Potato Shipments are Larger; Prices Higher Than Last Year.

With the season about a week late in most producing sections, fruits and vegetables, according to the weekly review of the Department of Agriculture, are abundant and are steadily increasing. Last week potato shipments from Virginia, Kentucky and Kansas are reported to have been 900 cars, and while the crop this year to date has been much larger than for the same period last year, prices are now $5 to $5.50 a barrel, as compared with $1.50 to $3 this time a year ago.

In the week ended July 17, 1,409 cars of Georgia peaches were shipped, and for the season to date, 3,250 cars, compared with 2,351 cars for the same time last year, while last year's entire crop was only 3,087 cars. As the season is late this year in Texas and Arkansas, especially, total peach shipments are below those of last year, with little difference in price, Alberta now jobbing at $1.50 to $2.50 per crate.

Thus far this season 11,824 cars of watermelons have been shipped, as against 10,170 cars up to this time a year ago, while canteloupe shipments total 6,227 cars, or 481 cars less than last year, yet this season's prices are lower.

Tomatoes also are more plentiful than a year ago, with shipments to date of 1,287 cars, compared with 1,140 cars up to July 17 last year. As regards onions, the output thus far this year shows a decrease, while cabbage is so plentiful as to be hard to market, even at $1 to $1.50 a barrel.

It is evident that truck garden acreage, which that cool melons, has been greatly increased by regular growers this year, and when their products come into competition with the vast acreage given over to war gardens, not yet fully productive in the Middle and Northern States, wholesale dealers say prices of many vegetables are likely to be lower than in many years.

College Will Have Charge of Food Demonstration Train.

Beginning July 23 and continuing until August 4, a food demonstration and exhibit train to be run by the Lehigh Valley Railroad company from Easton to Sayer will be in charge of members of the home economics extension staff of The Pennsylvania State College.

Sixteen stops will be made by this train as follows: Easton, July 23, 2 p. m.; South Bethlehem, July 24, 9:30 a. m.; Allentown, July 24, 2:30 p. m.; Slatington, July 25, 9:30 a. m.; Lehigh, July 25, 2:30 p. m.; Mauch Chunk, July 26, 2 p. m.; Hazleton, July 27, 2 p. m.; Pottsville, July 28, 2 p. m.; Wilkes-Barre, Pittston, July 30, 2 p. m.; Tunkhannock, July 31, 2 p. m.; Meshoppen, August 1, 2 p. m.; Laceyville, August 2, 2 p. m.; Standing Stone, August 3, 2 p. m.; Towanda and Sayre, August 4, 2 p. m.

Miss M. Jane Newcomb, Miss Martha S. Pittman and Mrs. M. L. McLean, of the State College staff will give canning and drying demonstrations each day and will answer any questions that may be asked.

There will be exhibits of canned goods, dried materials, food products, canning and drying apparatus, and charts suggesting food requirements and foundation menus. Incidental features include exhibits of children's clothing, house dresses and suitable samples of material to be used for different types of garments and sketches showing good and bad figure lines for clothing.

Guards Go South in Day Coaches; Will be Well Fed.

National guardsmen called out for training in southern tent camps, will be transported in day coaches, the War Department was advised, because of lack of tourist sleepers. Each train will be equipped with a kitchen car.

Army men are dubious about the time of encampment for many of the units.

Pennsylvania reported that all her supplies are on the sidings. West Virginia, being in the federal service, is all equipped and absence of reports to the contrary from other of the first called States indicates that the supply question is satisfactory.

The supply situation throughout the army is somewhat unsteady at present as national guard and regular army units are drawing on the goods as they come in. There is very little reserve in any branch.

The national guardsmen will be well fed. They will be able to have fresh beef, fresh bread potatoes and vegetables. The War Department has big meat contracts and has ordered vegetable and salmon canners to save out a certain percentage of their pack for army purposes.

It looks as if nobody in the world need lack for something to eat next year, if the crop promise of the United States for the coming harvest is fulfilled. According to the forecast of the Department of Agriculture, just issued, food crops this season will be greater by a billion bushels than last year. This does not take into account the thousands of home gardens that will produce their millions of bushels of potatoes and other vegetables. The Government's crop report is probably the severest blow that has been struck at Prussianism in several days, at least.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

Play and Sports Planned for the First Draft Army.

Uncle Sam will have all kinds of entertainment and sports for his first 500,000 drafted Sammies in cantonment camps this fall.

Chairman Raymond D. Fosdick of the War Department commission on training camp activities outlined to the United Press the program now nearing completion.

Each camp will have a monster theater. Broadway successes will tour them on a regular circuit.

Caruso, Farrar, John McCormick, ewski and other world famous artists will appear.

Mary Pickford, Charlie Chaplin, Douglas Fairbanks and kindred movie stars, including a brigade of vampires, will appear in person.

There will be picked vaudeville acts. Well known theatrical men will organize home talent shows, famous playwrights framing the plots.

To teach wrestling and boxing will be Frank Gotch, Mike Gibbons, Johnny Kilbane, Tom Gibbons, Johnny Dundee, Frank Moran, Fred Fulton, Jack Dillon, Kid McCoy, Packey McFarland, Jess Willard, Sam Langford and others. Boxing is fine bayonet training, the War Department has learned.

Such masters of the cult as Willie Hoppe will give exhibitions in the camp billiard halls.

A monster Y. M. C. A. building and another of equal size for the Knights of Columbus are being erected at each camp.

Branch libraries will be established by the American library commission. The government will install college professors to teach French, Italian and other languages. Intensive courses will be taught in any trade desired.

Sixty-seven War Department experts today are scattered through the towns near each cantonment, teaching the citizens their share in entertaining drafted Sammies on leave.

Small towns are practically being rebuilt and doubled in size by the War Department. At Junction City, Kan., near the Fort Riley 50,000 troop cantonment movies, club houses, swimming pools, bowling alleys, billiard halls and reading rooms are going up in addition to those at the camp.

A tate a soldier home to dinner campaign is being press-agented among the cantonment town citizens. Lodges are being equipped by the government to provide special entertainment for soldiers who belong to their respective organizations.

Dance halls are being built. Dances and parties will be constantly on the program.—Reformatory Record.

Will Soon Call Women.

A forerunner of the first call to be made by the Government for women munition workers in this State was issued last week from the Civil Service Commission in the Custom House.

It is a competitive examination for women as well as men to do inspection work in the 15 munition plants in the vicinity of New York to be taken over by the Government. Applicants are advised to ask for form 1,800 from the Civil Service secretary at the nearest first or second-class postoffice, or from H. C. Coles at the Custom House. Mr. Coles says the idea is to get several thousand intelligent men and women listed to be ready when needed. The work will demand that they have at least a public school education and be American citizens.

There is also an urgent need of several thousand women stenographers.

Pretend They are Popular.

It being a holiday the blandering man made calls with his wife. The first place they went the hostess said: "Julia is engaged."

"Is she, indeed?" said the man's wife radiantly. "Which one did she finally accept?"

The next place they were informed that Margaret was engaged, and again the man's wife beamed sympathetically and murmured: "Is she, indeed? Which one did she accept?"

At the third place they were of Bessie's engagement that was broken to them. As before, the man's wife put the question: "Which one did she finally take?" On their way home the man said: "Why did you ask 'which one' every time a new engagement was sprung on us? Are those girls so attractive that men are falling over each other in the scramble to get them for their wives?" "Not at all," said his wife.

Wee Girl a Beekeeper.

Beekeeping is one of the last things in the world in which one would expect a little girl to excel, yet Ethel Grace Leadon, of Sarrey, is among the most expert beekeepers in England. She is as skillful in driving a swarm of bees from one hive to another as is the most experienced veteran of the craft, and in taking combs from hives she is twice as successful as the average girl of two or three times her age. Little Miss Leadon is an active member of the Surrey Beekeepers' association, having a vote in all its affairs. In the exercise of her franchise, however, she is guided by her papa, from whom she learned all she knows about caring for the honey-makers.
