THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

Farmers having good horses to sell can find a market at Geiss' livery, Bellefonte, every Saturday. An eastern buyer will be there Saturdays.

Coburn's minstrels, one of the biggest aggregations of its kind in the country today, will appear at Garman's some date between April 23rd and May 1st. Keep them in mind as they will be worth seeing.

Come and bring your friends to the Red Cross ball, to be held in the Bellefonte armory, Friday evening, April 20, at 8.30 o'clock. Admission fifty cents each, including refreshments. Music by the State College orchestra.

Among the marriage licenses granted at Cumberland, Md., on Monday was one to William A. Braucher, of Spring Mills, and Miss Ruth Ethel Smith, of Millheim, and one to Joseph Hammis and Miss Louise Swisher, both of Philipsburg.

Mr. J. L. Montgomery is making some decided improvements to his property on Allegheny street. He has had the bottom of the cellar under his house concreted and has men now at work putting down a concrete pavement and curb along his lot on Lamb street.

Daniel Rhinesmith, of Clearfield, came to Centre county last week and took personal charge of the Rhinesmith farm in Benner township. While he will not move his family here he may find it necessary to spend most of the summer here in looking after the farm work.

The Pennsylvania Match company has received several car loads of block wood for making matches and is now in full operation again after several shut-downs on account of lack of wood. The company, by the way, has orders for many car loads of matches and will be kept busy for months turning them out.

Notwithstanding the fact that that war has been declared the scenic will continue to show the best of motion pictures for the entertainment of the public. In fact, patrons of that up-to-date moving picture show may in the near future have an opportunity of seeing just what Uncle Sam can do in rushing war preparations, so be on the watch for them.

Sunday, April 8th, was one of the coldest Easters that has been experienced in this locality in years. It was not only cold and blustery all day but considerable snow fell in the evening. On Monday morning thermometers in Bellefonte registered as low as twenty degrees above zero. Cold weather and high winds also prevailed throughout Monday.

The big electric siren fire alarm arrived in Bellefonte from Chicago last Friday and on Wednesday it was taken up on the hill between the jail and court house to be tested out. The general verdict was that as an alarm it would be all right for nearby places, but it is not the kind of an alarm Bellefonte needs. In fact it was not heard by people three blocks distant.

The Thespian, the well known dramatic organization of The Pennsylvania State College, will arrive in Bellefonte this morning from Tyrone and this evening will close their week's tour with the presentation of their play, "The Naked Truth," at Garman's opera house. The Thespian are so well known in Bellefonte that the mere announcement of the date of their appearance is assurance of a good house.

A most impressive part of the Easter Tuesday service at St. John's Episcopal church was the dedication of a beautiful silk flag, presented by Mrs. Mary C. Harris, Mrs. John M. Shugert and Mrs. J. M. Curtin, as a memorial to the late Dr. George Fairbank Harris. The flag will have a place in the chancel of the church and is a splendid tribute to one who served his country so faithfully and well during the Civil war, and whose fidelity to his church was so implicit and constant.

A delightful social gathering took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hoy, of the Harrison Kline farm, on Tuesday, when Mr. Hoy arranged a birthday surprise party for his wife. Between forty and fifty neighbors and friends were present and the time passed very pleasantly for all. Dr. A. M. Schmidt with Mrs. Schmidt and their son William were among those present and the doctor made a happy little talk appropriate to the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Hoy have retired from active farm life, the farm now being looked after by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Bierley.

Patriotism and Preparedness in Centre County.

CENTRE COUNTY MOVING TO PREPARE.

The First Steps Toward Mobilizing Our Industrial and Agricultural Resources and Providing a Home Defense Taken at a Meeting at Boalsburg Wednesday Night.

Much will be expected from Centre county. Much ought to be expected from a great, rich industrial and agricultural region like ours.

Recently the Governor of the Commonwealth appointed Lieut. Theodore Davis Boal, of Boalsburg, and Dr. E. E. Sparks, president of The Pennsylvania State College, as representatives for Centre county on the state committee of Public Safety. Lieut. Boal at once went to Harrisburg to confer with the Governor as to his plans for mobilizing the resources of the State. He was advised to appoint a general committee of approximately twenty-five for Centre county and get to work AT ONCE. Acting upon this advice Lieut. Boal called the following gentlemen to meet him at his home in Boalsburg, Wednesday afternoon at 5.30.

C. G. Avery Philipsburg; Hon. A. G. Morris, Judge Henry C. Quigley, Hon. Ellis L. Orvis, Col. W. F. Reynolds, Col. Hugh S. Taylor, Chas. M. McCurdy, Harry Keller, Edmund Blanchard, John Blanchard, J. Linn Harris and Geo. R. Meek, Bellefonte; Dr. Walter Kurtz, Howard; D. F. Kapp, W. L. Foster, I. L. Holmes, State College; Ward Gramley, Millheim; Hon. Wm. Allison, Spring Mills; C. T. Bartholomew and Edward Bailey, Centre Hall; Dr. Kidder, Boalsburg; David Chambers, Snow Shoe; Capt. H. L. Curtin, Curtin; James Reed, Pine Grove Mills.

All being present but two Lieut. Boal called the meeting to order and informally presented the plans the Governor desires worked out. A permanent organization was then effected by the selection of the following officers:

Chairman, Lieut. Theodore Davis Boal. Vice chairman, Col. W. F. Reynolds. Secretary, Geo. R. Meek.

Executive committee: The vice chairman, the secretary, C. G. Avery, I. L. Holmes and Ward Gramley.

The committee then began a general discussion of ways and means by which Centre county can be rallied to active co-operation with the nationwide movement to conserve and protect public utilities, public buildings, water supplies, agricultural resources and provide in each populous district a citizen's emergency guard for home defense.

Many suggestions were made bearing on the various matters and it was finally deemed advisable to organize these branches of service under separate committees, whereupon a partial list was made as follows:

AGRICULTURAL RESOURCES. D. F. Kapp, State College, chairman; Wm. Allison, Spring Mills; Dr. Kurtz, Howard.

HOME DEFENSE. H. S. Taylor, Bellefonte, chairman; W. L. Foster, State College; H. W. Todd, Philipsburg.

FINANCE COMMITTEE. Charles McCurdy, Bellefonte, chairman; David Chambers, Snow Shoe; C. T. Bartholomew, Centre Hall.

PUBLICITY COMMITTEE. Edmund Blanchard, Bellefonte, chairman; Edward Bailey, Centre Hall; Chas. Green, Philipsburg.

The general committee was then enlarged by the selection of the Hon. Henry Meyer, of Rebersburg; H. W. Todd and Charles Green, of Philipsburg; John D. Miller, Hubersburg; I. G. Burket, Stormstown; Bud Thompson, Martha Furnace; and A. S. Cross, Powelton, to represent their various communities.

PLANS FOR HOME DEFENSE.

While it is not probable that in a community like Centre county there will be much need for a home guard, preparedness means being ready for any emergency. To quell riots that might be started by various causes in sections where foreign elements prevail in such numbers as to make its local police force inadequate to handle them and from the thousand and one causes that war's excitement might produce. The suggestion was made that the local fire companies in each community be delegated to organize for this purpose. They are men trained to respond to calls on a moment's notice and if a squad of each company were deputized and directed to respond instantly to a police signal alarm sounded by the usual fire alarm of the community the home defense problem could probably be solved more efficiently through that medium than any other.

It was the unanimous opinion of everyone present that in the grave crisis that confronts our nation today that the man with the hoe may play just as important a roll as the man with the gun, and the man in the furrow will be quite as necessary as the man in the trench. To this end a general plan for urging intensified farming and gardening in Centre county was mapped out. It will be more fully developed at a meeting to be held in the court house in Bellefonte next Tuesday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

The time is here for action. It is up to every resident of Centre county to enthusiastically do his or her part, however small, in the work of preparing for every emergency. War justifies no one in taking chances on anything. We must be ready.

Lieut. Boal entertained the entire committee at a buffet luncheon before its deliberations were begun.

Bellefonte Youths Rush to Enlist.

Just twenty-five young men of Bellefonte applied for enlistment in Troop L at its regular meeting in the armory on Tuesday evening. Of this number six were examined and sworn into service; seven were examined and passed and the other twelve will be examined at a later date. Following is the list:

Examined and sworn in.—W. F. Reynolds Jr., Paul J. Haag, Henry Keller Jr., Robert Willard, Charles Doll and Gideon C. Payne. The latter took the examination for admission to the navy but finally decided to join Troop L.

Examined and passed.—Hugh C. Daley, Chauncey DeLong, George Tate, Claire Lyon, William Alkey, Harry Sager and Earl Teaman.

Other applications.—John Klinger, John Bortoff, John Nortor, Paul Teaman, Samuel Koch, William Howard, Chester Kuhn, Claire Hazel, Harry Hockenberry, Edward Brooks, Michael Torsell and M. J. Locke.

Robert Valentine has enlisted for the hospital corps and Fred Lane for the aviation corps.

After the serious work of the evening was over all present were served with a lunch prepared by Mrs. Whitman and the evening wound up with an impromptu smoker.

According to Wednesday's papers the War Department has issued an order that all members of the National Guard who have any one dependent upon them, be it wife, parents or sisters must be dropped from the roll and no such men enlisted. If this is correct and the order enforced it will result in a very decided change in the personnel of Troop L.

To Enlist Army of Suffragists.

Actual enlisting of every member of the army of suffragists in Pennsylvania for patriotic work will be begun April 18 and 19 at the spring conference of the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association to be held in Harrisburg.

The conference, suffrage leaders announce, will be asked to ratify the plan of enrolling members in one of the four following divisions:

Employment bureaus for women. Department for training women for agricultural work and elimination of waste.

Co-operation with Red Cross society. Department for the Americanization of aliens.

It is expected that the delegates will agree to the formation of the four divisions to be under the direction of a general central committee—the first to enroll women and classify them according to the service they desire to perform. The second will train women to do agricultural work in gardens and on farms. The third will assist in Red Cross work, and the fourth will work among foreigners.

Large delegations are expected to attend the conference from every county, and the business of the State Suffrage organization will be facilitated as much as possible to give time for thorough discussion of war work.

In addition to the business sessions, there will be a public meeting the night of April 18, when United States Commissioner of Immigration, Frederick C. Howe, will deliver a lecture on "After The War—What?" an address dealing with problems expected to arise after the declaration of peace.

Penn State Students to Be Examined for Army.

Examinations for appointment in the officers' reserve corps are to be held at State College within the next few weeks. Students at The Pennsylvania State College who want commissions in the army were on Tuesday notified by the government military authorities that a special examining board will be convened at the College shortly. It is expected that several hundred students who have had two years' military training under regular army officers will undergo examination.

FOURTEEN YOUNG MEN ENLIST.

Bellefonte Youths Not Backward in Offering Services to Country.

Last week the "Watchman" contained the exclusive announcement that a number of Bellefonte High school students as well as other young men of the town had volunteered for service in the United States navy and that an examining officer would be here on Monday to make a physical examination of the young men. The announcement evidently inspired others to do likewise and when first class gunner's mate W. O. O'Connell came here from the recruiting office at Williamsport on Monday afternoon he was confronted with just sixteen applicants, as follows:

A. Linn McGinley Jr., a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Linn McGinley. John Smith, son of ex-Register J. Frank Smith.

Robert Taylor, son of R. B. Taylor. Allen Cruse, son of Mrs. Charles Cruse.

William McClure, son of Mr. and Mrs. William McClure. Gideon Payne, son of Mrs. Mary Payne.

James F. McCulley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McCulley.

Paul Eberhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Eberhart.

Joseph Sourbeck, son of John Sourbeck Jr.

Willard Apt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Apt Jr.

Harry Wetzel, son of Mrs. H. M. Wetzel.

Donald Gettig, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Gettig.

William Malone, Elmer Long and William Fulton, all Bellefonte boys, and Malcolm Wetzler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Wetzler, of Milesburg.

Of the above sixteen all passed the examination and were accepted but two, Donald Gettig, who was refused on account of his eyes, and Harry Wetzel, whose acceptance is doubtful owing to the condition of his eyes.

James McCulley accompanied gunner's mate O'Connell to Williamsport on Monday evening and will enter upon his term of service at once. The other young men are under orders to report at Newport, Rhode Island, on April 23rd to go into training for several months when they will be assigned to the coast guard service. Young Wetzler, who has been a member of Our Boys band of Milesburg ever since it was organized, will be assigned to the Marine band as a trombone player.

As stated in the beginning of this article a number of the above boys are members of the Senior class at the Bellefonte High school and all in good standing. Hence at a meeting of the school board on Monday evening it was unanimously voted to give all of them their diplomas, so that so far as their educational standing is concerned they will not lose anything by enlisting at this time.

When the examiner got through with the above list of young men William Bailey, Boyd Kelly, Blair Markle, Anthony Wasson and Charles Tressler, all members of Theodore Davis Boal's machine gun troop made application for a transfer from that organization into the navy but as gunner's mate O'Connell has no authority to make the transfer all he could do for them was to advise that the matter be taken up with the War and Navy departments and it was quite likely a transfer could be secured in due time.

Guards On Duty in Bellefonte.

Last Saturday afternoon seven men were sworn in as deputy sheriffs and placed on duty as guards at the Titan Metal company plant near Milesburg. The entire output of this plant now goes to the United States government and while there is no reason to suppose that anybody hereabouts has any designs on the plant it was believed a good precautionary measure to put guards on duty. A big search light has also been installed on top of the building which illuminates that entire neighborhood.

On Saturday night a guard was also placed at the Bellefonte reservoir and one at the big spring to guard the town's water supply. Practically all the guards at present are local men but their names is a matter of minor importance. They are all well armed and have orders to shoot if anyone attempts to interfere in any way with the property they have been appointed to guard. So if you have any business in the locality in which they hold nightly vigil make yourself and your business known at once, if challenged, and if you have no business there stay away. You will thus avoid any unpleasantness.

Bellefonte Citizens Called for Preparedness Meeting.

Burgess Edmund Blanchard has issued a call for a meeting of the citizens of Bellefonte to be held in the
