THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

—A fifty per cent. raise in shoes and twenty-five per cent. in hair cuts at one whack has got the Meat trust skinned a mile.

—Thomas H. Harter, of the "Gazette," last week ordered a new 1917 model eight cylinder Cadillac car, which he expects next week.

—Miss Florence Lamb entertained a party of young ladies last evening at which Miss Helen Bair, of Philadelphia, was the honor guest.

—If you are looking for a second hand Ford or Franklin car there are two good ones offered cheap by advertisements in this issue. If interested look up the ads on page 5.

—Charles Morris contemplates closing his home on East Linn street about the first of October and with Mrs. Morris and their daughter Elizabeth will take rooms at the Bush house.

—Mrs. W. F. Reynolds and her sisters, the Misses Nan and Mary Hoy gave a picnic party at Fishing creek, Tuesday evening, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Hoy, of New York, who are their guests.

—Rhoades & Knisely have purchased a new one ton International truck for use in their extensive construction work. The truck was delivered the latter part of last week by George A. Beezer, the Bellefonte agent.

—The barber's union of Bellefonte is again at work, and beginning next Monday the price of a shave will be 15 cents and 25 cents for a hair cut, with all the extra fixin's at proportionate rates. In fact from now on the city barbers will have nothing on the Bellefonte tonsorial artists.

—At the opening of the court in Clearfield on Tuesday morning D. O. Downing entered a plea of guilty to the charge of attempting to rob the Curwensville National bank. His attorneys made an extenuating plea to the court for a light sentence. Up to yesterday the case had not been disposed of.

—D. C. Martz, of Shingletown, was in Bellefonte Tuesday making arrangements for the big farm sale he will have on Thursday, October 5th. He has several good young mares, a fine lot of cattle and shoats to sell so that if you are looking for some stock his sale might prove the place where you can get what you want.

—During Tuesday's hard storm the barn on the farm of Thomas Confer, near Beech Creek, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The lightning also struck a wire fence on the farm of Wilson Herr, near Salona, killing five head of cattle. The barn of the Ricker brothers, in Nittany valley, was also struck but did not catch fire.

—Next Tuesday afternoon Governor Brumbaugh and party will pass through Bellefonte on their first agricultural tour of the State. Announcement from Harrisburg states that there will be upwards of one hundred people in the party. They will take luncheon at the Granger's picnic at Centre Hall, where the Governor will make a speech.

—According to an established custom, all fruits and vegetables used in such great profusion for the decorations of the annual Harvest Home celebration, at the Reformed church last Sunday, were taken directly to the hospital. It is a donation that is greatly appreciated and should the individuals who are so blest with the year's abundant crops, add to this contribution from time to time, as a Harvest Home offering, this celebration would be the most worthy of Centre county's charities.

—John Bayletts is in the Bellefonte hospital with his left leg broken and lacerations of his right leg and head as the result of an automobile accident last Friday evening. Bayletts was working on the farm for Harry Smith between Zion and Hecla park and about dusk was riding down the state highway on his bicycle. He had gone but a short distance when he saw an automobile approaching. The driver of the machine had his right of way and Bayletts was on the wrong side. Both the driver of the machine and Bayletts finally became confused and turned at the same time with the result that there was a collision. The young man, who is seventeen years old, was knocked from his wheel and sustained the injuries mentioned above. Just at the time one of Alex Morris' delivery trucks happened along and Bayletts was placed in it and brought to the hospital. The driver of the automobile was H. C. Robinson, of Milesburg, and from all accounts, he is not to blame for the accident.

Troop L Now Drilling on Mounts

With Their Horses to Look After the Men Are Kept Busy. Other News of Interest.

By Corp. Harry J. Cohen. Camp Thomas J. Stewart, El Paso, Texas, Sept. 2nd.

This week's letter will be much shorter than usual, owing to the fact that very little of interest has transpired during the week. The daily drills are now on in full force and as we now have a horse for every man in the Troop every man's time is pretty well taken up in drilling or keeping the horses in shape. No more passes are issued to the men to spend the afternoon in the city as heretofore, but permission is given to the extent of fifteen per cent. of the enlisted men each evening after retreat. This ruling is imperative on account of the attention each man is required to give his mount, and as there generally are a few of the boys detailed for either guard duty or special duties, there are always more horses to look after than there are men at leisure to do it.

The drills are getting to be real interesting as well as exciting, although we, as yet, have been fortunate enough to escape any injury, and as each day rolls past we are naturally becoming better horsemen, so we do not anticipate any trouble now.

Among the different commands heard on the field in the equitation exercises is one called "Take the track to the right," or left as the case may be, and Corp. Wilbur Decker expressed the sentiments of many when he said it sounded as if we were a bunch of train robbers and were about to pull off a "stunt."

The nights are getting real cold now and it is not an unusual sight to see the boys decked under their new sweaters, which were issued to us the past week. They make a poor substitute for pajamas or a night shirt, but out here everything goes, except rumors.

The evenings are generally spent by the boys at the Y. M. C. A., in letter writing or playing checkers, and last Wednesday night there were eight different boxing bouts pulled off according to schedule. The fights were the kind that come under the head of "clean sports," and they were enjoyed by all who were lucky enough to witness them.

Joe Hall and William Musser just came in from killing a rattle-snake, which they dispatched while out with their horses near the adobe hut. Joe has the skin and intends having a belt made of it, while Bill is busy jingling the nine rattles and a button.

A bulletin posted on the board at the association but last night stated that the eighteenth infantry would leave on September 15th for East Pittsburgh. We do not know whether to take this news seriously, or whether it is intended as a joke, but we do know that the said infantry regiment is surely celebrating the good news more than a little bit.

John Morrison, who is listed as our veterinary surgeon, intends leaving for good old Bellefonte in a day or two, or as soon as his transportation can be received. John's enlistment expired while the Troop was at Mt. Gretna but he decided to stay with the boys until he thought he had enough, and that's now. By the way, mentioning the name of Bellefonte seems to be a thing of the past, and Luther Crissman wants to know if Bellefonte is a foreign country.

Announcement has been made by the regimental staff that three prizes will be awarded within the regiment. One to the Troop that excels in the sanitary condition of its streets; one for the best disciplined Troop in the regiment, and one to the Troop whose personnel makes the best appearance. The prizes will be awarded for the month of September. The captain has left the matter up to us and we are going to try and bring at least one of them back for display at the armory.

The weather in the day time continues moderately warm with now and then a cooling breeze, but it is far pleasanter than when we first came here. The boys are all in real good health and always ready for the mess call. Regards from all as usual.

All suffrage enthusiasts of Centre county who contemplate attending the Grangers' picnic at Centre Hall next week, are most cordially invited to spend a part of their time at the suffrage booth, which will be in charge of Mrs. Robert M. Beach and Miss Florence Rhone. Much worth while literature will be there for distribution, and some of the attractive new state souvenirs will be offered for sale.

Only three members of borough council made their appearance at the public building on Monday evening, the time for the regular session of council, and as this number did not constitute a quorum there was no meeting.

—William Burnside entertained a party of friends at his retreat on top of Purdue mountain, over Sunday night.

—The Chevrolet automobile agency of State College will have a good display of 1917 cars at the Granger's picnic at Centre Hall next week and anyone interested in this up-to-date, low price car should look them up.

—Bass fishermen down Bald Eagle are making some nice catches, according to reports received from that section. Some fishermen report baskets of from a half dozen to ten, all of which exceed twelve inches in length. The best fishing is found from Howard down.

—Centre county had its first frost of the season on Sunday morning. In Bellefonte it showed quite white in places, while at Show Shoe it was almost heavy enough to track a rabbit. Fortunately it did no damage, owing to the extremely dry condition of the earth.

—All the coal dealers of Bellefonte put up the price of coal on Friday. The increase on hard coal was seventy cents a ton, and fifty cents a ton on bituminous. The excuse given for the raise was the increase given the miners in an amicable adjustment of wages last April.

—Joseph H. Mosser announces through the "Watchman," that he has made his final delivery of goods in Bellefonte and wishes in this way to thank the people for their courtesy and support of his work. Mr. Mosser has been engaged during the summer in selling aluminum ware as a means of helping to pay his way through College.

—A seven pound daughter, who has been named Helen Louise, arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Overton Hannon, at Wadsworth, Ohio, on Wednesday of last week. Mr. Hannon is a former Centre county boy and a nephew of Miss Overton, of the Bellefonte Academy, while Mrs. Hannon is a distant relative of President Wilson. Mr. Hannon says from all appearances the young lady will be a staunch suffragist.

—Trooper Randolph F. Glenn, a son of Rev. and Mrs. George M. Glenn, of Tyrone, and who is now a member of Troop B, at El Paso, Texas, arrived in Tyrone on Wednesday of last week on a fifteen day's furlough. Prior to the calling out of the National Guard in June Trooper Glenn lived in Bellefonte with his wife and worked at the new penitentiary. He has enjoyed good health while in the South, but states that the work now of breaking in and training their new mounts is quite arduous.

The railroad strike has fortunately been averted, for which the public generally is thankful, but happily there is no danger of a strike at the Scenic. Manager T. Clayton Brown has his forces well marshaled and arrangements perfected to continue getting the best motion pictures obtainable. These will be shown at the Scenic every evening during the week except Sunday. Do you know of another place where you can get the same amount of amusement and entertainment for the money as you can get at this popular place of amusement? We venture you do not.

—Just at present Bellefonte is in the throes of an epidemic but it is not the kind that is inimical to the health of the general public. In fact it is an epidemic of chicken stealing and more than one resident of the town would be only too pleased to have Dr. Dixon turn his guns loose on the individuals responsible for the invasion. Some time ago Dr. Rogers purchased about twenty nice, plump chickens which he put in a pen on the rear of his lot. He also purchased a new lock which he put on the pen. One night recently the lock was broken and in the morning about two-thirds of his chickens were missing. On Tuesday night some one made an attempt to rob D. Wagner Geiss's chicken coop but whoever it was was frightened away before he secured any of the tempting fowls. A number of other Bellefonte residents have lost chickens in like manner and they all would enjoy seeing the thief put in durance vile.

—Elmer C. Straub, better known to his many friends as "Waxie," and who occupies the old Alexander farm above the Sunnyside lime kilns, is not exactly in quarantine but he is just at present very much isolated in certain ways. He had a good crop of wheat this year but with seeding time at hand has been compelled to buy his seed wheat, all because he cannot get a thresher to his barn to thresh out his crop. Two weeks or more ago the threshermen were on their way to Mr. Straub's farm but when they reached the bridge over the Buffalo Run they were warned that it was unsafe for a traction engine and thresher to cross and if they did so it would be at their own risk. Consequently they didn't cross. The bridge down at the fair grounds has also been condemned for heavy traffic, so that the threshermen can't go that way, and the result is Waxie is unable to get his wheat and oats threshed and his hay baled. Naturally he is somewhat wrath at somebody and is trying to find out who. Borough council has had the proposition for the repair of the Buffalo Run bridge up several times, but up to this writing nothing definite has been decided upon.

Defendants Get Court Decree.

In the case of Charles E. Decker vs. John N. Krumrine, A. H. Krumrine, W. H. Kerstetter, C. A. Kerstetter and Albert Kerstetter, an action brought at the September term of court, 1915, and tried at the May term of court, 1916, to set aside the judgment of the court confirming the sale of a piece of land in State College, Judge Quigley last week filed an opinion and decree on a rule taken out by the plaintiff to show cause why judgment of non-suit should not be stricken off in which he dismissed the rule and discharged the case.

The action had its inception in 1910 when Mr. Decker made an assignment to J. N. Krumrine for the benefit of his creditors. Later his store in State College and a piece of land he owned were sold at public sale and bought in by a third party who subsequently transferred the same to J. N. and A. H. Krumrine. These gentlemen improved the buildings on the land and also sold lots to W. H. C. A. and Albert Kerstetter. Decker then brought suit to have the titles set aside and restore him to the ownership of the property.

At the May term of court, when the case was heard, the plaintiff, in all the testimony submitted, failed to show any semblance of fraud in the transaction and at the request of the defendant's attorneys a compulsory non-suit was granted. The plaintiff then took out a rule to show cause why the non-suit should not be stricken off and the case allowed to again go to trial. It was upon this rule that the court's decree was handed down.

Hunters' Licenses Going Slow.

In the case of Charles E. Decker a very great demand for hunters' licenses, notwithstanding the fact that County Treasurer David Chambers has had a bountiful supply on hand ever since the first of August. To be exact up to noon on Tuesday just sixty-five licenses had been issued, but this is nothing to be alarmed about, as the big rush always comes in the two weeks prior to the opening of the hunting season.

And that suggests the thought as to the possibilities for hunting this fall. All reports are in effect that deer are very plentiful, but they afford sport only for that class of hunters who can afford it and have the time to go into the mountains for a week or two during the open season. So far both turkeys and pheasants are reported quite scarce. The unusual season of wet and cold weather during the hatching season in the spring is given as the reason for the scarcity of the birds, and the probability is that the gunner who gets a good bag this fall will have to do some hunting. Squirrel are also reported scarce, but the frisky rabbit seems quite numerous and may be the one kind of game that hunters will have a chance to fall back on.

Big Family Reunion.

The Schencks and the Pletchers, the Bechdels and the Holters, four of the old-time and leading families of the lower Bald Eagle valley, held a family reunion in the Schenck grove north of Howard, last Thursday, which was attended by fully five hundred people, most of whom were entwined in the bonds of blood relationship.

Albert Schenck presided at the ten o'clock meeting, the address of welcome was made by Prof. F. M. Pletcher and the response by Rev. R. F. Gass. A choir composed of members of the four families and the Howard band furnished the music.

In the afternoon addresses were made by Revs. C. W. Rishel, W. L. Dudley and W. R. Griffin, while Prof. B. F. Pletcher, of Lock Haven, read a historical sketch of the four families, which came to Centre county from Lancaster county in 1795, and established homes in the lower Bald Eagle valley. They were of the Mennonite faith and in 1811 built a church just east of Howard which stood as a place of worship until 1885. Descendants of the above families are now scattered far and wide, but wherever they are they have proven the very best of citizens.

A Distinctly Lutheran Reunion.

A most delightful reunion of old members of the Lutheran Sunday school class of the Rebersburg church was held at the home of Max Foutz, in Juniata, on Sunday. Mr. Foutz was assisted in entertaining his guests by Mrs. W. S. Burd, of Bellefonte. Included in the list of guests were C. L. Gramley, W. C. Haines and H. R. Royer, of Rebersburg, with their families; Mrs. Kate Burd, Mrs. George B. Haines, Mrs. T. E. Royer and Mrs. Orvis Walker, also of Rebersburg; Mrs. Walker, of Juniata; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Norris, of Philadelphia; Stanley Burd, of Johnstown; Samuel Condo and family and John Meyers and family, of Spring Mills.
