Lukenbach and Mrs. M. B. Garman. The affair was a delightful one throughout and Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins were warmly congratulated on their silver anniversary.

Survivors of the 45th Held Annual Reunion.

Over Fifty Old Soldiers of the Civil War Attended the Gathering Here on Wednesday.

The gallant survivors of the Forty-fifth regiment held their annual reunion in this place on Wednesday, and to the average reader this will probably mean just another gathering of old soldiers. But it was more than that. It demonstrated to the public at large the patriotism displayed by these men half a century ago when they shouldered arms and went forth to fight for the preservation of the Union, and it was the same patriotism that induced so many of them to attend their annual reunion.

To the average mind the Forty-fifth regiment simply means a unit of soldiers who fought during the Civil war, but it was a unit that helped make history. During the great struggle the regiment participated in the following important battles: South Mountain, Antietam, Fredericksburg, the siege of Knoxville and the capture of Vicksburg, James Island, Jackson, Blue Springs, Campbell Station, Cold Harbor, Reams Station, the Battle of the Wilderness, Spotsylvania, North Anna, the Weldon Railroad and Petersburg. Of the original regiment of one thousand men who went to the front 825 of them never returned, they were either killed in battle, died of wounds or disease. Of the 242 Pennsylvania regiments which served during the war the Forty-fifth ranked eighteenth in the number of battles in which it fought, loss of life, daring, etc. Its various recruits to keep the ranks filled totalled close to nineteen hundred men. Gen. James A. Beaver was personally responsible for raising the regiment and he was its first Lieutenant Colonel. It was afterwards commanded by Col. Theodore Gregg and Col. John I. Curtin, who later was brevetted a brigadier general, and both of whom were Centre countians. So it is no wonder that a member of the Forty-fifth is rather proud of having belonged to that organization.

To be exact just forty-nine of the members registered at the reunion on Wednesday, while there were a few here from other commands which brought the total attendance up to about sixty. The business meeting in the morning was held in the hall of Gregg Post No. 95. G. A. R. The president of the association, James A. Meyers, of Columbia, presided and the divine blessing was invoked on the gathering by Rev. W. E. McKinney, Burgess Edmund Blanchard made the address of welcome which was responded to by the president.

All the old officers were re-elected as follows: President, James A. Meyers, of Columbia; vice president, William H. Fry, of Pine Grove Mills; secretary, Theodore J. Davies, of Wellsboro; treasurer, W. A. Roberts, of Washington. The selection of the place of next meeting was left to the executive committee, with the chances in favor of either Columbia or Lancaster. Brief addresses were made by Judge R. J. Richards, of Ohio; J. H. Musser, of Harrisburg, and Thomas Ames, of the Thirty-sixth Massachusetts regiment, who was elected an honorary member.

At 1.30 o'clock the old soldiers posed in front of the soldiers monument and the statue of Governor Curtin and had their picture taken by Mallory, the photographer. They then embarked in twenty automobiles, very generously contributed by the people of Bellefonte and surrounding country and taken on a trip to State College and the western penitentiary. Capt. Robert F. Hunter and Harry C. Valentine were in charge of this part of the entertainment of the old soldiers and so well had they done their work that there were ample accommodations for all and not a hitch in the big parade.

At State College a brief meeting was held at which Burgess J. L. Holmes welcomed the visitors. Judge R. J. Richards made the response. The soldiers were then motored through the college grounds and all were simply amazed to find such a big institution of learning in Centre county. On the return trip they journeyed through the penitentiary grounds, following the serpentine driveway past the death house and other buildings, and the immensity of this state penal institution was also a revelation to the visitors. Returning to Bellefonte one of the old comrades, J. J. Rogers, of Wellsboro, stated that he enjoyed the trip very much, but that the drive past the penitentiary was the crookedest road he had ever traveled, and a bystander called his attention to the fact that it was always a crooked road to the penitentiary.

A big campfire was held in the court house in the evening. Captain C. T. Fryberger presided, Rev. G. W. Emehizer offered prayer and brief addresses were made by Judge Henry C. Quigley, Col. J. L. Spangler, ex-Judge Ellis L. Orvis, Judge R. J. Richards, Clement Dale Esq., Prof. John Hamilton and Col. H. S. Taylor.

A male quartette rendered two very appropriate selections and a big feature of the evening was a recitation by little Miss Viola Peters, of Pine Grove Mills, entitled "Be Thankful That You Live in the U. S. A."

The day's doings closed with a big banquet at the Brockerhoff house. At this gathering the old soldiers were honored with the presence of Mrs. M. A. B. Bosl, mother of Lieut. Theodore Davis Boal, of Boalsburg, who furnished a beautiful potted plant as a centre piece for the banquet table. At the conclusion of the repast Comrade James A. Meyers officiated as toastmaster and quite a number of the old soldiers responded to toasts. A guest at the banquet table was Chaplain T. W. Young, of the new penitentiary, who told of the memorable fight between the monitor and Merrimac at Newport News, in which he took part. Before adjourning a vote of thanks was tendered the citizens of Bellefonte for their kind treatment and a vote of thanks to comrade W. H. Fry for the very complete arrangements he made for the gathering. The list of old soldiers present is as follows:

- Band—Jesse Metz.

NEWMAN'S LADY SHOP. —The quarantine against children under sixteen years of age attending moving picture shows and other public gatherings will expire automatically today, unless a further pronouncement is issued by the State Board of Health.

The venerable David Rhinesmith, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Bessie, went down toward Jacksonville on Wednesday on the hunt of a good cow. In the neighborhood of Lyontown he had a bad fall and was rendered unconscious. Not knowing how badly he might be injured word was telephoned to Bellefonte and the ambulance was sent down and the aged gentleman brought to the Bellefonte hospital. He shortly after recovered consciousness and it fortunately proved that his injuries are not serious.

Prof. W. A. Krise, of Centre Hall, celebrated his seventy-eighth birthday anniversary on Tuesday in a very quiet manner, owing to the fact that he has not been in good health since last May. A few friends were invited in and joined the family circle at a big dinner. Miss Ruth Krise, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Krise, of Roxbury, has been helping to look after her grandfather's wants since he became ill, and her brother, George Krise, a sailor in the United States navy now home on a furlough, was present at Tuesday's celebration. Mr. Krise is well known throughout central Pennsylvania from having been a school teacher for thirty-eight years, thirteen years of which were spent in teaching in Cambria county.

The most important event of fall for Bellefonte, will be the lecture in the court house, Tuesday evening, October 17th, by Dr. Anna Shaw, for years National president of the Woman's Suffrage Organization. Dr. Shaw, who is perhaps the most widely known woman of America, resigned her national position within the past year, to go into field work, and during the fall campaign only one week of her time has been allotted to Pennsylvania, Bellefonte being so fortunate as to secure one night of this week. With Dr. Anna Shaw will be Mrs. J. I. Miller, of Pittsburg, chairman of the Equal Franchise Association of Allegheny county, who by carrying her county for Suffrage last fall, is now recognized as one of the strongest and ablest leaders of the organization. It is an opportunity rarely given a town this size; consequently, everyone should hear these two very noted women. No admission will be asked, though an offering will be taken during the evening.

NEWS PURELY PERSONAL.

—Mrs. Samuel W. Miller, of Sunbury, was a Bellefonte visitor last week.

—Mrs. Harry Irvin spent several days last week with friends at Linde Hall.

—Charles W. Triplett, Adams Express agent of Tyrone, was a Sunday visitor in Bellefonte.

—M. A. Landsy departed on Monday on a two weeks' business trip to Altoona and Philadelphia.

—Miss Elizabeth Lambert is spending this week with her sister, Mrs. William Dukeman, of Altoona, who is ill.

—Miss Eliza Egbert Morris left Bellefonte Monday, expecting to spend the greater part of the week in Philadelphia.

—Mrs. David J. Meyer, of Centre Hall, and Mrs. Charles Meyer, of Reedsville, were guests of Mrs. C. M. Bower from Friday until Monday.

—Mrs. Edward Latham and two children returned to their home in Harrisburg last Saturday after spending several days with friends in Bellefonte.

—Mrs. LeRoy Fox and two children, of Lock Haven, returned home Monday after visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haupt, in this place.

—Miss Mary Brockerhoff has been spending the week in Philadelphia, a guest of Mrs. S. Cameron Burnside, Miss Brockerhoff left Bellefonte Monday.

—After spending a week as guests of the Rosenhoover family, on Spring Creek, Mrs. John Beezer and daughter Anna left for their home in Punxsutawney on Monday.

—Walter Zelgler, of Williamsport, spent Sunday in Bellefonte with his sisters, Mrs. Keefer and Mrs. Smith, who have been guests at the home of Mr. S. A. McQuisition.

—Robert J. Bell, who spent the summer season at Atlantic City and other seaside resorts giving exhibitions in the latest dances, returned to Bellefonte on Tuesday morning.

—Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mallory and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Mallory, all of Altoona, spent Sunday in Bellefonte with Mr. and Mrs. George Mallory and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heverley.

—Miss Mary Rosenhoover left on Tuesday for Rochester, Minn., to take up professional nursing with the Mayo brothers, in that place. She was accompanied as far as Chicago by her brother Daniel.

—Ex-State Senator George M. Dimeling motored over from Clearfield last Thursday afternoon purely for the pleasure of the trip and to mingle for a few hours among his coterie of warm friends in this place.

—Dr. and Mrs. David Dale and their daughter, Anne, have spent a part of the past week with Mrs. Dale's relatives at Gettysburg, having motored there Saturday of last week and returned Wednesday afternoon.

—Robert McMullen, who last week resigned his position with the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, left on Sunday afternoon for Hankin, Pa., where he has accepted a position with the Duquesne Light and Power company, of which Arthur Robb, a former Bellefonte boy, is superintendent.

—Mrs. M. L. Valentine and Mrs. G. Murray Andrews went to New York Wednesday, where they will be at the Waldorf until the end of the week. Mrs. Valentine will then go over to Philadelphia, while Mrs. Andrews will remain to meet Mr. Andrews, who lands on Sunday from London, where he has been for the greater part of the summer.

—John R. Lemon, of Gatesburg, was one of the gallant Forty-fifth who was here for the annual reunion on Wednesday. Mr. Lemon is one of the representative citizens of Centre county and as staunch a Democrat as ever lived. He was a candidate for county commissioner in 1911 but unfortunately was beaten at the primaries. Had he been nominated and elected there is no questioning the fact that he would have made a good official.

—Samuel E. Weber, the well known implement salesman of Boalsburg, was a travel juror at court this week and found time on Monday to make a brief call at this office. Mr. Weber is a lifelong citizen of Harris township and one of the substantial men of Pennsylvania. He doesn't get to Bellefonte very often because his time is all taken up in looking after his business interests, but when he does come here his friends are always glad to see him.

—Joseph H. Reilly, of Philadelphia; Charles J. Reilly, of Williamsport; John E. Reilly and John Barnes, of Spangler, and Charles Schlicker, of Burns Run, were a quintette of gentlemen who spent most of Saturday in Bellefonte. They all figure more or less prominently in the coal mining industry of Cambria county and their visit to Bellefonte was one of business in connection with undeveloped coal properties in that section which are leased on royalty by the Brubaker Coal Co.

—Miss George Daggett, night superintendent of Fordham hospital, of New York city, is a guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Wells L. Daggett, of the Bush house. Miss Daggett came to Bellefonte, considering accepting the night superintendency of the Bellevue hospital, but has decided to return to Fordham. Mrs. Maynard Murch, of Cleveland, expects to join Miss Daggett here next week, and remain with her sister until her return to New York, about the 10th of October.

—Miss Gertrude Taylor went out to Pittsburgh last Saturday to see her mother, Mrs. Hugh Taylor Sr., who had a bad fall while alighting from a street car on Wednesday. Mrs. Taylor went to Pittsburgh over three weeks ago and has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Warren Elise. She was down town on Wednesday and in alighting from a car tripped and fell. At first it was thought she was quite seriously injured but word received from Pittsburgh early in the week was that she is improving.

—Among the old soldiers in Bellefonte on Wednesday for the annual reunion of the Forty-fifth regiment was Mr. John Emery, of Williamsport, a brother of William B. Emery, who thirty years ago lived in Bellefonte and had charge of the nail works store. In fact he was in charge there during Gen. Beaver's campaign for Governor in the fall of 1886 and at the time of James G. Blaine's visit to Bellefonte was one of the prime movers in the street riot near the railroad which resulted in the big window in the "Watchman" office being broken with stones. The fact was recalled to the writer by Mr. John Emery, who has frequently heard his brother speak of the incident.

—Miss Rachel Flick will visit for the week-end with her parents at their home near Fleming.

—Mrs. Annabelle Hayes, of Glorin, Miss., is a guest of Mrs. Hiram Hiller, at the home of Mrs. W. P. Wilson.

—Ralph Thomas, of Altoona, is spending his vacation with his sister, Miss Henrietta Thomas, at Milesburg.

—Richard Brouse and Irvin Gettler are among those from Bellefonte who attended the fair at Milton this week.

—Miss Mary Culberson, of Lewistown, is visiting with Mrs. A. Wilson Norris. Miss Culberson came to Bellefonte Wednesday.

—Mrs. J. Morris Furey left the fore-part of the week for a short visit with her daughter, Mrs. John Larimer, at Mt. Carmel.

—Mrs. Thos. R. Hayes, of Atlantic City, will come to Bellefonte Saturday for her annual visit with her sister, Mrs. James A. Beaver.

—Mrs. W. I. Fleming went to Harrisburg yesterday to spend a week with Mr. Fleming, and to select their apartments for the winter.

—Arthur C. Dale left on Wednesday morning for Philadelphia to enter the University of Pennsylvania law school for a two years' course.

—Col. and Mrs. W. F. Reynolds are in Philadelphia, having gone east early in the week with their son, Philip, who is entering Princeton.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brachbill had as guests for the week-end, Mr. and Mrs. William Brindle and Miss Katherine Gibbons, all of Reedsville.

—Mr. and Mrs. Claude Cook and their daughter, Miss Grace Cook, went to Atlantic City Monday, expecting to spend ten days there and in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Shoemaker visited with their sons, Phillip and Collins, at Mt. Gretna, Saturday, remaining with them until the troop left for the border.

—Freda and Katherine Edmundson are visiting with Mrs. Daughenbaugh at Rock View. Freda went up five weeks ago. Katherine joining her there Wednesday.

—Miss Grace D. Mitchell returned to Middlebury, Conn., yesterday to resume her work at the Westover School for girls, where she is an instructor in mathematics.

—Miss Mary VanDyke left Saturday to join her mother at Conneburg, expecting to go with her to Worthington, Va., where they will spend the early winter with Mr. VanDyke.

—Miss Janet Scott has entered the regular course of the Carnegie Library school, of Pittsburgh, of which Miss Bogle is in charge. Miss Scott left Bellefonte Monday, expecting to begin her work at once.

—Mrs. Archibald Allison will return to Bellefonte Monday from a ten day's stay in Philadelphia, having gone down with her daughter Katherine and Miss Boyce of Clearfield, who joined them here Thursday.

—Mrs. Clarence L. Peaselee, of Williamsport, who came to Bellefonte Thursday, for the funeral of her aunt, Mrs. G. Wesley Gray, spent the remainder of the week with her cousin, Mrs. F. H. Clemson, up Buffalo Run, returning home Sunday night.

—Mrs. John G. Love and her daughter, Miss Katherine Love, have been in Tyrone since Monday, visiting with Mr. Love's sisters. Mrs. Love and Miss Love were accompanied by John G. Love Jr., who went directly to Philadelphia, to enter the University of Pennsylvania.

—Dr. John Keichline, of Alexandria, and Dr. Brumbaugh, of Huntingdon, spent a day in Bellefonte the latter part of last week, stopping here on the return trip from Scranton. The drive being made to Scranton to attend the State Medical association in session there last week.

—Dr. Thomas C. VanTries will leave tomorrow for Altoona where he will spend Sunday with his son, Rev. William Potter VanTries and family, then go on a lecturing tour to Pittsburgh and West Virginia. He will be away a month, at least, and may not return to Bellefonte under two months.

—Mrs. Bellinger, of New York city, a college friend of Miss Margaret Cook, is Miss Cook's guest at her home on Linn street. Mrs. Bellinger's literary ability is well known, she being the writer of several of our recent popular books, and a number of short stories published in some of the leading magazines.

—Squire W. J. Carlin, of Rebersburg, was a Bellefonte visitor on Wednesday, having come up to probate a will. While in town he favored this office with a brief call, inasmuch as he intended returning home in time for dinner. Before the days of the automobile a half day trip from Rebersburg to Bellefonte was an utter impossibility, but it is easy to make now.

—Mrs. William H. Fry, of Pine Grove Mills, received a message yesterday morning that her sister, Mrs. R. H. Swartz, was dying in Chicago. Consequently she was brought to Bellefonte by her son Mac, not Mr. Fry here who was still here from the soldiers reunion, and he accompanied her as far as Altoona on her way to the Windy city, they both leaving on the 1.07 p. m. train.

—Harry Lynch, who has been driving Mrs. Hiller's car during their stay in Bellefonte, will leave Friday for Chester, where he will be married Tuesday to Miss Florence Groom. Mr. and Mrs. Lynch will come to Bellefonte immediately after the wedding to take the car back to Chester; Mrs. Hiller and her two daughters motoring as far as Lewistown from where they will return home by rail.

—Messrs. Martin, Newton and Walter Drebelbis, sons of the late Daniel Drebelbis, accompanied by their sister, Miss Maud Drebelbis, and their niece, Miss Mary Drebelbis, all of Ferguson township, were Bellefonte visitors on Monday, the men coming down to get their hunters' license in preparation for the opening of the hunting season on October 15th. The Drebelbis brothers are among the most successful hunters of that section of the county and it is one recreation they indulge in every year.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Nichols were in Bellefonte Tuesday night on their way home from Scranton to Syracuse, N. Y., having motored here from Bloomsburg on Tuesday. Mr. Nichols will be remembered as the gentleman who was in Bellefonte last spring and decorated the town for the Odd Fellows anniversary gathering, and who was also instrumental in having such a handsome program published. He and his wife were traveling in an Overland car and making the trip by easy stages so they could see all of the country possible.

—Mrs. Daniel Nolan, of Tyrone, spent last week in Bellefonte, a guest of Mr. Nolan's relatives.

—Mrs. Harry Haines and Miss Marie McMan were members of an auto party from Lock Haven who spent a few hours in Bellefonte yesterday.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Ferrish have had as a guest for a part of the week, their nephew, Joseph Parrish, a representative of the White Motor Car company, of Pittsburgh.

—Mrs. C. M. Bower left Wednesday, expecting to spend the remainder of the fall and early winter with relatives in Ohio and Illinois. Mrs. Bower's objective points will be Toledo and Rockford.

—J. Miles Kephart came to Bellefonte Tuesday, having planned to spend the winter in Centre county. Since leaving Pine Grove a year ago Mr. Kephart has lived much of the time in Florida and Canada.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Magee with their son Huyett, Mrs. Magee's mother and sister, Mrs. E. M. Huyett and Miss Miriam Huyett, drove from Centre Hall Saturday, spending the afternoon in Bellefonte. Mr. Magee came from Philadelphia last week to visit during his vacation, at Centre Hall with Mrs. Magee and their son, who have been with Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Huyett since the first of July.

Shoe Rubbed Heel, Blood Poison Developed. On Monday Rev. Irvin S. Hodgson, pastor of the Methodist church at Snow Shoe, with his wife and daughter, came to Bellefonte on business and a shopping expedition. Rev. Hodgson wore a new pair of shoes one of which not only rubbed a blister on his heel but also rubbed it open. The reverend and his family took dinner at the Brockerhoff house and while eating Rev. Hodgson became sick so that he could not finish his dinner.

Thinking the cool air would do him good he left the hotel and walked across the Diamond to the court house but by that time he was seized with excruciating pains in the back. He was assisted into the office of county treasurer David Chambers and a physician sent for who, after a thorough examination said that the open blister on his heel had become infected from the dye in the stocking and that he was then suffering with the first stages of blood poisoning.

The treasurer's office was turned into a temporary hospital and heroic measures to combat the infection were resorted to. In the late afternoon the reverend gentleman was taken home and was a pretty sick man all of Monday night. By Tuesday afternoon the infection had somewhat abated and since then he has been improving with every indication of a permanent recovery within a few days.

Centre County Farmers Complimented On Apple Crop.

The Altoona "Times" on Tuesday thus compliments the farmers and fruit growers of Centre county on their good crop of apples this year:

The apple crop in Centre county is said to be the largest in the history of the county. Centre county farmers have extensive orchards, every apple tree is full, and the fruit is of exceptionally fine quality. Picking and shipping have already begun and cider mills are running day and night to work up the culls.

The Centre county fruit growers have taken many lessons from the experiments made annually at State College, relating to pruning, spraying, mulching and cultivating, and this is given as a contributing cause for the large crop. A great deal of the Centre county fruit and produce comes to this city, so that Altoona will directly benefit as a result of the great crop.

The local fruit growers do not have such glowing reports as come from Centre county, conditions being less favorable. Many have fair crops, which are now being marketed.

—Mrs. M. C. Gephart will be at the Brockerhoff house Friday and Saturday, October 6th and 7th, with a full line of La Greque and Binner corsets. Fittings given at any hour. 38-1t
