THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

George A. Bezer received another car load of Studebaker cars on Wednesday.

Baggage hauling a specialty. Give us a call. Geiss' Livery. Both phones. 61-27-1m Chester Barnes sold six Maxwell cars through his exhibition at the Granger's picnic at Centre Hall last week.

The ladies and young men's classes of the U. B. Sunday school are planning to serve a chicken and corn soup supper in the near future.

One of the prettiest flower gardens in Bellefonte for this time of year is that of Mrs. A. Hibler. It is simply one profusion of fall flowers, look whichever way one may.

Strawbridge and Clothier's salesman will be at the Bush house, Wednesday, October 4, with a full line of Winter Coats and Suits.

NEWMAN'S LADY SHOP.
Rev. M. D. Maynard, for a number of years past rector of Holy Trinity Protestant Episcopal church, Hollidaysburg, has accepted a call to become rector of St. John's Episcopal church, Bellefonte.

Up in Ferguson township some of the oil being put on the state road has been running into the Branch creek, and the drainage is being blamed for killing the fish, as many dead fish have been seen floating down the stream.

Lock Haven's Civic club is making elaborate preparations for the second annual conference of women's organizations of Clinton, Centre and Lycoming counties, which will be held in Lock Haven on Saturday, October 7th.

A report of the proceedings of Bellefonte borough council and other interesting and important news will be found on the 6th page of today's "WATCHMAN." In fact every page of the paper is replete with interesting articles.

The Bellefonte authorities have started a crusade against selling on Sunday and on Monday the first arrest was made. It cost the proprietor $11.85. Other arrests are likely to occur if Sunday selling is persisted in.

Last Thursday's and Friday's rain was a godsend to the farmers who were backward in their seeding, and also those who were fortunate enough to get their grain in the ground before the rain. In fact, it was needed generally throughout the State.

The Centre County Temperance League and W. C. T. U. will hold an important meeting in Petrikin hall, Bellefonte, Saturday, September 23rd, at 2 p. m. All persons interested in the cause of temperance are urged to be present.

Centre county will have no fair this year but in another column you will find an advertisement of the big Milton fair to be held next week, September 26th to 29th inclusive. The Milton fairs are always good and this year's gives promise of being one of the best.

There will be a county conference of women's clubs held at Howard on Sept. 30th. Everyone interested in the work of women will be welcome, and the Civic club of Howard will act as hostesses at that time. Visitors are requested to bring a box luncheon and the morning session will commence at 10 o'clock in the school house.

The beautiful gold-lined loving cup offered by Mr. P. P. Griffin, of Lock Haven, to which ever of the Lock Haven or Bellefonte High school football teams wins the best out of three games during the ensuing three years is now on exhibition in the show window of Montgomery & Co's store, where it is being viewed with covetous eyes by many of the aspirants for football honors on the local High school team. The first game in the three year's contest will be played on November 30th, Thanksgiving day.

Don't be a stay-at-home. Go to the Scenic and enjoy yourself every evening. A full two hours' entertainment cheaper than you can get it anywhere else in Bellefonte. The motion pictures shown at the Scenic cannot be seen anywhere else in the town or community. In fact Manager T. Clayton Brown makes it his business to see that they are in a class by themselves, and that is always high class. Good order is maintained at all times and the room is kept in the best sanitary condition possible.

The Penn State football team will open the season tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon with a game with the Susquehanna University eleven. Game will be called at 2:30 o'clock. While the Penn State men have been in training for two weeks Coach Harlow has been considerably handicapped by the loss of several of the men from last year's eleven, so that there is no way of telling just what the prospects for the team are. Tomorrow's game, however, will afford lovers of the sport an opportunity to get a line-up on the players and the probabilities of a winning team.

A Newsy Letter From the Soldier Boys.

Drilling, Inspection and Other Duties Keep the Boys Busy. College Boys Dance With Southern Girls. Various Interesting Episodes.

By Corp. Harry J. Cohen.
Camp Thomas J. Stewart, El Paso, Texas, Sept., 16th.

We have just gotten through with a day that may have counted for much from a military standpoint, still to us it was more like getting ready than actual work performed. We were inspected this morning for the first time as a mounted regiment by Colonel Morgan of the United States army, and were on the field for the occasion promptly at 7:00 a. m. It was a little past twelve noon when our morning work was over, which consisted of platoon and squad drill, and troop drill dismantled and in extended order. Immediately after: mess all hands got busy laying out their equipment, both government and personal property, according to a blue print furnished for the occasion. Although we were ready for the captain, a member of the regular army, to make his rounds of our troop at exactly two o'clock, it was after five p. m. before he performed his duty, which took him about five minutes. It was a very tiresome afternoon, but there was consolation in the fact that tomorrow being Sunday we will be exempt from the regular Sunday morning inspection, giving us the entire day for ourselves.

During the past week all the targets have been erected on the rifle range and we are now expecting that any day will find us on the range showing some of the city members what a bunch of country hoosiers can do when it comes to handling a rifle in the way it was intended to be. Lloyd Shawley, for one, is among those who are aching to show that he has the stuff that is necessary to win real honors. Since Monday we have been under personal instruction of Sergeant Vrooman, who will be remembered as our instructor while we were still in Bellefonte and who is on detail as assistant to the officer of the troops of the third squadron, which consists of the troops from Bellefonte, Lock Haven, Lewisburg and Sunbury. Our location for drill purposes has been changed so that it takes about fifteen minutes to ride from camp to the site. It is located close to where the troops from South Carolina hold forth.

While out on the field last Wednesday we were surprised to see six of our horses which were under the veterinary's care, dash past us at breakneck speed. They had been taken out for exercise by the stable crew and were frightened by several rattlesnakes, hence their dash for liberty. Sergeant Shreffler at once put the spurs to his steed and after an exciting chase of two miles rounded up the leader, but not before he accidentally crashed into a soldier of company H of the 18th infantry, who happened to dart into the road just as Shreffler bounded past. The poor lad was hurt to such an extent that he was sent to the base hospital, but is coming along first rate now. The sergeant stood a good chance of undergoing a court martial, but through the good graces of Capt. Curtin they finally convinced the commander of Company H, that it was an unlucky accident, so the matter was dropped.

Quite a little excitement was created the other evening when a fire broke out in one of the tents of Troop G, of Philadelphia. The loss was trivial, but the occupants had no happy home until the following morning. But that was little inconvenience, for there is so little difference between the inside of a tent and outside, so far as the temperature is concerned, and a sweater is almost necessary for comfortable sleeping every night.

John Sanford, while attending to the watering, had a horse rear up as he was nearing the trough. The friction caused by the sudden jerk of the halter shank through his hand caused that member to swell to almost twice its size, so that he was obliged to go to the base hospital to have the bone scraped. Evidently John is satisfied, as Billy Musser received word that he is on a diet of ham and eggs and is wearing, honest to goodness, pajamas!

First Lieutenant Taylor the other evening happened to leave his horse stand without being tied, which is a terrible crime, and naturally Old Dobbin started to walk away. Pete Delal, when he recovered the animal, said: "Lieutenant, you ought to take an hour on the wood pile." But nothing doing so far, as wood was only made for second-class privates to handle.

The writer last week took a short trip to the village of Ysleta, located about two miles down the Rio Grande river, through a country that is criss-crossed with a large number of irrigation canals and covered with huge watermelon farms, and an abundance of cantaloupe and cotton fields. It is supposed to be the only real Mexican village on this side of the boundary line, and as quaint a place as I have ever seen. The second oldest church in the United States is located there. It is over three hundred years old and a true Roman Catholic. It is kept open all the time for the benefit of visitors.

The cavalry college boys of Pennsylvania held an informal dance last night at the Paso del Norte hotel, the most magnificent hostelry in the southwest, and those of Troop L who shone resplendent were Sergeant Deering and Corporals Davis and Yeager, but Jimmy's star was a little brighter. The girls were furnished by a woman's organization of the city, members of which acted as chaperones.

The 8th infantry band of Carlisle serenaded Troop C, of Harrisburg, last Thursday evening and of course the balance of the regiment was on hand to share in the applause.

William Rote, after being beaten three games at checkers, signed up to enter the checker tournament that is to be held at the Y. M. C. A. next week. Some nerve!

This being about all for this time will close with the best regards of the boys, and assuring you that the health of the troop couldn't be improved; in fact if it was any better we would have to consult a physician.

Dr. Dale is Home.

Dr. David Dale, who left Bellefonte on July 5th to begin service as a surgeon with the rank of Lieutenant in the Medical Reserve Corps of the United States army, unexpectedly arrived home last Friday evening. While in the service he was located at Laredo, Texas, and attached to the coast artillery which had been organized into a provisional infantry regiment. His regiment having been ordered to Newport, R. I., the Lieut., accompanied it to that point where he reported, turned over his properties and was under general orders to report back to Ft. Sam Houston, in Texas, for a new assignment. He immediately left for Washington, where the War Department advised him that he might return to his home here while awaiting further orders.

He looks well, speaks highly of the conditions under which he served and has had a lot of interesting experiences. He was six hundred miles distant from the location of Troop L, so knew scarcely as much of their doings as we have learned through Corp. Cohen's entertaining letters in the "Watchman."

Strawbridge and Clothier's salesman will be at the Bush house, Wednesday, October 4, with a full line of Winter Coats and Suits.

NEWMAN'S LADY SHOP.

While at the Granger's picnic last week Frank T. Hunsinger, of Buffalo Run, was kicked in the side by a horse, sustaining two fractured ribs. He was taken home by County Commissioner D. A. Grove in his car and is now getting along in good shape.

Bass and salmon fishing down Bald Eagle creek have improved one hundred per cent during the past week, owing to last Thursday night's hard rain which raised the water in the stream. Fishermen are now making some good catches so that the sport is something worth while.

The Pennsylvania State College opened yesterday with a record breaking enrollment in all departments, as indicated by the Freshman class. A. E. Espenshade, the Registrar, announced yesterday that 770 applicants have been admitted to the new class. This is an increase of more than one hundred over any previous year. The attendance of young women has been enlarged by more than eighty this year in the Freshman group. Because of lack of accommodations only those who can qualify fully are being admitted. Quite a number of changes and additions have been made to the faculty this year, so that the school year starts out under very favorable auspices.

On Thursday evening of last week considerable excitement was caused at the Diamond when County Treasurer David Chambers' automobile took fire as he started the car to go home. Mr. Chambers and his daughter, Miss Verna, were on the front seat and three other young ladies on the rear seat. Mr. Chambers pushed the starter but before he could throw the car into gear a sheet of flame shot up from the motor. All the occupants got out of the car as quickly as possible and with a fire extinguisher from Mr. Haverley's store the flames were finally extinguished without doing any damage to the car except scorching the paint. Dirt in the carburetor caused an overflow of gasoline which was ignited by the spark, causing the fire.

A very pleasant caller at the "Watchman" office on Tuesday was Mrs. H. B. Mallory, of Altoona, who came to Bellefonte last Saturday to spend ten days with her father, Mr. Joel Johnson. The latter by the way is almost eighty-six years old and a remarkable man for his years. Mr. Mallory will come from Altoona tomorrow and remain over Sunday, accompanying his wife home on Monday.

W. Fisk Conrad, who for years conducted the Conrad opera house at Tyrone, and Superintendent Beamer, of the P. R. R. shops, Tyrone, motored to Bellefonte on Tuesday by way of Spruce Creek valley and State College. Though Mr. Conrad has been a resident of Tyrone for many years this was his first visit to State College and it is not to be wondered at that he was both surprised and amazed to see such an institution of learning right here in Centre county.

Democratic national committee man for Pennsylvania, A. Mitchell Palmer and wife, of Stroudsburg, were Bellefonte visitors last Friday night, having motored here from Harrisburg where Mr. Palmer attended the meeting of the Democratic State committee on Thursday. This was Mr. Palmer's first trip to Bellefonte in two years, when he was a candidate for election to the United States Senate. He and Mrs. Palmer came here unheralded and registered at the Bush house but the fact of their presence soon became known and when they both walked up High street in order to afford Mr. Palmer an opportunity to buy a pair of shoe strings the distinguished politician was soon recognized. He bought the shoe strings at the store of Joe Carpeneto then walked over to view the soldiers' monument and shades of Caesar and Banquo's ghost! Admiring partisans gathered from 'round and about and for almost an hour Mr. Palmer held an impromptu reception right in the moonlight shadow of the statue of Pennsylvania's old War Governor, the late Andrew G. Curtin.

Three Auto Accidents.

Mrs. R. S. Brouse, with her Studebaker car figured in an automobile accident at Hubersburg on Monday afternoon which fortunately resulted in nothing more serious than damaging the car. She had taken a party of ladies on a drive down the Nittany valley state road and on the return trip, just as she came to Hubersburg saw a Ford car approaching from the opposite direction. Mrs. Brouse was on her side of the road and the driver of the other car was unfortunately on the same side, which was the wrong side for him. When nearing Mrs. Brouse the man pulled over to his side of the road, but he seemed somewhat bewildered and when the cars were almost together he pulled to the left, directly in front of the Brouse car. To save a head-on collision Mrs. Brouse pulled sharply to the right and collided with the big tree that stands in front of the Hubler hotel. The right front fender of her car was torn off and the windshield broken, which was the biggest damage done. One of the ladies in the tonneau of the car was thrown against the top, receiving a blow on the head and a bump on the shoulder, but nothing serious. None of the other occupants were injured in the least. Two of the occupants of the Ford car were Rev. Cairns and Mr. Zeigler, of Madisonburg, but which one was driving is not known.

On Tuesday afternoon of this week Harvey Shaffer was driving up High street and just as he reached Spring street C. H. Gheen, the music dealer, came down Spring street from Howard, in a Ford car with an organ as a load. Mr. Shaffer's car struck the Ford on the front and threw it right around in a circle so that when it stopped it was headed direct for the tree at the corner of the Centre county bank. One of the front wheels on the Ford was bent, the steering gear bent and the fender jammed, but some men who appeared upon the scene helped straighter things out a little and the machine was driven with its own power up to Wion's garage for repairs. The bumper on Shaffer's car was bent and the fender stove up, but it was not damaged otherwise.

On Wednesday morning as Nathaniel Krape was driving past Moore's structural iron works at Pleasant View in a Ford car Raymond Meiss, seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meiss, who live nearby, ran out in the road directly in front of the car. The result was he was knocked down and had his left leg broken between the knee and the hip, his left arm badly lacerated and was brought to the Bellefonte hospital where he is now receiving proper attention.

A panorama picture of the Pennsylvania division at Camp Stewart, Texas, has been on exhibition this week in the window of The Index. It was sent to James Decker, at State College, by his son, Sergt. W. Homer Decker.

Nevin Cole has resigned his position as assistant clerk to the County Commissioners and on October 2nd will enter the First National bank as a clerk.

Strawbridge and Clothier's salesman will be at the Bush house, Wednesday, October 4, with a full line of Winter Coats and Suits.
