THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

-A broker frog caused the derailment of five cars of coal near Salona, on the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, on Tuesday afternoon.

----The Penn State Freshmen were too strong for the Bellefonte Academy football team on Saturday, defeating them on Beaver field at State College by the score of 25 to 0.

--- The Merchant of Venice" at Garman's tomorrow night will be the best show of the kind ever given in Bellefonte. The company is made up of well known theatrical stars and they will be worth seening.

-A parcel post social will be held at the home of Mrs. Irvin Tate, at Coleville, Friday evening, November Light refreshments will be served. The proceeds for the benefit of the Bellefonte Lutheran church.

-"How to be Healthy" is of importance to everyone. The advice of Dr. Maxwell Lauterman expresses so exactly our ideas that it is republished from the Philadelphia "Ledger." Read and heed it. Prevention is easier than cure.

----At a regular session on Monday evening the Millheim borough council passed an ordinance granting a franchise to the State--Centre Electric company to enter that borough light and power to residents of the town.

----Centre county gobblers are being gobbled up for other markets and the indications now are that many Bellefonte families will not even have a turkey leg to give thanks for next Thursday. But one and all should at least be thankful for good health and enough to eat and wear.

-From present indications the December term of court which will begin a week from next Monday will be a busy as well as interesting one. District Attorney James C. Furst has quite a good sized list of criminal cases to present while there are a number of cases on the civil list that will take some time to hear.

Society of the M. E. church at Pleasant Gap will serve a chicken dinner, along with many other good things to eat, at the church. Also supror. Ice cream and cake will be for sale in the evening. Everybody is most cordially invited to go and heip along a good cause and have a pleasant time.

Camp Thomas J. Stewart, El Paso, Texas, November 18. Quite a change has taken place here since the writing of my last letter and how I succeed with this one will determine, to me at least, whether these new conditions are favorable or not. It is in reference to our new homes that I am broken ankle. alluding to. We this week took down most of our tents which we have constantly used since we were converted into a cavalry troop, and which comfortably accommodated two men. It took exactly thirty-two of these tents to supply our troop, but now, since we have put up in their place what are called "squad" tents, the numbers on the doorposts range only to "9." This has been -There will be a meeting of the done on account of the cold weather and

It is almost heart-breaking, (so the boys think), to break up with your "bunkie". and make your home with a new set and have to learn their ways and modes of living. Songs of the "Old Homestead" often penetrate the air, but more often one can hear the coaxing and the begging of the squad leader to his men, entreating them to "fetch more wood." It is an entirely new form for us, but we are getting along in a remarkably agree. able way, and no boxing matches are anticipated as the direct cause of it.

A stove has also been placed in the mess hall and four of them at the Y. M. C. A. They surely do make a great prescription for driving away the cold chills, for the purpose of furnishing electric these real cool evenings, and frequently

The other evening one of our men returned from the city on a late train, while we were all in the arms of Morpheus and undertook to play a little joke on some of the boys. He therewith awoke a few, got them out into the troop street, and while they were shivering with the extreme cold of the night and rubbing their eyes, he told them that the Colonel wanted to know if each man knew how many buttons there were on his overcoat. That he wasn't lynched the next morning will always be considered a miracle, and for that reason I am not mentioning any names.

Up to this week it has been the custom of each troop to detail a certain number of men for regimental guard -On Thanksgiving day the Aid now been inaugurated whereby an entire troop takes up these duties for the day. This tends to keep the troop intact while out for drill periods, and is very satisfactory to all concerned. Troop L was on duty on Thursday and beside doing the regimental guard unloaded three cars of hay, one of oats and one of wood, distributed the bread and ice for the regiment and looked after the headquarters work.
