He killed the bird which measured six feet seven inches from tip to tip of its wings. It was sent to taxidermist Eldon, of Williamsport, for mounting.

—A number of Bellefonte people drove to Boalsburg on Sunday to see the Boal machine gun troop at drill. The troop, by the way, assembles every other Saturday for drill. They remain over night and have another drill on Sunday afternoon, Mr. Boal entertaining them at supper Saturday evening and breakfast and dinner on Sunday.

—The regular session of February court will convene next Monday. No very important cases will be up for trial on the criminal list, as most of such cases which have been listed since the December term of court have been disposed of by the individuals entering a plea of guilty and submitting to the sentence imposed by the court. Several important cases, however, will be up for trial the second week of court.

—There is an atmosphere around the peculiar comedian, W. B. Patton, that signifies success. There is something about him that asserts itself in every character he creates. It is the force and artistic refinement of his methods that reaches out over the footlights and compels admiration, and in the character of Dr. Hale, in his new play, "Lazy Bill" Mr. Patton has unlimited opportunities to display the wonderful magnetism of his personality. This delightful play will be seen here for one night only at Garman's, Tuesday evening, February 27th.

Sentence Suspended Upon Payment of Costs.

Ex-Burgess J. W. Stein, of Phillipsburg, appeared before Judge Quigley on Monday afternoon on the charge of larceny and after attorney M. Ward Fleming made an eloquent plea in his behalf Judge Quigley suspended sentence upon the payment of the costs. Readers of the "Watchman" will recall that a few weeks ago Mr. Stein resigned his office as burgess of Phillipsburg upon request. A few days later he was arrested on the charge of larceny for taking a handful of cigars from the drug store of W. B. Brown. When he appeared in court Monday afternoon Mr. Stein waived the finding of the grand jury and entered a plea of nolle contendere. Speaking in his behalf attorney M. Ward Fleming said that he had always been a good and respected citizen of Phillipsburg and he felt that on account of his age and the humiliation he had already suffered that he had been sufficiently punished. Judge Quigley thereupon suspended sentence upon the payment of the costs and Mr. Stein promptly settled.

In speaking of the case afterwards to a friend Mr. Stein said that while he was technically guilty he didn't feel that he had committed much of a crime. That he had gone to the same store on occasions previous to that when the clerk was busy and had helped himself to cigars but always paid for them. That on this occasion he went in and called to the clerk who apparently was busy behind the prescription counter and as on former occasions helped himself, and it was for this time that he was arrested.

Woman Shot by Unknown Man.

Miss Mabel S. Fye, of Moshannon, was the victim of an assault by an unknown man in her home on Tuesday morning of last week. The assault occurred in the neighborhood of nine o'clock after the men in the family had gone to their work.

Miss Fye had gone to the barn to do some chores, as was her custom. When she returned to the house and stepped into the kitchen an unknown man jumped from behind the kitchen door and hit her on the head with a blunt instrument that did not cut the flesh but knocked her unconscious. He then shot her through the fleshy part of the leg above the knee with a 38 calibre revolver.

Miss Fye lay unconscious on the floor for almost two hours, being found in that condition when the men returned to the house. Of course by that time the man had disappeared and no trace of him could be found. Robbery was evidently the man's design, but in this he failed, as there was no money of any consequence about the house.

Miss Fye was sent to the Cottage State hospital, Phillipsburg, where the bullet hole in her leg was properly attended to and several days later she was taken home.

Threshermen to Meet.

In pursuance of the announcement at adjournment on January 10th, the Centre county Threshermen and Farmers' Protective association will meet in the court house tomorrow, February 24th, at 10 o'clock a. m. Important questions relative to boiler inspection and other matters will be considered at this meeting. The delegates who attended the state convention of threshermen at Harrisburg will also make their report. Threshermen, sawmill men and farmers are urged to attend this meeting. A representative of the Department of Labor and Industry is expected to be present and explain the procedure of boiler inspection, as every steam boiler must be inspected before July 1st, 1917.

Touring Car Completely Burned Up.

Monday evening about 7 o'clock G. H. Gates and his brother Stewart were leaving the Gates farm, a mile west of Waddle, in the former's Page Six, when the machine back-fired, an explosion followed and in an instant the whole outfit was enveloped in flames.

The conflagration occurred on a steep hill leading out past the barn on the farm and so near to the buildings was the burning machine that the occupants, and neighbors attracted by the flames, had to devote their energies toward keeping the buildings from burning. The machine was totally consumed.

Frank Steele tendered his resignation as station agent at the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania in this place to accept a position as salesman for the Citizens Wholesale company, of Toledo, Ohio. He was officially checked out on Tuesday morning and yesterday went to Williamsport where he joined a corps of salesmen of the above company for a three month's training service. At the expiration of that time he will be assigned a territory of which Bellefonte will be the centre. Charles E. Gates, who has been clerk in the freight station and assistant to Mr. Steele the past few years, was checked in on Tuesday as acting station agent.

—Wednesday was Ash Wednesday and the beginning of the Lenten season.

—The Tyrone High school girls basket ball team came to Bellefonte last Friday evening and defeated the Bellefonte High school girls by the score of 10 to 2. Notwithstanding the fact that the local team lost it was an exciting game from start to finish.

—The regular meeting of the Woman's club will be held in the High school building Monday evening, at 7.30 o'clock. Miss Anne E. Dashiell, instructor in household arts in the public schools, will be the speaker of the evening, which promises to be both interesting and instructive. All members of the club are urged to be present.

—Why worry about the weather when you can go to the scenic every evening, be comfortable and enjoy a big program of high-class motion pictures? Nothing like them to be seen anywhere else in Bellefonte. Remember Mrs. Vernon Castle appears every Friday evening in that patriotic play, "Patria". But every evening has its own program of good pictures, so that you cannot help but see something worth while.

—Word was received in Bellefonte this week of the death of Mrs. Ridgely Morris, one of Delaware's oldest and best known women. Mrs. Morris, who was a lineal descendant of John Harris, founder of Harrisburg, Pa., was ninety-one years of age and the mother of Mrs. Caleb S. Pennewell, of Dover, Del. Mrs. Pennewell is well known here, having several times been a guest of Miss Humes and her brother, William P. Humes.

—When the Abrams Engineering company, of Pittsburgh, took over the Bellefonte Engineering company's plant several weeks ago the foundry was closed down and since then the machine shop is the only part of the plant being operated. At the present less than twenty-five men are employed there, but the new company anticipates increasing this force gradually until they get a full quota of skilled workmen. It is expected that work at the foundry, also, will be resumed in the near future.

—Even though all Centre county's famous trout streams are open to the sportsmen, some of the men of Bellefonte are opposing the Woman's club in an effort to close the stream through Bellefonte for a few hundred feet. The object of the women is to protect the fish in a part of this stream for the pleasure given the hundreds of visitors and residents whose thoughts do not center around a fishing rod. The pride of the town in the stream should be sufficient incentive for any effort to conserve its greatest attraction, the fish.

—Reports come from the eastern part of the State, where potatoes are now selling for $2.50 a bushel, that thousands of bushels are being held in the bins by farmers who are holding for $3.00 a bushel. While there is no positive information as to how many potatoes are being held by farmers in Centre county for a higher price it is known that some farmers have from two to three hundred bushels. In fact one farmer not a great distance from Bellefonte recently asserted that he had four hundred bushels which he would hold until he got $2.50 a bushel for them.

—Several weeks ago the "Watchman" mentioned the fact that Norman R. Wright had taken an option on the Palace garage with a view of purchasing the same. At the time the present occupant, F. S. Knecht, vehemently denied the story. It now develops that the story was correct and that Mr. Wright has purchased the building, and will take possession March first. The first floor will be used as a garage and one or two men have looked over the second floor to see if it can be arranged for manufacturing purposes. One of the latter was Mr. Shelton, proprietor of the knitting mills at Millheim and Pleasant Gap, who is seeking a location for a mill in Bellefonte. Just what he will decide on doing has not been divulged.

—Mr. Thaddeus R. Hamilton was eighty-one years old last Saturday and he celebrated the event very quietly at his home on east Howard street. While Mr. Hamilton is not the oldest man in Bellefonte he is unusually active for his age, conducting his planning mill business here and at State College just as if he were in the prime of life. All his life has been spent in Bellefonte with the exception of fifteen years spent in the west, which at the time he was there was regarded as the frontier of the United States. Both his trips were made overland before the steam railroad had penetrated that section of the United States, and he still loves to recall his experiences of those years. Mr. Hamilton, by the way, occupies the home in which both his father and grandfather lived and died.

Defendants Get Judgment.

On Tuesday Judge Quigley handed down a decision in the case of John Wanamaker, of Philadelphia, vs. Thomas A. Shoemaker and Harry E. Fenlon in which he gave judgment for the defendants.

The case in question was an action brought by John Wanamaker on July 7th, 1916, against the defendants to recover the sum of $706.22 owing the plaintiff by Mrs. Gertrude B. Reber. Twenty years or more ago when Mrs. Reber went to Philadelphia to live she established herself as a purchasing agent or "shopper" for out-of-the-city residents. In order to secure credit it was necessary for her to give bond, and S. M. Buck, Thomas A. Shoemaker, Wilbur F. Reeder and H. E. Fenlon went on the bond. The bond stipulated that the bondsmen were to make good any accounts not paid within five days after the first of each month, notice to be given them by the plaintiff.

In the meantime Mr. Buck and Mr. Reeder died. Mrs. Reber, however, met her obligations promptly up until November, 1914, when she ran behind and from that time up until October 1st, 1915, her bill aggregated $706.22. Mr. Wanamaker then sought payment from the bondsmen but they refused on the ground that they had not been given due notice as required in the bond, and it was on this point that judgment was rendered in their favor.

Centre County Y. W. C. A.

The Bellefonte High school club had a valentine post-office at the High school building on Valentine day. Two cents postage was required on all articles sent or received and the clerks were kept busy. Candy and punch were sold and the club cleared $10.00.

The Howard council has planned some interesting meetings for the next few months and have asked that a delegation of college girls go there for a week-end and discuss with them some of the things of special importance to girls.

Mother's night is the next thing on the State College High school club's program.

When you're sewing or walking or doing things that do not occupy all your attention, what do you think about? Some people fill their minds with good poems that they can remember at such times, and that help them in their daily living. Don't you like this second verse of the poem "Work"?

Work! Thank God for the pride of it. For the beautiful, conquering tide of it. Sweeping the life in its furious flood. Thrilling the arteries, cleansing the blood. Mastering stupor and dull despair. Moving the dreamer to do and dare. Oh, what is so good as the surge of it. And what is so glad as the urge of it. And what is so strong as the summons deep. Rousing the torpid soul from sleep?

Social Doings of the Week.

Mrs. W. Harrison Walker was hostess Tuesday night at a card party, given at her home on east Linn street.

Mrs. John I. Olewine entertained Tuesday afternoon with a thimble party.

The ministers from all the churches of Bellefonte were guests Wednesday afternoon of Miss Mira Humes and her brother, Wm. P. Humes, at their home on Allegheny street.

The six o'clock dinner given last night by Mrs. N. B. Spangler, was followed by cards.

The guests at the dinner given Wednesday by Miss Margaret Stewart in celebration of her mother's eighty-second birthday, included her family and a few very close friends. Mrs. Stewart for the remainder of the day received her hosts of friends, who each year join in the celebration. The flowers which are always a feature of the occasion, were in greater profusion and more beautiful than ever before.

The Misses Rachel and Margaret Lambert, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Lambert, will entertain tonight, the girls basket ball team of the Bellefonte High school being their guests.
