

First Drawing to be Made Today.

Washington, July 18.—Advices today to Brigadier General Crowder, the provost marshal general, indicated that the national lottery to determine the order of liability of ten million registered for military service could be held on Friday (today). Preparations to make the drawing on that day went ahead rapidly although a final decision cannot be made until the last Governor has actually reported that the local exemption boards in his State have finished their task.

Details of the mechanism to be employed in the drawing have not been revealed. It is known definitely, however, that present plans are for the lottery to take place in the capitol building, with the members of the Senate and House military committees as witnesses. The entire proceedings is not expected to take much more than one hour.

General Crowder was in conference today with the newspaper correspondents over arrangements for the drawing. The press is relied upon to carry to individuals throughout the country the information as to when they will be required to appear before exemption boards and for that reason every effort is being made to suit the convenience of the papers as to details.

The task of transmitting the long list of numbers by telegraph is a problem of considerable proportions but the press associations and the telephone companies are making every effort to insure accuracy in transmission. There is more concern over the task of the individual newspapers after they receive by wire the results of the drawing. In large communities the problem of printing the serial numbers with the names of the men they represent in each district attached in one of staggering proportions.

All States except three, New York, Pennsylvania and Michigan, had reported their local lists numbered for the drawing when the provost marshal general's office closed to-night. Officials said they had reports to indicate that the States would report themselves ready to-morrow so the drawing could be held on Friday.

Governor Approves Bills of Interest to Centre Counties.

Harrisburg, July 17.—The township code prepared by the State Legislative Reference Bureau and presented in the House of Representatives by Mr. Siggins, of Warren, was approved by Governor Brumbaugh to-day. The bill codifies all laws relative to township government and is similar in general plan to the borough code of 1915.

The Governor also approved the Siggins House bill establishing a Bureau of Township Highways in the State Highway Department which changes the existing laws to comply with the provisions of the code.

The Rich House bill, requiring pool-rooms, billiard rooms and bowling and tennis alleys to be closed between 1 and 6 a. m. was approved. No person under eighteen years of age may be admitted to these places at any time. The act takes effect at once.

The anti-free lunch bill, which prohibits the furnishing of "anything of value as a premium or present to induce the purchase of liquors or for any other purpose whatsoever in connection with the sale of liquors," was signed by the Governor. It also forbids the offering of any premiums for returns of caps, stoppers, corks, stamps or labels from anything containing liquor. The act is effective at once.

The Baldwin bill providing that prisoners in county jails may be employed on county or almshouse farms was approved. The measure was drawn up by the State Board of Public Charities and the prisoners are to be amenable to the same discipline when working on farms as when they are in the prisons.

Two amendments to the school code were among the nine bills approved by Governor Brumbaugh. One provides that school districts may provide for the care of defective eyes and teeth of all their pupils and the other for taking a census of a district when added to another district and there is uncertainty about the school population. The court is to name the enumerator.

The Clinton Dispatch, of Lock Haven, went out of existence with its Wednesday issue, the paper having been merged with the Lock Haven Express. The semi-weekly Clinton Democrat and the weekly Clinton Republican will be published as heretofore. The cause for the merger was the necessity of enforcing retrenchments and conserving one good daily paper for that town.

Millais' "Trust Me."

A lady and gentleman were standing before a picture by Millais called "Trust Me," in which an elderly squire confronts his daughter, who holds a letter behind her back.

The picture admits of more explanations than one, for Mr. Millais had that rare faculty of putting blended expressions into his faces which puzzle us, as the expressions of real faces do.

But the one this gentleman was overheard giving his companion is as new, we are bound to say, to the painter as to our readers. "You see," he said, "she has got a letter in her hand which she is keeping back from the man in the red coat. Well, he is the postman and has just given her the letter. I suppose it's from abroad. She hasn't the money to pay the postage, so she says, 'Trust me.'"

The explanation was given with perfect gravity and in apparent good faith.—London Mail.

Grand Opera in 1680.

The following excerpt from Burney's "History of Music," published in 1776, describing the first performance of the opera "Bernice" in 1680, indicates that "there is nothing new under the sun," even in sumptuous staging of music dramas.

"There were choruses of 100 virgins, 100 soldiers, 100 horsemen in iron armor, forty cornets on horses, six trumpeters on horseback, six drummers, six ensigns, six great flutes, six minstrels playing on Turkish flutes and six others on octave flutes, six pages, three sergeants, six cymbalists, twelve huntsmen, twelve grooms, six coachmen for trumpeters, six others for the procession, two lions led by two Turks, two elephants led by two others, Bernice's triumphal car drawn by four horses, six other cars, with prisoners and spoils drawn by twelve horses, and six coaches for the procession.

Advice in Securing Riches.

Frederick Weyerhaeuser, America's one-time lumber king, who died a multimillionaire, once gave the following rules on how to get rich: "Make up your mind to work at something really worthy of work and work hard. The surest way to make money is to save money and to use what you have. Don't be afraid of long hours or constant attention to your work. Work can be made a joy, an economy, a pleasure, if you combine an object worth while with the determined ambition to win. Any young man can get rich, can succeed, if he saves, if he has a definite and honest purpose and is so filled with the purpose that work ceases to be a hardship and becomes a privilege."

Philadelphia's Big Clock.

The center of the dial of the clock on Philadelphia's city hall tower is 361 feet 1 1/2 inches from the ground level. The length of the minute hand is 10 feet 8 inches. The weight of the hand is 225 pounds. The weight of the dial frame with glass is five and one-half tons. The clock is equipped with a pneumatically operated thermostat for controlling an electric governor provided to protect it from extremes of temperature. The steel pendulums are inclosed in cast iron cases to protect them from magnetic influences.—Philadelphia Press.

Anatomy and Friendship.

"My dear," said the host to his wife as he started to carve the leg of lamb, "can't you give Mrs. Brown anything better than this cold meat?"

"Oh," cried Mrs. Brown, "that's all right, so long as it is cold leg and not cold shoulder!"—Christian Herald.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Flat Foot. Declaring that proper foot-wear will cure most cases of flat foot, a well known New York physician says: "Boots or shoes must be the shape of the foot, but it is not necessary to wear boots of an ugly shape to secure this primary essential. To insure that the big toe is not pushed out against the other toes + the inner side of the boot where + it lies is kept straight. The soles + should be a sixth to a fourth of + an inch thick and the heel broad, + an inch or less in height. If the + degree of flat foot be anything + more than the mere trace me- + chanical means are utilized to + throw the weight of the body, + distributed down the leg, slightly + outside the center of the ankle, + joint. To effect this the sole + and heel of each boot must be + thickened along its inner side by + a quarter, one-third or half an + inch, the amount depending + upon the severity of the case. + The worse the case the greater + the thickening."

Boring holes into the stumps of hard wood trees and filling these holes with equal parts of nitric and sulphuric acid will so soften the wood that it can be removed by ordinary picks. This has been demonstrated in Germany, and is the common treatment there of hard wood stumpsage.

They are all good enough, but the "Watchman" is always the best.
