

THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

"Outwitting the Hun" the thrilling war experience of Pat O'Brien, begins in this issue of the "Watchman." Don't fail to read it.

The executive committee of the Central Pennsylvania Firemen's association has selected Houtzdale as the place for holding the annual convention this year and the time Thursday, August 22nd.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Helen McClure, of Pittsburgh, formerly of Bellefonte, and Mr. Murdock Clancy, also of that place, who is now in training at Rock Island, Illinois.

Thirty-nine State College students were sent from that institution on Wednesday morning to Plattsburg, N. Y., for a six week's course at the officers' training camp. Accompanying the students was Raymond Dale, of Ferguson township, who will also take the course.

If your potatoes are showing any signs of blight talk to county farm agent Olmstead. He might be able to tell you of some method of saving them from further injury. If reports as to the condition of the potato crop, generally, be true potatoes will be potatoes next winter.

Two hundred guests were present at the wedding reception given Mr. and Mrs. Thompson Henry, by Mr. Henry's uncle and aunt, Budd Thompson and Mrs. James Thompson, at Port Matilda, Thursday night of last week. Mr. and Mrs. Henry were married at Mrs. Henry's home in Carlisle, three weeks ago.

A charter has been granted for a bank at Spring Mills to be known as the First National bank of Spring Mills. The east end of the hotel at that place has been leased as temporary banking quarters and it is expected to have the bank open for business by September 1st. Doyle Henderson, of Northumberland, will be the cashier.

The annual meeting of the Nittany Country club will be held tomorrow (Saturday) when officers will be elected for the ensuing year. It is also likely that some action will be taken regarding the keeping open or closing of the club during the winter months, owing to the fuel administration's order that coal shall not be furnished for clubs and non-essential places.

Brief but impressive exercises marked the observance of Bastille day last Sunday by St. John's Lutheran church. After engaging in a short season of silent prayer in behalf of the allied cause, and following the reading of an historical sketch describing the fall of the Bastille, Miss Ruth Coxy sang the Marseilles. Singing of the Star Spangled Banner concluded the services.

Cards were received in Bellefonte the latter part of last week announcing the marriage at Uhricsville, Ohio, on July 10th, of Mrs. Margaret T. Leggett to George Spalding Bliss. The bride is very well known in Bellefonte, having been the very efficient superintendent of the local hospital a number of years. Mr. and Mrs. Bliss will be at home at 739 Ostrom avenue, Syracuse, N. Y., after August 15th.

Paul B. Stout, a member of the state constabulary who was at one time located in Bellefonte but who of late has been located at the Wyoming barracks, has been promoted from lieutenant to captain to succeed Capt. Charles Jacobs of Greensburg, resigned. Capt. Stout is a native of Milton and before he joined the state constabulary about twelve years ago was a printer in the office of the Milton Standard.

While J. B. Mitchell, of Union township, does not have a deer park he has deer on his farm near the foot of the Allegheny mountains. A herd of five deer, a big buck, a doe with two fawns and a yearling doe have taken up their abode on the ridge near his farm and frequently visit his fields in quest of fresh pasture. The deer are quite tame and one day recently the young doe went within a hundred feet of Mr. Mitchell.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Bellefonte Chautauqua will probably be the big attraction in Bellefonte the coming week, patrons of the scenic may feel assured that that popular place of amusement will be open as usual with full programs of the very best motion pictures obtainable. The Pathe weeklies alone are worth the cost of admission to a week's shows, while all the other pictures will be highly interesting and entertaining.

The "Watchman" has repeatedly urged the people of Bellefonte to be more liberal in their patronage of the Red Cross League base ball games. The small admission price of ten cents will not be missed by anybody, but enough of them will add materially to the fund for the Red Cross. But this is not the only reason why the games should be more liberally patronized. Another is encouragement for the players who are giving their time and working hard for the cause, and it is rather discouraging to play to tier after tier of empty seats. Therefore, go out this evening and see the game between the North and West wards. The West ward boys on Tuesday evening shut out the South ward team and they are going to try and do the same trick on the North ward team this evening. Go out and see if they can.

BIG PARADE ON SUNDAY.

Rousing Farewell Reception to be Given National Army Contingent Sunday Afternoon.

Centre countians will surpass all former efforts in the big farewell reception planned for the 117 national army young men called to leave Bellefonte next Monday afternoon at 1:35 o'clock. Inasmuch as there will be no time for a demonstration on Monday the reception has been planned for Sunday afternoon and the committee of arrangements has prepared a most elaborate program. Most every portion of Centre county will be represented in the ranks of the young men who are to leave Monday, and for that reason the people of Centre county are invited to join in the reception to be given the men Sunday afternoon. Robert F. Hunter has been selected as chief marshal of the parade which will form promptly at 3:30 o'clock and move promptly at four o'clock. Following is the official announcement of the parade, etc., as issued by the chief marshal:

Patriotic exercises and speaking will be held in the Chautauqua auditorium on the High school commons immediately after the parade. The State College Chapter Red Cross desires a good turnout for this parade, and the chairmen of all Auxiliaries are requested to notify Mrs. E. E. Sparks, State College, of the number of members who will participate, when they will receive further instructions. Similar notifications from the Auxiliaries of the Bellefonte Chapter Red Cross are requested by Mrs. Robert Mills Beach, Bellefonte, Pa.

Kelly, John J. Bower, William H. Brown, C. Y. Wagner, Thomas Hazel.

James Curtis Johnson, who last week assumed the office of superintendent of the Middle division of the Pennsylvania railroad with headquarters in Altoona, was born at Curtin, this county, on April 26th, 1866, hence is only a little over fifty-two years old. His parents moved to Milton when he was a boy and it was in the public schools of that city he secured his education. He began his railroad career as a telegraph operator in 1883, when but seventeen years old and has risen steadily to his present position.

Incidentally we mention the fact that Capt. William H. Fry, of Pine Grove Mills, was seventy-five years old yesterday and as a sort of celebration of the event his daughter, Mrs. J. F. Kimpfort, of Boalsburg, entertained him with a big dinner. We might also add for the benefit of the "Watchman" readers who are always interested in the Captain's pertinent "Pine Grove Mentions," that he has been correspondent for this paper continuously for fifty-six years, and in all that time has missed very few weeks.

Walnut Lumber is Needed for Gun Stocks.

The government is in need of walnut lumber out of which gun stocks may be made. Any Centre countian who has walnut lumber on hand or standing timber that he would cut for such purpose can find a splendid market for it at any of the plants working on government contracts. The list of such plants may be procured at the office of the Centre county Branch of the Council of National Defense on High street, Bellefonte.

Home Destroyed by Fire.

The home of Christian Robb, about a mile north of Blanchard, was completely destroyed by fire on Monday evening. Mr. Robb lived alone and was preparing his supper with an oil stove about six o'clock when the stove exploded setting fire to the interior of the kitchen. The flames spread so rapidly that he was unable to save anything, and not only his home but everything it contained was destroyed. Mr. Robb carried only a small amount of insurance, hence feels his loss very keenly. Since the death of his wife several years ago and the marriage of his son he has lived alone.

Elk Destroying Crops.

Mr. R. G. Eisenhuth, of High valley, telephoned the "Watchman" office on Wednesday morning that the elk in that section of the county are becoming unusually depredations and doing great damage to the crops in the fields. Mr. Eisenhuth claims that his field of twenty-five acres of corn has been practically ruined by the elk, and that a number of other farmers have suffered considerable damage from these animals. In these times, when everything possible is being done to conserve food products Mr. Eisenhuth contends that the elk ought to be removed from that locality and put in some mountainous region where they cannot damage growing crops.

Big Flag Raising at Coleville.

The citizens of Coleville are planning for a big flag raising on Saturday evening, July 27th, at eight o'clock. The program will include music by two bands, several addresses by prominent speakers, etc. Following the ceremonies incident to raising the flag a festival will be held. Inasmuch as a sufficient sum of money has already been raised to pay for the flag and all expenses the entire proceeds of the festival will be turned over to the Red Cross. The Bellefonte Central Railroad company will run busses from Bellefonte to Coleville at a ten cent fare. The public is invited to attend this gathering and show their sympathy in this patriotic movement of the people of Coleville.

Five More Bellefonte Young Men Enter Service.

As announced last week the local board inducted into service on Monday John Scholl, Benedict Beezer, Thomas Lamb and Lewis S. Schad and at 1:26 o'clock p. m. they departed on the Pennsylvania-Lehigh train for Lancaster to take a course in special training at the Bowman technical institute. Quite a number of friends of the young men were at the train to see them depart. The board also sent away on the early train Monday morning one man, DETRICK, CARL F., Bellefonte, who was assigned to Delaware college, Newark, Del., to take special training.

Penitentiary Sentence for Wife Deserters.

Judge Singleton Bell, of Clearfield county, recently sentenced Levi Graham to serve one year at hard labor in the western penitentiary for wife desertion and that the State pay his dependents 65 cents a day. The question of the legality of the sentence was taken up with the Attorney General and the decision given was that Judge Bell had the legal power to impose a penitentiary sentence for wife desertion, but that there is no law compelling the penitentiary officials to pay to the man's dependents the sum of 65 cents a day, or any other sum; and unless that part of the sentence is rescinded the county of Clearfield will have to pay the bill.

Men in the Service.

Philip Reynolds, youngest son of Col. and Mrs. W. Fred Reynolds, is spending a week in Bellefonte with his parents. He was recently appointed an ensign in the United States navy and will report at New York next Thursday for assignment. Lieut. Francis E. Thomas, son of Supt. and Mrs. F. H. Thomas, sailed for France last Saturday. He came east from Oklahoma and was unable to stop in Bellefonte to say good-bye to his friends. Francis is now a lieutenant in the Third U. S. field artillery.

A letter has been received in Bellefonte from Calvin Rice, announcing his safe arrival in France and detailing the fact that he likes the service and is getting along fine.

Miss Nancy Hunter Appointed Director of Food Conservation.

Miss Nancy Hunter has been appointed director of food conservation for Centre county on the Council of National Defense and will have charge of the work during the summer.

The federal food administration in Pennsylvania has just received the stimulation of a class of fifty-three women who have taken a two week's course in food conservation at State College. These women have pledged their services to the government to demonstrate in their own communities the value of food substitutes and conservation of fruits and vegetables. The two week's course at the College was a splendid opportunity for the women to receive the last word in food economics and the fact that fifty-three women representing over thirty counties in the State availed themselves of the opportunity to take the course is evidence that they have the cause at heart and intend doing their part in the great work of food conservation.

The college authorities were so impressed with the enthusiasm displayed by the women that Howard Heinz, federal food administrator for Pennsylvania was invited to visit the College and make a special trip there on Thursday of last week to see them at work and encourage them in a brief talk on the food situation in general as now viewed by the food administration. Included in the corps of demonstrators and lecturers during the two weeks was Mrs. Helen Shaw Rider, of New York city, who has been prominently identified with the food conservation work in New York State during the past year.

The First Response.

In last Friday's issue we made an appeal to our subscribers for help in the matter of raising funds with which to pay for $900.00 worth of paper which we have been compelled to purchase in order that the "Watchman" will be insured a supply of paper for some time in the future.

Bright and early Monday morning when the writer approached the "Watchman" building the first thing that attracted his attention was a great pile of paper on the curb. The car had arrived and the drayman had delivered the contents to this office, but lucky as we at first thought ourselves in having secured such prompt delivery the joy all faded when the thought came bounding into mind that here is the paper, all right, but where is the money to pay for it.

On the desk inside was the morning mail to be opened and the very first letter contained a remittance from Dave Kelly, who is now located in Ford City, Pa., who wrote that his enclosure was "a little help toward that $900.00." Golly, what visions Dave's letter brought before our eyes. There were piles of letters underneath it and we chuckled because of the hope that all of them were on the same mission. There wasn't one other. All of the rest were circulars from Mr. Hoover, Mr. Heinz, Mr. Potter and others setting forth news, food, fuel and other government regulations. All the glow of hope faded away and we settled down to the little comfort that day brings. Hope that you, dear reader, will "help a little" and do it quick.

Benefit Festival for Our Girls Band of Milesburg.

A festival will be held on the green at Milesburg tomorrow (Saturday) evening for the benefit of Our Girls Band and the "Watchman" herewith makes a special plea for a good attendance and liberal patronage. Practically everybody in Centre county knows of Our Girls band and have heard them play at one time or another. They have appeared in every patriotic parade held in Bellefonte during the past year and have given their services without asking a cent of remuneration. So far the girls have been using second hand musical instruments and they are now endeavoring to accumulate a fund for the purchase of new instruments and it is for this festival will be held. Music will be furnished alternatively by Our Girls band and by those members of Our Boys band who have not entered the U. S. service. There will be an abundance of ice cream and cake, with cake walks a specialty. Go and help the girls along if you can, but if you can't go, send them a cake and it will be gratefully appreciated.

In addition to the music to be furnished by the Milesburg musical organizations the Italian band from Renovo, which will come to Bellefonte tomorrow evening for the big parade on Sunday, will go to Milesburg and give a concert during the festival. This will be an added attraction that the music-loving people of Centre county should not fail to hear.

Judge Bell Decides in Favor of Jones.

In a decree handed down late Friday afternoon Judge Singleton Bell, of Clearfield, refused to grant the petition of W. I. Swope for a recount of the vote cast at Helvetia, Clearfield county, in the recent primaries. Mr. Swope's petition was based on the fact that the primaries were held in a hotel instead of in a school house, but the court held that neither fraud nor error was proven and on the basis that "necessity knows no law," the holding of the primaries in a hotel did not invalidate the votes cast. The decision of Judge Bell leaves Evan T. Jones the Republican nominee for Congress in this district. Whether Mr. Swope will appeal the case to a higher tribunal has not been divulged, but it is hardly probable.

And most of the latter is on fields that were put out unusually late last fall.

John D. Sourbeck returned home from his sojourn in New York State on Saturday, looking so well and happy that it is hard to believe that he had gone through a long siege of illness as the result of an accident.
