Bellefonte, Pa., January 24, 1919.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

-The maple sap is already flowing but that is no evidence that winter is over.

-Miss Lillian Walker entertainlast Thursday evening.

-Only four members of borough council made their appearance at the council chamber on Monday evening and the natural result was that in the absence of a quorum no meeting was

---Miss Margaret Gilmour gave up her position in the office of the Titan Metal Co. last Saturday in anticipation of her marriage in the not distant future to Jack Gowan, of Rogersville, Tenn.

-In the recent drive for Red Cross membership the Centre Hall borough and Potter township schools made a one hundred per cent. record, every scholar in all the schools taking a membership.

---The drive for the fund for Armenian and Syrian relief will not close until February first, so if you ble. have not yet contributed your share towards this good cause be sure and do so before that time.

-Automobile dealers in Bellefonte are already anticipating a big the business from that hour until demand for cars, trucks and tractors during 1919; in fact they believe it the peculiar situations that developwill be the best season in the history of the automobile industry.

---The ladies of the Bellefonte Lutheran church will serve a sauer kraut and baked bean supper in the rooms on High street formerly occu-Tuesday evening, January 28th, from five to seven o'clock. Price, 50 cents. Ice cream and cake extra. Everybody is most cordially invited.

-A very exciting game af basket ball will be staged on the Y. M. C. A. floor at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening when the crack Wyoming team of Kingston will play the Academy boys. The Wyoming five is considered one of the fastest teams in the anthracite region. Admission, 25 cents. Everybody is invited and the fans especially should be there.

-Manager Maurice Baum, of the Nittany theatre, State College, has arrived in New York and expects to succeeded in securing a booking of Griffith's masterpiece, "Hearts of the World," for exhibition at the Nittany theatre two days in February, the exact dates of which will be announced in due time. The producing company's own Symphony orchestra accompanies the picture. Watch for it.

-Miss Mary Schad, teacher of ing to a slight accident sustained on rive in the States most any day. Monday evening, when she fell on the steps at the Rhoads residence on east Linn street, and sprained the ligaments under her knee. She is getting along so well, however, that she expects to be on duty again next week.

-One of Governor Brumbaugh's last official acts, so far as relating to Centre countians is concerned, was the appointment of W. Harrison Walker Esq., as an honorary delegate to the Atlantic Congress of the League of Nations which will assemble in New York on February 5th. It is needless to state that if he is in good health Mr. Walker will be right on time at the opening of the Congress. -There was received at the Bellefonte fish hatchery the other day a consignment of trout for breeding purposes from the Corry hatchery. All told there were eighteen cans of eight trout in a can or a total of one hundred and forty-four trout. While carry in one can the trout were from fifteen to eighteen inches in size, pure brook trout, and that is all it would be safe to transport any distance in one can.

-George Kline, of near Houserville, had one of his best horses stolen on Monday night, and he has reason to believe that the animal was taken by Elwood Stanley, alias William Stanley, a young man whom he had secured in an Altoona home and who had been working for him. The animal taken is black in color and weighs about 1100 pounds. Farmers and horse dealers are asked to be on the lookout for the horse, as well as

-When W. P. Seig completed his outing on Fishing creek last summer he left the door of his camp lodge unlocked and tacked thereon the sign, "Welcome!" which of course, meant that any person who cared to do so could occupy the lodge at their convenience. In the building he left a good stove and some other furnishings, and now it is reported that the lodge has been stripped clean of everything it contained. Some person or persons not only carried off the stove but practically everything else movable, and it wouldn't be surprising if they tackle the house next.

-The Bellefonte High school basket ball team had one put over on them at Jersey Shore last Saturday night when the High school team of that place simply overwhelmed them by the score of 78 to 13. The Bellefonte boys have been playing good basket ball all season and had won most, if not all, of their games, and it was not because they fell down at Jersey Shore that they were defeated, but because the team at that place played according to old rules which the Bellefonte boys knew very little burg. The compensation of the postabout, and in that way they succeeded in administering the crushing defeat. during the past year was $482.

Public Kicks Against Closed Railroad Depots.

The order which went into effect last week closing all the depots on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad at five o'clock in the afternoon with the exception of those at Bellefonte, Port Matilda, Milesburg and Howard, has brought forth a general kick from the traveling public at the other depots along this line. In conformity with the order Bald Eagle, Martha, Julian, ed a half dozen of her lady friends at Unionville, Curtin and Beech Creek the Walker home on east Linn street, depots now close at five o'clock and all passengers for trains after that hour are not only compelled to pay their fare to the conductor but are compelled to wait out in the open for the appearance of the train, whether it is on time or an hour late.

The order is in line with the retrenchment program recently instituted by the government railroad officials. Station agents, as well as other employees of the railroad companies, come under the eight hour law and under the old system of going to work at seven o'clock in the morning and working until after the evening train had passed kept the agents on duty anywhere from ten to twelve hours. This meant considerable in the aggregate and the government officials decided that the end did not justify the means and so has cut out as much of the extra time as possi-

The order affects the Bellefonte station so far as the agents are concerned, they being released at five o'clock and the men under them looking after after the 8:10 train goes out. One of ed in Bellefonte from the long hours put in by the agents and men under them, was that while all the employees have been getting their full pay for overtime the agents have not, and the result has been that each pay pied by the trading stamp store, on day the agents received considerably less money than some of the men working under them. Of course their time has all been turned in and in due time they expect to get what is coming to them as back pay, but so far it is still coming to them.

In the meantime the people along the valley are still kicking over the closed depots, but whether it will result in any change only time will tell.

Bellefonte Boys Coming Home.

Mrs. James Kane has received word that her son Bernard Kane, who served with the engineers in France, has reach home some day this week.

A letter received in Bellefonte on Tuesday from Frank Smith, serving with an ordnance detachment in France, stated that one hundred of their company had been picked to come home and among the number was Ivan Walker, son of ex-sheriff and Mrs. W. Miles Walker, of Bellefonte. French and Latin in the Bellefonte They were scheduled to leave France High school, is off duty this week ow- on January 15th, and are liable to ar- for the treatment of influenza. A

The arrival home of Edward Shields, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Shields, is expected most any time, as word has reached Bellefonte that he expected to leave France a week or ten days ago. Mr. Shields, who went to France in the early days of the war as a representative of the White Motor company, has been in the employ of the French government the past two years and it is quite probable his to the States for good.

Local Churches to Extend Aid to France and Belgium.

The national council of the Protestant churches of America have undertaken the task of raising ten million dollars to help rebuild the ruined churches and parochial schools in the devastated regions of northern France and Belgium. Twelve of the protestant churches in the United States eight trout seems a small number to have combined in the movement to raise the ten million dollars.

The churches of Bellefonte and Centre county expect to do their part in helping out with the fund. Consequently the pastors of the various Reformed churches in the county held a meeting in Bellefonte a few days ago and decided to wage their campaign for raising money the first week in February. Every church member in the county should give toward this fund as liberally as possible, and the public in general should respond to the appeal. It is money that will be badly needed for a vitally important work, and when you are approached for help give what you

A Tribute to President Wilson.

The following is an extract from a letter written to Miss Anne Harris Hoy by her friend, The Honorable field. Mrs. Bertrand Russell, of London, England. Many Bellefonte people will remember having heard Mrs. Russell speak in the court house in the early days of the war when the Poles were being driven as fugitives into Russia. Mrs. Russell writes:

"President Wilson has made a most wonderful impression here, (London), and people are seriously impressed We went with a tall cadet by him. from South Africa to see him arrive at Buckingham palace, and it was a most impressive sight. The cadet called him "The Foch of Politics," and indeed I think that he and Foch are the two great men brought out by the war. Lloyd George may be the "Arizona," his latest production, at the Lyric Wednesday.

-The ladies of the United Brethren church cleared $105.50 at their chicken and waffle supper last Thursday evening.

-The Paramount Artcraft pictures at the Lyric are all anyone can desire. They are among the best pictures made today, and the Lyric is the place to see them.

-Millheim is without a blacksmith and the farmers and business men of that section are offering inducements to a good, live artisan in that profession to locate there.

-Postmaster Paul O. Brosius, of the new federal postoffice at Lock Haven by April 7th, and it is expected that building operations will be begun shortly after that date.

-Mrs. William Frank Morrison, of Providence, R. I., has announced the marriage of her daughter, Miss Gertrude Morrison, to Alden Rhodes Meek, on Wednesday, January 15th. The bridegroom is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter Meek, of Harrisburg, but originally of Ferguson township.

-With such high-class pictures on its nightly programs as the Scenic is now showing it is only to be expected that the house is crowded nightly. The public these days demands the best in motion pictures, as well as everything else, and manager T. Clayton Brown is doing his best to satisfy the demands.

----As predicted by the "Watchman" several weeks ago Governor Sproul has appointed W. I. Swoope Esq., of Clearfield, one of his deputy attorney generals, but the fact that his name was fifth on the list of depmean that "Billy" will remain a tailender by any means.

-Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Hunsinger, of Rebersburg, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Blanche Luella, to Howard Landis Rosenberger, of Pittsburgh, Pa. Miss Hunsinger has for some time past been a clerk in the employ of the Standard Refractories company at Claysburg, while Mr. Rosenberger, who is a graduate of Bucknell University, holds a good position in the engineering department of the Pennsylvania railroad company at Pittsburgh.

-Miss Margaret Elder, superintendent of the Bellefonte hospital, and Elizabeth B. Meek will address the Woman's club, Monday evening, January 27th, at eight o'clock, in the High school building. Subject: Public health and practical measures short business session will precede these talks, and every club member is asked particularly to be present at this meeting, which means the beginning of a year of very active club

--- "Watchman" readers in Ferguson township and elsewhere will be disappointed this week in not finding our usual bright and breezy "Pine Grove Mentions" in the paper, but they'll have to overlook it this time work is finished and he is returning because our versatile correspondent, Capt. W. H. Fry, has been spending the week in Harrisburg attending the annual meeting of the State Veterinary Medical association and a half dozen other associations in which farmers are naturally interested. And although we do not have it from him we just naturally think he "snook" away in time to be present at the in-Tuesday, also.

> -Just at present there is not much doing at the Aviation field in Bellefonte. Everything is now being held up pending the next attempt to inaugurate the aerial mail service between Chicago and New York, and just when this will be made depends entirely upon getting the new Handley-Page machines assembled and tested out. It is the general impression, however, that the Postoffice Department will have these machines in readiness by the end of another week or perhaps two, and then the service will be started. Once the service is fully established attention will be given to the building up of the Bellefonte aviation field equal to any in the country. The plans, which have not yet been entirely perfected, include three or four additional hangars, a wireless station, increased landing room and possibly a number of houses for the families of the men in charge at the

-The officers and men of the machine gun company of Bellefonte are loud in their acclaim of the treatment received by them while in Harrisburg for the inaugural parade on Tuesday. The company left Bellefonte on the 8:10 p. m. train Monday evening and when they reached Harrisburg at two o'clock on Tuesday morning they found two big army trucks waiting for them. They were promptly marshalled into the trucks and conveyed to the state arsenal where they were housed on the third floor. As sleeping accommodations each man had prepared for him a cot with spring bottom, a mattress, three blankets and a pillow. In the morning the army trucks again appeared and conveyed them to a hotel for breakfast and regular machine gun trucks hauled them during the entire length of the parade. While they missed their dinner on Tuesday they got a good supper and leaving Harrisburg Tuesday night got to Bellefonte at 9:20 Wednesday morning.

-See Douglass Fairbanks in What the Red Cross Has Done and Will Do.

Although the returns from the Christmas roll call of the Red Cross throughout the United States were not what was hoped for, yet considering the fact that what was virtually the end of the war came between the well-laid plans for the roll call and the actual campaign itself, the returns are by no means disappointing. Eighteen of the one hundred and five Red Cross chapters in the Pennsylvania-Delaware division have enrolled over one-third of their population, the other chapters being all below this mark. Of these eighteen our own Bellefonte chapter is one, and all honor to the committee and other workers of the roll call for this result. To Lock Haven, has been notified by the date our chapter membership for 1919 Treasury Department to have all the is 3095. Surely YOU are included in buildings removed from the site for that number! If not, it is still up to you to join, and join right away.

> The Chapter has been able to make quite a helpful donation to that worthy institution, the Bellefonte hospital, linens to the amount of 74 sheets and 25 towels, left over from the linen shower for the benefit of the Red Cross some time ago. The sheets and towels remaining on hand in December, being no longer needed for Red Cross purposes, headquarters authorized the Chapter to turn them over to the local hospital.

The Red Cross visiting district nurse is now almost a reality, and within a week there will probably be such a valuable public health official at the disposal of the community. Arrangements are now being perfected with the Bellefonte hospital looking to the complete co-operation of that institution and the Red Cross in this important matter. In cases of need, physicians and other social workers in town may call upon the Red Cross to furnish a nurse. This may be done now, if necessary, upon notification to one of the officers of uties named on Wednesday doesn't the Chapter. After the meeting of the hospital board this week, a permanent nurse for this purpose will doubtless be secured, a great boon for infrequent. Bellefonte and the surrounding country included within the Red Cross chapter.

1919 W. S. S. Campaign.

The report of the war savings committee, for the first eleven days of the 1919 campaign, is as follows: Centre county had, for the above period, a per capita of 38 cents, and holds third place in the list of counties of the eastern district of Pennsylvania. Clinton county leads with 60 cents per capita, and Cameron county with 47 cents per capita.

Mr. E. McLain Watters, of Philadelphia, has been appointed director of war savings, third federal reserve district, and George E. Lloyd, of Carlisle, has been appointed district director.

The government must raise large sums of money for several years to come, and it must be secured either by borrowing it or by direct taxation. Every dollar raised by borrowing is a step in the direction of reduced taxes, and remember if you buy stamps you will practically get all your money back in five years with compound interest, but if you are taxed you will never get it back, although indirectly you will be benefitted.

W. HARRISON WALKER, Chairman War Savings Com. for Centre County.

Annual Report of Inspector of Weights and Measures.

-W. J. Emerick, of the Emerick Transportation company, has just delivered to the Lock Haven fire department a new quadruple chemical engine and fire truck manufactured by the White Automobile company at an approximate cost of ten thousand dollars. In exchange he took the Lock Haven department's old White chemical truck which he has offered to the Bellefonte fire department considerably below first cost. The truck will be brought to Bellefonte for inspection, but of course the purchase of the same will be a question for council to wrestle with.

-Wednesday morning was a bad time for railroading on account of the extremely dense fog. The morning passenger train on the Lewisburg railroad ran down a team and wagon on the crossing at the Union county fair grounds and killed Mr. Miles Bell. Up Bald Eagle valley a fast freight ran into the cabin car of the work train while the latter was taking a siding to allow the freight to pass, demolishing the cabin and injuring two men. All morning trains were more than an hour late reaching Bullefonte.

-A burning chimney at the home of Harry Hassinger, on north Allegheny street, shortly after dinner on Wednesday, caused the sounding of the fire alarm but the fire burned out without doing any damage.

Mr. and Mrs. Daggett expect to take possession of their new home on the first of February. Mr. and Mrs. Dorworth and family have moved in with Mrs. Dorworth's father, Mr. F. W. Crider.

-A business visitor in Bellefonte on Tuesday was Mr. Sim Bachelor, of Philipsburg, and he managed to spare a few moments in making a call at this office. Sim had a kick coming because he failed to receive his January 10th issue of the "Watchman" but he was kind enough to tell us that he believed the fault was in the postoffice department; and as the "Watchman" has had numerous similar complaints recently, we very emphatically agreed with him.

-Mrs. Theodore Kelly returned Sunday night from a week's visit with relatives in New York city.

Demolishing the Old Central Railroad

of Pennsylvania. The wrecking crew in charge of the work of scrapping the old Central Railroad of Pennsylvania are making rapid progress in their work of demolishment. Last Saturday the crew had reached the crossing at Hecla park and by this time are considerably on this side of that well known place. Just how far they have gone in the opposite direction is not definitely known, but at the present they do not intend going further than Lamar.

But the tearing up of the rails is not the only work of scrapping the road that is being done. The Bellefonte station building, freight warehouse and all the ground connected therewith have been sold, but so far the name of the purchaser has not been divulged. It is known that several Bellefonte parties were bidding for the buildings. Frank Kern wanted them as a place to move his laundry and establish a larger plant; Harry Winton and the State-Centre Electric company also made offers, while W. S. Shelton, of Millheim, had envious eyes on them as a good place for a knitting plant, but as none of these people were the purchasers, there is naturally considerable speculation as to just who did get them, and for what purpose.

Down at Hublersburg John D. Miller purchased the station building and the acre of ground connected therewith. The ground adjoins his farm and will be turned into agricultural purposes and the building he will either utilize in some way or sell the
