-We saw a telegram from the Studebaker Corporation yesterday, that was received by Geo. A Beezer their local representative, informing him that a raise in the price of Studebaker cars will soon be made. The cars are now selling on a basis figured fifteen months ago and as the cost of the material and labor has increased from fifteen to twenty-five per cent since that time the price of this popular car will have to be increased accordingly. We would advise anyone who has been considering buy ing a Studebaker to do it at once. While we have no authority for saying so we are of the orinion that Mr. Beezer will let you have a new car at the old price if the order is placed before the raise goes into effect.
