Notice to Patrons.
 Bellefonte, Pa., Sept. 6th, 1916.
 At a meeting of the Barbers' Association held on Wednesday, Sept. 6th, and after thoroughly discussing the constant rise of prices on the higher necessities of life—and the higher prices on the articles essential in our profession, we are absolutely compelled to raise the price of our work in proportion to the rise of commodities in general. For this reason, on and after September 11th, 1916, the prices for hair cutting will be 25 cents and shaving 15 cents.
 Thanking our many patrons for past favors, we hope to have your kind consideration and patronage as usual.
 Respectfully,
BARBERS' ASSOCIATION.

Ex-Governor Samuel Pennypacker Dies at His Country Residence.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 7.—Samuel W. Pennypacker, former Governor of Pennsylvania, died late yesterday afternoon at his home in Schwenksville. He had been ill for almost a year of uremia. All hope for his recovery was lost when he suffered a sudden sinking spell last Sunday. Since that time his condition had gradually become worse, until death ensued.
 On June 19 the ex-Governor returned from the Pennsylvania hospital, where he had been under the care of specialists for some time. At that time it was thought his death was but a matter of days.
 Besides his widow, he is survived by one son, Devan Aubrey Pennypacker, a member of the Philadelphia bar, and three daughters, the Misses Josephine, Eliza B., and Anna Pennypacker, all at home.
 The body of ex-Governor Pennypacker was taken to Philadelphia Monday and the funeral services were held Tuesday morning in Old Christ church. Bishop Darlington, of Harrisburg, conducted the services and was assisted by Rev. L. C. Washburn, rector of Old Christ church and Rev. Dr. Stockett, rector of the late Governor's own church, St. James-on-the-Perkiomen.
 No services were held at the home in Schwenksville and following the services here, the body was taken to the Pennypacker family lot in the Phoenixville cemetery, where it was interred privately. The list of honorary pall bearers included former Governors William A. Stone, Edwin S. Stuart and John K. Tener, Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh and the many representatives of societies and other organizations with which the former Governor was connected.

The picnic season at Hecla park will end today (Friday) when the colored residents of Williamsport will hold their annual outing there.
