

Young Women Wanted to Enroll as Nurses.

To the Young Women of America: Across the sea, from France, with every closing day of the heroic struggle of our fighting men, there comes a more imperative call to the women of America to assume their full share of responsibility in winning this world war for the right of men, women, and nations to live their own lives and determine their own fortunes.

There exists now an extreme need for at least 25,000 women of character, intelligence, and education to fill the gaps in our hospital staffs caused by the calling of many thousands of skilled nurses to the fighting front. There is only one way of filling these gaps: By keeping our hospital training schools supplied with students, who are not only preparing for service abroad and at the same time are equipping themselves to earn their living in one of the noblest of professions, but from the very outset of their course are serving their country as well as learning.

The Surgeon General of the United States Army, the Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service, the American Red Cross, the General Medical Board and the Woman's committee of the Council of National Defense therefore unite in an earnest appeal for 25,000 young women between the ages of 19 and 35 to enroll in what shall be called the United States Student Nurse Reserve. Those who register in this volunteer body will engage to hold themselves in readiness until April 1, 1919, to be assigned to training schools in civilian hospitals or to the army nursing school and begin their course of study and active student nursing.

The service which we are asking calls for the best that the womanhood of America can afford in courage, devotion, and resourcefulness. We can not go forward to victory overseas if the wives and families of our fighters are not sustained in health and strength, if we cannot protect our workers against the hazards of war industries, if we cannot defeat accident and disease, our enemies at home. Upon the health of the American people will depend the spirit of their forces in the field.

Acting on the urgency of the need, the undersigned has asked the State divisions of the Woman's committee of the Council of National Defense, through their local units, to enroll the 25,000 women needed. We ask the women of America to support us in our further efforts to lower American hospital standards, and to give us the practical assurance of their support by going to the nearest recruiting station established by the Woman's committee of the Council of National Defense on or after July 29 and enrolling in the United States Student Nurse Reserve.

Applicants may obtain further information and literature from Mrs. Blanche Schloss, at Red Cross headquarters, Bellefonte.

"No, ma'am, the company does not allow dogs in the Pullman," explained the porter. "But he don't bark," said the woman with the little animal in her arms. "Never mind if he don't; dogs are not allowed in the cars," the porter replied. "Nor he doesn't bite." "Can't take him in." "He can't growl." "He never snarls or snaps." "Did you try the simple plan of counting sheep for your insomnia?" asked the physician. "Yes doctor, but I made a mess of it. I counted 10,000 sheep, put 'em on the cars and shipped 'em to market. And when I'd got through counting the wad of money I got for them at present prices it was time to get up."
