101 GERMAN LIES.

Following is another installment of the 101 German lies run to earth by the St. Louis Republic and reprinted here for the benefit of "Watchman" readers:

LIE No. 60. This story was freely circulated last week: That men at Camp Funston are so poorly cared for and are so despondent because of their unwillingness to serve in the army that they end their lives by throwing themselves under trains.

(This is so plainly a lie that denial is not necessary. However, soldiers on permission in St. Louis say their fare is excellent and their treatment also. No deaths can occur in the camps, without the news becoming known immediately. Newspaper correspondents at the camps do not report any such loss of life).

LIE No. 61. Mrs. S., of Farmington, Mo., says that it is common gossip in that section that half of all the funds pledged to the Red Cross in America will be given by the government to the Catholics.

(The government isn't interested in religion just now. It's principal business is carrying on the war. No money, no matter what source it comes from, is given to any religious sect. The government is not touching a nickel of Red Cross money).

LIE No. 62. A young woman at Clinton, Mo., writes that it has been difficult to secure signers for the Hoover Food Pledges there because of "bunk" being circulated to prevent it. Children are told not to sign the cards, because they will be sent to Germany to work for prisoners, or sent to any army post to do farm work.

(Of course there is no truth in either report. It is pro-German sentiment seeking to discount war preparations in America which is responsible for this sort of thing).

LIE No. 63. Here is one of the worst lies yet brought to the attention of The Republic: That German spies in the Government Printing office have injected bacteria of one form or another in the Liberty bonds, which, in the course of a few months leaves them a dirty gray piece of flimsy paper which crumbles at the slightest touch. Because of this lie, farmers in the vicinity of Razenburg, Ill., are afraid to invest in the bonds.

(The Federal agents in charge of the Government Printing office at Washington declare there is no word of truth in the story. There are no spies in the plant. Neither will the bonds fade and crumble away after a few months).

LIE No. 64. J. B. Ross, a St. Louis patriot, advances the information that a letter carrier, talking in a downtown restaurant the other day, declared 8,000 United States soldiers had already been killed in France and that a soldier at Jefferson Barracks gave him all such information, which the government withholds.

(Of course the letter carrier was retailing some more "bunk." There has been no such casualty list in France, and soldiers at Jefferson Barracks know less of what is going on in the army than many civilians. Just propoganda, that's all).

LIE No. 65. A man wants to know if it is true "that two soldiers were frozen to death in a trench at Fort Sill and that the nation is losing from 30 to 40 men a day in France, of which no information reaches the newspapers).

(The Republic has a staff correspondent at Fort Sill. He has access to the news there. No soldiers have been frozen to death. There is a death list almost daily now from France, but every soldier's name is given the public as quickly as it is sent the man's parents. No effort is being made to suppress this sort of information. The censor holds up news concerning movements of troops, ammunition, supplies and the like. Nothing else).

LIE No. 66. Another reader wants to know if it is true that men are refusing to enlist in the regular army and are offering themselves for other branches because they have been told they will not see service in France if they go in as engineers, signal corps, aviators and the like.

(Every man who goes into the army, more than likely, will be sent overseas sooner or later. Enlistments in the regular army are not falling off. National Guardsmen, engineers, aviators and mess men already are on duty in France, thus giving the lie to this story).

LIE No. 67. Omor D. Gray, of The Sturgeon, (Mo.) Leader, sends a clipping from The Democrat-Tribune of Jefferson City, Mo., to the effect that knitting for the soldiers and sailors is unnecessary, and declaring that "press reports indicate the War Department looks upon this knitting campaign as hysteria." This story, Gray says, is going the rounds of the small-town newspapers.

(Mr. Gray is doing the public and the government a great favor in calling attention to this sort of propaganda. Quite recently the executives at Washington, in published statements, and in public utterances, begged, actually begged, the women of the United States not to give up their knitting for one instant. More, more and still MORE articles must be knit, they said. The effect of such articles as that from the Jefferson City paper is to put a stop to knitting, the very thing pro-Germans want; anything to hurt the cause in America. The editors of small-town newspapers should be more careful, or at least investigate the truth of reports such as these, before giving publicity to them).

LIE No. 68. Malden, Mo., reports pro-Germans are circulating stories there concerning the health and morals of nurses employed in Red Cross work, both in the United States and overseas. This person said he was told recently in St. Louis that 600 nurses in America alone are now ill in hospitals.

(It is questionable whether such a lie was ever told in St. Louis. It is the first time it has been brought to the atention of The Republic. At any rate, while some nurses may be ill—and who doesn't get sick now and again?—there are not 600 of them in all the hospitals in the United States. The morals of women employed in Red Cross hospital work are above reproach).

LIE No. 69. A story recently originated in Germany to the effect that a woman spy has been executed in the United States. Its widespread use is nothing but propaganda.

(The State Department sent an official denial of the report to all American Consuls and legations in European neutral countries. The name of the woman was given as Anna Huitems. Just "bunk," that's all).

LIE No. 70. For two days there has been a rumor current about the country that an American transport going overseas had been sunk, with heavy loss of life. It was said that two transports, bearing 11,000 men, and the superdreadnaught Texas, had been sunk, and that the American government was suppressing the news.

(The government at Washington announced last night that the source of this lie, termed propaganda, had been unearthed in Guadlajara, Mexico, where it was printed in a Spanish newspaper, and said to have been a cablegram received from Spain. The government announces this is more German propaganda and that there is no word of truth in it).
