PINE GROVE MENTION.

Mrs. W. E. Johnson is in Lock Haven this week visiting her aged mother, Mrs. Wilson.

Mrs. Jane Houser, of Rock Springs, was the guest of Mrs. Sue Peters during the Chautauqua sessions.

S. S. Krumrine, wife and two interesting daughters were Sunday visitors with relatives in Centre Hall.

Lee Krebs, a Freshman at Penn State, spent the Sabbath with his uncle, W. E. Reed, on east Main street.

D. J. Johnson, who sustained serious injuries last Wednesday in a fall down the cellar stairs, is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Glenn, of Lemont, were Sunday visitors at the J. H. Williams home on east Main street.

J. Ray Goss, of the State College Times, spent the latter end of the week with his mother on west Main street.

Ira Corl is arranging to spend the winter in Asheville, N. C., in the hope of recuperating his badly shattered health.

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Cronover, of Samburg, were in town the latter end of the week taking in the Chautauqua.

A union Thanksgiving service will be held in the Reformed church on the evening of the 29th inst., Thanksgiving day.

Prof. A. C. Weaver, of Phillipsburg, spent Saturday with relatives in town prior to going to Bellefonte for the teachers' institute.

Farmer Pierce O'Bryan is making his way around on crutches, owing to an attack of sciatica, and at present is with his mother on Church street.

Rev. D. Y. Brouse, of Houtzdale, spent part of last week with his aged mother here, seeing that her larder and coal bin were well supplied for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Neidigh, of Patton, are the proud parents of a twelve pound baby boy and grandpa N. C. Neidigh is as happy over the advent as anybody.

J. A. Fortney and wife, of Walnut Grove, were in town on Friday on a business mission. Rumor has it that Mr. Fortney will occupy the Archey-Tate farm next season.

The Chautauqua held here from last Friday until Monday inclusive was a success in every particular, and three dozen guarantors promptly signed up to secure its return next year.

The Ladies Aid society of the Spruce Creek church will serve a chicken and waffle supper at the G. T. McWilliams home on Thanksgiving evening, to which the public is invited.

Grandmother Hess, of Bellefonte, is spending several weeks among friends in Ferguson, College and Harris townships, as well as taking an inventory of the crops on her various farms.

Washington Grange No. 157 had an overflow meeting on Saturday evening when twenty-two initiates took the first step in Grange work. During the past eighteen months 150 new members have been added to the roll of this Grange.

Last Friday evening while Dr. M. W. Neidigh was rounding a curve in the road near Franklinville in his Ford car a colt stepped in front of the machine. The latter was knocked down, had a leg broken and had to be killed. The radiator on the car was broken and it was otherwise damaged.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ishler of Bellefonte, R. F. D., and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Lytle motored to Altoona on Sunday and spent the day with the venerable William Stamm, who suffered a stroke of paralysis about ten days ago which affected his left side. Latest reports are in effect that he is somewhat improved.

Grandmother Maria Miller, widow of the late John W. Miller, celebrated her ninety-first birthday anniversary at her home near Stormstown last week. A number of her friends called to congratulate her on her health and she also received quite a number of kindly remembrances. Mrs. Miller has lived her entire life within a radius of a few miles.

John Peters, an old Centre countian who has been living in Missouri a number of years, spent about a month making the rounds of his friends throughout the State, coming here to attend the funeral of his sister, the late Mrs. Fromm. Before going west Mr. Peters was a member of the famous Modoc hunting club of Boalsburg and would have stayed for a hunt this fall could he have gotten a license, but the law saying otherwise he left for his western home on Friday.

Last Thursday evening Clyde Fishburn had an experience that gave him a clearer insight into combustion. He was filling his gasoline engine and carrying a lantern at the same time with the result that the gasoline ignited and the tank exploded. Final result was the burning of his implement shed, oil tank, binder, sled, sleigh, buggy and a lot of wood. He managed to save his automobile, though in doing so got his hands severely burned. Fortunately it was a calm evening and the barn was saved.

Wayne, the three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mayes, met with a serious accident on Monday morning when he fell into a kettle of boiling water and badly scalded his right arm and side. It being wash day Mrs. Mayes had taken the kettle of water from the stove and put it on the floor, turning away for a minute to do something else. Wayne was playing around the kitchen and in some way ran against the kettle and fell in. While his condition is not critical he is suffering great pain. Just about a year ago another of Mr. and Mrs. Mayes' children was badly burned and now this second mishap surely entitles them to the sympathy of the community.

TO FEED PENNSYLVANIA WITH PENNSYLVANIA CROPS

Public Safety Food Department Starts "Home-Growing For Home Consumption" Campaign to Make Counties Self-Supporting in 1918 — Curb Market System Will Provide For Local Distribution.

To feed Pennsylvania with Pennsylvania crops is the purpose of a campaign which has been undertaken by the Food Supply Department of the Pennsylvania Committee of Public Safety. Every agricultural district in the State has been asked to produce, in 1918, enough farm, garden, dairy and meat products, poultry, eggs and orchard fruit to feed itself.

A food survey is now in progress to determine the maximum home-growing capacity of each county. This survey will show which counties are capable of feeding themselves and contributing to the food supply of other neighboring counties. It will also list the counties which are unable to raise sufficient food for home consumption.

By stimulating the home-growing, home-feeding movement, far-reaching conservation of resources will follow. One benefit should be a big saving to communities by the elimination of costs in the handling and shipping of farm produce and in incidental transportation and commissions. With the State curbsystem in full swing next season distribution of all local products will be comparatively easy.

Food chairmen have been given an outline of the Committee's plan which may save millions of dollars to consumers and at the same time make the State self-supporting in many food staples. Instructions to the chairmen make this argument:

"It is imperative that the food production of 1918 follow those definite lines which will enable us to help solve the world's food crisis and win the war. This means a large dependence upon and use of farm and garden produce with a saving of meats and staples. It means that each district must produce those supplies which it can consume, so that the movement of food may not interfere with the movement of troops and supplies and the cost of food may not include unnecessary freight, handling and commission charges.

"The organization of food production in various districts cannot be accomplished by guess work. Every city and town in Pennsylvania is bringing in from a distance in unbelievable quantities, food which should be produced nearby. Home-grown food is frequently being shipped away at the same time that other supplies of food are being imported.

"In order to plan intelligently for the food supply for cities and towns in your district next year, you must have definite information covering the kind and quantity of food you are importing and which you should produce largely, and also of the kinds and quantities which are wasting and because of which you need help to find an outlet.

"The time to get this information is today, while the experience of the past harvest is fresh in your minds, so that the campaign for food production may be started well in advance of the planting season, and organizations for distributing may be prepared in advance of the pressing problems which always accompany the marketing of perishables.

"1918 may be the crucial year of the war. We dare not fall at this time. In years to come also the food problems will be more acute than ever, so that our work at this time must be thorough and permanent."

OAK HALL.

Many Rabbits Being Killed.

Many rabbits were killed in Centre county last Thursday, the opening day of the season, and most every day since hunters have been seen with rabbits. In fact they have been found so plentiful that with a good rabbit dog they can be found in most any part of the county. One of the nicest bunches seen so far was that secured by a party of western Pennsylvania hunters last Thursday and Friday. They had eighteen all told. Quite a number of hunters secured a half dozen or thereabouts while a few secured the limit, ten in number.

A few hunters report having seen one or two pheasants, but they are very scarce. A number of wild turkeys were seen, but the season for them will not begin until November 15th. In the meantime those hunters who want the sport as well as the game will devote their attention to running down the rabbit.

Interior Adornment.

"What has become of my cherry cream?" cried Mrs. Subbub.

"Your cherry cream," repeated the cook.

"Yes, my complexion cream."

"I thought that was some fancy paste you got for the party last night so I spread it on the sandwiches."

Whether meat is bad for rheumatism or not the meatless days ought to be introduced for the good they will do to the stomachs of the boys in the trenches.

Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Cleans the Blood Tones the Nerves

The gratifying results attending the faithful use of the new medicinal combination, Hood's Sarsaparilla, being eaten and Peptonin after eating, are seen in purer blood, stronger nerves, improved condition of the whole system.

They are results that make this course of treatment the most economical for sufferers from impure, impoverished blood, unsteady nerves—no other accomplish so much for each cent expended.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Peptonin aid each other, and to take both is to derive a four-fold benefit.

If a laxative is needed in connection with them, the gentle and thorough Hood's Pills should be used.

Nothing Doing There.

The seedy looking man took his seat at the table and scanned the menu.

"Waiter, I've only thirty cents on me. Now, what would you recommend?"

The waiter gently removed the card from his would-be patron's grasp.

"Another restaurant," he said.

Reaping Benefit

FROM THE EXPERIENCE OF BELLEFONTE PEOPLE.

We are fortunate indeed to be able to profit by the experience of our neighbors. The public utterances of Bellefonte residents on the following subject will interest and benefit many of our readers. Read this statement. No better proof of merit can be had.

Mrs. Katie Capani, 224 S. Allegheny St., Bellefonte, says: For about a year I suffered almost constantly from pains in my back. I had soreness across my loins and the doctor told me my kidneys were not acting properly. The trouble affected my sight and I could hardly read. Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention and as I had heard that they had done a lot of good for others I got a box. The first few doses relieved me of the awful pain in my back and I continued until I was entirely relieved. I have taken several boxes of Doan's since and they have kept my kidneys in good working order.

Price 60 cents at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Capani had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. 62-45
