DOWN NITTANY VALLEY.

Adam Fravel slipped and fell while loading ice one day last week, and in-jured his collar bone. He had it broken last fall and it was about healed, but this accident will keep him from work for some time.

Cold and snow, roads drifted and water getting low. We are having solid winter weather. The bus has been off for about a week, but the mail has been through nearly every day, and the trains have made regular time.

Mrs. J. H. Beck is spending several weeks with her daughter Ruth, Mrs. Weeks with ner daughter Ruth, Mrs.
G. Nevin Hoy, in West Philadelphia.
Mr. Hoy is employed by the Penna.
R. R. Co., in the signal service and they have a pleasant home in West Philadelphia.

The many friends of Mrs. Charles E. Emerick are glad to know that she has fully recovered from her injury. She slipped and broke an and/o here about the Holidays and has been confined to the house for some time, but is able to be out again.

On account of the condition of the roads Rev. Schultz did not go to Zion on Sunday for his morning appoint-ment, but preached in Snydertown in the morning instead of in the even-It takes pretty bad roads to stop ing. Mr. Schultz and we have an idea it was not his fault that he did not go, but taking the weather, roads and all into consideration, think he was wise in not going.

Coming down the valley one evening last week on the train on the Central R. R. of Penna., we were glad to meet Mr. John R. Thompson, of Sa-lona. Mr. Thompson is one of the ited over Sunday type of men it is a pleasure to meet at any time. Genial and big hearted; would there were more like him. He has been treasurer of his home county and has served honorably in other ways, and is now extensively engaged in the lumber business. He is specially fortunate in his family relations: One son is in business with him, another a cattle dealer-both men whose word is as good as their bond.

A welcome visitor one day last week was Mr. Tom Nearhood, of Grand Island, Nebraska. Tom, as we called him years ago, moved to Nebraska about twenty-five years ago from Nittany. He grew up with the country and is prosperous. He owns a quarter section of good land and his youngest son owns an adjoining 160 acres, which they have farm-ed together. They still had 3500 bushels of corn when he started east, son at Wilkes-Barre for several which is worth $1.25 per bushel there. But the boy has been called to the colors and will be obliged to leave the Mr. J farm and their plans are all off. Tom is a kind-hearted, jolly fellow and we were glad to greet him and to know he is prospering. We had the pleasure of reading a letter from J. Mac Emerick, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Emerick, who is Somewhere in France, connected with stone since beginning operations. the ambulance service. He had been a student at Bucknell, enlisted last spring and was trained at Allentown. He was sent over sometime last fall and has been in active service since landing, Of course, he said but lit-the about the war in his letter, only that he did not believe it would last another year. He appeared happy and in good spirits. He told about their methods of farming and the farms in France. He found them very different from what he had been aceustomed to at home. One of the in-eidents he mentioned concerned a comrade, whose home was in Sunbury, who received a batch of papers from home and among them was a "Watchman" and Mac said it was such a surprise, just like receiving a letter from home. It was a very interesting letter and we trust he may have the good fortune to return safely to his home and his many friends.
