

THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

Mrs. Nancy McMeen celebrated her eighty-ninth birthday Tuesday of last week, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Curtin, at Curtin.

President Wilson reappointed two thousand postmasters on Friday and in the list were Robert M. Foster, of State College, and Paul O. Brosius, of Lock Haven.

Lock Haven people are feeling very much elated over the fact that that city is to be made one of the stopping places for the New York to Cleveland mail aeroplanes. It is figured that the flight from New York to Lock Haven will take about two and three-quarter hours.

"Can all you can," has been one of Hoover's favorite slogans this year, and just because they can the western penitentiary folks are going to can all they can. Their equipment is such that they can can all kinds of produce and some days they can as much as two hundred bushels of tomatoes, not counting the corn and other produce they can. They are also drying corn and evaporating apples and expect to have an ample supply of all such things for winter use.

"Pershing's Crusaders" drew big houses at the Scenic on Monday and Tuesday, which shows that motion picture fans appreciate good pictures, and the place where they can always see them is the Scenic. This is the big point in Mr. Brown's management. He always keeps his line of pictures just a little above the average standard and whenever he can secure anything extra good, he gets it, no matter what the cost. That is the reason why the public should patronize the Scenic.

Young and old alike in France take off their hats and stand at attention when the Stars and Stripes go by. Yesterday, when they were carried down High street in the honor escort for departing soldiers, an old rebel Colonel, W. R. Teller, and a lad not more than eighteen years old were the only two persons who paid any attention to it. The former uncovered and the lad, as one faced the flag, uncovered and stood at attention. Both incidents caught our attention because they are so rare and so splendid.

The old grain elevator that has stood for many years at the coal yard southwest of the Pennsylvania railroad depot has been razed to the ground and this is only part of the old buildings in that locality to be demolished by Nathan Ickowitz, who recently purchased the property from Hon. A. G. Morris. One or two of the old buildings at the western end of the alley have been torn down and others are to follow. In fact he plans a general cleaning up of the place and the erection of one or more houses on Thomas street.

With a fine musical program offered by Mrs. A. C. Farish, of Atlantic City, harpist and soloist, added to that of the well known Harmonic club of Bellefonte, and the opportunity of contributing to Miss Laurie's concert work in France, should make next Monday night's concert the most popular of Bellefonte's benefits for the season. Do not fail to buy a ticket, which will only be twenty-five cents, whether able to be there or not. The concert will be given in the High school auditorium and will begin promptly at 8:15 o'clock.

Rev. Josiah Still, of Centre Hall, was the victim of an automobile accident on Saturday afternoon which kept him from filling an appointment to preach a sermon in the Presbyterian church at Northumberland. He intended going down on the afternoon train but got to the station at Centre Hall just as the train pulled out. Then he decided to motor down and returned to the Boozer garage to get some gasoline. He got started on his way just as the hard rain began to fall. He reached into the rear of the car to get his rain coat and in doing so his hold on the wheel slackened with the result that he ran into a tree in front of the Mrs. J. F. Alexander home. His car was considerably damaged while he sustained several bad cuts on the hand and injuries on his side and leg. He was helped into the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Sweetwood where a physician gave him proper attention. He was able to get around a little by Monday and will soon be all right again.

At six o'clock last Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. John Samsel who live on the Blue Spring farm, near Pleasant Gap, gave a dinner to ten gentlemen in honor of John M. Shugert, their landlord. It was a wonderful affair and the Hooverized town gentlemen who were fortunate enough to be there carried on with the real white bread, fried chicken and countless vegetables, all prepared by a lady who truly knows how to cook, until they had no room in which to do the delicious ice cream justice. While we would do it right over again, if we had the chance, it's really a shame to give us a glimpse and a taste of such a feast. Living under conditions, as most of us are, where all the spring chicken one can stare away is only realized in dreams and where real white bread is not even to be dreamed about such an opportunity was as that of last Thursday evening only adds to the horror of living when we sit down to our usual meal that is eat-less or the rest won't get their share.

MANY GALLONS OF GASOLINE SAVED.

Autoists Generally Observed Request for Autoless Sunday.

The old gray mare came into her own again on Sunday when auto owners pretty generally heeded the request of fuel administrator Garfield for an autoless Sunday and allowed their machines to stand in the shed, while those who had horses and rigs once again brought them into service, and the result was more horses were seen in Bellefonte on Sunday than have been on the streets for some time past.

The Emerick motor busses made their regular scheduled trips and the White Line taxis were in service but aside from the above Bellefonte people regarded the request religiously. A few county people came to Bellefonte, several Snow Shoe cars were in, and a very few travelers were on the road, but most of the latter were held up on account of the hard rain Saturday evening, so that there were very few willful slackers driving cars on Sunday.

And the saving of gasoline can be estimated from the amount that was saved in Bellefonte alone. On Friday evening the garage owners of Bellefonte held a meeting and decided to close tight on Sunday and not furnish gas to any person unless it was a case of dire necessity, and the result was a saving of approximately 1160 gallons from the normal Sunday consumption. The normal Sunday sales in Bellefonte are as follows:

J. O. Heverley, 325 gallons; sold 10 gallons Sunday, six to Lewistown bus and four to an army truck. Beatty garage 200 gallons; took five gallons in their own car to make a trouble trip. Paul McGarvey, 250 gallons; no sale on Sunday. The Wian garage, 200 gallons; no sale on Sunday. The Emerick garage used gasoline only in their busses and made no sales. The Beizer garage, 200 gallons; no sales. From the above it will be seen that just 1160 gallons were saved in Bellefonte alone, while the saving in all of Centre county would run into the thousands of gallons.

To get an idea as to how fully automobilists would heed the request to save gasoline the Atlantic Refining company made a count of the number of motor driven vehicles passing the corners of Bishop and Allegheny streets from four to six o'clock Saturday evening and the returns were just 127 automobiles and 44 trucks. In the same time on Sunday evening there were 30 autos and 6 trucks.

The Atlantic Refining company has just completed the erection of a new tank in this place with a capacity of 42,000 gallons. It is an immense tank and looks big enough to hold a sufficient quantity of gasoline for a six month's supply, but it isn't. Ten or twelve years ago a tank car of gasoline, 6000 gallons, would last the Atlantic Refining company station in Bellefonte one year. Today it takes five such cars to supply the demand for one month. With a monthly demand of 30,000 gallons the big tank just completed will hold less than a two month's supply.

The tank was completed and tested Wednesday evening when it was pumped full of water by the Undine fire company. It took the company just an hour and a half to fill the tank, which also shows that the capacity of the Undine fire engine is from 30,000 to 35,000 gallons of water an hour.

DEALERS WILL NOT SELL GAS AND OIL.

The undersigned dealers in motor gasoline and oils, of Bellefonte and vicinity, at a conference on Friday evening, August 30th, decided to discontinue the sale of gasoline and oils on Sunday until such time as the Federal Fuel Administration withdraws its request that motor cars not be used for pleasure on Sundays.

W. J. Emerick, Beatty Motor Co., Beizer's Garage, P. H. McGarvey & Co., J. O. Heverley, Willis E. Wron, N. A. Miller, and Bellefonte Fuel & Supply Co., Bellefonte.

Poorman's Garage and W. H. Noll Jr., & Co., Pleasant Gap.

F. L. Wetzler and W. E. Corman, Milesburg.

E. L. McClintock, Hubersburg.

More Young Men March Away.

Fifty-six more of Centre county's young men, just in the prime of life, answered their country's call and yesterday afternoon left for the training camp at Camp Greenleaf, S. C. Like contingents that have gone before they came into Bellefonte on Wednesday morning, enrolled and placed themselves under government orders. The customary drills were given Wednesday and that evening they were banquetted at the Garman house.

They were given another drill yesterday morning and at one o'clock they met in the Diamond for the last lineup. Members of the Red Cross pinned roses on the boys and escorted by the Girls band of Milesburg and the usual coterie of citizens they marched to the depot and entrained for camp. They were a fine looking, manly bunch of young men who will do honor to themselves and credit to their home community no matter where they may be sent. They were all of the 1918 class men, who have come of age since the last general registration day.

The 31st annual reunion of the old Bucktail regiment will be held at Warren September 16th and 17th. Time was when several members of this famous regiment lived in Bellefonte and vicinity but they have answered the long roll and their organization is growing smaller with each passing year.

The singing should take place just before the noon hour, late in the afternoon and again in the evening, as the registration places are to be open from seven o'clock in the morning to nine o'clock at night.

COUNCIL OF NATIONAL DEFENSE.

Classified as an Essential Industry.

The Pennsylvania Match company, of this place, was notified by the priorities division of the War Industries Board, under date of August 16th, that their plant and business had been certified as an essential to the United States fuel administration and United States railroad administration.

Bellefonte Academy Will Open Next Week.

The Bellefonte Academy will resume its educational work after a three months' vacation, on Wednesday, Sept. 11th, at 9 a. m. The prospects for a successful year, in spite of the war conditions and the new draft law, seem very good.

Work of Lemont Auxiliary American Red Cross.

During the month of August the Lemont Auxiliary of the American Red Cross made and delivered to the State College Chapter, with which it is allied, the following articles: 14 blankets, 9 dresses, 14 jackets, 7 capes with hoods, 33 waists, 10 pair of booties, 16 refugee bags, 9 knit bonnets, 15 housewives and 15 bags for soldiers, a total of 142 pieces. The members of the Auxiliary hereby extend thanks to the P. O. S. of A. Camp of Lemont for the very generous donation of the proceeds of their festival, which amounted to $100.00.

Change in Wheat Flour Regulations.

Retail dealers are now required to sell one pound of substitutes with each four pounds of wheat flour. The following substitutes may be sold with straight wheat flour: Corn flour, barley flour, corn meal, rice flour, potato flour, sweet potato flour, buckwheat flour, oat flour, peanut flour, bean flour, milo flour and kaffir flour and feterita flour.

W. F. REYNOLDS, Federal Food Administrator of Centre County.

Saturday Reunion for Friday Family.

The Friday family held their annual reunion at the old homestead near Vail Station last Saturday. Owing to the rainy weather the gathering was held in the barn and it proved a delightful outing for all present. A big dinner served on the barn floor was one of the features.

NEW WHEAT RULINGS NOW EFFECTIVE.

Only 20 Per Cent. of Substitutes to Be Required Hereafter.

New wheat conservation regulations which became effective Sunday were announced Saturday by the Federal Food Administration for Pennsylvania. Consumers are now required to purchase only one pound of substitutes with each four pounds of wheat flour, except when they take rye flour as a substitute, when they must purchase two pounds of rye flour with every three pounds of wheat flour.

Wholesalers no longer are required, on the sale of wheat flour to bakers, to demand that they take substitutes with it or furnish certificates that they have sufficient substitutes on hand.

The substitutes which the retailer now is permitted to sell to the consumer along with straight wheat flour are corn flour, cornmeal, barley flour, rice flour, potato flour, buckwheat flour, oat flour, peanut flour, bean flour, milo flour, kaffir flour and feterita flours and meals.
