THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

—Exit the oyster.

Wanted.—A girl for general household work in Clearfield county. Bell telephone 9254. 62-18-2*

—George Young, the barber, is able to be around again after being housed up for the past five weeks with pneumonia.

—Have you tried pulverized sheep manure on your lawn and garden? It does wonders.—Potter-Hoy Hardware Co.

—Mrs. Charles Daugherty, the youngest sister of Mrs. Henry Harris, of this place, died at her home in Canton, Ohio, yesterday.

Drive out the dirt Let in the light Clean up next week With all your might.

—Requests for three stenographers and office girls, at salaries from forty to seventy-five dollars a month, have come to Bellefonte within the past three days.

—If you are not too tired to take home your groceries, you can save some real money by patronizing our ready pay grocery department.—Cohen & Co. 18-1t

—Dr. and Mrs. George P. Bible have announced the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy Marguerite, to Lewis S. Schad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schad, the wedding to take place early in June.

—The W. C. T. U., "Thimble Bee" will be held at the home of Mrs. Walter F. Carson, on Reynolds' avenue, Wednesday, May 9th. The ladies are now sewing for Troop L. All women interested are cordially invited.

—The annual essay contest for the prize given by the W. C. T. U. will be held in the auditorium of the High school, Friday, May 4th, at 2 p. m. Every one is cordially invited. Special music by the High school orchestra.

—Dr. George H. Tibbens has established a Bellefonte office in the private parlors of the Garman house where he can be seen every Tuesday and Saturday. Chronic diseases a specialty. Chiropractic, high frequency and X-Ray.

—Beginning Monday, May 7th, we are compelled to advance the price of the following soaps to 5c per cake. The price is still one cent less than any other store in Centre county: Star soap, Ivory, Fels Naptha, Rub-No-More, P. & G. White Naptha.—Cohen & Co. 18-1t

—Miss Harriet Fowler, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John T. Fowler, of Fowler, has received notice of her appointment as a stenographer in the United States agricultural department at Washington. For some time past she has held a position as stenographer in Johnstown.

—J. Linn Harris, who with Mrs. Harris went to Carlisle two weeks ago has not decided on making his permanent residence there. His present plans include spending the summer at Carlisle, intending to return to Bellefonte next fall. He has not as yet resigned as chairman of the Republican committee of Centre county, as has been reported, and has no intention of doing so at the present time.

—Centre county has always proved her loyalty whenever the occasion demanded it, and the people of Bellefonte are nightly proving their loyalty to the Scenic, Bellefonte's most popular motion picture show. And the reason they do this is because they are always sure of seeing pictures worthwhile watching. Nothing old or stale is shown there, as every picture must be new and up-to-date.

—L. H. Musser on Monday received a Case gasoline tractor and double trailing plow for use on the farm. Of course the tractor can be used in most all kinds of farm work except heavy hauling. It is the first of its kind brought to Centre county and it yet remains to be seen whether the farmers are ready to bid good-bye to their faithful horses and install gasoline tractors instead. D. H. Shively bought this tractor after a successful demonstration was given on his farm on Tuesday.

—Sechler & Co. put a new delivery car into commission on Saturday, and they have the honor of being the last grocery firm in Bellefonte to adopt the motor car delivery. Not that Mr. Sechler isn't up-to-the-minute in all his business affairs but he is a lover of animals and he could not bear to see his old horse cast aside for the speedy motor car until he felt it an absolute necessity in order to make all his deliveries promptly. But the time has come when the horse has practically been superseded by gasoline propelled vehicles for most kinds of work outside of the farm.

FOOD GROWING PATRIOTS.

Bellefonte Men and Women Who Will Do Extra Gardening This Summer.

It is a pleasure to record the fact that there are a number of people in Bellefonte who are taking the "Watchman's" advice seriously and are at least going to try to grow their own vegetables this year. This fact is evidenced by the number who have secured vacant lots for gardening purposes and they ought to be taken as an example for others to follow.

There are still many lots in Bellefonte that ought to be utilized for the raising of foodstuffs and most of them can be had for the asking. The one drawback experienced so far is the difficulty in getting the ground ploughed, and any person who has a team and plow and is willing to do the work (for compensation, of course) should notify the Woman's club or leave word at this office. Included in the list of those who have taken lots are the following:

The Woman's club, the Gray lot on Curtin street and the Reynolds lot of two acres south-east of the brick school house. This ground will be cultivated by twelve women members of the club.

The lot in the rear of the parochial school has been cleaned up as a dumping ground and will be cultivated by the school pupils.

Herbert Auman and Howard Smead have taken the Spangler lot on Curtin street.

Harry Yeager and Wilbur Baney the Ray lot on Curtin street.

Arthur Thomas, the plot of ground between the old Thomas homestead and R. B. Taylor's coal yard.

Joseph Thomas the lot adjoining his home on Thomas street.

John Richards the Benner and Dennis lots.

Lambert and Kerns the Gentzel lot on the corner of Spring and Curtin streets.

Morton Smith, the Baney lot on Curtin street.

Thomas Lamb and Daniel Snyder, lots of ground secured from the American Lime & Stone company.

Morris Miller, a lot on east High street.

Frank Gardner, the Grauer lot on east Lamb street.

John Soubreck, the Robert Miller lot on east Lamb street.

Charles Ray, the lot in the rear of the Garman property on High street.

Charles Smoyer, the Mitchell lot on Linn street.

David Washburn, the VanPelt lot on the corner of Curtin and Wilson streets.

Milton Reed, the Jacobs lot on east Lamb street.

One Hundred Billion Pounds of Honey Wanted.

The Bureau of Economic Zoology of the State Department of Agriculture is putting forth a strenuous effort to encourage the beekeepers of the State to do their bit during the present scarcity of foodstuffs, by aiming to produce larger honey crops. Pennsylvania beekeepers must do their part to help produce one hundred billion extra pounds of honey in the United States this season. This is the figure aimed at by the United States Department of Agriculture. Several apary advisers are now visiting the beekeepers of the State, and a number of field meetings will be held in various sections.

Two meetings will be held in Centre county as follows: The first meeting will be held in the apiary of Aaron Thomas, Centre Hall, on Tuesday, May 15th, at 1:30 p. m.

The second meeting will be held in the apiary of Prof. W. P. Hosterman, Spring Mills, on Friday, May 18th, at 1:30 p. m. Apiary located at Penn Hall.

Big Food Acreage at Western Penitentiary.

Warden John Francis, of the western penitentiary, does not mean that the inmates of that institution shall infringe on the food supply of the State, but will see to it that enough of food products are grown on the penitentiary farms to supply all the prisoners and everybody connected with the institution and perhaps have some to sell. In the 2,445 acres of land under cultivation the allotment to various crops is as follows: Wheat, 447 acres; corn, 320; oats, 227; rye, 183; potatoes, 150; sweet corn, 19; dry beans, 58; devoted to garden purposes for the raising of beans, tomatoes, lettuce, parsley, etc., 65 acres; cabbage, 22 1/2 acres; hay, 524; pasture, 544; orchard and small fruits, 120. Between six and seven hundred acres of the above are cultivated by tenant farmers and all the balance by the prisoners.

They Should Have a Great Potato Crop.

The farm management at the new penitentiary is planning to put 160 acres in potatoes. They have 40 acres planted now. Such an acreage, with an average yield of only 100 bushels to the acre would mean a crop of 15,000 bushels. We presume this extraordinary acreage is partially due to the fact that the penitentiary has had to pay as high as $3 and more per bushel for the tubers that the inmates consume and they are determined to bend every effort to reduce their own high cost of living.

A Tractor at Work.

They are plowing with a tractor out at the penitentiary. It is working fine and is being used twenty-four hours a day in the strain to get all the land possible, of the immense acreage there, under cultivation. The only trouble they have had with it for night plowing has been due to the poor lights, but at that wonderful result have been obtained. Three hundred and twenty acres that were ploughed last fall have been disced four times and now it looks like an immense garden.

—The McCoy & Linn Iron company have men engaged in cutting down the willow trees on the strip of ground this side of the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania car shops and lying between the railroad and Spring creek. The stumps and brush will all be removed and the ground planted to a spring crop of some kind. It is the company's intention to farm all the land they can possibly get out this year.

—A concert which promises to be a musical event in Bellefonte is that which will be given by Miss Mary B. Mott, in Garman's opera house, Friday, May 11th. Miss Mott, assisted by Miss Sallie G. Fitzgerald as soloist, and the Harmonic club, will present a program so pleasing to music lovers that no one can afford to miss hearing these talented young women. Admission, 25 and 50 cents, the tickets to be on sale at the Mott drug store.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Cressman, of Philadelphia, announce the marriage of their daughter Marion to William Marshall Hollenback, the wedding having taken place on Monday, May 14th. Mr. Hollenback is very well known in Bellefonte from the years he spent at State College as coach of the State football team. Following a brief wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Hollenback will take up their residence in Syracuse, N. Y., where Mr. Hollenback is in the coal business.

—Miss Mary Schad, of Bellefonte, had charge of the costumes for "Les Romanesques," by Edmond Rostand, which was presented in French at the Western College for Women at Oxford, Ohio, on April 28th, by students in the department of French, which has a prominent place in the curriculum of the school. Miss Schad will have one of the principal parts in "The Magic Piper," which will be presented at the College on Tree day, Wednesday, May 16th, by students selected from the whole school.

—The Woman's Auxiliary of the Archdeaconry of Williamsport, a branch of the great missionary society for women in the Episcopal church, will hold its spring meeting as guests of St. John's parish, Bellefonte, on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 15th and 16th. Representatives will be in attendance from all the parishes and missions in the central section of the State. The chief events of interest to the general public will be a splendid missionary service on Tuesday evening, May 15th, in the church, followed by a reception to the visiting members of the Auxiliary in the parish house. The men of the community are as cordially invited to this service and reception as are the women.

—The coterie of Bellefonte Academy students who will take part in the Academy minstrels attended the Coburn minstrels on Monday evening and they will doubtless collaborate some of the stage mannerisms they saw there with the original ideas of their own at their show to be given in the opera house on May 25th. But whether they do or not the people of Bellefonte can feel sure of seeing a worth-while entertainment. The boys have been practicing diligently and have many new stunts never before pulled off on a minstrel stage. A big street parade will be given which will be led by the State College band. The prices of admission will be 25, 35 and 50 cents. Tickets on sale at Mott's drug store.

—On Saturday evening C. C. Shuey, with his wife and daughters were returning from a motor trip to Williamsport and when in the vicinity of the Fishing creek school house on the Nittany valley road they were the victims of a collision with the big Premier car of the Palace livery, driven by Joseph Dan. The latter car also contained a load of people and fortunately none of the occupants of either were hurt. Mr. Shuey's car, however, was badly damaged. The left front wheel was smashed, the axle bent almost like a halfmoon, the fender wrecked and the running board torn off. The steering gear was also badly bent. The Premier car suffered less, as its most serious injury was a slightly bent axle.

Arrested on the Charge of Larceny.

H. A. Ellis and Charles Weller, of Buffalo Run, were arrested on Friday on the charge of larceny and brought to the county jail in this place the same evening. The men were arrested on the charge of stealing chickens, meat and other produce from the farmers of Buffalo Run and Halfmoon valleys. They both secured bail on Saturday morning for a hearing before justice of the peace S. Kline Woodring on Tuesday morning.

At the hearing before "Squire Woodring Wesley Biddle testified that he had been away from home ten days or two weeks and during that period a dozen or more of his chickens were stolen.

J. E. Clark testified that he discovered that Mr. Biddle's chickens were gone on the morning of April 26th, and in company with others was able to discover the tracks of two men leading from the chicken house to a lane. It had rained during the night and the ground was wet. In the lane they found the track of a buggy and they trailed it down the road to the H. A. Ellis farm where it turned in the lane.

A brother of J. E. Clark, who lives on an adjoining farm, testified that he and his son were out at the barn looking after some stock that needed attention just about midnight when a buggy containing two men drove past. They heard the men speak to the horse and recognized the voice as that of Mr. Ellis. When the buggy got opposite where they were standing the son lifted the lantern and they both recognized Ellis. They could not possibly identify the other man but thought he was Charles Weller.

Other evidence was given corroborative of the above after which both men were held in four hundred dollars bail for their appearance at court.

Short Strike at the Titan Metal Plant.

At noon on Monday Christ Jodon led about forty of the men in the rolling mill and melting room departments of the Titan Metal company's plant out on strike. Jodon was the leader and spokesman for the strikers and he presented their demands for a 20 per cent increase. The men were given a hearing at the company offices and promptly told that their demands could not be met and that unless they returned to work at once their jobs would not be held for them. By Tuesday morning most of the men were back at work with the exception of half a dozen or more of the leaders and fomenters of the disturbance. They were discharged.

The plant was running as usual on Tuesday with practically all of the places filled.

This Week Twenty Years Ago.

The following appeared as an "Ink Sling" in the "Watchman":

Gen. Miles sailed for Europe on Tuesday, at the government expense, to study the foreign war situation and get a few pointers on the way the armies of England, France, Germany and Russia are organized. If he has a good time, that is his business, but we don't want to have any need for the information he might pick up.

And little did we think at that time where we would be at now.

William Horner was found dead in an outbuilding at his home on Nittany mountain.

Dr. Lawrence Colfelt, of State College, declined a call to the Congregational church at Cambridge, Mass.

Another Prisoner Escaped.

Another prisoner escaped from the western penitentiary in Benner township on Wednesday afternoon, making his get-away between two and three o'clock. He was one of the last carload of prisoners brought here from Pittsburgh only two weeks ago. The man's name is C. A. Wilson. He is 5 feet 11 inches in height, weighs 176 pounds and is 29 years old. He has light blue eyes, light chestnut hair, medium light complexion and of medium stout build. He was dressed in the regulation prison clothes. The man was sent up from Allegheny county.

—The Pittsburgh Collegians, a very fast team composed of some of the best players in the western part of the State, will be the Academy's opponents on Hughes field this (Friday) afternoon, at 2 o'clock. The game must be played early in order to allow the visitors to catch the 4:50 train for Altoona. A shift and a change has been made in the Academy's lineup which has materially strengthened the team and it is now believed they will be able to surprise the fans by their work in future games. Be sure to see this game.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. Thomas Mitchell, who are moving into the Thomas house on the corner of Allegheny and Curtin streets, have temporarily abandoned building their bungalow on Linn street.

—Oh, what pleasant hours you can spend when you have a Victrola. See us for Victor talking machines, records, and supplies.—Cohen & Co. 18-1t

Centre County Threshermen Meet.

The Centre county Threshermen and Farmers' Protective association held a meeting in the grand jury room of the court house at ten o'clock last Saturday morning. The meeting was presided over by the president, C. M. Tice. Twenty-one of the forty-one enrolled members were present, with a number of other farmers and threshermen who are not members. A liberal feature of this organization in its meetings, is that every man can have the right to speech but only members can vote.

Among the discussions at the meeting were such questions as the double tax on threshing rigs, increased cost of machinery, labor and supplies, and the added cost of boiler inspection imposed this year is making the threshermen "sit up and take notice" that the price of threshing must also be advanced this year.

The most vital question and the one demanding an immediate solution is that of the boiler inspection, as all boilers of agricultural engines must be inspected by July 1st, 1917. The executive committee was appointed to act in conjunction with the officers of the association in the selection of a competent boiler inspector and to look after any other matters that might require attention.

Secretary Isaac Underwood is desirous of hearing from every thresherman and owner of agricultural engines regarding the above important questions. When the meeting adjourned it was with the understanding that it was subject to convening at the call of the president.

—Mrs. Myrtle Fike, of Axe Mann, was sent to jail last Friday by "Squire S. Kline Woodring in default of $700 bail, on the charge of setting fire to the house of Mrs. Stover, her mother, which was burned at Axe Mann on the night of April 11th. Mrs. Stover and James Sommers were the witnesses for the prosecution. Mrs. Stover said the house was insured for $500, and that she paid the insurance. The policy contained a mortgage clause to cover $300 in the name of the holder of the mortgage, while the remainder was in the name of Myrtle Stover, her daughter. She said the house was in her name as long as she lived, and that upon her death it became the property of her daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Fike.
