

Let Us Make Health Contagious Instead of Disease.

72 Valvular heart-disease
51 Arterio-sclerosis

Or, out of eight deaths this month, 4 are from diseases of the heart and arteries, 2 from Bright's disease and nephritis, 1 from lung disease and 1 from cancer.

Out of a total number of 34 deaths in six months, January to June, 26 are adults over 25 years of age and the causes of death distributed as follows: 12 deaths from diseases of heart and arteries, 6 from lung diseases, 3 from Bright's disease or nephritis, 3 from cancer and 2 from diseases of liver and intestines.

In speaking of the mortality from the two chief types of lung disease—pneumonia and tuberculosis—Dr. Williams says, "If a report were to come from 'Somewhere in France' that six thousand American soldiers had been killed outright in the current week, we should all listen with bated breath. But the death of a corresponding number here at home—every week, year in and year out—causes no comment whatever." With the hope of interesting a certain number of readers—some, at least, of the half million individuals who are already in the toils of the "Great White Plague"—he tells of a new line of treatment that promises to aid in retarding the progress of the two deadly maladies from which twenty million people now living in the United States will ultimately die unless medical science deals more effectively with them in the future than it has been able to do in the past.

Believing with Dr. Williams that "Since four-fifths of us have cause, present or prospective, for personal interest in the matter, it seems worth while to take up in sequence a popular study of each of the five peculiarly fatal maladies of middle age with reference to the newest pronouncements of science regarding their causation, treatment, and in particular, prevention."

Grocers Must Sell Substitutes Also.

Philadelphia, January 30.—Howard Heinz, federal food administrator of Pennsylvania, today ordered that grocers who have no supply of recognized substitutes for white flour shall not be permitted to sell white flour until they get the substitutes. "It has come to the attention of this office," Mr. Heinz said, "that certain retail grocers, evidently unmindful of the law, are selling white flour without requiring an additional purchase of one-sixth the weight of flour in substitute cereals. That simply means that for every six pounds of white flour purchased, the buyer must take one pound of corn meal, corn starch, corn flour, hominy, corn grits, barley flour, rice, rice flour, oatmeal, rolled oats, buckwheat flour, rye, potato flour, sweet potato flour, soy bean flour or feretita flours or meals. "The United States food administration in Washington ruled that equal weights of substitutes must be purchased with white flour, but for the present in Pennsylvania grocers are required to sell only one-sixth substitutes."

Upon receipt of word from Washington today that there is a shortage in ammonia, which is being used for the manufacture of munitions, Mr. Heinz issued a statement urging that the use of ammonia for household purposes and for the maintenance of skating rinks, cold storage for furs and other uses that can be temporarily abandoned or for which other methods or materials can be substituted, be discontinued at once. "As the ice making machinery of the country may be affected by this shortage next summer, every storage place for natural ice should be utilized and encouraged," the statement said.

Hard Luck, John!

The French seeress who predicted the Paris flood also predicted that the Kaiser would die in England in 1930, an exile from his own land. This would give him a dozen years for repentance, but it would be tough on the British.

Parents of Soldiers, Attention!

Unless quick action is taken by fully 750,000 enlisted men, a large proportion of whom are Pennsylvanians, they will, should they be killed or disabled in service, deprive their families or dependents of millions of dollars that Uncle Sam is willing to contribute to their support.

They will lose this aid by failure to obtain protection of the War Risk Insurance. A time limit has been fixed for the issuance of this insurance. The Pennsylvania committee of Public Safety is authorized to announce that men who entered the service on or before October 15, 1917, will not be able to secure War Risk Insurance after February 12.

This protection is offered by the Bureau of War Risk Insurance of the United States Treasury Department and is backed by the entire resources of the nation. It is a form of insurance easily obtained. It is low-priced in proportion of the protection given. It is paid over in a way that safeguards a disabled man or his family for the term of his total disability and up to twenty years in case of permanent disability. Families, in event of an enlisted man's death, are protected for twenty years, by monthly benefits.

An enlisted man, aged 25, may be paying premiums of $6.60 a month secure in monthly sums of $57.50 a total of more than $10,000 paid to himself or his dependents in case of death or his permanent crippling by wounds or disease. The rate varies according to age and amount of insurance taken. As little as 63 cents per month will obtain some insurance.

War Risk Insurance is separate from the pensions and other compensations provided for by the Government and does not interfere with them in any way nor with service or retirement pay.

The insurance is strongly recommended by the Federal authorities. Families of enlisted men, who should be vitally interested in protection against after-hardships, are urged to see that their army and navy members secure it. Application blanks may be obtained by enlisted men from their commanding officers or from the insurance officers of their particular units.

Uncle Sam Wants Accountants at $2,400 to $6,000 a Year.

The United States government is in need of several hundred expert cost accountants to fill vacancies in the accounts section of the finance department of the equipment division of the Signal Corps, War Department, and in other branches, for duty in Washington, D. C., or in the field, according to an announcement just issued by the United States Civil Service Commission. The salaries offered range from $2,400 to $6,000 a year. Men only are desired.

The duties of appointees to the Signal Corps will consist of the determination of production costs of airplanes and airplane motors, either as supervisors in charge at one or more of the several plants, or as assistants, or appointees may be assigned to duty in Washington, D. C.

Applicants will not be assembled for a written examination, but will be rated upon the subjects of education and experience, as shown by their applications and corroborative evidence.

The Commission states that on account of the urgent needs of the service applications for these positions will be received until further notice and that papers will be rated promptly and certifications made as the needs of the service require.

Gen. Wood and Two Other Officers Wounded.

Washington, January 27.—General Pershing cabled the War Department today that Major General Wood had been slightly wounded in the arm by an accidental explosion in France which killed five French soldiers and slightly injured two other American officers, Lieut. Col. Charles E. Kilbourne and Major Kenyon A. Joyce. Secretary Baker announced the accident in this statement: "A cable despatch from the headquarters of Gen. Pershing states that an accidental explosion occurring today killed five French soldiers and slightly injured Major General Wood in the arm, Col. Charles E. Kilbourne in the eyes and Major Kenyon A. Joyce in the arm."

It is understood the message was brief and gave no further details. Gen. Wood's tour would carry him both to the front and to the American training camps behind the lines, but there is no indication as to where the accident occurred.

All of the divisional commanders have been or will be sent to Europe for brief periods. Gen. Wood, commanding Camp Funston, Kansas, went over several weeks ago.

MOTHER LOVE AND PRUDENCE.

A Word of Advice From Mrs. Tillman of Lock Haven, Pa.

My daughter Winifred, who is 9 years old, was troubled with weak kidneys and bed wetting. At first I thought it due to carelessness and used severity with her, but that seemed to do no good. No matter what precautions were taken before retiring, the results were always the same. I took her to several doctors, who said it was due more to nervousness and bladder trouble than to kidney trouble. Also that the only cure was time,

JAMES SCHOFIELD, one of the best known and most respected citizens of Bellefonte.

His highest integrity and stable character reflects the beauties of these ever-abiding hills, and his genial nature is like unto your sparkling fountain. To know him is to like him. Mr. Schofield has with honor represented the people of Centre county twice in the Legislature, and for several years has been afflicted with rheumatism. He has decided to try nature's best of remedies, Goldine Alterac, which is a remedy composed of herbs, roots and barks, from nature's garden. If you want to know what Goldine Alterac can do, ask Mr. Schofield, for his word is as good as his bond.

Mr. I. S. FRAIN, an old and well known resident of Nittany, has for a number of years been seriously troubled with kidney and bladder trouble. Mr. Frain has been troubled so much that he could not rest at night; would have to get up six or seven times at night; accompanied with a distressed feeling. He is much pleased to find a remedy like Goldine Alterac which he is now taking. If you have any doubts about the virtue of Alterac, just ask Mr. Frain about it.

and that she would grow out of it in a year or so. There was not a night the child could sleep in any degree of comfort. So when I heard of Goldine I went to the Kreamer Drug Store and had a talk with the Goldine man. He advised the use of Goldine Alterac. The results were better than I expected. I have given my daughter less than a bottle and it has stopped that condition entirely, it occurring only once after she started to take the medicine.

If any mothers are having the same trouble with their children, I would be glad to have them talk to me about it, as I can tell them more about Winifred's condition before and since taking Goldine than I can write.
