

Bellefonters Volunteer for Service.
 Bellefonte will have representatives in the first line of defense along our sea coast, as Gordon Montgomery and Philip Reynolds left on Tuesday evening for Newark, N. J., to join the coast guard service, and anticipate being stationed at Newport, Rhode Island. Frederick Reynolds intends coming home from Princeton University to enlist in Troop L in the event of that organization being called out. Col. W. F. Reynolds has also tendered his services to Governor Brumbaugh and Capt. H. Laird Curtin and Lieut. Theodore Davis Boal were in Harrisburg on Tuesday on the same mission.

Pennsylvania could furnish a half million soldiers if necessary to do it and Centre county alone could furnish 5,481 according to the military enrollment made by the county commissioners in April, 1916. The enrollment by districts is as follows:

A Suicide Well Known in Bellefonte.

A man who registered as David William Dailey committed suicide in the Vanderbilt hotel, New York city, on Sunday morning by shooting himself in the head. In his room were found a number of letters addressed to people in different cities and towns, one of which was addressed to "Mrs. Verna T. Dailey, care of A. C. Thomas, Waddle, Centre Co., Pa." The Mrs. Dailey referred to in the address was formerly Miss Verna Thomas, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Thomas, of Waddle, and very well known in Bellefonte.

Mr. Dailey was formerly one of the highest paid grocery salesmen in the business and several years ago went to Detroit as head of a chain of stores in the middle west. Rumor has it that financial reverses drove him to take his own life.

The New York papers state that Mrs. Dailey was granted a divorce from her husband in February last and that both his business and domestic affairs were in a distracting condition.

He was well known in Bellefonte and several years ago spent the greater part of the summer at the Thomas home near Waddle. It was while there that he procured from his mother-in-law the formula for making tomato soup that he later put on the market as one of the famous "Bridal" brands.

Between four and five o'clock Wednesday afternoon three little boys were playing on a raft in Spring creek which was moored at the Lewisburg and Tyrone railroad bridge. Finally two of the lads jumped off and in doing so broke the raft from its fastenings and before the other little fellow could get off it had floated toward mid-stream. There were no paddles on the raft or anything with which to steer it and the boy was absolutely helpless so far as his hands were concerned, but he had good lungs and he made free use of them to attract help. Fortunately the raft caught the current going down the mill race and drifted into the headland so that the lad was rescued without any trouble, and as soon as he struck solid ground he made away as quickly as possible, and it will likely be some time before he again ventures on a raft.

Invitations have been issued for the wedding of Miss Jennie E. Crittenden and Clayton Clarence Johnson, both of Waterbury, Conn., the ceremony to take place at the home of Miss Crittenden's sister, Mrs. David Stinson, at Allentown, Pa., on Thursday, April fifth. Miss Crittenden was a daughter of the late Rev. Richard Crittenden and with the family lived the greater part of her life in Bellefonte. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will live in Waterbury.

Bellefonte friends of Miss Myrtle Fiedler, daughter of the late Jas. A. Fiedler, founder of the "Keystone Gazette," will be glad to learn that she is recovering very nicely from an operation for appendicitis which she underwent in the Swedish hospital, Seattle, Wash., on March 19th.

Mr. Bennett, Philadelphia, presented the other, which would require all drinking places to be closed between 11 p. m. and 5 a. m. on all days on which they are now allowed to be open.

Gets a Husband, Loses Compensation.

The following item appeared in last Friday's "North American" and relates to the widow of Fortunato Werrick, an Italian who was killed in one of the limestone quarries near Bellefonte last fall. Friends of the woman hereabouts knew of her marriage several weeks ago, but did not know of the compensation incident:

Mrs. Mary Werrick, a widow, of Bellefonte, Pa., gave up $1600 compensation when she remarried, but she didn't know it until she appeared before the State Workmen's Compensation Board yesterday to get the money.

The woman's husband was killed last fall in a quarry, leaving besides the widow, a three-year-old child. A referee awarded the widow $2700 compensation, and yesterday Mrs. Werrick came for the money.

"What will you do with the money? Will you buy a home and get married again?" Chairman Mackey asked her.

"Sure," the woman replied. "I'll buy a home, but I got a husband three weeks ago."

The Board lopped $1600 off the compensation, and the remainder will be given in weekly amounts for her child.

The New Way —and the Old

To-day we answer the telephone as "Jones & Company, Mr. Smith speaking," or "This is Mr. Smith's residence."

It is concise and definite, smacks of efficiency and eliminates the uncertainty that followed the old-fashioned "Hello" or—worse still—"Who is this?"

The person calling, too, replies with, "Mr. Brown wishes to talk with Mr. Smith." These are the telephone "introductions" of to-day—and they make for good service all around.
