LIBERTY BONDS SOLD WELL. Over One Million Dollars' Worth Taken in Centre County.

Charles M. McCurdy, chairman of the Centre county Liberty Loan committee makes the following report of bonds sold within the county:

CHARLES M. McCURDY,

Of the above amount credited to Bellefonte $35,200 were sold by the committee appointed by the Burgess and the Board of Trade in the big pleasantly at the home of O. F. Stodrive made on Liberty Day, October 24th. This budget is probably the most gratifying of any because it represents the results of the work of a pite all the rain the Stover threshing large corps of workers who made a crew cleaned out an eight hundred house to house canvas in Bellefonte bushel job. during all the storm and rain of last Wednesday; and furthermore is the contribution of the common people, about that thief, (as we may say) who was seen by Mr. and Mrs. O. F. as the entire amount is made up almost entirely of $50 and $100 bonds. And it is because of these facts that both the solicitors and purchasers cannot be too strongly commended for their patriotism. Notwithstanding the fact that Centre county outside of Philipsburg had been apportioned $600,000, it must be confessed that although that mark was not reached the district did very well indeed. In fact this very liberal purchase of Liberty Bonds shows that Centre county has the patriotism to give her sons to fight for their country and give the money to keep them properly while they are doing it.

Little Bellefonte Girl Found Near Bellwood.

Small Game Scarce, Deer Quite Plentiful.

Centre county hunters have not enjoyed a profitable season so far, as small game such as squirrel and pheasant, seems unusually scarce. The rabbit season opened yesterday and as these frisky little animals are reported quite plentiful they may afford sport for the hunters until the opening of the wild turkey season on Bellefonte. To Inspect Fertilizer Experiments at

During the past two years the school of Agriculture at The Pennylvania State College has been conucting fertilizer experiments on Snow Shoe. School of Agriculture at The Pennsylvania State College has been conducting fertilizer experiments on abandoned farm land near Snow Shoe to see if it is possible to reclaim such land to such a degree that will make it worthwhile cultivating. The first experiment was made last year and another one has been made this year. In order to see just what has been done the college officials have invited state officials, members of the Board of Trustees, press representatives and prominent citizens to accompany them on a trip of inspection to the experimental plats on Friday of next week, November 9th. Autos will be provided to convey the visitors and the party will leave Bellefonte immediately after the arrival of the morning

Men of Pennsylvania to Renew Their Youth.

If the program, for fathers, in the observance of Father and Son day, Thursday, November 15th, is carried out as suggested, many staid business men will plunge, at least for the day, into the fountain of eternal youth.

Following are some of the things suggested for fathers to work out with their sons. Take a hike; get out on back lot and help kick the football around; join in with several other fathers and their sons for an "overnight" camp; go with boy to see a football game; have a frank friendly talk with the boy on matters of sex hygiene; get on a friendly, chummy basis with boy.

The purpose of Father and Son day is to challenge fathers throughout the entire State to give special thought to their real relationship to their sons.
