Bellefonte, Pa., November 15, 1918.

THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

The regular monthly meeting of the Patriotic League will be held in the High school building Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

At just six o'clock last Friday evening contractor R. E. Taylor put the finishing touches on the concrete foundation for the state road from the bridge over Logan's branch to the intersection of Hight street.

Up to yesterday every land-lord but one in Centre county had filed his application for a liquor license in 1919, and as the time for filing has passed the limit has been reached. All told twenty-eight applications have been filed.

Farmers' institutes scheduled for Centre county the current season will be held at Rebersburg January 27 and 28; Pine Grove Mills January 29 and 30, and Stormstown January 31 and February 1st. Full programs will be gotten out in due time.

The children of the late Arthur E. Kimpf wish, through the columns of the "Watchman" to express their thanks to relatives, friends and the Brotherhood of Elks for their kind assistance and expressions of sympathy during the funeral of their father.

The cider making season is about over and although Wallace S. White, at Axe Mann, failed to keep a record of the number of gallons of apple juice he squeezed out, he is positive that he had the busiest season he has had since he has been in the cider making business.

Prothonotary David R. Foreman has received the returns of the soldiers' vote from a number of camps but whether from all Centre county soldiers he is not able to tell. The law allows three weeks in which to get such returns and the count will not be made until that time is up.

The Attorney General for Pennsylvania has been instructed by the State Highway Department to bring suit in the Dauphin county court against a large number of boroughs and townships in the State, delinquent in the matter of paying their portion of money due on state road contracts, and among the number is Snow Shoe township, Centre county.

The collection to be taken Sunday of the victory service in the Episcopal church, at 7:30 p. m. will be devoted to the United War Work campaign. All personal subscriptions and pledges by that time, it is hoped, will be in the hands of the committee, and this collection will be an additional offering to this great work, in thanksgiving to our boys for their success in the war.

The epidemic of influenza throughout Centre county is subsiding gradually. Last week conditions were such at Pleasant Gap that an appeal for help was made to the State Board of Health for a doctor and a nurse. Dr. White, of Reading, was sent there but the board was unable to furnish a nurse. The conditions, however, improved rapidly and Dr. White remained only a few days.

Having been thoroughly remodeled during the summer season so that it looks like a new place the Lyric theatre is now open with its evening programs of moving pictures. Pictures which will entertain and delight both old and young. Nothing out-of-date but the latest productions of some of the best motion picture producers. The program at the Lyric is always arranged to please the multitudes. Try it.

The Scenic is again open after being closed for five weeks and patrons of that popular place of amusement appreciate just how much it means to them to be able to have such a pleasant place to go and spend an evening. The pictures are just as good as ever they were and the new arrangement in the interior adds a lot to the pleasure of the patrons. If you have not been there this week go and see it and enjoy the pictures.

Prof. Henry F. Bitner, who since last spring has been living in Lewisburg, and for some time has been working in the school plant at Milton, suffered a broken arm on Tuesday of last week and as a result will be off duty for some weeks. Mr. Bitner was on a motor bus returning from Milton to Lewisburg when the bus collided with a big truck. Prof. Bitner had his right arm hanging out of the bus and it was caught by the truck, fracturing the bone above the elbow.

Mrs. Nathan Bachman, who this year is engaged in farming below Milesburg, was a business visitor in Bellefonte on Tuesday and a very pleasant caller at this office. She and her family have had a very successful summer on the farm and deserve every bit of good fortune that providence can bestow upon them. In addition to good crops of all kinds of grain Mrs. Bachman was successful in raising an abundance of Hubbard squashes which vie in size and quality of the kind so numerous grown in New Jersey.

While the people of Bellefonte are doing their part in a financial way toward the establishment of a landing station on the Beaver farm for the Wilson aerial mail service, they should bear in mind the fact that when the service becomes permanently established there is every probability that a wireless radio station will also be erected here, in close proximity to the building of the landing station. It should not be hard to figure out what an advertisement for Bellefonte both an aerial station and a radio station will be.

CELEBRATED PEACE ARMISTICE.

Bellefonte, State College and All Centre County Jubilantly Celebrated the Dawn of Peace on Monday. News Received at 4 A. M. Business Entirely Suspended Throughout the Day.

The armistice has been signed and peace is in sight.

Bellefonte celebrated twice, the first time on a rumor, the last time on the real thing.

And the last celebration was also a real one. It began at 4:30 in the morning and lasted all day and a good part of the night.

And the enthusiasm over victory and prospective peace, did not overshadow the patriotism with which the people of Bellefonte and Centre county responded to every demand for men and money made upon them since the United States became embroiled in the world war.

To be exact it was just about 4:10 o'clock on Monday morning when a flash came over the wires of the Bell Telephone company that the armistice had been signed. Confirmation of the announcement followed from Washington immediately afterwards. The telephone company had prepared for the emergency and immediately spread the good news. At 4:20 the siren voice of the fire alarm awoke the people of Bellefonte to the fact that the armistice had been signed. It was only a question of a few minutes until whistles and bells were pealing forth the glad tidings. The result was men and women forsook their beds and hastily dressing paraded the streets in the crisp morning air giving vent to their enthusiasm in every way imaginable.

When daylight came business men by common consent kept their places of business closed, and even Sheriff Yarnell, the man who has heretofore been enforcing the work or fight order, threatened to arrest any man caught working that day. A bonfire was lighted down town and impromptu paraders were numerous during the forenoon.

BIG PARADE AT STATE COLLEGE. Finally word came that State College was going to celebrate in the afternoon and the Bellefonte Central Railroad company agreed to run a free train to take Bellefonters up. The result was six well-packed carloads went to the college shortly before two o'clock, while many more motored up. The celebration at the college included a parade over a mile long, which included in addition to the Bellefonte delegation the national army men in training there, all the students, civic organizations and the public generally, led by the Cadet band of eighty-four pieces. Of course Our Girls band of Milesburg and the Citizens' band of Ferguson township were also in line. Following the parade there were a number of speeches.

In the midst of the great jubilation the speakers did not lose sight of the fact that this is the week of the great war work drive and they urged everybody to give liberally. One of the speakers told of a college student who has given $1,000 to the good cause. Another speaker commented the boy who had given the thousand dollars but stated that he knew of one who had done better. He then told of a young man who is working his way through college and when he was approached he gave pledge for one hundred dollars. Some of his friends went to him afterwards and asked him why he pledged so much? They told him that he would feel it for five years to come, and the student replied: "Well, that's just what I want to do, give until I feel it." If everybody will do that how easy it will be to go away over the top before the drive is closed this week.

THE PARADE IN BELLEFONTE. Bellefonte's big parade was held at 8:30 o'clock Monday evening. State College reciprocated very generously and in addition to sending down the Cadet band, a large delegation of Red Cross women, the Lemont band and scores of people motored here for the event. The parade formed at the High school building with Capt. Robert F. Hunter as chief marshal. The Cadet band led and in the line were the Red Cross of State College, Bellefonte and Milesburg, Our Girls band, the Undine and Logan Fire companies, the Bellefonte Lodge of Odd Fellows, the Moose, the Elks, Lemont band, the local mounted machine gun company on foot, George C. Glenn's famous drum corps, students of the Bellefonte Academy, members of the A. M. E. church, a delegation of Italian citizens and automobiles.

The parade marched south on Allegheny to Bishop street, Bishop to Spring, Spring to High, High to the railroad, counter-marched to the Diamond and dismissed. On the reviewing stand in the Diamond was Burgess W. Harrison Walker, Dr. E. E. Sparks, Col. J. L. Spangler, Col. H. S. Taylor, G. C. Conner, of Washington, and others. At the conclusion of the parade an attempt was made by some of the gentlemen to speak to the crowd of several thousand people, but the occasion was entirely too joyous a one for the crowd and it was impossible for the gentlemen to make themselves heard above the pandemonium of noise. Dr. Sparks attempted it and he is a very good speaker, but even with his ability he could not talk against pistol shots and old tin pans and urged the crowd to enjoy themselves, as the occasion warranted it.

In the meantime the big bonfire in the Diamond had been lighted and was sparkling and crackling and the tooting of horns, ringing of bells and blowing of whistles kept up until long after ten o'clock.

MILESBURG ALSO CELEBRATED. Milesburg celebrated the event by a parade at six o'clock in which Our Girls band, the Red Cross, civic organizations and school children took part, and other towns and villages in Centre county also showed their joy and jubilation that the great conflict was at an end. And now that the armistice has been signed there seems no reason to doubt but that a just and honorable peace will finally be promulgated at the conference yet to be held. Those responsible for the war will have to answer for their crime against the outraged countries, but as Dr. Sparks stated on Monday evening, "it is not vengeance we desire, only justice." And if every man gets justice according to his deserts, there will be no occasion for the victors to complain.

But while the end of the war is thus in sight the fathers and mothers of Centre county must not expect their sons home very soon. There is still much to do in France and it may be six months before the first contingent is sent home from overseas and two years before the last of our gallant army waves farewell to the shores of sunny France. But even with that there is great cause for thankfulness and rejoicing that from now on their work will be the rebuilding of civilization without the danger of facing Hun bullets, and in that they will be just as safe as if at our own firesides.

WE MUST ALL GET BUSY.

The War Work Drive is Lagging. Only $6,102.50 Subscribed in Four Days.

With $41,000.00 to raise and four days of the campaign already gone only $6,102.50 have been reported as being subscribed for the United War Work campaign. We must be up and doing. We can't lag behind in this when we have gone over the top in every other war work undertaking. Let us all get busy today and tomorrow and show that we can make what now seems an impossibility possible. Don't wait for some one to ask you to contribute. Go to the nearest solicitor and do it voluntarily or telephone directly to the headquarters of the county in Bellefonte.

Let us put it over the top—away over.

Over the Top Week for War Savings Stamps.

The week commencing November 25th is the time fixed to take Centre county "over the top" in actual sales of war savings stamps, and during that week I respectfully request that every postmaster, banker, district chairman, authorized agent, school teacher, and in fact every patriotic citizen in the county make it their personal business to sell and also to buy W. S. S. to the limit.

Centre county has gone "over the top" in every previous campaign, and indications are that we will go "over the top" during the present week in the war work campaign, by raising our quota of $41,000, but we also want to go "over the top" in the war savings campaign and raise $3.08 per capita between this and December 31st. The report of the war savings campaign, so far as it refers to Centre county, for the week ending November 2nd, gives us 33c. per capita, or a total of $16.92 for the entire campaign. We must raise, between this and the end of December, $3.08. We lost four hundred during the week of November 2nd, Wyoming county having for that week 79c. per capita, or a total per capita of $17.20. We have, therefore, moved down the line to fifth place.

Think the matter over carefully and resolve to do your utmost, in fact, to do your patriotic duty, and take Centre county "over the top" during the week of November 25th. Although peace has been declared, it will nevertheless be from one and a half to two years before all "our boys" return. There are many things that must be done by them "over there" and it is, therefore, necessary for the people of this country to continue to stand back of the boys until they "come marching home." Do your very best. Buy the limit of W. S. S. Do your whole duty.

W. HARRISON WALKER, Chairman War Savings Committee for Centre County.

Announcement of the State College Chapter Red Cross.

The annual meeting of the State College chapter of the Red Cross will be held in the assembly room of the Liberal Arts building on Monday evening, November 18th, at 7:30 o'clock. A complete report of the chapter and its auxiliaries will be made. Officers will be elected for the ensuing year.

On Saturday evening, November 23rd, the Red Cross chapter of State College invites the community to a free exhibition of moving pictures. These will be presented by Captain Ingram and will show life in the front line trenches as well as other fields of Red Cross activity both here and "over there." All are invited.

BELLEFONTE FIRST STATION ON AERIAL MAIL ROUTE.

Landing Site Selected and Contract Let for Erection of Hangar, Etc.

Notwithstanding the fact that Lock Haven, State College and other nearby towns put forth considerable effort to have the landing station on the Wilson aerial mail route between New York and Chicago located there Bellefonte has been definitely selected as the place for the station and the hangar will be erected and everything in readiness for the first flight of the mail carrying machines on December 15th.

The "Watchman" carried an item several weeks ago stating that Bellefonte had been selected as a station on the route because it had been recommended by the aviators making the preliminary flights as the most advantageous place, all points considered. But even then the matter was not definitely settled. Last Thursday evening, however, G. C. Conner, chief clerk under the second assistant postmaster general, and Charles N. Knight, special representative of the aerial mail service, arrived in Bellefonte for the purpose of looking up available sites. On Friday they were shown the available landing places and promptly selected the field on Thomas Beaver's farm, lying south of the state road. One of the provisions of locating the landing-field in Bellefonte was that the citizens would show sufficient interest in the matter to contribute $1,600 toward the erection of the necessary buildings and when the matter was taken up with the Board of Trade that organization promptly assumed that responsibility, and the representatives of the Post-office Department promptly signed the agreement.

The contract calls for the erection of a hanger and oil house. Mr. Conner informed a "Watchman" representative that the hanger is to be 60x120 feet in size, capable of housing three machines. The oil house will be of only moderate size, just sufficient to keep a stock of oil and gas on hand. The buildings will be located at the east end of the field and when the service has been put in operation at least one extra machine will be kept in the hanger all the time in case of emergency. The contract for the buildings has been let to Gerret & Lambert but the contract will have to be sent to Washington for approval before building operations can be begun.

As previously mentioned the main landing stations between New York and Chicago will be Bellefonte and Cleveland, Ohio, although emergency stations will also be located at Lehigh and Clarion, Pa., and Bryan, Ohio. While regular service will probably not be inaugurated before December 15th, the contract calls for the completion of the buildings by December 9th, and it is possible that flights will be made previous to the 15th.

Wild Turkey Season Opened This Morning.

Centre county hunters will be in their element today because the wild turkey season opened this morning. So far the only sport in the hunting line has been in gunning for squirrel and rabbit. The closing of the State to pheasant this year knocked all the sport out of hunting for a large number of nimrods who prefer a wing shot to any other kind. But with wild turkeys they will be able to indulge their preference to the limit, because the wild turkey is not only an unusually cunning bird, but is fleet-footed as a horse and almost as swift of wing as an eagle. In fact it is only the good shots who succeed in bagging them.

Just how plentiful the birds will prove to be seen this evening. Quite a number of old and young turkeys have been seen on Nittany mountain, Bald Eagle mountain and in the foothills of the Alleghenies, but the big question for the hunters today will be to find them.

Red Cross Election.

The annual election of officers for the Bellefonte Chapter American Red Cross will take place in the chapter work rooms, in the Masonic building, on Wednesday afternoon, November 20th, from two until five o'clock. All members of the Red Cross are entitled to vote and are urged to do so. The ballot is as follows:

Chairman—James B. Cook. Vice Chairman—Mrs. Harry Keller. Secretary—Rev. M. DeP. Maynard. Treasurer—C. M. McCurdy. Members of Executive Board—Miss Mary Miles Blanchard, Mrs. Blanche Schloss, Mrs. R. S. Brouse, Mrs. N. B. Spangler, Mrs. J. P. Smith, Mrs. J. L. Montgomery, Mrs. Joseph Ceder, Mrs. J. P. Lyon, Mrs. Paul Sheffer, Mrs. James D. Seibert, Mrs. Kline Woodring.

Blank spaces will be provided on the ballot for the substitution of other names should those voting so desire.

M. DeP. MAYNARD, Secretary.

Tractor Demonstration Thursday, November 21st, 1 p. m.

The tractor demonstration that was postponed due to the influenza epidemic will be held Thursday, November 21st, at 1 p. m., on the Beaver farm just outside of Bellefonte. We are expecting about eight to ten tractors present which will include the following:

International	Case
Moline	Happy Farmer
Waterloo Boy	Huber
Cleveland	Fordson
Trick	Bates Steel Mate

This is your opportunity to see the several makes at work. Tell your neighbors. Come, and bring a carload with you.—R. H. Olmstead, County Agent.

Roland Miller Killed at Ford City.

Roland Miller, a former well known resident of this vicinity, was the victim of an accident at the plant of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company, at Ford City, on Monday afternoon, which resulted in his death. Mr. Miller had been superintendent at the plant for some time past and, although the exact nature of the accident is not known, he in some way got caught in the big sand shovel and was injured so badly that he died inside of three hours.

Roland Lawrence Miller was a son of G. Frank and Nancy Janet Miller and was born at Belleville on November 31st, 1876, hence was almost forty-two years old. When a child his parents moved to Philadelphia but came to Bellefonte when he was fourteen years of age. Here he grew to manhood and started out to make his own way in life. After his marriage, in 1897, to Miss Amanda Eckley, he went to farming on the Eckley farm in Benner township. Some years later he became an inspector of stone for the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company, passing on all the limestone shipped that company by the old Bellefonte Furnace company. Six years ago, when the Pittsburgh Glass company changed its place of getting stone Mr. Miller was offered the position of inspector of stone at the Ford City plant and moved there from Bellefonte. He proved such a capable man that he was later made superintendent of the plant.

He is survived by his wife and seven children, namely: Nancy, Dorothy, Mary, Sarah, Rachael, Julia and Frank. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Parsons, of Williamsport, and Mrs. Edna Wilkins, of Washington, D. C.

The remains were brought to Bellefonte on the Pennsylvania-Lehigh train at 1:26 yesterday afternoon and taken to the home of his mother, on Thomas street, where funeral services were held at two o'clock and burial made in the Union cemetery. Mr. Miller was a member of the Kittanning Lodge of Elks and at the request of members of that Lodge the Bellefonte lodge had charge of the funeral.

State College Boys Sending Boche Machine Gun Home.

A Hun machine gun, captured in the Hindenburg line by boys from State College, is on its way here from France. Upon arrival it will be mounted on a stone pedestal on the college campus in honor of the local troops at the front.

Word came from Captain Wilbur Leitze, of the 107th machine gun battalion, who lies wounded in a base hospital, telling of the captured trophy, which is the first important souvenir collected by his men. He said Captain Theodore Davis Staff, of General William H. Hay's staff, and who commanded the machine gun company of the First Pennsylvania cavalry, had agreed to pay transportation charges.

Will Close Their Homes.

Mrs. Joseph Fox will close her home on East Bishop street the first of December, and with her two daughters, the Misses Anne and Alice Fox, will spend the winter with Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Parish, on Curtin street.

Mrs. Thomas Donachy is preparing to close her apartments on Bishop street in anticipation of going to Akron, Ohio, where she will spend the winter with her niece, Mrs. Maurice Tucker.

Mrs. W. H. Wilkinson and Mrs. L. T. Munson are both at the Brockerhoff house for the winter. Mrs. Wilkinson having closed her house in October and Mrs. Munson the early part of last week.

Chicken Thieves Sent to Jail.

At a brief session of court on Wednesday John Jackson and his nephew, Harry Jackson, pleaded guilty to the charge of stealing chickens. The former was indicted on three counts and was sentenced on two of them, six months in the county jail on each, the sentence to run concurrently. Harry Jackson was sent to the penitentiary for one year. Both men admitted to having stolen some chickens.

George Gray, who with his father and brother Clyde were arrested some weeks ago on the charge of stealing and butchering cattle, was admitted to bail.
