THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTRY

—Col. H. S. Taylor on Tuesday moved his office from Temple Court into the Eagle block.

—Dr. Yoder is the name of a young dentist who has taken the office of the late Dr. H. W. Tate.

—"Once seen never forgotten," is what is said of Bell's Famous Hawaiians who will give a musical treat in the opera house next Thursday evening.

—Go to the opera house on Thursday night of next week and see the Princess Lehua in her native Hawaiian dances. She will both interest and amuse you.

—An examination for clerk-carrier in the postoffice service will be held at the Bellefonte office on April 13th. Application blanks can be secured by applying to the secretary of the local board at the Bellefonte office.

—In our list of movings last week we stated that Clyde Shutt, of Runville, "was moving into one of the houses of Conrad Miller on Wilson street," when it should have been one of the houses owned jointly by Mr. Miller and Mr. John Mignot.

—The members of the family of the late P. J. McDonnell, of Unionville, desire to publicly express their sincere appreciation and heartfelt thanks to their friends and neighbors for their kindness and assistance rendered during the illness and funeral of their departed husband and father.

—Mr. and Mrs. William J. McGowan, of Spring Creek, have announced the engagement of their daughter Marie to Joseph Barry Case, of Washington, D. C., the wedding to take place in June. The bride-to-be is a professional nurse and has been located in Washington for several years.

—Dr. W. R. Heaton, of Philipsburg, has approved and accepted the plans and specifications of architect Anna M. Keichline for the new home he intends building for himself in that city. The house will be of pressed red brick 48x40 feet in size. It will contain fourteen rooms with a finished basement and attic.

—In another column of this paper will be found an advertisement of the S. & H. green trading stamp company, announcing the fact that while the store in this place has been abandoned an agency has been established at H. C. Yeager's shoe store, so that books will be redeemed in the future as they have been in the past.

—The Waddle Amateur Dramatic company will repeat their play, "Deacon Dubbs," in the town hall at Julian next Monday evening at 8 o'clock for the benefit of the Red Cross. This company of players gave the same entertainment at Waddle last Friday evening and were very much appreciated, hence there should be a big turnout at Julian. Price of admission will be but 25 cents.

—Easter Sunday was about as perfect a day as could be expected this time of year, with the sun shining brightly all day and just warm enough that heavy wraps were not needed. The result was all the churches were well attended to hear the special Easter services, notwithstanding the fact that the clocks were turned ahead an hour and it required everybody to get around in the morning to be on time.

—Dr. Hugh L. Fry, a former Centre county boy and a graduate of the veterinary school at the University of Pennsylvania in the class of 1909, and who has been located in Indiana the past four years doing special work for the government, has been transferred to Jackson, Miss., where he will be engaged in laboratory and field work. Dr. Fry is a son of Capt. W. H. Fry, of Pine Grove Mills, and being a regular chip of the old block will make good in anything he undertakes.

—William Groh Runkle has been held up in the remodeling of the McClain house on north Allegheny street, which he recently purchased, on account of delays in getting the necessary lumber and as he was compelled to vacate the Boer property he moved the latter part of last week into the rooms in Crider's Exchange vacated by Dr. Thornley's. And on Sunday afternoon Mrs. Runkle presented him with a little daughter which he already thinks is the finest girl in town. So it can be seen that the ex-District Attorney is very fortunately located, because when he is not busy with clients on the second floor of the Exchange he can go to the third floor and amuse his little daughter.

—Lest the people of Bellefonte overlook the fact attention is again called to the fact that in just two weeks the Bellefonte Academy minstrels will give their big entertainment for the benefit of the Red Cross. It will be a good, clean show with plenty of humor, full of catchy music, etc. Watch for the girls in costumes of the Allied countries who will act as ushers, and the big, spectacular war drama. Last minute war news will be announced during the evening. A big street parade led by Our Boys band of Milesburg will be held at noon on Thursday, April 18th. Ladies in Red Cross costume will also be a feature of the parade. The chart will be open at Parrish's drugstore at noon on Tuesday, April 16th. Seats in the two front rows in the gallery will be 50 cents.

A MESSAGE DIRECT FROM FRANCE

Thousands of Centre Countians Flocked to Hear Lieutenant Perigord's Message to Americans. Senator Tustin Made a Strong Appeal for Unity in Support of the Government.

Not in many years has there been such an outpouring of the people of Centre county as that which flocked to Bellefonte on Wednesday evening to attend the big patriotic rally and hear the splendid talks of Senator E. L. Tustin, of the Speakers' Bureau, Philadelphia, and Lieut. Paul Perigord, the Hero of the Marne and Verdun, on the vital issues confronting the American people today on account of the great war in which we are engaged for the sake of humanity. And if every man, woman and child will profit by what they heard and resolve to do their very utmost in support of the government there will be no cause for complaint about the part Centre county will take in the stupendous work in which the country is now engaged.

Senator Tustin and Lieut. Perigord arrived in Bellefonte on the Lewisburg and Tyrone train on Wednesday morning and were met by a number of representative citizens of the town, the gentlemen being the guests while here of Col. W. Fred Reynolds. The two gentlemen made their first public appearance at eleven o'clock when they talked to the school children in the court house. Over eight hundred children from the public schools and close to two hundred from the parochial school were present, crowding the court house to the doors. The high school orchestra was present and the meeting opened with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner." Both of the distinguished gentlemen spoke briefly after which the meeting closed with the singing of "America." Senator Tustin took occasion to congratulate the members of the orchestra and the school children generally on their splendid music, saying it excelled anything he had ever heard.

At four o'clock in the afternoon both Senator Tustin and Lieut. Perigord addressed the members of the Public Safety committee of Centre county, who were in attendance almost to a man, and at the close of this meeting they were taken by Col. Reynolds to State College where they were guests of Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Sparks for dinner and at 6:45 o'clock they talked to the students and public generally in the Schwab auditorium, returning to Bellefonte in time for the evening meeting, or more correctly meetings, as the court house would not hold the large crowd and it became necessary to secure the opera house, also, and it was packed to the doors.

The crowd began gathering early coming to Bellefonte by automobile, even from Lock Haven, and fifteen minutes after the court house was opened it was jammed to the doors and hundreds were clamoring for even a place to stand. It was then that the opera house was secured and it was likewise soon filled. The speakers arrived from State College shortly after eight o'clock and at first demurred against making speeches at the two meetings but finally consented and Senator Tustin spoke in the court house while Lieut. Perigord talked to the crowd in the opera house.

In his various talks here Senator Tustin emphasized the fact that the people must stand back of the government in every demand made if the war is to be won, and the bigger the response to every demand made the quicker the war will be won. He told his audiences that it was the United States that stemmed the German drive into Italy, not with implements of war but with sixteen ship-loads of wheat rushed across the Atlantic to the relief of the Italians who were suffering with hunger. He further made the statement that in the last ten weeks not a shipload of supplies or foodstuffs shipped abroad from this country has been lost, so well is the government safeguarding the transportation of both men and supplies. He further stated that while he is in favor of the farmer getting a good price for his grain, yet this is no time to quibble about prices; love of country and patriotism ought to be foremost in every man's mind and there should be no holding back either of foodstuff or of money. He also emphasized the necessity of investing in the third Liberty loan, not only as a patriotic duty but because it will be a good investment.

In introducing Lieut. Perigord Senator Tustin stated that when the war broke out on August 1, 1914, the lieutenant was writing a thesis at Harvard. He heard the call to arms sounded for France on August 5th and was in the trenches by the 25th, taking his place as a private. He won the French cross at the battle of the Marne and has since had five stars added for deeds of special valor. When the Germans undertook to take Verdun Lieut. Perigord was with the brigade that stemmed the tide and turned defeat into victory. Of the six thousand men assigned to hold a fort until reserves could be brought up only 1400 survived and every officer of rank had been shot down. As Lieut. Perigord's captain fell mortally wounded he gave Perigord his sword and told him to take charge and it was he who led the final charge, drove the Germans back and captured several hundred prisoners.

Lieut. Perigord is a man small in stature, pleasant faced with a keen eye and quick wit. He spoke with a pronounced French accent, but in very good English. The message he is giving to the people of the United States and the one he brought to Centre county must be heard to be appreciated. It is not only what he said but the way he said it that carried conviction to every heart. The Lieut. is not on a mission of flattering the vanity of the general public but spoke plain truths and spoke them very emphatically. He told his hearers that now is no time to wrangle and criticize the action of the government, no matter what is done. That it is every man's duty to not only do his bit, but to do his utmost. He stated that France had mobilized seven million men and given of her wealth unstintingly. To do as good the United States will have to furnish 20,000,000 men, and yet some people are complaining already and we have only mobilized 1,500,000. He asserted that this is not only France's war, or Belgium's, or Italy's, but the United States, as well. That England and France and Italy have been fighting our war for us and all that they ask is that we will now do our part with them. Foodstuffs are needed, and the resources of this country have hardly been touched. He referred to the United States army as being composed of the best looking body of soldiers he had ever seen, but he also stated that it took time to teach them the science of modern warfare, just as it took the French and English time to learn it. He referred to General Pershing's visit to the tomb of Lafayette and his speech of four words when he said: "Lafayette, we are here," characterizing it as the greatest speech of the war, closing his talk with recounting a few interesting incidents of the battle front.

As a compliment to the lieutenant notwithstanding the density of the crowd in the evening, and the length of time they waited for his message not a man or woman left the house until he finished his speech and many regretted that he could not have talked longer.

Notwithstanding the fact that he talked five times on Wednesday he was up early yesterday morning and held mass in the Catholic church before leaving with Senator Tustin for Clearfield.

Before departing Senator Tustin stated that he had talked in forty-six out of the sixty-seven counties of the State but in no one had he witnessed anything like the demonstration given him and Lieutenant Perigord on Wednesday; and now if the people of Centre county will show the same patriotism in every line of war work their mission here will not have been in vain.

Red Cross Base Ball League Organized.

A meeting of base ball fans was held in the grand jury room in the court house on Tuesday evening and a Red Cross base ball league organized the purpose of which is in the nature of a benefit for the Red Cross. The league is to be composed of teams from the three wards of the town and the schedule will include two games a week to be played on Hughes field. The nominal price of ten cents admission will be charged, the proceeds to go for the benefit of the Red Cross. The players are to be residents of the ward in which the team is located and there will be no age limit. The officers elected are as follows:

- President—J. M. Cunningham. Vice President—J. Frank Smith. Secretary—H. J. Jackson. Treasurer—John Curtin. The ward committees of the organization of the several teams are as follows: North ward—Harry Keller and John J. Bower. South ward—J. Mac Heinle and Harry Ruhl. West ward—A. Linn McGinley and George Hazel.

Rules and regulations for the government of the league will be drawn up and a provisional schedule made out, announcement of which will be made in the near future. Inasmuch as it will be entirely a local affair very little expense will be connected with the enterprise and the projectors hope in this way to raise considerable money for the Red Cross.

In these days it is pretty hard to tell when a stranger makes his appearance in a community just who he is. Last Friday a United States Marshall went to Philipsburg and got a man who had been working at the Chester Hill brick works who proved to be Karl Fatschell, a German, who was a fireman on the German liner Kaiser Wilhelm de Grosse, which was caught in an American port when the world war broke out in 1914. Fatschell escaped internment and his whereabouts were unknown until he was discovered at Chester Hill through the registration of enemy aliens. Inasmuch as he had been well behaved the only charge that will likely be lodged against him is that of evading internment.

W. S. MALLALIEU TRANSFERRED

Changes Made in Local Managers of Bell Telephone Company.

Announcement of various changes in the organization of the Bell Telephone company of Pennsylvania in the Williamsport district has been made by district manager, K. C. Raup, among which is the transfer of local manager C. W. Heilhecker, of Lock Haven, to Bellefonte to succeed W. S. Mallalieu, who has been appointed as local manager at Williamsport to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of the late Samuel G. Smead.

Mr. Charles O. Strohm, of Carlisle, has been advanced from commercial representative to the position of local manager at Lock Haven. He has been with the company since 1911, and was educated in the Carlisle schools.

Mr. Heilhecker's appointment to Bellefonte is the result of his excellent efficiency and good work as local manager at Lock Haven, and the change is distinctly an advancement for him. Mr. Heilhecker entered the employ of the company in 1909. He was educated in Hanover, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Heilhecker and daughter will immediately take up their residence in Bellefonte.

Mrs. Warfield Wins Case Against Kato Coal Co.

Judge Albert W. Johnson, of Lewisburg, last week filed his opinion and decree in the case of Emily Harris Warfield vs. the Kato Coal Co., et al., being an action in equity to recover on the shares and value of stock held by her husband, the late Frank Warfield, in the Kato Coal company at the time of his death and prior to the reorganization of the company in June, 1913. The judge filed a lengthy opinion in the case reviewing the facts as gleaned from the testimony taken before him and the arguments in the case, as well as quoting the law points covering the issue at hand, after which he appended the following decree:

And now, March 30, 1918, after argument of counsel, and upon due consideration, it is finally ordered, adjudged and decreed that the action of Thomas F. Kelley, Isaac S. Norris, Wm. K. Wrigley, Augustus C. Wolf, Wm. Wingart and The Kato Coal company at the special meeting of June 3, 1913, forfeiting the stock of the plaintiff, is null and void, and is hereby cancelled and set aside, and the Kato Coal company by its Board of Directors is ordered and decreed to execute and deliver to the said plaintiff a certificate for sixty-five shares of capital stock of the Kato Coal company upon payment by her of any sum of money due from the estate of Frank Warfield, deceased, to the Kato Coal company under the terms and conditions of the agreement of November 9th, 1910, and the said Thomas F. Kelley and the Kato Coal company are ordered to account to the plaintiff for the shares of the profits of the Kato Coal company from the date of the organization until the present, due the estate of Frank Warfield, deceased, to enable the plaintiff to determine how much, if any, she must pay the Kato Coal company in satisfaction and payment of her portion of the mortgage held by the Bellefonte Trust company against the said property of the Kato Coal company. The costs of this proceeding are ordered to be paid by Thomas F. Kelley, Isaac S. Norris, Wm. K. Wright, Augustus C. Wolf, William Wingart and the Kato Coal company.

Lucasavage Held for Trial.

Bill Lucasavage, the big Lithuanian of Clarence, was held under one thousand dollars bail for trial at the next term of court at a habeas corpus hearing on Tuesday morning on the charge of causing the death of Joe Berbitska, in a general fight at Clarence on the evening of March 16th.

While a good many witnesses had been summoned for the hearing only four were heard and the story told by them differed somewhat from the story told on the ground the night of the killing. Each of the witnesses testified that Lucasavage had been an uninvited guest at the housewarming, and that when the fight started they had seen him strike Berbitska with a stone which he held in his hand, although none of them knew the man had been killed until his dead body was found some time later.

All the witnesses denied, however, that the origin of the fight was a discussion over the Russian-Germany situation, but admitted that there had been some ill will between Berbitska and Lucasavage. When four witnesses had been heard the court announced that in its opinion the man was not guilty of a first degree offense yet the evidence seemed sufficient to hold Lucasavage for trial and bail was fixed in the sum of one thousand dollars, which was promptly given.

Walker during their stay in Bellefonte. Mrs. Nolan and Mrs. Johnson will leave here today with Mrs. Willis Weaver, expecting to visit until Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Weaver at Windber.

Deserters Arrested.

Sheriff Yarnell went down to Eagleville yesterday and arrested Raymond T. Maxon, sometimes known as Raymond T. James, on the charge of desertion. Maxon enlisted at Williamsport in Company D, 100th U. S. Infantry and was in training at Camp Hancock. Though he spent most of the time during the past six weeks at Eagleville the direct act for which he is classed as a deserter is leaving camp on March 25th without a furlough or leave of absence.

On March 21st two young men who gave their names as J. W. Taylor and M. J. Curry, and who claimed to be marines from the battleship Oklahoma, were arrested in Lock Haven for illegal train riding and were given twenty days in the Clinton county jail. Some time on Wednesday morning they broke jail and came to Bellefonte. They were soon picked up by the police and landed in jail. The Lock Haven authorities were notified and Sheriff Cupper came here and took the young men back yesterday, and now they will not only have to answer to the charge of jail breaking but it is likely they are deserters as well.

—Christ Decker is critically ill at his home on Bishop street.
