-Up to the present time a mail carrier has not been appointed as successor to W. Henry Taylor, who carries the mail between the railroad and the postoffice. Mr. Taylor tendered his resignation to take effect September first and although there are some five or six bidders for the place the appointment has not yet been made.

-The Bellefonte public schools opened on Monday with a full complement of teachers and a larger attendance than in former years. All told the attendance is just 761. Of this number there are 226 in the High school building and 258 in the grades in the brick building. Arthur B. Sloop, the new supervising principal, has already gotten his work well in hand and all departments are working smoothly. ----While considering the weather we are having just now please recall the fact that just one year ago Wednesday a. m. was the big frost that practically killed everything last year. this year is still some weeks away, if it does come soon it will not hurt the as to exhibits. corn as it did last year, because it is several weeks earlier this year than last. In fact many farmers are now cutting corn.

An unusual recital will be given in Garman's opera house at 8:15 o'clock Thursday, September 26th, by Odessa Le Fontenay, lyric soprano, and Miss Powell, elocutionist, assisted by the "Phonograph with a Soul." Cards of admission may be secured without charge upon application to the Gheen Music Store, north Allegheny street. This will be an opportunity to hear some really delightful vocal as well as phonograph music.

-Through the initiative of the Centre county branch of the Pennsylvania Council of National Defense and Committee of Public Safety and the co-operation of the district chairmen every registration place in the county was decorated with the National colors yesterday and there was community singing of patriotic airs at several times during the day. Song sheets in lots of from fifty to one hundred were supplied the song leaders in each community.

—In these days when the motion picture is the chief source of amusement and entertainment in the towns as well as the big cities, and the variety is so large and varied, the public can afford to be discriminating. They can demand good pictures or withdraw their patronage. In this regard, however, manager T. Clayton Brown, of the Scenic, foresaw the inevitable and has been securing only the very best pictures for exhibition at the Scenic. This is the reason for the crowded houses every evening at this popular place of amusement.

The second gasless, autoless Sunday was even more quiet in Bellefonte than the first. Automobilists pretty generally are heeding the request of the fuel administrator to conserve the gasoline supply and the result was very few slackers were abroad in their cars. But there were a few and whether they wilfully disregarded the request to abstain from running their cars on Sunday or whether they were emergency cases is not known, but it does not speak well for the patriotism of any Ameriwinning the war that the majority of machine but in crossing the mountains can citizen to disregard any means of men willingly comply with.

-At a meeting of members of the Bellefonte chapter Red Cross last Saturday afternoon James B. Cook, the very efficient secretary of the Chapter, was presented with a handsome wrist watch as a memento of his unselfish devotion and untiring energy in the good cause. The watch was the gift of individual members and the giving of it was inspired by Mr. Cook's recent declaration of going to France to do Y. M. C. A. war work. His going, however, will be delayed by the operations of the man power bill, and if he is called for duty under the selective service system he will go that way instead of with the Y. M. C. A.

On his return trip from Chicago to New York, on Monday, Max Miller, the first areonaut to carry mail over the Wilson airmail route, became bewildered as to his location after he crossed the Allegheny mountains and flying up the valley to Milesburg descended on the green at the brick works. As soon as he obtained information as to his whereabouts he flew up in the air, circled and made straight down the valley for Lock dio here.

Haven. Miller, flying in his Standard machine, No. 129, passed over Snow Shoe about six o'clock flying in the direction of Bellefonte. Word was telehe veered to the east, but not far enough to carry him to Lock Haven. When he arrived over Bald Eagle valley he became confused as to where he was hence he circled and flew up to Milesburg, and seeing a favorable landing place came down at the brick works. As soon as he alighted safely word was telephoned to Bellefonte and a large number of people motored down to get a sight of the machine and the man, but as it was then getting late the young aviator lost no time in getting back up in the air and sailing away for Lock Haven where he spent the night, leaving for New York on Tuesday morning.

Next week the Nittany thea State College, will present two timely will hardly be able to reconcile it and interesting special productions. with the institution they knew a few The first, for Thursday, September | years ago. 19th, will be "Pershing's Crusaders," an official U.S. war feature to better inform the public of the way the huge sums of money have been spent and to further enlighten all upon war conditions.

The second attraction, for Saturday, September 21st, will be the newest picture of D. W. Griffith, who produced "Birth of a Nation" and "Hearts of the World." It is a love story of the war, made abroad by Mr. Griffith and shows many interesting details of the war. When shown for the first time in New York city a few weeks ago the critic of the New York Tribune made this comment: "When we left the Strand theatre the line (for admission) which forms to the left had stretched down as far as 45th street, (the Strand is between 47th and 48th streets) but we intend to get up bright and early some morning soon and go to see "The Great Love" again. Every one should see it once for the story and once for the acting. Both productions are well worth seeing."

Concert Yields $43.25 for Miss Laurie's Canteen.

The concert given in the High school auditorium, Monday evening, by the Harmonic club at which Mrs. A. C. Farish, harpist and vocalist, was featured, netted $43.25 for Miss Bertha Laurie's canteen in France.

It was the first public appearance of Mrs. Farish in Bellefonte since she left here for a wider field in which to display her talents some years ago. And it was the general opinion among those who remember her voice that it has lost none of the charm that characterized it when she had a stu-

As usual, the Harmonic club numbers were very much appreciated. The girls attempt nothing beyond them and keep their repertoire in a class of pleasing melodies and popuphoned to Bellefonte to watch for the lar airs that have an especial appeal at this time.

They are to be commended for the manner in which they have turned what was designed as a purely social organization into a permanent accomplishment for each one as well as a fine contribution to the pleasure of the community.

> The noisy Freshman with his green cap and loud tie will not be the only man in evidence at The Pennsylvania State College when it opens for the ensuing school year on September 25th. The man in khaki and the clarion tones of the bugle will probably be the greater attraction. The changing of State College into a military school will necessitate a complete transformation in courses of study and physical surroundings. Only two or three courses will be taught complete, among them chemistry and engineering. Enough of agriculture will be taught to equip the young men in military training for a military life. Only those students who are physically unfit for military training and young women will be accorded the privilege of taking a regular college course.

The students will be required to do fifty-eight hours of work each week, including thirteen hours of military training. And the course will be continuous. There will be no vacations and the student will be able to complete his course in two years instead of four. The exact studies to be taken by the students in military training have not yet been definitely decided upon, as final decision in the matter will be made by the government. Among the subjects to which each student must devote at least forty-two hours each week are English, French, German, mathematics, physics, chemistry, biology, geology, topography, map making, meteorology, astronomy, hygiene, geometry, mechanical and freehand drawing, surveying, economics, accounting, history, international law, military law and government. Former Centre Countian Killed in Altoona.

William Ralph Markle, a native of Centre county, was jolted from a trolley car on the Altoona and Logan Valley street railway in Altoona, on Saturday evening, sustaining injuries which resulted in his death early Monday morning. Markle was employed as a conductor on the road and was working on an incoming car from Lakemont park. The car was heavily loaded and while walking along the running board collecting fares the struck the pavement with his head sustaining a fractured skull. He was hurriedly taken to the Mercy hospital where he died at 1:20 o'clock Monday morning. Deceased was born near Bellefonte on December 19th, 1886, hence was in his thirty-second year. He went to Altoona nine years ago and had been employed on the Logan Valley road ever since. He was a member of the Lutheran church, the Street Car union and the Logan Valley floral association. He is survived by his wife and three young children; also his mother, Mrs. Margaret Markle, of Bellefonte. The funeral was held at 2:30 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, burial being made in the Rose Hill cemetery, Altoona.

Field Day at Snow Shoe Experimental Plats.

Today will be field day at the Snow Shoe experimental plats when the farmers of Centre and Clearfield counlook over and inspect the fertilizer experiments which are conducted by the State College experiment station.

The crops growing on the plats at the present time show very clearly the effect of lime and phosphorous applied to DeKalb soils and a trip to see these results will be time well spent.

A short and interesting program has been arranged beginning at 2:30 p. m., when the plats will be inspected and Professor White and Professor Gardner, of the department of agronomy, will explain the various treatments.

Cars passing through Bellefonte may join the Centre county bunch, which will leave from in front of the court house at 1 o'clock p. m .- R. H. Olmstead, county agent.
