

United Brethren College Campaign.

Last Sunday the United Brethren church launched a great campaign to raise $2,000,000 for educational purposes, to increase its student enrollment by 2000, and add 500 graduates to its total of christian workers. The territory co-operating with Otterbein College is assigned one-fifth of these objectives.

The Allegheny conference, of which Bellefonte is a part, will raise $60,000 by May 9th, when the campaign will close.

The campaign is in charge of a general committee, of which Bishop Matthews, senior Bishop of the U. B. church, is chairman, and Dr. Clippinger, president of Otterbein College, is director. The conferences are so organized that every man, woman and child will be reached. Outside friends who are interested in the college will also be solicited.

The Rev. T. Hugh MacLeod is chairman, and Mr. Darius Waite the leader of the Bellefonte district. The effort for students and christian workers will continue throughout the quadrennium.

What the Pennsylvania Red Cross Has Done.

The following item from Clippings, a Red Cross magazine, is of interest to the public as it gives an idea of the vast amount of work being done by this organization:

"A new record for production in the Pennsylvania division was established during January. Surgical dressings, 1,533,307; hospital garments, 183,888; sweaters, socks, mufflers, etc., 87,809.

The best part of it is that the surgical dressings and hospital garments have already been sent abroad, while the knitted outfits have been distributed to the navy and the camps and cantonnments in this country."

Annual Meeting of Bald Eagle Telephone Company.

The annual meeting of the Bald Eagle Telephone company was held at Howard last week and the following board of directors elected: Ellis L. Orvis, of Bellefonte; Dr. Walter Kurtz, Howard; N. H. Yearick, Jacksonville; Albert Bitner, Blanchard; and George Peters, of Beech Creek, the latter to take the place of W. A. Batchelet, deceased. The directors decided to improve the service the coming summer by rebuilding a portion of the lines between Howard and Orviston and Howard and Mill Hall, the material for doing so being now on hand.

WAR

See the Great Italian Battle Front.

The most stupendous picture of the great war yet offered the American people. They are heroic rather than interesting; absorbing in their revelations of war as it is today. God set the scenes, great armies enact them. Do not fail to avail yourself of this wonderful opportunity to see this amazing panorama of the greatest war of all history. At the Scenic today (Friday) matinee and evening. Matinee 2:30, prices 10 and 25 cents. Evening 6:30, price 25 cents.

Breon-Sliker.—Leonard Breon, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Breon, of Axe Mann, and Miss Helen Sliker, a daughter of Mrs. Mary Sliker, of Milesburg, were married at the Methodist parsonage in Milesburg at eleven o'clock yesterday morning by the pastor, Rev. W. A. Lepley. Immediately after the ceremony the young couple came to Bellefonte and later left on the 1:26 train for a wedding trip to Williamsport. Returning the bride will spend a few weeks at her home before going to join her husband at Hyde City, where he is employed.

Road Supervisors' Meeting.

The annual meeting of the road supervisors of Centre county will be held in the court house, Bellefonte, Pa., on Friday, March 1st, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. A full attendance is desired as business of importance regarding the upkeep of the roads throughout the county will be up for discussion as well as other matters in which the supervisors are interested.

—Mrs. John Quinn, of Pennsylvania Furnace, has received word that her son, LeRoy Gates, has arrived safely in France. The young man is an electrician having graduated from the New York Electrical college and before his enlistment was employed at the Standard Steel works, Burnham. His first work in France was to help wire and put in operation an artificial ice plant. The plant, when finished, will be the largest of its kind in the world and will be used for manufacturing ice for the American army in France.

—Andrew Johnson, aged fifty-three years, of Port Matilda, employed as a carpenter in the Tyrone car shops, was painfully injured on Monday afternoon when a board he was cutting slipped and threw his left hand in contact with the circular saw. The first, third and fourth fingers were painfully lacerated, two of them so badly that it was found necessary to amputate them, at the Altoona hospital, to which he was admitted for treatment.

Rev. Hughes Receives Letter from Old-time Pupil.

A few weeks ago there appeared in the Philadelphia Ledger a picture of the venerable James P. Hughes, principal emeritus of the Bellefonte Academy, with a brief sketch of his life. A few days later a very interesting and reminiscent letter came to Mr. Hughes from Mr. L. S. Lake, of Memphis, Tenn., enclosing the picture and article referred to and expressing the writer's feelings of satisfaction and congratulation that his old instructor at the Edge Hill school in Princeton, N. J., in 1855—1860 had been spared to celebrate his ninetieth birthday.

An interesting correspondence followed and a catalogue of the Academy was sent Mr. Lake. Subsequently to the receipt of the catalogue Mr. Lake, now seventy years of age, wrote a most complimentary letter to Mr. James R. Hughes stating that he had examined many school catalogues from schools in many States, and that the Bellefonte Academy catalogue was the most beautiful one, both as to style and color effect, he had ever seen.

It might be interesting to note that the catalogue is published each year by the "Democratic Watchman" printing department.

—On Sunday Thad Hamilton celebrated his eighty-second birthday anniversary very quietly at his home on east Howard street, and we venture the assertion that the whole State of Pennsylvania cannot produce another octogenarian like Mr. Hamilton. Bellefonte has a number of residents who have passed their four score years but not one of them retains the vigor of manhood to the same extent that Mr. Hamilton does. Every day he works in his planing mill in the rear of his home or looks after his business interests at State College, and as for looks, he could pass anywhere for a man of sixty years. In fact he told the writer on Tuesday that he felt young enough to go down to Philadelphia and enlist for work at the ship building plant at the Hog Island navy yard, and offered to bet that he could get a job. And if he did the "Watchman" would back him for a day's work against any man half his age. Mr. Hamilton, by the way is the next to the oldest native of Bellefonte, the oldest native being John P. Harris, who is eighty-four.

What $750,000 Worth of Spiritual Service Means.

The budget of the National Lutheran Commission for one year's wartime service is higher than that of most Protestant denominations. It is higher because the Commission is laying greater emphasis on personal service and ministrations. Where the men are, there the church must be; especially amid the complexities of camp life and the rapid shifting of troops.

The emphasis on personal service is brought out very clearly by glancing at the detailed budget. It is made up as follows:

1. Equipment for chaplains	$25,000
2. Secretaries' salaries and expenses	18,000
3. Camp Pastors' salaries and expenses	400,000
4. Assistance to churches and camps	40,000
5. Interned Aliens	20,000
6. Work in France	50,000
7. Buildings	125,000
8. Literature	35,000
9. Office expenses	12,000
10. Emergency expenses	25,000
Total	$750,000

The items "chaplains," "camp pastors," "assistance to churches," "work in France," totalling more than two-thirds of the entire budget, are distinctly personal service.

Millions have been spent to provide buildings and equipment for social, recreational and religious activities in the camps. Every camp has its Y. M. C. A. huts, "the touch of home that goes with the men." In nearly 70 camps there are the halls of the Knights of Columbus. The Postwick Commission is vigorously pushing the erection of soldiers' clubs, camp theatres, and community halls.

Many camps have Protestant chapels. Camp Dodge, Iowa, has a Lutheran Brotherhood building. The conviction is rising to the forefront among well informed men that building and equipment facilities are ample, that the great need at present is consecrated man power of the highest type to inspire the men with the colors by their presence and by their service. At a conference in New York city recently, Mr. Ward, the Y. M. C. A. man made the statement:

"We have enough buildings to take care of any emergency. We need men. And if we don't get them, or don't get the highest type, our buildings will be of little use."

The National Lutheran Commission has aimed to add to the man-power in the camps that is working to maintain the spiritual values. It has canvassed the church to get the men best fitted for the work. In many cases they were serving large congregations. Their congregations were persuaded to release them or give them a furlough because the work with the army was considered more important than any work of the church at present. Prof. Charles M. Jacobs, D. D., of Mt. Airy Seminary, Philadelphia, Pa., stated the sentiment of the church recently. He said:

"Any one who is not willing to make any, even the greatest sacrifice, personal or material, in this emergency is committing the sin of the centuries."

The personal service in the camps has meant much to the men in camp, to the mothers and fathers at home.

—Women in Japan are being employed as dockers, and particularly so at the port of Tsuruga, a halfway point between America and Petrograd. These women smoke and wrestle with huge boxes and packages that often seem certain to overtax their strength. Much of the supplies for the Russian army pass through that port and are handled by women.

Winter Not so Cold, Says Weather Expert.

Weather prophets and oldest inhabitants of Pennsylvania who don't remember more severe winters than the present one are confronted with cold figures to strengthen their recollections. Dr. William Frear, chief weather observer at the State College observatory, says weather memories are notoriously uncertain. He quotes statistics gathered there in the last thirty-eight years showing that neither the snow fall nor the low temperature were record-breakers. He dug into the files to find this evidence:

The snow fall for December last was thirteen inches, and for January almost twenty-six inches. Ten times, he declared, since 1880 the December figure has been exceeded. He cited the years of 1880, 1890, 1898, 1903, 1906 and 1910 as having heavier snow falls. During that time the heaviest snow fall in any one year came in 1890, when more than thirty-two inches came in December. In January, 1910, he pointed out, almost thirty-seven inches of snow fell, an amount one-half greater than was experienced last month.

The minimum temperature for December last was 13 degrees below zero, according to Doctor Frear's tabulation, and it came on the 30th. He concedes that to be the lowest mark for an December since 1880.

The low point during January was 8 degrees below zero. In 1886 and 1912, 17 degrees below was recorded during the corresponding month. In other previous years 15, 13 and 10 degree marks were touched at various times. On eight different days last month, said Doctor Frear, the mercury dropped to zero or below. His records show this condition equaled on two occasions, in January of 1893 and 1912.

Doctor Frear said the average temperature for December last was 10 degrees below normal for that month on other years. For last month the average was 12 degrees below normal.

At the end of December, he said, three inches of snow remained on the ground. The snow was ten inches deep when January came to an end, Doctor Frear added.

"Don't Answer"

When doubt exists as to the accuracy of such a report by the telephone operator, there are three things to bear in mind.

First, that it is much easier and quicker for her to ring the called telephone than to make such a report back to the person calling.

Second, that people these days are out and about town on a great variety of uncommon war-time undertakings, frequently leaving their homes and offices with no one to answer the telephone.

Third, sometimes a minor and temporary disarrangement of the called telephone prevents the bell from ringing.

Be assured that the operators are trying hard to do their part and that their efforts justifies full confidence and consideration.
