THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

—Robert Morris has taken the agency for the Scripps-Booth automobile, and expects a demonstrating car in the near future.

—Only a little over two weeks until the opening of the public schools, and less than a month until the opening of State College for the ensuing year.

—The Dainty Maids in the laughing comedy success, "Too Many Husbands," will be the opening attraction at Garman's next Friday evening, August 25th.

—600 pairs of shoes to be sold at a bargain. Ladies from $1.00 to $1.50. Men's $1.00 to $2.00; children and girl's, 50c. to $1.00. Black, tan and white, at David Miller's store. 32-1t

—The Centre county teachers' institute will this year be held in Bellefonte the week beginning November 13th. County superintendent David O. Etters is now at work on the program.

—A. C. Reed, a well known resident of Pittsburgh and an old State College man, and who is so well known to many Bellefonte friends, died of pleuro-pneumonia yesterday morning in a Pittsburgh hospital.

—Mrs. Katharine Dinges was operated on at the Bellefonte hospital Wednesday afternoon. She had an involved case of appendicitis and yesterday her condition was reported as being favorable, though she was very weak.

—The strike of the firemen at the various lime quarries near Bellefonte was amicably adjusted last week, the companies granting the increase demanded. The Whiteoak quarries also gave its employees an increase in pay.

—The adult bible class of the U. B. church will hold a lawn festival on the green near Gamble & Co's mill tomorrow evening. Our Boys band of Milesburg will be present and furnish some of their delightful music. The public is invited.

—The Pleasant View Sunday school will hold a festival on the green at the Pleasant View church to-morrow (Saturday) evening. The proceeds will be for the benefit of the church, and as the cause is a good one we bespeak for them a liberal patronage.

—Capt. Theodore Davis Boal is daily expecting his mounted machine gun troop to be sworn into the federal service and sent to the border. T. A. Shoemaker entertained a party of gentlemen at dinner, last Thursday evening in honor of Capt. Boal and his officers.

—Another son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson, of Valentine street, on Wednesday night, which makes their thirteenth child, nine boys and four girls, all living and enjoying the best of health. With his nine sons Harry will be able in a few years to organize and manage a base ball nine of his own, without any outside help or interference.

—Residents of Milesburg held their annual picnic at Hecla park on Wednesday and, as usual, it was largely attended. The Titan Metal company furnished the transportation for its sixty employees and gave them a day off to attend the gathering. Our Boys band was present to furnish music for the occasion and everybody had an enjoyable day of it.

—A broken rail out near Axe Mann threw a freight car off the track on the Lewisburg and Tyrone railroad on Monday morning and the result was the incoming passenger train was held at Lemont until the car was replaced and the track repaired which was after twelve o'clock. In fact it was just about one o'clock when the train finally reached Bellefonte.

—From ninety-six in the shade to forty degrees above zero is quite a change in temperature, but that is just what happened between last week and Monday morning of this week. In fact it was quite chilly all day on Sunday and Monday morning the thermometer dropped to forty above zero, just two degrees above the frost line. Tuesday morning was also rather cool, but not as chilly as Monday morning.

—The customary large crowd attended the old-fashioned barn raising on the A. C. Kepler farm near Pine Grove Mills on Wednesday. The building is 40x50 feet in size and is being erected to take the place of one destroyed by fire some time ago. Everything went along like clock-work though the rain just before dinner retarded the work about an hour. Those who were present enjoyed the elaborate dinner served by Mrs. Kepler, which probably had something to do with the way the men worked.

An Interesting Account of How the Members of Troop L are Putting in the Time. Big Storms in Texas But No Rain.

By Corp. Harry J. Cohen. Camp Thomas J. Stewart, El Paso, Texas, August 12.

Just as I am about to start this letter I notice in the distance that the dust has commenced to fly and I can hear the far off rumblings of something that sounds like thunder. The air has become somewhat cooler and if it should rain now it would indeed be a God-send.

The past week, as well as today appears, and no doubt is, hotter than it has been for several weeks past. We have lately had several attempts at rain but none of them have materialized. The wind storm is now upon us and it is almost impossible to write another word, owing to the high gale and the dust that fills the air, and is therefore blinding. It is just this that is the reason for all the complaints that are heard around the camp, and I will admit that it is very unpleasant, and spoils what would otherwise be a perfect condition.

Now that I have gotten some of Texas out of my eyes, I will proceed to relate the doings of the week. We are now advanced to such a degree that we are doing most of our drilling in squad and regimental formations under the eyes of Col. Wood, Major Fetzer and their assistants, and our drill periods have been changed to such times that now we are on the field at 7 a. m. and continue to hop around until 10 a. m. without much time to think things over. Also on Monday and Tuesday we had to cook our own dinner out in the field. Of course it was very relishing and appetizing, but I know the boys would rather have had chocolate cornstarch pudding in the mess tent as prepared by cook Whiteman than bacon fried in the sand by themselves. As this all comes under the heading of preparedness we take it as part of the training, and we sure are getting plenty of it.

Captain Huff is now on the job and a good part of his time is taken up in learning what to do in case some fellow gets a compound fracture of the left arm, or a bullet wound on the right side of his head, or such other trifling matters.

What with learning the thousand or so different commands on the field, the name of every part of his rifle, pistol, saber, bridle, saddle and horse, and the names of every officer in the regiment, it is any wonder that when Howard Casper was asked "where is the heel of a rifle?" he answered that "it was under the fetlock or pastern joint." Whew! we get back we all expect to hire out as Encyclopedia Britannicas, and we believe the position will be well filled.

On Wednesday evening the artillery band serenaded Troop H, of our regiment, which hails from Pittsburgh, which is also the home of the band. They gave quite an elaborate program and scored the biggest hits when they played and sang the "Rattlesnake" and "Pay-day" songs, which deal with conditions down here. We all turned out and helped Troop welcome the visitors with our applause.

That reminds me, we were to have been paid according to schedule last Saturday, and here it is Saturday again and still no money. All the conversation now appears along these lines, and every once in a while the remark, "if I only had the price" can be heard above a whisper. (According to press dispatches the boys got their pay yesterday.—Ed)

The boys are arranging a ball team and are getting into shape fast. Challenges for games will soon be in order with any team in the division, and a successful season is looked for. Regarding Sherman Lowry, of Coleville, charged with neglect of government property, his attorney put in a plea of temporary insanity. A commission composed of Charles Tierney, Lingle Gummo and Corp. Wilbur Decker was appointed by the court, and they upheld the prisoner, stating that according to the evidence at hand Sherman was truly "Bugs." He was then turned over to the sheriff, who is his custodian, and who sees to it that he takes a bath every day for a week.

Otherwise all is serene along the Rio Grande. The boys are all enjoying good health and the exercise, though they enjoy the good health the most. Corporal George Wise has a little tonsil trouble, but it's nothing to worry about, and Jimmie Davis still continues to go to town. We wonder why and how he can do it so much. The wind is down, the sun again as bright as ever, and still no rain. The best wishes of the entire Troop is extended through your correspondent to the folks at home.

(P. S.—The Troop is now being supplied with horses, twenty having been distributed on Tuesday and twenty more to be given today, and so on until the entire Troop is supplied, and learning to ride right will keep the members pretty well occupied from now on.—Ed.)

—A stranger in Bellefonte last Saturday evening was amazed at the big crowds on the streets, and couldn't understand where they all came from or why. Had he gone to the scenic motion picture theatre he would have found the big attraction for many of them. In fact it was crowded all evening and that was little more than the normal attendance. Of course it is the high-class, up-to-date pictures that always draws the crowd.

—On Sunday Milton R. Johnson took a party of ten Bellefonte gentlemen over to the Seven mountains to visit Walter Gherrity. As evidence that they found that gentleman enjoying the best of health as well as their visit he treated them to a spring chicken dinner which included mashed potatoes, fresh peas, roasting ears, tomatoes, apple sauce and custard pie. All of which goes to show that notwithstanding the fact that Walter lives deep in the mountains his culinary department is always well stocked.

—The advance car for the Cook and Wilson trained wild animal show arrived in Bellefonte last Friday morning to bill the town and country for an appearance here on Tuesday, August 22nd, but before they had gotten a half a dozen bills up they were notified on orders from Harrisburg that they would not be allowed to show on account of the infantile paralysis scare. The show is billed for Lock Haven, but the manager of the bill car said that when they arrived there on August 21st, they might not be allowed to show.

—The first game in the third bridge tournament between the women of Lock Haven and Bellefonte was played at the Lock Haven Country club, Saturday afternoon. Mrs. John P. Lyon, Mrs. David Dale, Mrs. George R. Meek, Mrs. Robert Beach, Mrs. J. M. Curtin, Mrs. John Curtin, Mrs. John VanPelt and Miss Mary Blanchard represented Bellefonte, with the success that Miss Blanchard and Mrs. VanPelt were the prize winners. For the second of the series, the Bellefonte women will be hostesses at the Country club at Hecla, Friday, August 25th.

—At a luncheon given at the Clinton County club last Thursday Mr. and Mrs. William Hill Miller, of Lock Haven, announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Hazel Marie Miller, to John Thomas Bunting, of Pittsburgh. The bride is one of the most popular of the younger set in Lock Haven while the prospective bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Buddinger, of Snow Shoe. He graduated in highway engineering at The Pennsylvania State College class of 1913, and now holds a good position with the State Highway Department. No date for the wedding has been named.

—Between seven and eight hundred people attended the annual reunion of the Lutherans of Centre and Clinton counties at Hecla park last Thursday, and the weather being fine, it was one of the most delightful outings held at the park this season. One of the enjoyable features was the music by the Boys' band of Loysville orphans' home in Perry county. This band consists of thirty-two boys ranging in age from nine to fourteen years, and was on a trip through this section of the State in two big auto busses. A collection was taken up and seventy dollars contributed for their expenses. The same night the band gave a concert at Centre Hall.

—In another column of this issue we have taken the liberty of publishing a trade letter which this office has received from the D. L. Ward company, manufacturers and distributors of paper, with offices at 28 South Sixth St., Philadelphia. It states so clearly the causes that are responsible for the present abnormal price of all grades of paper that we are sure "Watchman" readers will be interested. You will recall that early in the spring we predicted that the then rapidly advancing cost of paper would make itself felt to everyone; not only to publishers but to merchants using wrapping papers and to the individual consumer of stationery. You, the consumer are already beginning to pay the price in curtailed editions of your metropolitan papers, in the proportion of increase that the advanced price of wrapping paper and boxes bears to the increased price you pay for the commodities you buy and in the stationery you write your letters on. Just why this should be the Ward company letter makes very plain and we want you to read it because some of the conditions confronting the manufacturers of paper, especially that of the cost of labor, confronts the manufacturers of nearly every other commodity today and for that reason things cannot be produced as cheaply as they were several years ago and your own advancing wages and advancing prices should satisfactorily explain to you why you have to pay more for what the other fellow produces.

To Rebuild Gas Plant.

A meeting of the board of directors of the Bellefonte Gas and Steam Heating company was held in Lock Haven on Wednesday, the object of the meeting there being to make a thorough inspection of the Lock Haven plant. That plant was entirely rebuilt along modern lines and during the two months it has been in operation has given the best of satisfaction. In fact the Lock Haven plant is now regarded as one of the most complete of any outside the big cities.

After a thorough inspection of the plant the directors of the Bellefonte Gas and Steam Heating company decided to rebuild the local plant along the same lines. Work will be started just as soon as the necessary material and machinery can be secured and it is expected to have the new plant completed by the first of December. The remodeling of the plant will enable the company to increase their output of gas and also economize in the cost thereof, which may result in a slight decrease in price to the consumers.

The company also has in view a number of other improvements at their plant on Lamb street, among them being the installation of two additional large boilers for steam heating purposes, the boilers having been purchased in Lock Haven on Wednesday.

Social Doings of the Week.
