of the Ribblett-Dishong families at Woodland Park. Most of those on the cars were women and children. When the coaches crashed together glass flew in every direction inflicting many ghastly cuts. The noise of the collision was heard half a mile away and brought scores of people to the scene to aid in the work of rescue. The cries of the injured made an agonizing chorus which echoed heart-rendingly through the valley.

The wreck was a particularly horrible one. Bodies were strewn around, minus hands, head and feet. In one case, that of the Lentz boy, the head was missing. Some of the injured were pinned in the wreckage, while others were thrown into a rock-filled gully near the tracks. It was an hour before aid could reach the scene, the accident happening in an isolated spot in the mountains.

A score of physicians and nurses were sent from Johnstown by road motor ambulances, motor trucks and several pieces of motor fire apparatus were pressed into use. The injured were rushed to the hospitals in the makeshift ambulances in sight of thousands. The blood-stained bundles were laid on bed-springs borrowed from stores and some of them uncovered.

To Educate Teachers for Continuation Schools.

Acting on the belief that the teachers of continuation schools should be persons with practical trades experience, the executive board of the State Federation of Labor laid tentative plans last Thursday afternoon, at their meeting in the Federation headquarters, Commonwealth Trust Company building, Harrisburg, to raise a $25,000 fund to provide scholarships at State College for prospective teachers.

The matter of raising the money is to be taken up with all labor divisions of the State that constitute the State body and under the preliminary plans the first scholarship will be awarded after the first $1,000 is accumulated. The scholarships will include a 2-year course at State College, costing $600-$800 a year—and will be awarded to the winner who participates in competitive examinations. But no one city will be awarded two successive scholarships.

So that a $25,000 fund always will be available to pay the scholarships, provision is to be made that within two years after the winner of a scholarship is graduated from college he will be required to reimburse the union for the amount contributed in his behalf.

The idea of the labor leaders is to have the more brilliant of the young men who have finished their trades participate in the examinations for the scholarships. To that end the labor men figure that teachers who are thus qualified for the continuation schools will have had both a practical and theoretical training in the particular work that they have followed.

Soldiers' Orphans in Annual Reunion.

George W. Givler, of Tyrone, secretary of the Society of the McAlisterville Soldiers' Orphans school is sending out the announcement of the ninth annual reunion of the students of the McAlisterville school, which will be held at Harrisburg, August 23, 24 and 25. The students of this famous school which accomplished a remarkable work for soldiers' orphans in the quarter century from 1864 to 1889, are intensely loyal to the institution, and they gather in large number each year. Francis A. Fry, of Newport, is president of the graduate association.

On the same dates at Harrisburg students of the soldiers' orphans schools of the State will gather in the second annual reunion of the Pennsylvania Sixteeners. The morning of the first day will be devoted to registration and renewing of acquaintanceships. In the afternoon the McAlisterville students will hold their business meeting in a local hall, and the White Hall students will have a meeting and entertainment at Camp Hill. In the evening there will be a general get-together meeting.

The second day will be given to the business sessions of the Sixteeners' convention. In the evening there will be a banquet given under the auspices of the Central Pennsylvania Sixteeners.

On the third day the Curtin memorial, in honor of Pennsylvania's war Governor, will be dedicated by the orphan-students to "Our fathers and mothers." Much interest is attached to this ceremony. Mr. Givler is second vice president of the Sixteeners association as well as secretary of the McAlisterville society. He has been largely instrumental in keeping alive the interest in the schools and the reunion.

Simple Method of Solving a Matrimonial Problem.

The late Colonel Anstruther Thomson in his "Eighty Years' Reminiscences" tells the story of a remarkable marriage.

Of the many quaint "characters" whom Colonel Anstruther Thomson met in the hunting field none captivate the imagination like the brothers Leamon of Ivybridge—"two thin, delicate looking old men, twin brothers, seventy-two years old, with white hair, very gentle and courteous in manner, red cutaway coats, white cords, black boots, caps and gloves; most respectable and nothing slangy about them; they are so alike you can hardly tell them apart."

When past sixty years of age one night after hunting one of them said to the other:

"I have been thinking neither of us can have much longer to live in this world, and it will be a terrible thing for the survivor to have to remain here alone. Don't you think one of us ought to marry?"

"Yes," was the reply. "I have thought so for a long time."

"Well, do you know of any lady?"

"Yes; I do. Is there any one you fancy?"

On comparing notes it appeared they had both selected the same woman, the manageress of the hotel at Okehampton.

"Well," said one, "we have lived together all these years without a wry word, and it's a pity we should fall out at our time of life."

So they tossed up which should marry her. The winner rode down to Okehampton next morning and was accepted. All three lived together, and the wife nursed both brothers in their last illness and was left their money.

How He Got the Moon.

John Henry Maedler, the astronomer, whose favorite study was the moon, having learned that Frau Witte, the wife of the state councilor, owned a wonderful model of his pet luminary, spent years trying to gain possession of it. As her husband was living, he could not marry the owner of the model, so he married her daughter, and at the death of his mother-in-law the coveted moon became his.

BOOKS, MAGAZINES, ETC.

On account of the scarcity of news print paper, which amounts almost to a famine at the present time, and affects all newspapers alike, "The North American" has been obliged to discontinue the privileges heretofore accorded newsdealers and news-boys of returning unsold copies, and will only print the number of papers for which they actually have orders.

It is urged by "The North American" that readers who have not been in the habit of placing a news order for delivery of paper daily and Sunday do so at once, in order to insure receiving the paper without interruption.

If there is any difficulty in securing the paper locally, "The North American" will welcome a letter explaining the reason.
