Three Young Men Sent to Hunting- The Federal Food Controller Exdon Reformatory.

At a session of court on Monday morning three young men who had committed crimes against the Commonwealth were sentenced to the Huntingdon reformatory by Judge

Henry C. Quigley. The first case was that of L. H. Swanson, of Binghamton, N. Y., the young student arrested last week on the charge of larceny, he having stolen various articles of jewelry from F. P. Blair & Son's jewelry store; fountain pens from The Index, and a vest from Sim the Clothier. The young man's father came to Bellefonte last Thursday evening and aided in recovering and returning all the stolen articles and made full restitution for any damage done. The case is without a parallel in the courts of Centre county. The father not only told the court that he had never known the boy to do a wrong thing but produced letters from different people in Binghamton to support his assertions. too grave a character to be passed over lightly and gave the young man an indeterminate sentence to the stated, however, that after he had been at the institution long enough for the physicians to make a thorough study of his case he would request in their judgment they did not considhave been rented by Dr. Schad, her er him entirely responsible for his ac- ly in a motor car. And, too, having apartments being taken by Mrs. C. D. tions he would then parole him in the custody of his father.

Howard Siler was sent to the same institution for stealing over fourteen dollars from Helen Barner and John Burns was sent over for stealing a revolver valued at $25.00, which was the property of the State. The three young men were taken to Huntingdon on Tuesday by Sheriff Yarnell. GRAY CASE ARGUED.

Facts Concerning "Hearts of the World."

The production is not in any sense recent war, with the conflict serving on food conservation which was given only as the background.

The battle scenes were taken on the battlefields of France by permission, and with the assistance of the British and French governments.

Mr. D. W. Griffith had to wear a steel helmet to protect him from shrapnel and a gas mask to protect his lungs during the taking of many of the stirring scenes. Neither Mr. Griffith nor any of his company received injuries other than a slight wound in Mr. Griffith's arm from flying shrapnel.

More than 120,000 feet of film were used in the production. Special cars will be run by the Emerick bus line from Bellefonte for each performance, afternoons and evenings to State College, where it will be pre sented at the Pastime theatre on February 19th and 20th, with a special symphony orchestra, that travels with the production.

In the Social Whirlpool.

A dinner at the Country club was Pa. given by Mrs. George Beezer, Wednesday night of last week.

Mrs. Jerome Harper entertained at her home on Bishop street early in the week with a dinner for which ten covers were laid.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Potter celebrated their fortieth wedding anniversary late in January with a dinner, at which all the guests were their immediate relatives. Many of Mr. and Mrs. Potter's friends called during the day, in addition to remembering the occasion with numerous gifts.

presses Gratitude to Centre County.

A little more than a year ago, at the request of the State Food Administrator, Mr. Heinz, I accepted the position of Federal Food Administrator for Centre county. Realizing the great importance of this particular phase of war work, an office was opened devoted to this business entirely. At the outset, Mr. H. C. Valentine patriotically volunteered his services to aid in handling the ever-increasing duties, and with Miss Nina Lamb as a helper, everything was handled most satisfactorily. After a time Mr. Valentine was incapacitated and forc- it before leaving for Philadelphia ed to resign. I then reorganized the office force with Miss Aikens in charge and Mrs. Jack Decker assisting. Until the close of the office last month, all the work was most efficiently performed. It was soon found that in a community so varied in industries and nationalities and largely rural, the work But the court considered the case of could not be satisfactorily handled through the mail; consequently meetings of the people in certain convenient places were held as schools of in-Huntingdon reformatory. The foreign element especially, required personal them to make a report to him and if attention. Therefore, the headquarters of the Administrator were largeone of the largest counties in the State in area, mileage was correspondingly large. By conducting the work in this way, results were accomplished without having to inflict penalties on those who were inclined to make light of the whole matter but who were soon convinced of their error by a personal visit and explanation of conditions; and they usually became my best lieutenants. No evasions were found which could be regarded as deliberate,-nearly every case, ignorance caused most of the

Miss Nancy Hunter, and was most ably done and accomplished good results. The bakers, under the supervision and direction of Mr. H. C. Clevenstine, were ever anxious to do their share in conserving the use of wheat flour. The millers, too, did their best, un-
