

THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

Edward L. Gates, editor of the Phillipsburg Ledger, has at last secured a house in Phillipsburg and anticipates moving his family there by November first.

Now that the fourth Liberty loan drive is over we'll wager a big pumpkin that chairman W. Harrison Walker will again get busy selling war savings stamps.

Almost two thousand of her best young men and close to six million dollars has been Centre county's quota so far towards the successful prosecution of the war with Germany.

Twenty-eight relatives and friends from Renovo and Altoona accompanied the body of the late Franklin A. Weidner to Bellefonte Saturday morning for the burial services in the Union cemetery.

The seventy-nine young men summoned to Bellefonte to go to Camp Greenleaf, Ga., today have been notified not to appear, as all movements of troops to camp have been deferred for the present.

The tractor demonstration which was to have been held on the Beaver farm on Thursday of next week has been indefinitely postponed on account of the flu epidemic. Due notice will be given when it will be held.

Deputy recorder Walter Armstrong has been off duty the past month suffering with intermittent fever. While he has not been confined to the house all the time he has not been in condition to do any work in the office.

William P. Shope, who a month or more ago quit his job as local editor of the Centre Democrat and went to Tyrone as office man for the J. C. Stine foundry and machine shops, has returned to Bellefonte and his old job as pencil pusher on the Democrat.

$1,115,150 from 4646 subscribers in the Centre county district; $377,300 from 3880 subscribers in the Phillipsburg district, or a total of $2,112,450 from 8506 subscribers in Centre county is a record of financial patriotism that is equal to the best in the country.

Two of the regular operators of the American telephone exchange are sick and off duty, so that the service is naturally handicapped by their absence. But if the patrons will exercise a little patience when making calls they will not only confer a favor to those who are there but will be attended to as promptly as possible.

A slight fire occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Miles Walker, on east Linn street, on Wednesday morning, but fortunately the blaze was discovered in time that it was extinguished before a great amount of damage was done. As it was necessary to cut a hole in the roof to make sure the fire was all out. How it originated has not yet been discovered.

From the new rulings of the food administrator of Centre county regarding hotels and public eating places published in another column of this paper it will almost require an expert mathematician to figure out how much to charge a guest for what he eats, and at the same time satisfy the guest that he is getting just what the law prescribes for the amount charged.

Irvin O. Noll writes that living in the Republican atmosphere of Philadelphia "it is refreshing and invigorating to get a whiff of good Democratic doctrine, of the kind for which the "Watchman" is far-famed, once a week." It is refreshing indeed to learn that Irvin has not been tainted, but then he wouldn't be true to type if he swung from such Democratic moorings as his grandfather Samuel Charles and his father, James Noll taught him.

The Candyhand store in Bellefonte has been closed the past two weeks owing to the quarantine on soft drinks, the Messrs. Gregory averring that with a restriction on their soda fountain and only being able to get a limited supply of sugar it does not pay to keep the store here open although their store at State College is open for business every day. As soon as the quarantine on drinks is lifted, however, the Bellefonte store will be reopened.

Public attention has been so entirely engrossed with the war in Europe this summer that the fact that there is a Governor to elect in Pennsylvania this year has almost been lost sight of, and few people realize that election day is only a little over a week away. The election proclamation will be found on the fifth page of today's paper. Consult it if you want to know who the candidates are, and when you go to the polls don't forget the constitutional amendments and vote yes on No. 1.

John D. Sourbeck opened up his candy and green grocery store on Friday evening and, although he has not yet gotten stocked up he has made a few kinds of candies and ere long will be in shape to cater to the trade of the general public. Mr. Sourbeck was badly hurt early last spring when he was knocked down by an automobile near the P. R. R. depot. For weeks his life was despaired of, and even when he started on the road to recovery his many friends feared it would not be complete. But he has recovered entirely and is now in as good health as ever, and will soon be back in business at his old stand.

COUNTY DISTRICT OVER THE TOP.

Centre Countians Buy More Than Their Allotment of Liberty Bonds. Over 4600 Buyers.

It was a hard struggle but the people of the Centre county district went over the top in the fourth Liberty loan. The county's quota was $1,115,040 outside of Phillipsburg and Rush township, which are included in the Clearfield county district, and the total as reported by Mr. Charles M. McCurdy, chairman of the Liberty Loan committee, up to Wednesday evening was $1,115,150. The result, naturally, is most gratifying. While a few of the districts in the county did not meet their allotment quite a number went good and strong over their allotment. Very much pleased with the result Mr. McCurdy has issued the following statement commending of those who took part in the campaign and giving in detail the results through the various banks:

The Centre county district's contribution to the fourth Liberty loan will exceed one million dollars. The subscribers, 4646 in number, represent one-seventh of the population of the district, a fact that speaks eloquently for the intelligent and persistent work of the several committees. Nothing shows the quality of an organization so conclusively as the number of persons who were induced to subscribe. The number, rather than the amount obtained, is the real test of efficiency, and in this respect the results are all that could be hoped for.

The original plans of the managers of the campaign were changed materially by orders from the State health authorities, and other adverse conditions were present. Had it been possible to carry out the plans the subscription would have been much greater, but the large number of small subscriptions shows thorough, personal work.

The chairman of the district committee takes this opportunity to thank all the patriotic men and women whose intelligent work contributed to the result. Many of them gave their time at great personal inconvenience. We have reason to feel proud of the solid patriotism of the people of our district, as evidenced by the great number who subscribed, and by the splendid work of the various sub-committees.

As reported up to Wednesday noon the amount subscribed through the several banks is as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Bank Name and Amount. Includes Bellefonte, First National, Centre County Banking Co., Snow Shoe, State College, Farmers Trust, Mellheim, First National, Penn's Valley Banking Co., First National, Spring Mills, Through Penna. R. E. Co., and Total.

What Centre County Has Done.

An Unfortunate Circumstance Recalled to Mind.

Mrs. Horace M. Musser left Bellefonte on the Lehigh-Pennsylvania train last Saturday afternoon for East St. Louis, Ill., and the fact that she took with her two big trunks leads to the supposition that she has gone there to make her future home.

And this recalls the circumstances under which Mr. Musser left Bellefonte almost six months ago, or to be exact on April 28th, leaving behind him the stigma of being a defaulter. Even as late as last week claims against him were entered in the local court against the American Sureties company, his bondsmen, and the total of his defalcation runs up to between four and five thousand dollars. The Surety company has made good so far as the Milesburg borough and school taxes are concerned, but there are other claimants in Bellefonte who have not recovered a cent, while the heaviest losers were undoubtedly the insurance companies he represented.

Shortly after Mr. Musser left Bellefonte he wrote a letter to a Bellefonte attorney telling him that the reason he left he was so deeply involved he could not see his way out, and had gone away to make a fresh start in the hope that some day he could make good all his shortage. The letter was sent from East St. Louis and naturally the question now arises has his wife gone west to join him in that place?

Turn Back Your Clocks.

Two o'clock next Sunday morning, October 27th, is the time set for turning the clocks back one hour, as provided in the daylight saving bill passed by Congress last March. But it will not be necessary to remain up until two o'clock in the morning to make the change. Just turn the clock back when you go to bed Saturday night and then console yourself with the thought that you will have an extra hour to sleep on Sunday morning.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

To those of our subscribers who have deferred arranging payment of their subscription to comply with the Government's order that no subscriber may be more than three months in arrears and receive the paper, we are enclosing, in this issue, a regular statement.

We trust that every one who receives such statement will REMIT AT ONCE. This is the last issue of the "Watchman" we will be permitted to mail to those who receive statements unless settlement is made before October 31st.

Personally we would extend you all the credit you want, but the Government says no! And there is no argument possible.

Why You Should Vote for John Noll.

It is a well known fact that Ives L. Harvey did not enter the race for the Legislature of his own volition. He was brought into it for the sole purpose of defeating Harry Scott, because the latter refused to support the local option measures during his two terms in office. That fact was duly accomplished, but local option or even temperance is now almost a dead issue. The war is taking care of that and total prohibition seems more imminent every day.

Mr. Harvey is not only a gentleman of the highest type but his supporters point to him as a most successful business man and give in support of their statement that he is treasurer of the Hayes Run Fire Brick Co., treasurer of the Superior Silica Brick Co., a member of the board of directors of the Centre Brick & Clay Co., and conducts a large farm in Curtin township. Granting all that, it is one of the best arguments why John Noll should be elected. Mr. Harvey is too busy a man to give his time and the proper attention to the office of Representative from Centre county. While his intentions may be all right his business interests will not permit him giving the time he should to his legislative duties, if elected.

On the other hand Mr. Noll has retired from business, not of choice, but through the ill-fortune of a disastrous fire. If elected he will be able to give all of his time to looking after the interests of his constituents. He has already served as a member of the Legislature and knows all about the work and what the voters of Centre county have a right to expect of him. And inasmuch as he proved faithful to the trust on two previous occasions there is no reason to doubt but that he would do the same again. For these reasons he should be elected.

Two Brothers Electrocuted.

Probably the first time in the history of Pennsylvania two brothers were put to death for the same crime when Henry F. and Jacob Sallada, of Sacramento, Northumberland county, were electrocuted at the Rockview penitentiary on Monday morning. The first to be sent to the chair was Henry, the younger of the two, who was only twenty years old, and four minutes after he was pronounced dead by Dr. Felker his brother Jacob, aged twenty-five years, was placed in the chair. It required six contacts and nine minutes in the chair before the latter was pronounced dead.

The crime for which the two men were electrocuted was the brutal murder of William Schlegel, a Johnson City merchant, on a lonely country road near Shamokin on January 5th. Robbery was the motive. Immediately following the murder the young criminals jumped a freight train and went to DuBois where they were finally arrested about three weeks later. When confronted with evidence of their crime Henry confessed and exonerated his brother Jacob from complicity in the murder, but when tried in the Northumberland county court in June the jury thought different and convicted both men. Two hours after the verdict was rendered the brothers were found by the sheriff of the county playing cards in their cell as if nothing unusual had happened. Relatives on Monday refused to claim their bodies and they were buried in the penitentiary cemetery.

The Grays Under Another Charge.

Irvin G. Gray and his two sons, George and Clyde, were given a preliminary hearing before Justice Woodring on Monday morning and all three of them were remanded to jail for trial at the December term of court.

The specific case heard against them was the charge of stealing a young bull from J. C. Andrews, of Julian, killing and selling the meat thereof to Fred Resides, a State College butcher. W. G. Runkle and the Hon. E. L. Orvis represented the Grays. District attorney James C. Furst and N. B. Spangler represented the Commonwealth.

A number of witnesses were examined, among them being Miss Merris Mann, J. C. Nelson, John C. Andrews and James Andrews, and their testimony was such as to warrant the justice in holding each of the defendants in $3000.00 bail for their appearance at court.

An attempt was made to raise the amount of bail required, but failing in that all three men were sent back to jail.

J. B. Wiles has resigned his position as secretary of the Phillipsburg chamber of commerce to accept a similar position at Parkersburg, W. Va. Mr. Wiles went to Phillipsburg from Altoona just eleven months ago and did good work there, but he was constrained to accept the offer at Parkersburg because it offers a wider field and an increase in salary. The change will be made November first.

Harry Umer Tibbens was here from Wheeling, W. Va., during the fore part of the week, attending the funeral of his great-aunt, Mrs. Jane Brown. In telling of their successful war work down here he said that in the last Red Cross drive they went to a farmer who said he had no money, but if they would take a shout he would be mighty glad to give it. They took the little red shout and the local lodge of Elk chanced it off with the result that it netted over $600 for the Red Cross.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Curiale, of Linnbrook, N. Y., were guests of Mrs. Samuel Sheffer from Wednesday until Sunday, having come here on their wedding trip. Mr. Curiale never forgot Mr. and Mrs. Sheffer's kindness and his trip at this time was to visit the scenes of his youth and especially to see Mrs. Sheffer.

He was on his way back to his old home at Howard with the body of his wife when he became so ill that he had to be taken off the train here and taken to the hospital. Mr. Thomas is a graduate of Penn State and was graduate manager of athletics there before he went to Cincinnati for the Armstrong Cork Co., of Pittsburgh. He has been climbing right up in his work and that his company regards him as a very valuable man is proven by the fact that it sent a nurse here to specialize on his case as soon as his condition was known.

George C. Meyer, of State College, was a business visitor in Bellefonte on Tuesday, a pleasant caller at the "Watchman" office. While he admits that the situation at State College had been quite grave on account of the Spanish influenza, he avers that the situation is now improving and like everybody else hopes that the epidemic will soon have run its course.

Mr. Daniel Peters, of Hecla Park, was in town Wednesday, having motored up with his son, Mr. Peters regrets to see the dissolution of the Central R. R. of Penna., and we don't wonder that he feels badly over it for he has been its general factotum around Hecla ever since it started. In fact he was its first section boss, and later had been looking after the park. Mr. Peters is not worried about his own welfare. He is thinking only of the effect on the valley. He can do anything and will get along; proof of that is shown in the fact that he has just finished husking three hundred bushels of corn which he grew on a lot of only three acres. Some corn.

Do Your Christmas Shopping Early.

Do you know of a better gift for the money than a miniature bond (war savings stamp) of the U. S. government, earning four per cent. interest, compounded quarterly, and selling in October for $4.21? Suitable and bound to be appreciated by every member of the family, whether at home or overseas.

For the week ending October 12th, Centre county had a per capita of 15c, or a total per capita to date of $16.04. We retain fourth place in the list of counties in the Eastern district of Pennsylvania.

W. HARRISON WALKER, Chairman War Savings Committee for Centre County.

A. T. C. colleges. He will serve as administrative assistant to Dean Cooley, of the University of Michigan, who is educational director of seventy colleges in Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois. Prof. Espenshade has been given a leave of absence by the State College authorities to date to July, 1919.

Was there ever a time when there were such universal wars and epidemics; such deep sorrows and so many broken hearts? May it be that God is chastising us, as nations and individuals, because of our worldliness, and thus trying to bring us to our knees in humility and penitence? We may fight against men and win; but to fight against God is to lose. Our churches have been closed for some time, but they will be opened again. Will you be found among the worshippers? Don't be a slacker! Think on these things.

BERTRAM.—Thomas Bertram, a well known engineer on the Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania railroad, dropped dead on Monday afternoon just as he entered the gate at his home up Spring creek. Mr. Bertram was fifty-nine years old and had been an engineer for more than thirty years. For years he ran an engine that hauled one of the fast passenger trains between Altoona and Pittsburgh but about a year ago he had an attack of heart trouble and since then he had been driving one of the mountain pushers. He made his regular runs on Sunday and on Monday, as was his custom, came to Bellefonte on the Pennsylvania-Lehigh train and walked up Spring creek to his home. As he passed the Christ Beezer home he stopped and chatted with Mrs. Beezer at the time remarking that he didn't feel very well. He continued on home and a few minutes later Mr. Beezer in driving past the Bertram home saw him lying just inside the gate. He went to see what was wrong and found him dead. The Bertram family were away at the time and when they returned were naturally very much shocked.

Mr. Bertram had been a resident of Altoona until fourteen years ago when he bought the home up Spring creek where his family have since resided. He was a member of the Catholic church, the Brotherhood of Railway Engineers and several fraternal organizations. Surviving him are his wife, two daughters and two sons, namely: Mrs. Frank Donovan, of Axe Mann; Joseph, in service in France; Ruth and Edward, at home. He also leaves two brothers, John and Henry, of Altoona.

Funeral services were held in the Catholic church at ten o'clock yesterday morning, burial being made in the Catholic cemetery.

HETTINGER.—Joseph Hettinger, an old soldier of the Civil war, died of exhaustion at his home in Pine Grove Mills on Wednesday of last week. He was born in Montgomery county on January 11th, 1837, hence had reached the advanced age of 81 years, 9 months and 5 days. When the Civil war broke out he enlisted as a member of Ringold's battery, the first organization to march down Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, to the national capitol and tender their services to President Lincoln after his first call for troops. He served with distinction during the four years of the rebellion and at its termination enlisted for further service and put in seven years in the ordnance department at Charleston, S. C.

Returning from his military service in the south he located in Centre county and became a stage driver, following that occupation a number of years. He was twice married but had been a widower the past ten years, making his home with his step-son, Walker Shutt. He also leaves two step-daughters, Mrs. Pressler, of Milesburg, and Mrs. Charles Isenberg, of Goalsburg. He was a member of the G. A. R. and up until his death most interested in the European war. THOMAS.—Miss Henrietta C. Thomas died quite unexpectedly of influenza, at her home in Milesburg at 10:45 o'clock Saturday evening. Several weeks ago her brother Ralph came home from Wilmington, Del., and shortly afterwards was taken ill with influenza. His fiancée, Miss Whaler, came to Milesburg about a week later and she also took sick. Miss Thomas nursed both of them very faithfully even up to Saturday morning, even though she was quite ill herself. In her exhausted condition she was unable to withstand the ravages of the disease and she died at 10:45 o'clock that evening.

Deceased was a daughter of William B. and Sarah Zimmerman Thomas and was born in Milesburg. Her entire life was spent there, though since the death of her parents she had spent much of the time traveling through the west. Her mother died about seven years ago and her father five years ago but surviving her are two brothers, Charles, of Johnstown, and Ralph, of Wilmington, Del. She was a faithful member of the Presbyterian church all her life and Dr. W. K. McKinney had charge of the funeral services held privately on Tuesday afternoon, burial being made in the Union cemetery, Bellefonte.

BANEY.—Mrs. Catharine E. Baney, wife of Robert Baney, died last Friday evening at her home on Logan street after less than a week's illness with bronchial pneumonia following an attack of the grip. She was a daughter of Samuel H. and Rachael Martin Griffith and was born near Axe Mann on May 5th, 1882, hence was 36 years, 5 months and 13 days old. Sixteen years ago she was united in marriage to Robert Baney who survives with four daughters, the youngest being but fourteen months old. She also leaves her father and the following brothers and sisters: Alfred M. Griffith, of Bellefonte; Melvin J., of Barborton, Ohio; Mrs. Mary E. Markle and Orissa M. Griffith, of Philadelphia; Samuel H., of Somerset, Ky.; Annabelle, of Bellefonte, and Mrs. Hattie P. Smith, of Beaver Falls.

She had been a member of the United Brethren church a number of years and Rev. T. Hugh MacLeod had charge of the funeral services which were held on Monday, burial being made in the Union cemetery. Among those here for the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Griffith, of Camden, N. J.; Orissa M. Griffith, of Philadelphia, and Mr. John Martin, of Clearfield.

She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Grieb, of State College, where she was born in January, 1892. She was married in June, 1915, to Mr. Bryere and had since made her home in Elwood City. Surviving her are her husband, her parents, one brother and a sister, namely: Sydney Grieb, of Elwood City, and Mrs. B. M. Mullin, of Ridgeville. The remains were taken to State College where private funeral services were held on Tuesday by Rev. Harkins, after which burial was made in the Pine Hill cemetery.

Forty-one years ago he was united in marriage to Miss Martha Mills, of Clearfield, who survives with two children, Henry, of Seattle, Wash., and Anna, at home. He also leaves one brother and three sisters, Rudolph and Mrs. Reilly, of Altoona; Mrs. W. T. Twitmore and Mrs. C. C. Shuey, of Bellefonte. Burial was made at Clearfield yesterday afternoon.

On Monday Governor Brumbaugh appointed John F. Zechman a justice of the peace of Harris Twp.
